PREFACE.

The first "Canadian Stamp Directory" is before you. It is true that it is small; but if, in its present size, it meets with public favor and the publishers receive sufficient encouragement, it is probable that a larger and better work will shortly be issued.

We can recommend the dealers whose names appear in the following pages, as prompt, honest business men—or perhaps boys would be nearer the point—and we have no doubt but that they will give collectors the utmost satisfaction at all times.

The editor has to express his thanks to those who have assisted him in preparing this volume; and, with best wishes, subscribes himself

CAEM.

It contains the latest descriptions of New Stamps profusely Illustrated, and Original Articles from the Best Writers; it is the only paper reporting the proceedings of the National Philatelic Society; it pays particular attention to all varieties of Stamps, Postal Cards and Stamped Envelopes; Revenue and Telegraph Stamps, and the Private Proprietary Stamps of the United States; it offers Magnificent Prizes to those sending the largest subscription lists, and for the best articles on specified subjects; it is the best guide to the beginner as it tells him how to collect, what to collect, how to mount his collection, and where to buy his stamps; how to detect counterfeits, and how to keep clear of dealers in counterfeits, for with the latter, it wages incessant war.
