Publisher's Notice.

The unabated interest in this popular branch of Philately has again made an edition of this list necessary, the third having been out of print for over a month.

The principal improvement in this issue is the addition of a complete list of the Columbian stamps, for which there has been a great demand, but the prices attached must be considered as tentative, there being but little ground on which to base our calculations, hence they are liable to be changed without notice.

The prices of the 1894-6 series are now firmly established and alterations will only be upward. Of one cent stamps there appears to be a large stock in the country which has enabled us to reduce quotations. The discovery of a number of the early pinks has prevented any material advance in these numbers, but the other shades of the same values are now the rarer and have been marked up to correspond with them.

It has been found that the old newspaper plates did not have a number impressed on them, or at least, not on the face; we have therefore removed Nos. 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 65, 81, 83, 108, 118 and 127 from the list. Nos. 14, 200 and 208 represent spoiled plates which cannot therefore be represented in our albums. Nos. 160 and 169, have not so far been printed on watermarked paper, but a batch of much later numbers have lately been printed on plain paper viz. 199, 201, 203, 205, 209, 210 and 211.

Before closing, I would call attention to the curious error of impressing two types on one plate. No. 170, of which the first three vertical rows are type II., while the remainder of the plate is composed of type III. Collectors who take all four positions, of course, secure both types.

The circles under the four columns represent the position of the imprint; when the space is blank it shows that there is only one imprint on a sheet; when no price is given, it indicates that a just quotation could not be made.

In conclusion we may say for new beginners that the price for the Columbian series represents five stamps, while for the current issue, only three are furnished. The price is the same for either top, bottom, left or right hand imprint. If any special position is wanted, please so state in ordering, otherwise we furnish such as we have.
