VOL. I. DECEMBER 1895. NO. 1.

NOTES.

As it will be over a month before our next issue, we wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

It is said that John K. Tiffany, of St. Louis, the famous philatelic expert, began collecting in 1858 and now has 16,000 varieties of stamps.

The price recently paid for two 20c St. Louis stamps, $5,000, staggers the comprehension of people not interested or posted in philatelic matters.

Another effort is being made to shut out of the United States mails the cheap, trashy literature of the dime novel order, that now goes through at second class rates.

NOTES.

A new catalogue of Canadian revenues is expected shortly.

The trial of two stamp cleaners took place in Canada recently. One of the men, Brown, was found guilty and the other was acquitted. This is the third trial of this class that has taken place inside of a year.

The first money order office was established in 1864.

In 1790 it cost 37 cents to send a letter from Savannah to New York.

Another philatelic paper from Canada is to appear shortly.
