WARREN H. COLSON

POSTAGE STAMPS FOR ADVANCED COLLECTORS

184 BOYLSTON STREET
BOSTON, U. S. A.

FROM the inception of our business of "Postage Stamps for Advanced Collectors" it has been our aim to cater particularly to those collectors who were sufficiently interested in stamps to accept as the keystones of their activity—the two fundamental attributes—authenticity of example and highest excellence of condition

We have felt that there were enough collectors of this rank to take every minute at the disposal of our organization and we have selected this class of collectors to enable us to give every matter the personal attention of Mr. Colson so that full responsibility for every piece leaving our office might rest directly with him

This past season's unprecedented business however, owing partly to our purchase of the Sussdorff collection, has produced more demands than we could accommodate and we offer a general apology to those whose orders we have been unable to fill. The necessity for a rest is the reason for Mr. Colson's immediate departure for California and until September he expects to remain in the West

It is Mr. Colson's intention to combine with his pleasure trip a not too serious interest in business and to that end he will take with him a portion of the Sussdorff collection so that his customers in the Far West may have an opportunity to examine at short range this grand collection—without the slightest obligation to purchase

After July 10th, 1912, Mr. Colson's personal address will be care of Palace Hotel, San Francisco, Cal., and he will be pleased to meet in person his many old customers in that part of the world

Though Mr. Colson will be away from Boston all summer, the return of selections now out on approval, and all other matters by mail, will receive attention at our usual address and due acknowledgment made

[July, 1912.]
