EXTRACT FROM THE PREFACE.

'A new stamp album, arranged on a new plan, is offered to the philatelic public, in the hope that its simplicity of arrangement and general improvements on existing albums will entitle it to the favour of collectors, both at home and abroad.

'By the aid of the number before the description of each stamp, the fixing of the stamps in their proper places is greatly facilitated.

No inconvenience will be felt by the augmentation of new stamps, care having been taken to leave sufficient spaces for the admission of all new issues.
