ECTION ON PHILATELY

In the early days of the world's history, when the wants of man were few, the necessity of speech was but dimly sensed; gradually, as man gained the power of vocally expressing his desires, he felt the need of conveying his ideas and wishes to those who lived beyond the reach of his voice. At first it was but natural for him to go in person and deliver his message ; but later, when his own work demanded more and more of his personal attention, he learned to send some one in his place. In this way was established the first germ of postal service. From this time on to the 12 th century the evolution of postal service was slow, and letters were usually carried and delivered by household servants or employees of large companies. In various parts of Europe the messenger service became - more organized, and mercantile guilds and brotherhoods were licensed by the crown to establish posts for commercial purposes. In the beginning of the a $3^{\text {th }}$ century the University of Paris organized a postal service, which lasted over four hundred years. In 15.33 the English postal service was placed under the direction of one person, and Sir Brian Tuke has the honor of being the first Postmaster-General of whom any record can be found.

About 1640 a Yorkshire attorney named John Hill undertook to establish a penny postage for England, but was forcibly stopped by the orders of the Government. In 1840 Rowland Hill was more fortunate; he succeeded in influencing the Government to establish a penny post, which has now been adopted by the majority of the nations of the world. Beginning with this year letters were ordered prepaid by the use of stamps, and as Brazil, United States, Bavaria, Finland, and other countries followed, it was not long before persons began to collect these little bits of printed paper, which showed what governments had promised to deliver written messages.

That which was once considered only a pastime has now become recognized as a science, for to the student it not only opens out a geographical panorama of the world, but gives him an insight into the political history of nations.
'The purposes of this Section are as follows: (a) To promote the study and the diffusion of knowledge of Philately. (b) The encouragement of the collecting of Postage and Revenue Stamps, stamped envelopes, and other objects pertaining to Philately. (c) The establishment of a Philatelic Library. (d) The formation of a collection of stamps for the Institute. (e) The encouragement of closer intercourse between Philatelists the world over, for the mutual benefit of all.

Already the governments of Canada, Barbados, Newfoundland, Bahamas, New Zealand, and others have sent complete sets of the present issues of their stamps for the collection, which will be on permanent exhibition at the Museum of the Institute, and a number of books have been presented to the library.

The Section cordially invites the co-operation and help of Philat. elists in all parts of the world to the forming and building up of this collection, and it should be remembered that this is not only the first instance where a large educational institution has publicly recognized Philately as one of the sciences, but it is also the first opportunity offered to Philatelists to present by a series of illustrated lectures the educational, scientific, and artistic value of stamp collecting.

$\longrightarrow$ TWELVE POINTS

The Perfect Life Insurance Policy has twelve Points of advantage. They are as follows:

1. No Restriction upon occupation.
2. No Restrictions upon residence and travel.
3. No Restrictions as to manner, time, or place of death.
4. No Restrictions as to military or naval service in time of peace or in time of war.
5. It allows a reasonable grace in the payment of premiums.
6. It provides for reinstatement upon reasonable conditions, in case of lapse.
7. It provides for cash loans after the insured has acquired an equity in the policy. .
S. It is automatically non-forfeitable when the first year's premium is paid.

り. It allows a choice between extended or paid-up, insurance.
10. It is incontestable from date of issue.
II. It provides for prompt payment at maturity in one sum, or in a selected number of instalments.
12. It provides for a choice between cash value and continued insurance, after being in force during a stipulated period.

The New-York Life Insurance
Company's Accumulation
Policy combines these twelve points of advantage.

No other pollcy has them all. The New-York Life furnishes " The Best of Every Thing In Life Insurance."

What Doctors Think of Wearing Rubbers.

> Here's the first law of health-Keep your feet dry. We all know it. We all know that pheumonia and consumption always start with a cold, and that the shortest cut to a cold is a pair of wet feet But it's so important a matter that we can't be reminded too often, especially when the reminder carries the weight of authority.
> Dr. Wendell Chillips, one of the most distinguished Physicians in New York, was recently giving a lecture on "Colds, and How to Prevent Them." It was a rainy night and he began:
> " How many persons here wore rubbers to-night? Hands up.
> " Not half of you. Now, that is what I thought. Every one of you should have rubbers on a night like this. To go without them is to invite colds, bronchial trouble, catarrl, and pneumonia. It is astonishing how people neglect their feet. Rubbers are fifty cents. You can save a lot of money onthe investment-perhaps a ten-day's Doctor bill, to say nothing of medicine."
> The Doctor might have made it still stronger and said that a fifty-cent pair of rubbers would not only save Doctor bills and medicine bills, but often life itself. Don't try to save on rubbers; it's the most expensive economy in the world, especially just now when everybody is getting the grip.
-The Churchman.

Now that is perfectly and unanswerably true, but there is just one thing more to remember, namely: That there are rubbers and rubbers, and the only true economy is to get the best. The Candee Rubber Co . is the oldest rubber footwear company in the world. It began making rubbers in 1842 . It makes over five million pairs of rubber boots and shoes every year-every' kind and style and shape and size-and every rubber is stamped "CANDEE" on the bottom. Candee rubbers fit perfectly and wear prodigiously, and they cost only a few cents more per pair than poor rubbers.

They are sold in 18,000 shoe stores in the United States. Ask for Candee Rubbers; and look for the stamp "Candee."

The Best Way to Add to a Stamply Gollection

IS FROM APPROVAL SELECTIONS

Abstract

We have prepared a Series of Ten Books, each containing 546 varieties of foreign stamps, a total of $5 \not f 60$ different stamps. 'l'hese books are sent one at a time on approval. commencing with the cheapest. The collector will thas avoid duplication, as each succeeding lot will be different. The books do not bear our name, address, or discount, thus being favorable to agents. When the 5460 are completed, we have other books for advanced collectors, covering a range of 5000 varieties not in the first series.

COMMENCE RIGHT

When you request a selection on approval give us some idea of your collection, and your intentions as a purcliaser. If you are unknown to us, give some information that will enable us to start right. A line from a bank, or business house of commercial rating, is a good introduction. Minors must in all cases furnish a request from their parents or guardian.

TERMS

We expect all stamps sent on approval to be returned promptly, postage fully prepaid. Our prices are not above catalogne, and discount of 50 per cent. is allowed for cash with returns.

Liberal treatment guaranteed. Correspondence solicited.
