The Stamp Dealers of Great Britain.

In presenting the Philatelic Public with the Second Annual Edition of this Directory, I wish to thank those kind friends who have helped in a most material manner in the compilation of this the Sixth Edition of THE STAMP DEALERS OF GREAT BRITAIN.

That my efforts to present the trade with a Directory, useful to them, is appreciated there can now be no doubt, the number of prepaid orders for copies of the present edition largely exceeding that of the previous five editions, and the large increase in the number of Advertisements received for this edition justifies the belief that it will prove a remunerative medium.

Next year I trust to largely increase the usefulness of this work, and trust any reader of this short preface who may have any suggestion to make will not be backward in coming forward with his advice.

"One of the handiest Philatelic Address Books ever published in England is Innes's Directory of Foreign Stamp Dealers and Collectors, a copy of which is before us. It contains the names and addresses of some hundreds of English and Foreign dealers, besides a handy list of collectors in various parts of the world. One thing in its favour is that the names appear in proper alphabetical order. We have tested the accuracy of most of the names contained therein, and find them correct. At the price of one shilling it is within the reach of both dealer and collector, and should prove of service to all interested in the buying or selling of stamps."—Stamp Collector.

"The Directory published by Messrs. Innes is a book which all dealers would do well to procure—it is a distinct advance upon any similar one published in England. Besides the ordinary list, classified into dealers, British and Foreign, and British Collectors, we find a most useful summary of the various Philatelic Papers published over the globe, with valuable information about each. The shilling laid out on this book is well invested."—Philatelic Chronicle and Advertiser. 45
