BUT few articles have been publish late that contain any legitimate i mation or original views on any subject taining to philately. The main object of philatelic writers seems to be to fill a ce amount of space, regardless of the fact philatelic papers exist for the purpose o seminating information about stamps, an no other reason.

The Philatelic Journal of America is invalua account of ils "portrait gallery" of prominent ph lists, if for no other reason. The January nt contains several counterfeits of such, also se valuable a!ticles reprinted from foreign journal

The Canadian Philatelist has ñot made up its lost e yet. The last number contains no poetry which inusual. Something is evidentfif the matter with "Sweet Singer of Fresno."

The "Pensy" caters to the average collector, from om it derives its support. Kissingep is also roting consideraffe effort to making it tfle organ the members of the lair sex in our ranks.

Philatelists who take one or more for journals are wise, and the best of these, tal into consideration the low subscription $\mu$ as well as the excellence of its contents, is Monthly Jorrrnal.

By UNCLE (GROWLER.

FTER diligently looking over all my Columbian envelopes, and getting all my ends and first wife's relations to look over eirs; we have unanimously come to the consion that those with the period are much re uncommon than those without.
, yes even I; once had a block of four, of we famous three cents pink; but alas, I was very fond of showing it at every "tack and 'n;" that like "frail hamanity' it could not ind the course of time, and has lost its prized ch-bloom complexion. This conclusively proves ny mind, that we all have many of these thre ts pink, but in a faded, unreconizable condition; that about the only thing they are really good at the fancy price we sometimes see them quois to sell them to some one else who is satisfiwith their seeming rarity.

The Ninety Cent Orange is not near the rarity that it has the name of being, but i quite a common stamp; nearly as much so a the ninety cent of the 1872 issue; yet the for mer is catalogued at forty cents, and the lat ter at twenty-five. This misleading state 0 afairs is brought by collectors and dealer: hourding them up, expecting to realize a hand some profit on them at some future date. This. think is a grave mistake, as nearly collector thi side of the "Mill Pond" at least, has one or mor and the enormous quantity of them that have bee used, can be partially realized when one thinks of the four thousand, recently purchased by a Ner York dealer in one lot.

Of the 151 U. S. adhesive stamps, catalogued is Scott under the head of "general issue," there ai over 18 priced $$ 10$. or more; 34 at over $$ 5 . ; 52$ ovi $$ 2.50 ; 71$ over $$ 1.01$, and only 19 under two cent What are we coming to? One will soon have be a millionaire to purchase the 3c green.

The cheapest of the 26 Carrier stamps not incli ding the reprints, is priced at $$ 5$; the most them $$ 20$., and from that up to several hundrs dollars.

The Newspaper and Periodical stamps are l priced over ten cents each, and are quoted buble what they are worth; many of them hould not sell at much over face value, for hey are yet quite frequently bought at that. Among over three handred cat square enlopes there are less than a dozen priced low two cents; which is another farce, and a collector wanted to sell instead of bay; ie stamps he would be offered one cent and 53 for, would count into the hundreds, instead of e tens.
Only four official stamps are catalogued at one nt and a goodly number at ten dollars or more. any of these are quoted altogether too high, whi e low are really priced too low.
Truly, these stamps in a dealers hands, are a Iter prize than Aladdin,s lamp; nevertheless a Iriotic yankee lad or lassie should get as good a lection of Uncle Sammy's stamps, as patience, severence, time and money, will permit.

From the present outlook in the Senate, will again have Playing Card and Medic stamps.

In the last issue in the article "Helps Philately," the writer speaks of the exor tant price asked for certain stamps. Did . ever compare the price list of a dealer w his buying list? if not do so; here are a samples from the two lists of one dealer. Weditate on the small (?) profit he wants to ma 1847 10c black on bluish paper, he oifers $\$ 1$ and will $\leq$ Ell it for $\$ 3$. For the be brown, you get 40 c and pay $\$ 1.51$; '69 24c green and bla you will recsive $\$ 2.50$ and pay just twice as mu A few sales like these will send that deater "o the hills to the poor house." Come down to ein issucs; a 90e purple will net you 25 c and "hec; you can give him 100 of the 4e carmine Ge, and will charge te each. If you are "flix and will invest heavily, te will allow ten per discount. Let's all be dealers.

Boys and Girls! excuse me I mean young ladies, I will tell you of a little scheme, by which you can easily add a few specimens to your collection at a small cost.
Advertise in your local paper that you will huy old stamps or collections. It will cost about twenty-five cents and you will receive about one thousand answers, ( more or less ) 997 will write they have $九$ lot of two cents yreen, two cents red, one and two cents Columbian, etc; dont bother them but make a bee pine for the other three. They will bring out an jid account book filled with all kinds of stamps in a! kinds of conditions: Match stamps; Medicine stamps; Revenue stamps; Envelopc stamps, (bet rou a cigar they are all cut round. Dont swear, that wont pat margins on them) and etc., and every rondemned stamp tied down with glue, or some otler kind of "stickem."

After your first surprise is over, do a little menal arithmetic and decide what they are worth; hen ask the owner, his price. He will tell you some of those stamps are over seventy-five years Id." You are not obliged to believe this, bat ell the owner what you will give for them. He vill want about five dollars, but if you are a good talker and have plenty of gall, you wi get them for about two.
Be sure and promise to retura the bod when you get through with it. (you will least have the covers) 'Take it home and pu the leaves to soak over night; next mornin strain off the glue, (you can sell it for abol half what you paid for the whole thing) the look over your treasures and you will fir you can fill many empty spaces in your album. was there and know what I am talking about.
Next month I may tell you of some stamps I g in that way, RANDOM - NOTES.

THE FIVE CENTS VENEZUELA 1879-80 found in two varieties. In the one variety the lo, er inscription reads: " 5 centesimos 5 ." In the other variety the lower inscription is: " 5 cen! mos 5."

THE 1887 ISSUE of $\boldsymbol{\mu}$. S. stamped envelop: appears on two varieties of paper. One variety ha the $S$ of the monogram (composed of $U$ and $S$ ) com letely twined around the letter $U$. The oter variety has the $S$ twined only around the ight hand stroke of the U. I have a one ct n white and a two cents on blae, with both ater-marks. (All denominations of stamp1 envelopes and wruppers, printed on all the ifferent sizes and colors of paper used by the
O. department at that time, were issued to e public with both water-marks. Ed.)

The two cant Columbian stamped envelopes with full size, distinct, period; seem to be very scarce.

I have several specimens of stamped envelopes hich have the ink showing equally as plain on reverse side, as on the front.

Official seals in my opinion, are not collectable. y not put druggists labels in your album? it is they are merely labels, but so are official seals.
you are opposed to Sebecks, surcharges and er speculative issues, do not buy them; for as as they are bought, just so long thoy will be ted.

THE number of philatelic papers get out before the end of the month is coming lamentably small. No doubt the tivity in the stamp trade is responsibl most cases.

The Rip. Van Winkle Phil- beg par the Canadian Philatelist is hustling to maki for lost time. The December end Januar: sues came to hand almost together. contain some good articles, like-wise sev doses of fiction that are simply horrible.

The article on the Fridl Museum of stamp Vienna, in the Philatelic Journal of America, good'description of this world-famed instíution. most important of its kind. Such an establish: is badly needed in this country.

The "Pennsy" for February has a leading ari on "Dealing in Postage Stamps," which o: with a premise that small dealers beneiit the ca ceatly, by keeping up the intercst in phiia matters in their vicinity. Tris is a socind and argument, and a good point ior the decryers he February Minnesota Philatelist is not at lad; the leading article being one on state enues, a class of stamps of which little is wn, but which are an interesting study.

c Fetruary Eastern contains an interesting

The American Journal of Philately ha London correspondent who understands business, and sends over a very interest letter earh month.

The editor of the Detroit Philatelist in February issue, comments on the pronen of many collectors to hide their light und a bushel and refuse to contribute to the r atelic press, thereby depriving their brot coliectors of the benefit of their discoveries and servations, while profiting from the good heart ness of their more unselfish fellow-philatelists. A little observance of the golden rule is needed our ranks.

It is amusing to read the abuse directed at P. S. of A. by several philatelic editors, and $t$ to turn to the membership list of the society read their names. Consistency, thou art $\varepsilon$ ver ble Koh-i-noor!

From all indications, the philatelic exhibit the Midwinter Fair will throw that at the Col bian Exposition in the shade, so far as comple ness is concerned, at least.

The Barean of Engraving and Printing been awarded the contract of printing U tamps, which action no doubt indicates a issue for this country.

The latest Metropolitan Philatelist has, ong other good articles, one by "Missoaris," in which he advances the theory that varieties of revenue stamps which have n used for postal purposes are collectible an unued condition. His conclusions are ical, bat there is much logic and food for aght in the article.

Now that its president is languishing in the yon keep," the Philatelic Society of Canada succumbed to the inevitable. The C. P. A., he other hand, appears to be in a state of renation.

To the Washington Philatelist belongs the it of first announcing the withdrawal from use 10 yellow special delivery stamp. If wili undiedly become scarce in the near future.

Cleve Scott has come forth from the exile which he was driven by the well-directed ridi-cale of the critice last season, and is no flicting upon the public about the wor has ever had to suffor trom. Another should be administered to this persisten ponent of cowboy journalism.

The first number of the Bristol $C$ Stamp News, successor to the Golden Star. appeared. It is a very neat little paper.

A number of philatelic writers have tered the professional ranks. Success to th

San Francisco can boast of having two o best philatelic papers published in America. They are always well filled with bright, read articles and last but not least, are issued pron on time.

There is undoubtedly a great boom in atelic matters in the Evergreen State. As time ago the writer knew of but few collector: the state; now almost every town has from on a score of enthusiastic followers of Philatolia.

SEEBECKS.

HALL we philatelists tolerste these stamps, or are we going to keep in the ne path as of old and denonnce them; but the same time allow them to find places in albums?
Mr. Raymond L. Perry, formerly editor the Brooklyn Stamp, organized a society ring August of last year, of which the ob$t$ was to discourage as well as prevent coltors from buying any of the stamps of the ath or Central American countries which supplied by the Hamilton Bank Note Company, Seebeck, as he is the president of the afoersaid ipany; but unfortunately for philately, Mr. Perry s forced to give up the publishing of the paper. lits new publishers, Messrs Post and La Mont e done nothing further about it, probably think. the philatelic public would give up collecting se stamps after they were once shown in their e light.
Now the reason why we should not allow these stamps, beautiful as they undeniably are, adorn our albums is this: They are issued so for stamp collectors and the country they supposed to be from, they never have been as most of them never see the outside of N York city until sold to some dealer or coll tor.

The writer was in the office of one of principle dealers in these stamps and wh there fully five thousand sets of these ve stamps were brought in from the Hamilt Bank Note Company's building around the blo just as they had been struck nff.

This conclusively proves that they are no ter than the type set officially sealed labels (18 issue) manufactured by Norrill Bro's of Fulton Y., simply for the conyenience of country po masters; but sold by a great many dealers at low (?) price of twenty-five cents each when t cost them only seventy-five cents per five hundr

It is true "Seebeck's stamps" are the engraved and most beautiful of any of the cou tries which pay for their stamps, (the author $n$ lected to say that these stamps are given to these . 0 tries free, provilded they will have a new issue ei year and retuin all remainders.)

Collectors, aro you going to pay fifty cent et for the 1893 Salvadors, when they are on y worth at the most five cents?

Moral: Leave Seobecks alone and takc hem out of your albums.

A good way to use your duplicates is to them in your alburn, by exchanging with some liable collector or dealer, and in this way you c

In this number there are several dealers sking for a share of your patronage and are ffering special bargains to induce you to ive them a trial order. We have had dealngs with them all, and can guarantee satisactory treatment. Would it not be preferble then, to trade with such an one who ants to please you well enough to spend his time nd money in order to bring the matter before you, an to deal with one who dœes not care enough for our trade to even ask for it?

Now thal a new issue of the Special Delivery tamp is on the tapis, we would like to see a new esign come out; the old one in our opinion, being ery crude for a postage stamp.

We postively can not furnish back numebrs at egular subscription rates; but for a limited time e can furnish numbers $1 & 3$ at 3 c each, and a ery fow of number 2 at 5e each.

This paper on trial four months for five cents.

For this, you will receive a cer tificate of membership, the official organ, (th Pennsylvania Philatelist,) which is well wort all the cost, and other benefits too numerou to mention, make this the leading society fu the average collector. It now numbers 60 members and will undoubtedly have a thousand is fore its first annual convention, thus becoming th largest society of its kind in America.

There seems to be considerable controvers among the members whether the coming conven tion shall meet in the East or Wes!. For my pat I do not want to "go West" as that would land u Washington philatelists somewhere in the ocear. Better compromise the matter ("split tha diffe ence") and convene in Denver, Colorado.

With commendable disinterestedness Mr. R. Ashcroft has the following in the March "Penns..

ROMES 产 GOMMENTS.

To whom it may concern: The underned has no connection with the business nagement of the Evergreen State Philat at, and all communications concerning the er should be addressed to the proprietor.
Publishers should send me one of the two pas we receive in exchange, however.

Obituaries of the Canadian Philatelic Weekly now in order. Cause of demise: Lack-of-sec--class-rates; a disease peculiarly fatal to young promising stamp papers.
"Little in much," if the transposition of a well"wn phrase be allowable, would seem to be applicable to the American Philatelic Maga, for Mareh.

The "Pennsy" makes a fine showing in new pink cover. The March number is voted principally to a discussion as to wh the next convention of the Philatelic Son America will be held. It will no doubt be ther Denver or Niagara Falls.

The Minnesota Philatelist seems to be i state of prosperity, and evidently has the s port of the Minneapolis collectors.

The Weekly Philatelist should inform the latelic public of its reasons for existence. Sp ner is far from being a success as an editor.

The Eastern Phi'atelist is up to its us standard. Its advertising pages are no dou's source of envy to many philatelic publishers.

In view of the numerous commemorative sues appearing of late, the Prilatelic Journai America offers their coilection as a suggestion would-be specialists. There is cartainly a lat list of these stamps. Even Japan, whose phila cord has hitherto been remarkably clear issued a pair of stamps to celebrate the ar wedding of the country's rulers.

The above magazine also contains an afing articłe, published anonymously, but bt less by Mr. Tiffiany, setting forth the sehistory of a recent addition to the vast of defunct philatelic journals.

The Philatelic Era's oxcellence is due in a at measure to C. W. Small's contributions, ch are all of merit and value.

The Stump's only fault is its irregular appear e. The February number contains an amusing :le entitted "The Sight That Failed," by Geo. S. more, who seems to aspire to the title of phiis humnrist.

The oditor of the Canaitian Phiaratelic Magaannounces that he is awaiting pationtly for the ting of the "transient boom" of the P. S. of A. It is to be feared that he will succumb to that ed feeting" before the anticipated event comes ass. How would "The Fairy Tale Philatelist" or an appropriate name for this paper?

With the March number the Wa Philatelist resumes the publication of "Thevt traits on U. S. Stamps," and gives a cont hensive biography of Henry Clay.

The Post Office has again changed ea but for better or worse, remains to be th ty its readers. This paper is the authori the statement that the Columbian set of will be worth fifty dollars in five years.

THE Post (0ffice Departments, like all the others, were really of no errthly use. pe were sent off to the post-masters when leal for, and the P. Ms. were obliged to use ill on envelopes furnished by the Dept.
These envelopes bore in the corner, in a ry borler, the inscription "here affix offistamp," and in another corner, "()fficial: 'This velope is to be used only for Post Office Busis." 'These envelopes alone without any stamp re írequently sent through the mail. and I have n ordinary plain envelopes without inscription er than the address, used by post-masters in an vial way.
I think from the utter uselessness of these mps that they rank with pretty (or ugly) pictures Seebecks. and are no more collectable than cfficial penalty envelopes now used in their ad.

SINCE writing my last contribution the E. S. P., the Post-master General decided that the opening of the bids for the en Inpe contract was illegal and advertised for again. The Plimpton company will probably be lucky bidders and receive the contract.

It is said that Robert Hoe the great prini press manufacturer, has a collection of 40 . mps ralued at $$ 75,001$ ), and Geo. W. Vanrhilt's collection would bring $$ 50.000$ if ld at auction, and that there are a dozen of lectors in New York whose collections are Ined at $$ 25,000$ each. Yum! Yum!

In the island of St Helena's total revenue - 1892 of $£ 7,691$, is included the old item $£ 139$ received from dealers throughout the rld for postage stamps. The population the island is 4000 and steadily decreasing.

A scientist (I wonder if that means a philatscientist?) says that the way to find whetha postage stamp has been used or not, is to ntograph it. If the post-mark has been obliterid, the blue or green color will not make any im. ission on the plate while the black traces of obration will appear with great distinction. Even en no traces of the post-mark can be seen by microscope, the photograph will show very clear the date and locality where it was post-marked.

The New York papers have been publishing icles on the subject of collecting a million stamps the prices to be procured for the same.
Some claim they can get $$ 5,000$ and so forth.

It is astonishing how few people have an clear notion what a million is. A millio stamps placed side by side would strete about $1 ⿹ 勹$ miles. To count a millon stampsa the rate of one hundred a minute, would tak a week working day and night and it woul require two Saratoga trunks packed solid t hold them.

Come boys, look over your 1887 2c gret envelope stamps; you may find a speciment the die "A."

In the century number of the Qualit City Plilatelist, P. M. Wolsieffer describesi fully. Its worth reading, and for fhe benefit of an who have not read the article, I will describe th two dies.

Tne $G$ in postage is made like a C, the cros bar being left off; the head is tipped back, causin the eye to look at an angle of 45 degrees instea of straight ahead; the toe point of the neck point betweenthe 3rd and 4th tooth from the bottom of tio serrated edge in die A , and the first and seco: in die B .
'There are 72 notches in the outside serrate edge in die A , and only 67 in die B , and last br not least, he catalogues the rare die used, thus:

Shite paper, 75c; amber, $$ 1.10 ;$ oriental buft', (25.00; blue, $$ 75.00$; manilla, $$ 200.00$; amber nanilla, 3250.00. Find a few of the latter nid you can buy a few sets of Columbians.

I looked over about two hundred and ound "Nix."

GDIGORIALS

工NTERESTEI FRIENDS have repeatell asked if we are publishing this paper fit fun or for money. As far as our experielu yoes we fail to find much fun and the mone is generally missing too.

The fact is, as we have heretofore staten we are publishing the paper to boom Plila tely in this corner of uncle Sammy's domai and we think we are succeeding in a degre judging from the many commendable letten we receive from philatelists in this, the northwest

It is our determination to sink every dolla that the E.S. P., may bring in the first year. int the plant to further improve the paper and make more what it should be.

We acknowledge with thanks, the receipt amp, coin and curiosity price lists from D. . Averill & Co., of Portland, Oregon.

This firm has unusually good facilities ,r obtaining anything in their line of busirss and offer many decided bargains.

Several U. S. stamps of different dates, ainly those of '73 both regular and departnutal issues, are reported to be found on ihbed paper. If this is true it seems strange hey were not diseovered long ago.

As we desire every reader of this paper o secure us one or more new subscribers, and beiving extra work is deserving of extra pay, we ave this proposition to make:

For the largest list of subscribers your own an count as one) at fifteen cents each, (or twentyive cents worth of good U. S. stamps catalngued it two cents or more each) received before June (1)th :04, we will give the person securing them provided there are not less than five) 500 varieties Foreign Postage Stamps, guaranteed to cata. ogue at least $$ 10.0$ )

For the next largest list 100 covered stamp ournals, inclunting many scarce numbers.

For the third largest list, 50 covered stamp papers, and for all of the other lists of two more but not drawing any prize, we will turn five cents on every name sent in.

We have received from W. F. Bishop), La Grange, Ills., one of his Pocket Posta Stamp Albums which he sells at 6c each.

They are quite neat, hold nearly five hut dred stamps and are just right to hold dupl cates or to use for approval books.

Just as we go to press we learn from oul valued correspondent "Phill," that Post-ma" ter General Bissell awarded the stamped envelon contraci to James Purcell, of Hudson, N. Y., Ma 5th. The bid was $$ 692.62$ ') per annum, the neu lowest waa $$ 808.000$ by the Plimpton company.

The Worln's Fair Postal Cards are beautitu philatelic souvenirs of the great exposition, an every collector should strive to get a set.

Mr. B. S. Ross, the wholesale dealer, offer some bargains in this line in another column. have had dealings with him for the past year and know you will be pleased if you give him an orde.

Our :- Exghanges.

The Eas'ern Philatelist has adopted a stanmif which it seldom falls below, and the mil number is even more interesting than mmon, but of all the good things this paI contains, the editorials are more eagerly rused by the writer than the ballance of contents.

How can any collector do without the uilatelic $E r a ?$ is a question not easily answerIt is the only semi-monthly philatelic urnal published and the news it contains is more esh and less antiquated than that generally found the monthlies. This magazine is further blessin having C. W. Small as an associate editor.

The Hoosicr Stamp after deteriorating for the st six months. has been sold to Chris. Peterson. Chicago, who will probably consolidate it with s Puritan Phtatelist.

The Canadian Philatelic Magazine is one our brightest exchanges from across the border. ie always wish that there was more of it.

Number two of Philatelic Comfort (rightl named) has reached us and we enjoyed read ing every word it contained. We woubl lik the first number.

The Detroit Philatelist completes its secon volumn (24 numbers) with the April numbe and seems to be a very popular paper bot with dealer and collector.

That nice paper with the far reachint name, the Transcontinental Philatelist, gives con siderable information of value each month.

The Pust Office for April contains a de scription of that variety of the 2c Carmine $18 \%$ issue it mentioned as having discovered last month

Like many of the so called varıeties of the I S. stamps, we think this is simply another of th: worn or damaged plate specimens, and are doubt. ful as to the desirability of their collection.

I'he variety mentioned occurs occasionly both of the figures 2 ; sometimes only in the righi hand figure, but more commonly the left, and consists of a small white cap or bar, continuing from. or resting on the top of the numeral slightly tnward the right.

Mr. Gremmel certainly must consider fin quite desirable as he isasking fifty cents n" an unused specimen. His paper states lat these stamps were ased during the latter art of '93, (why did he not call collectors atmition to them at that time?) and as soon as he company printing them discovered the hange from the ordinary type, they stopped rinting from the plates then in use.
P. M. Wolsieffer in Mekecl's Weekly Siamp Verus, claims that they were used in October and lecamber of 1892 .

The only stamps we have seen so damaged. ave come from the city of Portland. Oregon, and the must have had more than her share nf them according to the above dates, ) for we have receivd several from there during the last few days.

Experience certainly dœes count in publishing sfamp paper; at least Gus Luhn has given some lood rearing in the April-May number of the South"n Philatelist.

We acknowledge a pleasant call from Mr. Naurice Binford. junior member of the Young Imerican Publishing Co., of Portland, Uregon.

He informed us that they have been at work on the July number of the Young American if some time. 'They are probably contempla ing something extra for that month.

Have you read their ad. on the cover.
We have received prospectus of the $P$ h 'atelic Slamp Dealers' Dircctory of the World, $t$ be published quarterly by E. H. Friedlande of 306 Callowhill St., Philadelphia, Pa., an it promises to fill a long felt want; for som thing of the kind has been needed, and it to be hoped that dealers will give it the pat ronage and encouragement such a publication s richly merits. 'The first number is announced appear in July.

The Stamp for April commences on its thir year, and contains the npening chaplers of "Th Adhesive P'ostage Stamps of the U. S. of A., Walter A. Withrow, which promises to be a ver valuable article and no collector can afford to mis reading it.

The Minnesota, Bristol County Stamp Neas and Kaleidoscope failed to reach us for April.

Publishers will please accept thanks for the Little Hero, Sun, Occident, Ink Drops, etc., etc.

$\stackrel{r}{V}$RITERS for the philatelic press are wont to sing the praises of the presat time. The great increase in the number f collectors, the improvement in our jourals and the advance of the hobby along scimitific lines, all go to show that we are adancing and that things philatelic are in a ore flourishing condition than ever before. lowever, as civilization brings its evils with . so this philatelic prosperity also has its ills, and re of the worst of these is the speculative issue.

A few years ago such a thing as issuing tamps for collectors was unknown, and now what n array of issues meets the eye that are made re collectors only:

The French Colonials, with their thousand nd one surcharges, and the new issue for each Nony.

The Seebeck emissions, and the San Marino ssues. The Liberia triangular and Registration riamps. and the Obock Camel Post labels.

The new set of North Borneo, the Shang haii issue and the Don Henrique issue of Po tugal and her colonies, and this state of af fairs is likely to get a good deal worse; for the speculative issues now on the market fiul ready sale, new ones are sure to follow.

Is it not time that this organized rai on the pockets of the collectors should $b$ stopied? If every collector were to boyeor these emissions, the speculative issue would soo be a thing of the past.

The question is, "Are the philatelsts of th present time going to allow the wnoi to be pulle over their eyes and swallow everything that come along, or not ?"

The choice is easily made. Leave the sper ulative issue alone.

They are still on the jump. Columbians mean and where are they going to stnp?

In the bargain column of N. E. Carter's bla:
in for May, he prices the fifty cent stam! it ifty-fire cents for a used copy.

It is rumored that a New York firm las reated a corner on the $$ 1.00$ stamps by biynow up all the remainders. They wrote to he postmasters all over the country and weured all the stamps of that value they hal nd now are asking collectors $$ 3.50$ apiece.

There is talk of the other dealers peti-ioning C'ncle Sam to start up his print machine gain and break the corner but I doubt if this will Ie done.

Apropos: One Hartford drummer has had orlers to buy ons dollar Columbians in every town he visited and has bought many hundreds of them. l'he last he got were in Springfield, Mass., where le tnok 40, all the P. M. had.

While looking over my 189) stamps trying to Ot some of the 2c capped variety. I came across decided variety in the 1s blue, that I have never cen mentioned. It is one of an unseverad pair; he other being the same as any common one.

ed with the line that encircles it, by a lin from the top of the circle to the right of th figure; the line measuring 2 mms . in lenyth at the right of the right hand figure ther is another line with a hooked point extending into the inner circle but does not quite con nect the figure.

The 1890 Issue is very prolific in varietie The Weckly Phtlatelist speaks of the lc in brow and the 6c in red: now Gremmel has told us of th variety in the 2c and Connor finds the 4 c in two lengths, one measuring $1-2 \mathrm{~mm}$., more than the other. Next!

It is rumored that Purcell who has receivel the envelope contract, has decided to use the old Screw Company's works in Hartford, as a plant foo making the envelopes, so that city may still be tha center from which our envelopes will come. Tha is only a rumor but I think it is pretty straight.

On and after July first no more postal notes will be sold. Instead, the price of money order has been reduced.

The following gem, probably written by I. A. Pierce, was found in an ash-barrel in front of Major Egan's house shortly after the leluge:
"I'm constrained to believe, but with yrief, I confess, that the postage-stamp world is one magazine less; it has planted its tent on the shadowy shore, and the band of the dead is one magzine more. On the first of July it was taken with cramps, in its Grand Colored Plates of Uuited States Stamps. They gave it a treatment of second-class rates; a penny a pound in the United States; but it failed to revive, it was smothered to death, and on August the Primal it drew its last breath. Then here's to its ashes, and peace to its dust, it's hard to believe. but believe it I must. May it flourish again as the yoars roll away, may we greet it again at no far distant day, and subscriptions untold fill its treasury when, in the years yet to come, we receive it again."

EDIMORIAL 巴OTPOURIRI.

OUR only valid excuse for suspendins publication is now taken from us. Wi have secured second-class rates.

We are somewhat late in mailing thi number but through no fault of our own.

As many have no doubt read in the papers: the Columbia river rose higher in the June freshet than was ever known of before totally destroying several small towns alon: its banks and doing considerable damage th the larger cities. 'The U. P. R. R. is alo wrecked between this place and Portland, ()reger which deprived us of mail facilities for over th: weeks, and as the building where the paper for this number came from had five feet of water in it un til a few days agn; we trust our readers will par:
don us for being a week late with this issue, specially as we have always appeared promptly on time heretofore.

With this number the associate editor spers his connection with the paper, leaving ye editor to "go it alone." Exchanges will oblige us by sending two copies of their paper to the publisher, instead of one to each prlitor as heretofore.

We have it on gond authority that Secretary Ashcroft, of the P. S. of A., will accept a re-nomination to that office, which is of course equivalent to an election, Mr. Bundy, - whom we favored-has declined to be a candidate for this office.

As the orange special delivery stamp is furnished to post-masters ordering the special stamps. it has given rise to a belief that they were not withdrawn from use as stated some time ago.

The printing of the stamp in orange ceased however, on January 5, 1894, and the blue color will be resumed as soon as the present supply of the orange is exhausted.

This paper on trial fnur months for five cedis.

We acknowledge the receipt of price list number 4 from B. S. Ross, dealer in Unitefil States stamps, envelopes, postal cards, etc., for both dealer and collector; also his buying list giving the prices he will pay for U.S. stamps of all kinds. These lists should be in the hands of every collector.

The United States commences the printing of its own stamps on the first of July: but from all accounts will probably use the same old dies, pnssibly adding sereral new values, such as fifty cents and dinllar stamps and dis. continuing one or more of the old values.

The signs of the times point to the discontincance of the publication of many philatelic papers now before the public. "Lack of time," 'failure to secure secend-class rates, etc,' will be the excuses ctiered. Several papers in Canada, among which we rotice the Dominion and Canadian Philatelist and one or two others of minor importance. have been refused second-class rates on the ground that they were simply the publishers advertising mediums. Should Uncle Sammy do likewise, whata very few philatelic papers would be left in the I. S.; onty the Era, Washington, Pennsұ & Evergreen.

| We believe that under this heading many valuable helps and hints for collectors can be given, and if it meets with the approval of our readers, we will be pleased to hear from them and publish such information as they may favor us with from time to time.
We would prefer to have each author confine himself to not mure than two hundred words, but of course do not want to shorten anly article to its detriment. Who will be the first to send us such an article?]

THE days of old hair trunks overflowing with philatelic tresures have long since gone by, and it never fell to my lot to find any stamps in this wny.

My first lucky fiind- or at least I considered it so then - was a 3c locomotive of 1869. It was found-as are the first finds of every rollector I presume - by looking over old letters, and at that time I had never seen any like it, consequently the pleasure I then felt, will lnng be remembered as on of my happiest collecting experiences. Shortly after this a 3c 1863 was found in the same way and possibly swelled he sum total of my collection, to something like wenty varieties.

Probably I was not as diligent a hunter for lamps as my more fortunate philatelic brethren, for I was years before I agaın secured any new specinens in this way. It is true several revenues were found on patent medicine and perfumery bottles etc.

While attending an auction sale, an oll 1 runk was bought by a stranger beside me. and umong other old papers that he threes out of it, I was delighted to see an old mateh wrapper with a block of four of the 4 c black Wm. Bond & Co's., match stamp of Portlaml. Oregon, attatched theretc.

Again, in looking over some ancient (\%) photos,- taken in the sixties--I came across many revenue stamps attatched to the back of them, and althnugh most of them were of the com. monest kind, several rarities were found, such as playing card. unperforated, part perforated and dojble perforations. These were easily removed by laying a cloth wet with hot water on the stamp.

Another find of considerable value was secured in the following manner:

Many of the older collectors will urdjubtedly remember when the P. O. department furnished post offices throughout the country with specimen sets of the stamped envelopes then in use; one of -each size and value, on each kind of paper being framed, with the price per thousand printed on each variety of envelope but the stamps left uncanceled.

Knowing of an office with one of these specimen sets hanging in it, I called on the P. M. and asked if he would sell me the frame and contents. He refused to sell, but said as they were out of date, I could have the envelopes if I wanted them. It is needless to say, that his offer was 'jumped at,' the stamps at that time were catalogned at over $$ 15.00$.

The set consisted of all the values of stamped envelopes and wrappers, from Ic to 9(1c. on all the varieties of paper then in use, and I believe that there are a few of these specimen sets left in some old post office to be eventually found by some persistent phriatelic treasure seeker" [)EAI)! well, not quite, but nearly so; at any rate sleeping until the autumn. That is the philatelic situation in this city. Dealers report business very dull; in fact one of them has taken in 4 stock of fireworks for the 4th, presumably to make up for poor stamp trade.
R. W. HRENCH.

C. E. Patton, one of Salem's leading lights, was down on a flying trip on June 14 after some stamps that had been stolen nut of his collection. I hear he was lucky enough to get them all back.

Specialism seems to be the order of the day here. P. Lombard is solling the greater part of his collection. He keeps U. S., British Colonies. Hawailan Islands and Argentine.

The flood did not reach our dealers, still it was within three blocks of the genial Mac Mullin's.

Has the reader not heard of our Mac Mul. lin; poet, orator, journalist, and all round stumpic? Mac Mullin was formerly a collertor, (and somewhat of a philatelist too,) and spent lots of money on stamps; but, alas, in an evil hour, he was tempted by the charms of dealing and is now slaughtering the mangled corpse of a fine collection at bed-rock prices. Note; this is not an advertisement but the narration of a mournful fact.

Has anybody seen a 2e 1890, with cap ou right hand figure alona? Bye the bye, the variety with the left hand figure capped, is quite common here. Our Post Office must have been especially favored. Varinus dates have been assignad to the issue of this variety and when it was used. I should not be astonished to learn it was in use now, for I have seen it on letters as late as May 15 , ' 14 .

The Pullman strike will probably play sad havoc with the stamp business all over the country if it lasts long enough. We Westerners must I suppose, bid "a long farewell" to the stamp papers of the East, but meanwhile the Evergreen will atford consolation for

Now that the government has decided to print its own stamps; in order to distinguish its work from the American Bank Yote Company's, the Bureau of Engraving lias caused to be printed in the upper left hand corners of the stamps, a figure to represent a clover leaf.

Changes will be made by the omission of the 30 c and 90 c stamps and the addition of We, 1, 2 and 5 dollar values. A radical change will be made in the Newspaper stamps The $4,6,8,24,48,60,72,8 \pm \& 96$ cents, and the $\$ 1.92,3,6,9,12,24,36,48$ and 60 dollar denominations will be discontinued, and 5,25 \& 50 c and $2,5,10,20,50$ and 100 dollar values will be added.

It has been suggested- now that we have returned to the little red portrait of George Wash-ington--that a more suitable design could be securef; for it is argued that in order to cancel the stamp, the head of the father of his country, has to be punched several million times a yaar.
The new design proposed, is the stars ruld stripes in two colors, but then every times patriotic American mailed a letter, he would le obliged to "lick" the national emblem and that has never yet been done; and again every half-americanized foreignor would by the same act, kiss the American flag.
Still they come! New varieties in the $18: 9$ issue. A correspondent to the Dixie Philatclist has found another variety of the 2 c carmine; the upper left hand part of the 2 entirely seperated from the rest of the figure and also serrated.

In addition to the variety mentioned last month I found the le blue with the lower points of the figure having a wavy line ascending upward.

Here is the latest trick: A Philadelphia dealer in phntographic supplies. received a large pack. age by mail from California; it weighed 36 pounds and the postage amounted to $$ 10.76$, requiring one $5. stamp. one $4. stamp, one $1., one ajlc. two 3 c and one 10c Special Delivery.

Now here is where the business end came in: The cancelled stamps brought six dollars by selling them to a dealer, thereby redneing the mstage to $$ 4.66$; over one dollar less than the ost of expressage. Pretty clever idea, dont ven think? and when the express companies rat on to it, perhaps they may reduce rates.

Buyers of large quantities of miscellanems stamps usually find enough uncancelled mes to pay for the cost.

A friend recently bought j000 common stamps or almost nothing, and found upon assorting them orty Zc and thirteen lc , uncancelled.

EDITORIALS QOMPOURR!.

THE A. P. A., S. of P., and P. S. of A will soon meet in their annual conventions and as it is impracticable for Washington ar: Oregon collectors to be with them on account of the distance etc., why can we not have s "meet" of our own some time in the near future?

There is Seattle, 'Tacoma or Spokane is this state and Portland, Salem or La Grande in Oregon; all cities with a goodly number "! philatelists in them. and we venture to say a grand time could be participated in, if the philatelists of these two states- with all others of course who would honor us with their presence--would decide to hold a jubilee in any one of them.

We need not belong to any clique or clan and the only passport needed, is we are interested in stamps and meet in convention, or association.
their discassion, exchange, sale, etc., and to become better acquainted, have a pleasant time socially, and in fact the hundred and one things that would make such a meeting enjoyable to us cranks.

If we act at all on this, we want to be prompt as it will take one or two months to spread the word and make the neccessary arrangements; for the ideas broached are only in the crude, need refining, and are only mentioned to give snme idea of our thoughts on this subject.

If any one else is in favor of this plan, let us hear frnm you, and where shall we meet?

We are in favor of Portiand--possibly because it is only a few hours ride from here- for we think it most centrally located philatelically.

Will you attend such a meeting, and could any good be got out of it? "Weuns" would be there.

We are indebted to D. M. Averill & Co., of 386 Moriison St., Portland, Oregon, for a superb specimen of the 2c capped variaty; also price list and bargain blotter on which wa notice the Ic Pe riodical priced at 8c, the 2c at 7c, and other bargains equally as good.

This paper on trial four months for five cents.

It does not seem to be generelly know that we are now using six varieties of posta cards in the United States, sizes A, B, D, E, and $G$, and that some of them are furnished to postmasters in sheets.

The G cards are $31-2 \times 5$ 1-2 inches; the A cards are single and $215-16 \times 4$ 3-8 inchee the D size is double, for domestie service, 31 : x 51-2 inches when folded; the E card was in troduced in 1879 for international use ans bears a two cent stamp, is $3 \times 51.2$ inches ir dimentions; the F card is double, for foreign countries and of the same dimentions as the D carr but each part bears a two cent stamp, while the I card carries a one cent stamp on each part.

When it comes to offering inducements tit draw trade, our Western boys seem to get awa with their Eastern brethren. Notice the ads. of $C$ Bundy and H. Moeller in this paper. Both ar honorable gentlemem, mean just what they say and you will be pleased if you give them a trial.

It is a misdemeanor, punishable by quite fine, for a postmaster or his clerks, to remoid stamps from mail matter; it is commonly done how ever and ought to be stopped.

Mr. W. A. H. Connor, 943 Magnolia St., lakland, Cal., has favored us with one of his neat millimetre scales, also lists and a new shape die cut hinge which may prove to be an improvement.

Of the many papers launched upon the lroubled philatelic sea during the last ten months and over six months old, the Californisn and this paper are apparently the only mes left; at least the others lave not made their appearance for several months.

We received too late for publication an adv. om P. A. Ginnon, 70 Putnam St., Hartford. Ct., offering the 2c carmine with block over the left 2 also both figures, both stamps for only 12 cents.
'Those of our readers wishing to accept of this lfier will please govern themselves accordingly.

The Mekeel Company have kindly sent us a Patriotic Blotter for July, which contains this terse it of advice: "The dealer who advertises judicously, has nothing to worry him during the hot veather. His trade comes in like the tide.

Discontinue advertising for the summer, and ou may receive a limited amount from a few" etc.

I'he next move took more courage, an article I had no great amount of. but after a while a suff. cient was mustered to ask my worthy friend if tho had any old United States stamps.

A PLAEA FOR HELP.

EVER since the Seebecks have seen the light of day, we have heard the grumhling of collectors that they had to swallow these labels; still they were swallowed and many collectors who despise the festive Seebecks Horoughly, have them in their collections just He same. Hence the Hamilton Bank Note Co. feeds on the philatelic fat of the land, if I may so all the collector's money.

There has been talk of organization against the Seebecks for some time, but nothing has heen done. The dealer's journals have no objection to decrying Seebecks, but that dœes not irevent the same dealers from selling them.

But a change is coming; at least so we may hope if every collector will do his share of the work which is neccessary to make Seebeckism a thing of the past. To Mr. E. L. Shove belongs the distinction of setting the ball rolling, and the popular semi-monthly, the Philatelic Era romes out as follows:
"All readers of the ERA are earnestly requested to forward two one cent stamps to Mi E. L. Shove, Unionville, N. Y. for blank pledge of the Anti-Seebeck Society. Its name indicate its mission. There are no dues."

Here is the beginning. Let every collecto come forward and sign a pledge not to tolerat Seebecks in his collection and the victory wil soon be won, for the dealers who are now mak ing monster profits on these stamps will no handle that which there is no call for.

Join the Anti-Seebeck Society. By so doing you will help this philatelic boycott ant abolish forever what has been one of the worst evils of Philately.

PORMLAND NOTES.

THE new set which Corea was to issue will probably never materialize. The ChinoJapanese war will put an end to it. Let the much afflicted general collector be thankful.

I do not suppose that this is a great disco ery, but it may interest some collector to know that the current 2c red, (Washington,) exists perforated on three sides only. In getting a dollar's worth of this value at the Post Office here a few days ago, I noticed that two edges of the sheet were not perforated, thus causing the stamps on the edges to be perforated on three sides only. I have the 8 cent with same defect. Doubtless the whole set will be found in this condition.

D. M. Averill has joined the majority, i.e. become a P. S. of A. A. knows a good thing when he sees it.

Mr. J. Thompson, Vice Prest. & Sec'y of the Stuart & Thompson Co. of this City, has resumed collecting after many years. Specialty U. S.

Mr. Frank Motter, the well known Sec'y If the Chamber of Commerce, is an ardent philatelist.
"Mollie Gunderson's Legs Again.-This little girl, who lost her legs by having them run uver by a railroad train in North Dakota, while the was selling milk to passengers, assisting her mother to support a family of children, and who has been promised a pair of artificial limbs for a million cancelled postage stamps, has so far collected something over two hundred thousand stamps. Stamps are coming in at the rate of thirty thousand a week at this time. Master George Clifford Coe, care of Dr. Henry W'. Coe Portland, Ore., who is assisting in this work. and to whom stamps may be sent for littie Mollie. wishes to thank the friends who have so far re sponded to the call. As it will be seen that it will be some time before the full number is col lected, it is hoped that those who have already responded, as well as many others who have not taken a hand in the work, will take tbe trouble of saving stamps for Mollie. The name of the donor should, with the number of stamps. be marked upon the package, that Master Cor and Miss Mollie may know who sent them.'

The above, taken from the Medical Sentinel. will be interesting to philatelists as having some relation to the "one million stamps" storie which we hear of so often. It is the object 0 the parties having this matter in charge to sel the stamps to dealers, it being assumed that in such quantities there must be some desirable stamps. It is to be hoped that philatelists wil give their aid to such a good cause.

Ye Editor's plan for a convention of North western collectors is certainly a brilliant idea

What the collectors in this section of the country need is closer acquaintance, and such a meeting would undoubtedly bring us nearer together.

Edimorial eompourri.

JF our readers prefer articles on one topic instead of the short notes we have bern giving for summer reading, they have only to say so to be accommodated.

This paper has never contained an article but what was written expressly for it, and we have enough manuscript on hand, or engaged, to last for many months to come.

The statement quite frequently made by philatelic authors, that the Newspaper and Period. ical stamps are pasted in a book provided for that purpose, and the book sent on to Washington to be destroyed when full, is incorrect.

It is only the stubs that the stamps are at tached to, that are sent to Washington. and these are sent every quarter.

A Convention of Northwestern Philat. ${ }^{-}$ lists, to be held some time in the near finture seems to meet with general approval and many communications in favor of this plan have been received.

Mr. Edw. D. Baldwin of The Dalles, Ore., writes: 'I think your plan to have a convention in Portland a very good one."
E. C. Patton, a prominent philatelist of Salem, says: "Am in favor of holding a con. vention of stamp colledtors in Portland, and will do all I can to get up an interest among the collectors here and elsewhere, providing you cam set the ball to rolling."

Why would it not be a good plan to hold this meeting during Portland's Annual Fair? There would then be other attractions outside of philately to compensate for the journey and possibly draw a much larger crowd.

Ye Editor would like to meet every collector in the Northwest; to attend a real live auction sale, and we all need to become better acquainted and fraternize with each other more than we have been doing. Let us hear from everyone, either or or against this move.

[^4]In addition to the changes mentioned in the United States stamps last month. which by the way, we announced long before any of our contemporaries, the Periodical stamps will be smaller in size and several changes in color are contemplated.

In the regular issue the fifty cent stamp will bear a portrait of Jefferson. The bust of Commodore Perry will adorn the one dollar value; the portrait of John Marshall will be used on the two dollar slamp and that of James Madison on the five dollar value.

The Unpaid or.Due stamps have been reduced in size to about the dimentions of the regular issue and the color changed somewhat. The new design is very similar to the old one so long in use.

We have a brand new J. W. Scntt's Best Stamp Album which we have no use for and have decided to give it to the fifth subscriber (either trial or yearly) received after the mailing of this number. Who will be the fortunate one?

The exchange column was unavoidably crowd. ed out of this issue, but space will be given in the next if we have to enlarge to do it.

LUGKY Finds 第 ЂOW FOUND. TRULY LUCKY.

THERE has been some lucky finds lout very few have come my way. I have beela philatelist more or less for the past twelve years. and the best find I had any direct connection with was a 3c 1851 envelope with wide, straight label. on buff paper. I had been buying some [8in" common square cut envelopes, paying one cent each, and among them secured this envelope.

I have looked over a gnod many thousand old letters and never found much except 1,2 and Bc stamps. I have found I presume, eight or ten 3e pinks on original covers: also quite a few le 1868-69.

The best lot I ever found--about 500 pieces--I could not buy at any price. There were a fine lot of 1861-64 patent line envelopes among them.

I have made a good many big finds among wholesale lots, bought of dealers or collectors who had not made a study of their stamps. One of the best was 700 unused euvelopes valued at fifty cents each, for about iwenty-two dollars.

Few collectors know very much about shapes and paten! lines. I once bought 5ll 0 old 1853 , 3 c entire stamped envelopes for less than ten dollars and found over sixty dollars worth of patent line envelopes in this lot.

People who cut early issues of U.S. envelopes are sure to regret it.

D:. P. A. Hayes, of Afton, N. Y., made a big find about a year ago; a fine lot of 18533,3 and $10 c$ enveiopes, and some fine adhesives: in all two o? three hundred dollars worth.

Some boys in Binghamton, N. Y.. not long ago, found three of the 5c black New Yorks, on original cnvers.

My cousin, 0. B. Harrington, while in Conn., and Mass., found 300 three cent 1864 , ladle note envelopes; also 112 two cent 1864 wrappe: and 150 two cent 1870 wrappers, and 500 there cent P. O. Dpt. all unused. He bought the P. 0 Dpt. for I 5 cents for the lot.

Moral: "Seek and ye shall find."

Stamp dealers who send approval shzets ansolicited without return postage, are becoming a nuisance again. It must be amateur ciealers who are doing it for a good reliable dealer is above such doings.

Another thing ought to be stopped: A new stamp paper will come out with a hurrali and make big promises. "We have come to stay. Our next number will be enlarged. We will have special articles by well known writer:" etc., etc., and in the majority of cases after tive third, or maybe the fourth issue it suspenls puirlication and the poor subscribers hear no more from it and never get either their money bacior its equivalent.

Some people have an idea that ten cents in stamps will do for a Special Delivery letter; it's $s$ not so; ordinary postage stamps can not be used for special delivery, nor can special delivery itamps be used for the prepayment of postage.

The District of Connecticut would require 400,000 of the 2 c playing card stamps. The State of Conn. would use 250,000 of these stamps it having seven internal revenue divisions, and Rhode Island having two divisions would use 150,000 , and the city of Hartford alone will use 50,000. L'p to the present time 70,000 have been received and more are expected every day.

I am just tired of correcting my notes on thic envelope question; now at the last moment jus: before signing the lease at Albany, Purcell decided to take the business to Holyoke, Mass. He has done so and has been advertising fot Plimpton's hands to go to work for him, so it is settleci at last.

Boys and girls let me give you a tip-it beats all the old hair trunk stories-of how increase your collection; it is this: If you can find out the name of some person in a foreigi country, just drop him a letter requesting some stamps from his country and see the result, it only costs five cents. Here is my experience from one letter I sent to a gentleman in the Ha waiian Islands: $1866,5 \mathrm{C}$ blue; 187 I , ic viole: 6 c green; 1875, 2c brown and 12 C black; 188 ? Ic, 5 c , 10 C and 15 c ; 1883 , IC and 25 c , also 154 envelopes and several varieties of Provisional issues, a total of forty-three stamps, several unused, that catalogued at over ten dollars.

F íUGKY FIND.

In the June number of this journal the editor asked all us lucky ones to write up our finds for publication. In June I had not made any of note but this luck was reserved for July.

In July I went to Easthampton, L. I. which is the summer home of the Rev. Dr. Talmage and is one of the oldest towns on Long Island. I noticed just outside of the Village limits an old farm-house built on the plan used century ago, and resolved to make a raid for old stamps, so on the following morning I went over and asked the farmer if he had saved his old letters. He said that every letter ever reeived was laid away in the attic and in answer 0 my question if I could have the stamps on hem, he said I could and took me up in the atIf where there were four boxes filled with old letters. To say that my beart went to my mouth would be putting it mildly.

I immediately went upon my knees and examined the contents of box number one which I found contained only letters that had been tran smitten through the mails before stamps were used; but not so with number two which contained enough confederate locals as well as general issues, to stock a Nassau Street stamp dealer; also a 24 c grilled all over and a 6 c proprietary

Number three, contained the 1, 2, 3, 6 and roc stamps of ' 69 by the dozen; also ten of the $30 c$ stamps. Number four contained nothing of any note.

Now who says that it is useless to explore as the field has been gone over and over, until it is useless to expect to find anything.

Moral: Never visit a rural district without thorougly canvassing every old farm-house; also rural Banks.

While looking over some old letters one day I came across some from England. I at once seized them and captured the stamps which I laid aside together with some old U. S. stamps I had formerly found. These were the stamps

Wat founded my collection and I was very prond ft them. After having collected about a year I aw the Mekeel Co's. advertisement in a paper nd wrote to them for copies of their papers nd a price list. In about a week I received a lumber of papers together with a card on one ide of which was a Mexican stamp, a thing I ad never seen before.

Not long after this, I received my first :uproval sheet and my joy knew no bounds. I ept this sheet twenty days; took nearly all the lamps from it, and for my commission received ne of Mekeel's "Popular" albums.

GDITORIAL @OTPOURRI.

No report will be given in this paper of the three great philatelic conventions that convene last month, for nearly all of our contemporarie will publish the proceedings and too muc repetition of one subject becomes tiresome.

Considerable notoriety has been given the "bicycle stamps" by the press of the country bcth fhilatelic and otherwise; much mores than the worth of the label warrants. This lo cal is abcut on par with the J. C. Jay locals which so much ridicule was made a few year ago. It is claimed by the persons trying t boum this label for stamp collectors only, that: watn used on a route between Fresno and $S_{a}$ I'rancisco during the recent strike and that hot allyesive and envelope stamps were used.

The Detroit Stamp Co. has kindly sent " a clipping from the N. Y. Tribune in which " note the endeavors of some person to boom th label through that medium, such visionary raluations as five and ten dollars being quoted for a single specimen. The average collector is willing however, to put his surplus cash into legitimate issues of the U. S. and leave these speculative affairs to those foolish enough to place any valuation on them.

The new due stamps are a great improvement over the old series. We have seen the 2 c value which is much brighter in colcr and more pleasing in design every way than the old issue. A considerable increase in the price of some of the old stamps can be looked for in the new catalogues the firs: of the year.

It is said that the new 6 c . of the regular is sue has a!s b benn se za, the color a s'iadः darker than the 1890 series. Parts of the old plate lave bョen retouched, bringi:ng th? lines out more clearly and improving th? whole appeatance of the stamp. It is the same in other respects except the doable line triargie in eaci of the upper corners.

It is the shrewd collector who take; advanlage of this month to ald a few more specimens to his album at the low price generally aske.l for stamps during the summer. A few more days and the same old prices will prevail and dealers will not at all be anxious to sell certain stamps until the fall and winter auction sales give some idea of the price they are apt to command.

Why not see if your favorite dealer has not at least one stamp-U.S. should be preferedthat you can add to your collection before the season sets in.

The writer recently had the pleasure of examining a magnificent collection of stamps of about 7,500 varieties, the property of Mr. J. Bartram, of this City and undoubtedly the finest in the state. Mr. Bartram has been in business in the Sandwich, or Hawaii Islands for many years and has that country nearly complete lacking but one or two of the earlier issues.

He also has six or eight complete sets of the Provisional issues and related many interesting reminiscence about these stamps, several of which we may treat our readers with later on.

All the old German countries are represented in this album by nearly complete sets in used condition, and he has so many treasures in these comutries that it would be impossible to do them justice in the limited space at our command.

The Swiss roc green Geneva stamp, is ant other of the gems of this collection.

His collection of United States stamps and other American countries is only about on an average as far as rarities are concerned; we noticed no rery scarce stamps among these countries. We found him in possession of a Scott's 54th catalogue and he seemed to think that several of the Provisional stamps of Hawaii were priced suffi . ciently high in that work.

In connection with this catalogue, he in. formed us that when he resided on the Islands he could buy stamps of the Scott Co. at 25 p.c. discount from catalogue rates by sending a fair sized order, but now when he was in America, he was cnly allowed 10 p. c., and thought it rather queer. It seemed to us-as being a strange way for a firm to encourage home patronage.

Number I of Vol. I of the Philatelic Revicio of Revicues, a bigh class monthly published at fifty cents per year, by H.E. Tuttle & Co. of Osage, lowa, has reached us. It has many interesting features; is well wcrth its subscription price and will undoubtedly prove to be a popular paper One sample copy will be seut free for the asking.

This paper on trial four months for five cents.

The album we offered last month to the fifth subscriber has been forwarded to John Peters Jr. of 46 Ella St., Portland, Ore., his being the 5 th subscription received. This month we offer 50 varieties of stamps to ezery new subscriber send. ing a stamp for postage.

NOTES FROM THE WORLDS FAIR CITY.

I am out of town this month in a very old town of Pa. and am examining every old barn and attic I come across and so far have made some very good finds.

The following was printed on the most prom. inent page of every Chicago evening paper of August, 3oth:

"Young Prisoner Before Hoyne.-A prisaler in knickerbockers was arrainged before Commissioner Hoyne this morning. Rosse M. Oleson, a 14 -year old boy from De Kalb was accused of defratuding stamp-dealers by writing to them for sample sheets and selling the stamps on bis own account, pocketing the money.
G. S. Wilcox of Evanston said he had lost a few do!lars on transactions with young Oleson. The boy was held to the federal grand jury in oonds of $$ 500$."

May this prove a warning to others.
The new postage due stamps are out; five of the 2 c arrived in this city a week ago, one of whicis I secured; they are much smaller than the others and of a brighter shade of claret. Tlie new regular issue has not yet been received.

The delegations from here to the conventions were very small-only three Chicagoans being present.

I hear tolay that there is a decided "slump' in the price of Columbians.

There are two 50 Probate of Will stamps. pa:i perfurated-in Chicago.

The Chicago Tribune is devoting an entire page of its Sunday issue to Philately.

By a Portland Collector.

Ir is with regret that I am compelled to ad mit that the general business revival this fall has not affected the local stamp circles. The craze which the Columbians create 1 among the young sters has died out completely; however, we may take consolation in the fact that the old relial, le philatelists are still pursuing their path onward as usual.

Watch for a drop in those unused Vearazelans. The 55th catalogue will leave them x hind just as the $54^{\text {th }}$ left the Ecquador remainders. This remainder business is getting to be a nuisance.

And now the Anti-Seebeck Society has declared war against all the speculative issues. All very good, gentlemen, but I am afraid that you may have some trouble about deciding which are issued for speculative purpose, and which are not.

What is the matter with the Columbians? They don't advance in price the way they should. If it were not for the $$ \mathrm{r} . \infty 0$ value, the speculators might as well admit that they had made a mistake. $$ 22.00$ for a set in New York and catalogued at $$ 30.14$. Over 25 per cent off on such highly desirable (?) stamps is a prett! big discount.

If the Japs conquer China, and the present indications point that way; what will become of those little business enterprises known as the postoffices of Shanghai, Kew Kiang, Chee Foo. Wuhu, et al.? Verily the collectors will rise up and call the Japs blessed if they stop the multiplication of the Chinese locals.
"Pride comes before a fall" sometimes has its philatelic examples. The other day when I was showing a youngster my collection, we got to talking about U. S. Periodical stamps. To my astonishment he informed me that he had the 9 c value, in a collection of about 300 varieties. U'pon my telling him that it was catalogued at $$ 5.00$ and considered quite a rariety by even ad. vanced collectors, he said: "Oh! I got it for a few cents. I'll bring it down and show it to you.' No sooner said than done; the collection was brought and there was the stamp. But, alas! in cold cruel type was stamped across the face, the word Facsimile. He went home a sadder, if a wiser youth.

I glean from the Medical Sentinel that Mollie Gunderson of whom mention was made in these columns sometime ago; has now received more than one million stamps, which are now being assorted and from the sale of which her frients expect to procure her a pair of artificial limbs. 33.500 stamps were collected in this City and vicinity and forwarded.

It may interest our country friends to know that there are still a few Columbians to be had at the Portland Post Office. About five of the ${ }^{5 c}$ and a dozen of the $10 c$ remain on hand. (If the current issue all values are obtainable. The new six cent stamps are not in use yet.-Get a few of the old ones while you can. They will go up shortly. Of the ninety cents value there is a good supply and but very few are used; about iwo or three a week. I wonder if the thirty and minety cents stamps will be gobbled up by our speculative friends as soon as the new issue is out? There is certainly a splendid opportunity for a fig profit if they are properly cornered.

For the E.S. P' ANOMHER LUGKY FIND.

As everybody is writing about their lucky finds among the old hair trunks in the garret cr cellar, I must tell about mine; which was in a:l old trunk-not a hair one howeve:--in a garret. I was up there one rainy day-in the garret I mean of course-when I saw the old trunk I am going to write about. Two of my friends wert with me rummaging in this trunk when sudden. ly I saw a postage stamp-not a rare one sad to say, only an 185 i three cents red; but now tha: my curiosity was aroused I felt as if I could find more stamps and sure enough I did, but nothing so very rare.

Among the lot were about two hundred of the 1851-57-61 three cents red and pink,-no scarlet; three of the 1857 one cent blue in one strip, also an 185 I 3 C envelope-amber paper. Luckily, my friends were not philatelists or they might have wanted a share of the "boodle."

In closing let me say that there are lots o old stamps stowed away in trunks and boxes. and if you would only look them up you woul. never be sorry that you had done so.

EDIMORIAL ROMPOURRI.

How dear to our hearts is each new subscription, As a generous public presents them to view:
But the one who wunt subscribe, we refrain from discription, For prihaps gente reader, that one might be grou.

JUDGING by the many subscriptions receir. ed the past month-Philately has awakened to its old time activity.

Mr. J. W. Scott has opened the arction se:son of '94-95 with a very good select:0:1 of stamps which was disposed of to the highest bidder on the 16 th. cf the month. We learn that v ry good prices prevailed.

The new $4 c$ stamp is out and the whole se ries-in all probability, will shortly appear.

The special delivery stamp is now being printed in blue, and differs from the old series in having the desiga inclose 1 by a heavy white line

A deluge of requests for back numbers has reached this office. All back numbers are now out of print-unless we surcharge some to order ; but by making their wants known through our exchange column, the missing numbers can no doubt be secured.

Mr. Ira Reely sends us the following neat discription of the new playing card stamps.
"The new 2c playing card stamps have appeared and are beauties. The color and size are similar to the new postage due; the design bas U.S. in tall letters in each upper corner and in the center are three playing cards spread out at the top. On these cards in beavy shaded letters in two lines is: 'Playing Cards' the first word in circular form. Just below the cards-in tall narrow letters in relief are the following words in one line: 'On hand Aug. 1894.' At the battom of the stamp in the center is a large ' 2 ' with 'Two Cents' running through it."

There is now another playing card stamp rery similar to the above, but printed in blue.

We acknowledge with thanks a sample of a very neat Duplicate Album from D. M. Averill & Co; such as they are advertising at a bargain on first page of cover. Why not send an order for one?

Mr. Bundy-in a private letter informs us that he has given up publishing the Occident as a philatelic paper until later in the season.

The Columbians have been counterfeited the same as the Periodical and State department stamps were a few years ago, and for that matter are to-day-and probably by the same German lithographer as they have the German word 'Falsch' printed in with the design. This word is very easily obliterated by a cancellation how. ever; but by comparing the paper, work and perforation, with any of the genuine Columbian stamps, the difference can be easily detected.

It is our ambition to begin volume two with a subscription list of 1000 paid up subscriptions and as we need nearly 400 new subscribers to do so, we offer as an inducement- to enter on our books all yearly subscriptions received in Nov: and Dec.-paid to the end of 1895 . Take ad vantage of this. Fourteen months for is cents

No doubt the subscribers of the late defunct Weekly Philatelist are rejoicing in the death of said journal in-as-much as the Era--a magazine worth a dozen of the W. P.--fills the unexpired subscription list.

The Weekly Philatelic Era: Our old popular 'Era' in the same dress; same price; just as newsy and now comes every week.

The Southern has nearly completed its fifth rolume and has secured a firm hold on the affections of the philatelic fraternity.

The Reporter for Sept. is one of the largest stamp papers ever published, consisting of 96 pages and cover; besides four half tone illustra tions. Ten cents will secure this number, or ffteen cents for the entire year.

Like the P. S. of A., the Pennsy has apparently proven to be very popular and seems to be in a state of marked prosperity. May it-like the society it so ably represents-grow stronger day by day.

The Lone Star State Philatelist is a new reekly published at Abilene, Texas and only trenty-five cents per year.

What is the matter with brother Egan and our old namesake--the Washington Philatelist.

Other stamp papers published in the U. S. are the Am. Phil. and Collector, Comfort, Dixie, Eastern, P. J. of A. Metropolitan, Northern, Reiiew of Reviews, Sun, Californian, Collector and Southern Weekly Phila'elist

This paper on trial four months for five cents.

Girls-excuse me I mean young ladigs. Christmas is coming and I suppose you are wor rying your dear little heads with what you are going to give your best 'fellers' for a present. Well, if they are philatelically inclined yau can give them a stamp plate. There are numerous designs; or by using a little judgement and good artistic taste you can design one yourself, and I bet Charlie, or George, or Harry will appreciate it; even if they do not know the pleasures of col lecting they will take pleasure in admiring your handiwork and who knows but what they mat be brought into the fold.

The manufacture of Letter-sheet envelope has been discontinued. As soon as possible di rections will be given withdrawing them from sale. Until then they will continue to be sold to the public. They were first introduced Aug. 18 1886 and were not watermarked; but this wat remedied in the last seven series, giving us one variety for each year they have been in use.

Those who wish to secure one should avai themselves of the last opportunity-they can only be had at Presidential Postoffices and I will he bappy to oblige anyone not at such an office by mailing a specimen on receipt of the price and a self addressed envelope.

Oct. ist.-Orders were received by the Plimpton Co., to continue the manufacture of stamped envelopes until January ist., 1895 .
They have a strong hope that the manufacturing of the envelopes will be kept up permanently in Hartford. This is based on the belief that the Purcell Co. can not make the envelopes to the satisfaction of the government, not having the mproved machinery that they bave control of.

The Plimpton machines stamp, print, gum fild and count the envelopes, all in one opera ion; while Purcell's is a back number requiring everal operations to make a complete envelope.

For the E.S. P.

бHE бWO GENMS 1890.

The attention of Philatelists in general has of lale, been attracted toward the capped varit ty of the two cent 1890 stamp. Many diver: opinions have been rendered as to the cause of this oddity, and as many thrown aside.

The opinion of the writer-be it worth what it may-differs radically from the many brought fourth. Taking the regular two cent stamp is: its entirety, we note, at the beginning of the fig ure two, a large dot. On some stamps this dot is much broader than on others. Upon giving the stamp careful study, it is evident the wear on: this dot and the small neck of the Egure two, is naturally greater then on the rest of the stamp.

If the roller,-upon which the impressior is taken, happens to become loosened, it is an easy matter for the plate to move down some what and the greater pressure required to print a stamp, strikes the plate in this position witk such forre as to push the dot up against the narrow neck and press it out so as to form the cap.

While an illustration of the above is unfortunately omitted, the reader can very easily understand why we find scme of the stamps cap. ped on one or both, of the figures two.

The IUe Stamps.

As the new due stamps are now out and in use, perchance a few remarks may not be out of place. The stamps show up very nicely. Tivey are much superior in design and form than the f revious issue. 'The design of the new isste being composed of so many fine lines, there is a likelihood of our having many varieties, as thee lines will wear and broaden under constant use. However, the good judgement used, and discretion showed, by the United States government is certainly deserving of mention.

'The Regular Issue.

We have been treated to a supply of the new postage stamps. The looks of most of them are improved by the triangle in the upper comers especially is this the case with, the two cent stamp. The stamps of this variety on sale in Chicago are very poorly perforated. It seem.s. they were perforated on old plates for some of the punctures are not open at all; on others the paper is partially out, but not enough to free it. All in all the perforation is uneven and bad.

This evil was also noticed on the former issue, supplied at Chicago, along towards June ; in fact there has not been a cessation up to the present time. The gum of the new issue is very thin and of an inferior quality; i. e. as far as adhesiveness is concerned, for a stamp with this gum does not adhere very closely or firmly to the envelope; The color is brighter than the previous issue, which tends to enhance the general appearance of the stamp very much.

YREVE.

For the E. S. P.

A UNIVERSAL POSTAGE STAMP.

IN a recent number of the Western, a weekly German paper published in Chicago, there appeared an article on International Postage Stamps, to which I am indebted for the following information;

The question of using one set of postage tamps for all countries in the Postal Union has been brought up at various times in the past, especially at the last Postal Congress in Vienna where a somewhat complicated plan for their use was submitted, but not adopted.

Mr. Maures, who has givein the sulbject conderable attention, states that at first thought the idea seems simple enough, but as yet the difficulties in the way remain unsolved. The chief of these is the difference in the present monetary systems and rates of exchange.

Besides, how are the governments going to keep their accounts straight? Suppose an Eng. lishman sends a Frenchman ioo Francs in U'uiversal Postage Stamps, which he bought in Bein Switzerland, and these stamps are used in France. The French Postoffice Dept. would lose 100 Francs, while the Swiss would be that much ahead. There is also no way known of dividing the 100 Francs which have been received at the Bern Postoffice.

The French Postoffice Dept. has always re fused to buy back any of the postage stamps issued and would hardly do so in the future. The same may be said of nearly all the countries in the Postal Union. Last, but not least, there would be the danger of counterfeits. If but one set of stamps is used, all the counterfeitors' skill could be concentrated on such a set and the re sult would be a considerable loss from this source

We see then, that the main difficulty is tl:e difference in the monetary systems, and until one system only, is in use; the International Postage Stamp cannot be thought of.

From the foregoing,-it seems to me-that the day of the Univesal Postage Stamp is still far distant and that philatelists who wish to keep "up to date"' will still collect the new issues for many a day.

Investigate this and see if it is not true: That the Philatelic Sons of America numbers the most paid up members of any U. S. society and the largest in the world according to its age ; nearly one thousand members in one years time. It has the most foreign members. Twenty-two applications were received in the month of Aug. alone-outside of the U. S. Has over two dozen members in England, over one dozen in India, or Australia; in fact has members in all parts of the world. There are more lady memhers belonging to it than any other similar society in existance; also the best Official Organ, which is alone worth all the cost. It has published the most and best extra numbers; the Christmas number contained over 172 pages and had cuts of over fifty collectors.

EDITORIAL POMPOURRI.

Usually-after mailing a months paperswe receive many requests for sample copies that have to lay over until our next mailing day, hence our delay in sending copies to those so re ceived. We keep no back numbers on hand, mail every copy published, each month and make this explanation as it is not discourtesy on our part, but simply our inability to mail copies of the paper more frequently than once a month.

The $1,2,3,4,5,6$, 10 and 150 stamps of the new series have appeared at different offices, and we have seen nearly all of them in a cancelled condition. The colors of these stamps are improved in some cases, while they do not seem to be up to the average in others. The perforations and gum, on all that we have seen, is bad.

They are also very unevenly centered.
The Metropolitan Philatelist chronicles the ; and ioc of the new postage due, and states that the design is similar to the 2 c previously chron iched, but that the shades vary greatly.

The J. W. Scott Co's., auction sale-men tioned last month-realized $$ \mathrm{I}, 599.99$; nearly all the stamps brought very good prices, but in the majority of cases, not as high as the 55th will list them. An exception to the rule, however, is the 3 c scarlet, which secured a bid of $$ 35 \cdot 50$. Five copies of the $$ 1.00$ Columbian, unused, only brought $$ 16.25$ which ought to be a fair price notwithstanding that it is now catalogued at $$ 5.00$ in an unused condition. Mr. Scott says these stamps brought $$ 599.99$ more than they could have been purchased for before cataloguing. Many collectors have an erroneous idea, that an unpriced auction catalogue is worth preserving, when in fact it is of no value whatever. The priced catalogue, however, is truly valuable and we advise every collector to send $25 c$ to J. W. Scott Co., L'd., 40 John St., for a priced copy of this sale.

Mr. W. F. Bishop, of La Grange, Ill., who has been in the stamp business for over twelve years, offers to send an interesting booklet 'What to collect'-together with his pricelist-free for the asking.

Mr. Moeller of Portland, Oregon, has kind. ly sent us a clipping, too lengthly to insert in the limited space at our command, in which we learn that the postoffice dept. has authorized complaining postmasters to return the defected stamps turned out by the bureau of engraving and printing; which seem to be causing genera! dissatisfaction on account of their 'off color;' the stamps will curl on account of the poor paper used, the mucilage will not stick, etc., etc.

It is a fact, then-that better paper will be used and more pains taken in the printing of these stamps every way; possibly some of the stamps already used may become rare on account of improvements, or changes, that may be made and collectors will no doubt be on the anxious seat until something definite is settled upon.

We will send this paper for the ballance of the year and all of the next, for our regular subscription price of 15 ; or we will give a year, subscription to any one returning us any six numbers prior to number nine, or we will send the paper on trial four months for five cents.

We are indebted to D. M. Averill & Co., of 386 Morrison St., Portland, Oregon, for their late pricelists of stamps, coins, minerals, etc, and note that they have a collection of shells containing 4,000 species, catalogued scientifically, and solicit offers for it.

We can conscientiously recommend this firm to any one having use for this collection.

We are requested to state that the Nebraska Philatelic Society is the largest, oldest and cheapest state society in the U.S. It is the only strickly state society known and every Nebr. collector should become a member as the different departments are all in fine running order, and we have a fine official organ. Any information or blanks, can be obtained of L. Brod:tone, Superior, Neb. Fee ioc; Dues 25 a year.

The National Plilatelic Society is a new one u.rganized Aug. 28, ' 94 with 57 charter members. This society numbers some of the most prominent collectors and has the Philatelic Review of Reviews for an official organ which alone is worth all the cost. W. F. Waite of Wyoming, Iowa, is the president and R. M. Bettesworth, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is the secretary; there will be an clection of officers in the near future

NOTES FROM THE WORLDS FAIR CITY.

The largest auction sale ever held in the C . P. S., will occur here on the night of Nov. 22nd I will report best prices in my next notes.

The advance sheets of the $55^{\text {th }}$ are at hand. The greatest raise is that of the ic 185 I value. from $50 c$ to $\$ 7.50$.

The Field Columbian Museum bas just purchased the famous Sweeden error at a London auction, for $$ 1,100$. Hurrab! for Chicago.

Mr. F. M. Massoth, formerly of Ind. has moved to Chicago and opened up business in the rooms of the C. P. S., 1233 Masonic Temple.

In the Tribune of to-day, is an article head-ed-'Rare Stamps-The Philatelic 400.' It then devotes half a page to a very lucid description of all the rarer class of stamps.

In the Herald of same date, is a half column article, telling of how Mr. Levison, of New York keeps an insurance of $$ 30,000 \mathrm{cn}$ his collection. All matter like the above, will in time, help phi lately along wonderfully.

The new 2 c stamp with the triangular design in the upper corners, is coming into general use-those that I have seen are a light vermillion and very much blurred.

Third ass't P. M. Craig announces that on Jan. Ist a reduction will be made in the price of stamped envelopes because they are now made more cheaply than formerly.

If Willie Fuldt of Fairview, will kindly send the name of his state, I will gladly forward the set of stamps he bought of me, as I do not know what state Fairview is in. Willie failed to name it and the postmark was indistinct.

Two new aspirants for philatelists spare money; The Pet 'Philatelist, and the Northern Philatelist; the former a small, neat appearing, eight page, paper; but the contents can stand corsiderable improvement. The latter is larger, and consists of eight pages and cover.

An old New York story paper with a new title is running the cupon system to give free stamps. By buying twelve consecutive papers and cutting out the cupons, you can get fifty foreign stamps. As an extra inducement every twenty-fifth person gets a stamp catalogued at from $50 c$ to $$ 2.00$. No doubt but what it will start a host of new collectors on the road, to be philatelists.

A few months ago we were foolish enough to offer to send the address of any of our exchanges mentioned each month; since when, we have been kept buisy writing postal cards to interested parties. We herewith retract this offer: but will publish a few addresses each month of papers we receive in exchange and advise every one to write for a sample copy, or better yet, send on your yearly subscription.

U. S.-乌 Spegialmy.

Whrn a collector, baving weighed the pro and cons for U.S. specialism, decides to abandon his other treasures and to devote his time to U. S. alone, it is still necessary to consider where to draw the line even on the labels of his own country. He finds at least ten fields open before him.

First: The regular issues, and if shade varieties and varieties of grill be considered, this field alone is large enough for the average col lector.

Second: Government locals. But a limited number of specimens exist in this branch, but the amount of capital required will be large.

Third: Private locals. While not over a couple of hundred varieties exist, yet here again the cash outlay will be more than in the regular field.

Fourth: Finvelopes. A large and attractive field for the specialist as probably many undiscovered minor varieties exist, beside the twelve hundred or more catalogued varieties.

Fifth: Western Franks. These occupied a place allied to envelopes, similar to private locals to the adhesive; the list is long and varied.

Sixth: Revenues. A most interesting and profitable field which opens up the following:
A. Document revenues.
B. Match.
C. Medicine.
D. Playing cards.
E. Tobacco and Spirit.
F. Old stamped paper.
G. Stamped checks.

Seventh: State revenues. A goodly array may here be found and again uncatalogued ra. rieties probably exist.

Eighth: Telegraphs. No more interesting collection of labels can be found than these series and it is to be regretted that they are not more generally met with faror by the collectors.

Ninth: Errors. This class will consist most largely of envelope specimens, -the albinoes, misstrikes, etc, although many valuable specimens will be found in all classes of adhesiven in the shape of inverted centers etc.

Tenth: Hand stamps. A not generally collected class, but yet having a few votaries who could not be coaxed into parting with their treasures.

When a collector looks over the field he will conclude that even the $\mathrm{U} . \mathrm{S}$. is too large a country to try and collect everything, and will usually conclude to draw the line even closer. E. R. A.

A footnote under Brunswick in "Our Cata logue" reads: "The roulette on these stamps must correspond exactly with the roulette on the stamps of the 1865 issue, the slightest difference is proof of the roulette being bogus." But what if the roulette on the 1865 issue are 'crooked' too?

Reprints of the first issue of Wurtemburg are priced higher than used originals.

I promised in the last issue of this paper, to give the best prices realized in our sale held on the 22 nd of Nov. I omit doing so, for the reason that there were no best. I might give the worst. but in that case, while it would be more truthfu? it would hardly be to our credit; so I omit gising any.

Mr. C. E. . Severn's election to the presiden. cy of the P. S. of A., rather tends to remove tlice center from Reading, to Chicago. Would that the conventions would make the same change.

One great philatelic feature we lack here is a good magazine. We need very much, a well edited, financially well-backed, paper, which would be unique, and all our own; and a fair representative of what ought to be a prominent philatelic center.

About roo,000 of the new issue have been returned to Washington, from Connecticut, for their lack of gum stickum.

It's "Uncle" Gus Luhn now. If you get "broke," you can "hock" your stamps for a rmall consideration.

Philadelphia bas a dog which is useful as well as ornamental; its owner is a typewriter, and in her capacity prepares the extensive correspondence for the firm. The late Czar of Russia was a great collector of stamps and left one of the most extensive collections in the world; te had agents in all countries. It is thought he left his collection to the Grand Duke Alexis, who is also an ardent collector; he had one secretary to keep the collection in shape. The rarest gems, was a complete set of the Mauritius stamps.

A boy in Wisconsin sent him a complete set of the Columbians two years ago; the Autocrat thanked him and sent in return a complete set of every Russian stamp, ever issued.

The manner in which our transatlantic mail service is paid for, is not generally understood

The preference is given whenever possible to American steamers, which are allowed for their services all the postage collected on the mails they carry from this country, that is to say, 5 C per $1 / 2$ ounce, $\$ 1.60$ a pound, or $\$ 3200$ a short ton for letters and postal cards, and ic for two ounces 8c per pound, or $\$ 160$ a ton for other articles. But if a foreign steamer can deliver the mails sooner than a domestic one, the mails are assigned to the foreign steamer, and she is allowed 44 C a pound or $\$ 880$ a short ton for letters and post cards and $41 / 2 \mathrm{c}$ a pound or $\$ 90$ a short ton for other articles.

EDITORIAL [OOMPOURRI.

> Ring out the old, ring in the new, Ring happy bells across the snow: The year is going, let him go.

TENNYSON.
May each of our readers enjoy a very merry Christmas and a prosperous, happy New Year.

With this number (i2) we complete volume one, consisting of over 150 pages of reading matter, every line of which was written especially for us, and we will venture to say that not half a dozen collectors who saw number one, thought that another number of the E. S. P. would ever be printed; and there is no one-familiar with the earlier numbers-who wi!l deny its permanent improvement has been more rapid than any other similar publication ever issued to ant intelligent public; and although it is still about the poorest appearing paper typographically. should volume two improve as rapidly as did the first volume, it will have no superior at a subscription price of twenty-five cents per annum.

As in the past,-we make no rash promises for the future, but will let the publication speak for itself from month to month. Is there any need for us to insinuate that it would be well to commence a subscription with the first of the volume rather than to offer a dollar for it after its completion, as several have done in the past?

We shall use every dollar that the magazine brings in the coming year, to further advance its improvement.

All the denominations of the new set of postage have appeared below the dollar values; the design of the 500 being the same as the old $30 c$; it has the head of Hamilton and the triangular ornaments in the upper corners. The val ue of course is changed to read 50 c and the color is orange, supposed to be the same shade as the old goc value. The dollar values will appear as soon as the stock of the 30 and 900 stamps is exhausted-about the first of the year. The stamps are now coming on heavier paper, cleaner perforated, better colors and more evenly centered, than formerly.

The denominations of the due set will be the same as previous issues, with the exception of the $3 c$ value which has been discontinued.

We never see that ad. of Mr. Ross', 'Stamps by the pound'; but what we think of an experience of ours that happened,-not so very many years ago. In buying a lot of stamps in this way, we found more than enough unused specimens, to pay for the whole cost. Grills were unknown, or rather uncared for then and among the lot were grills of all sizes; 3 c outer lines; I , 2 and 3 c grills, and $\mathrm{r}, 2$ and 3 c -by the dozenof the ' 69 issue. These stamps, then, were fully as common as those that Mr. Ross is offering for sale now; and the thought naturally arises, will his command similar prices, in a few years duration?

Mr. Bartram,-of this City, and the owner of that magnificent collection previously men. tioned in these columns-recently told too good a joke on himself for us to keep and we cannot resist the temptation to repeat it.

Having business with The Dalles postoffice he casually asked the clerk in attendance, if he had any high value Columbians, such as one. two, three, four or five dollar stamps. He was informed that they had three of the ones, left. "I'll take them all!" generously exclaimed Mr. B, not the one to refuse such a "sinap."

Judge of his astonishment, as well as chagrin to have three of the one cent value poked out to him. We failed to learn whethier he toak them all or not.

We have been requested to state that on Nov. ${ }^{1} 3^{\text {th }}$ "The Metropolitan Philatelic Club of San Antonio," (Texas) was organized. The officers are as follows: Edward W. Heusinger, President, Albert Steves, Vice-President; E. G. Cervantes, Treasurer; John G. Roth, Secretary and Max E. Jesse, Assistant Secretary. Literary Board; Alfred E. Hayden, H. C. Glaze and Julius Jermy. Supt. of Purctasing, Sa!e; and Exchange; Charles Roemer, and Frederic Noyes and E. B. Sterling are the Counterfeit Detectors.

With such a list of officers, one can easily prophecy this society's future prosperity.

No doubt many were surprised at the advance in price of the high value, dufe stamps; and there seems to be a scramble to complete sets in the bright claret issue, especially. Our observation leads us to think that the 300 is the rarest value in the set.

We are compelled to leave out much of interest this month, also fail to acknowledge many courtesies received, on account of lack of space.

A few remarks on their actual market value

Ever since the United States Government signified its willingness to issue a set of stamps to ccmmerorate the World's Columbian Exposition, the Philatelic, as well as general public, has been screwed up to a high state of expectancy. Ever since this issue first appeared has speculation been rife. As soon as they were out, dealers, and most everybody else, were baying up the cance.le I stamps.

It seemed to be everybody's aim to hoard up a vast amount of these stamps for a future raise in price. The craze struck the millionaire, and the pauper; the proprietur, and the office boy; the postman, and the janitor;-in fact the general public seemed to have been affected to a more or less exteat. People who could nit define the word Philatelist, bought up several complete sets of this issue. From England, France, Germany, Russia, New Zealand, Aus-tralia,--and in fact from everywhere, came requests for these stamps. The general belief was prevalent, that there would be an enormoss advance in prices within a few years.
From fairly reliable sources, we find the following amounts of each issue (in round numbers) were sold:

| cent, | ,000 | cen | 462,000,000 |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 3 " | I 1, 230,000 | 4 | 19,025,000 |
| 5 | 35,250,000 | 6 " | 330,000 |
| 8 " | 10,650,000 | 10 | 6,485,000 |
| 15 | . 1,547,000 | 30 | 600,000 |
|  | 200,000 | 1 dollar | 54,000 |
| 2 dollars | . . $233^{\prime} 130$ | 3 | 80 |
| $4 \quad "$ | . $77^{\prime} 4^{20}$ | 5 |  |

The one cent value will be plenteous many years hence, and fifty years hence we can have two cent stamps to burn. It will be years before the three, four and five cent stamps will ever be able to face more than one cent each in any reliable catalog. The same may be said of the eight and ten cent denominations.

There are enough of the fifteen cent stamps to bring the price down to five cents, and the thirty cent stamp should not catalog over ten to twelve cents for years to come. I would consider the fifty cent stamp high at twenty-five to thirty cents. These prices are for used stamps. The one dollar stamp, used or unused, should not be worth much over its face value, and the three, four and five dollar stamps, as well as the two dollar variety, ought to be high at ten per cent above face for the unused specimens.
Of the dollar values-of course, used stamps could command higher prices, on account of most of these values having been preserved unused. As a majority of these dollar stamps are held by some parties trying to "corner" the market, they will try to price them at very lofty figures in their catalogs. These firms have an immense stock, for which they have paid fairly good prices, and in turn want to unload at good profits. Almost everybody has stamps to sell; if not, they are holding them for the advance, (?) but who is going to buy?

Of couuse, the supply we have on hand now if saved, may bring a good price to our grand, or great-grand children, but that will not bene. fit us. The matter is easily to be seen; a large supply of Columbians--in fact an enormous supply-was issued, and one half to three fourths of the cent issues were saved;-most all of the dollar varieties are in somebody's hands. This probably never occured to such an extent, ever before.

Some dealers have the gall to ask five to six dollars each for the dollar stamp. The cause? "Well," they say, "it is rumored some specula tors have the bulk of this issue." What of it? 'They can't hold them forever! Sometime, in the near future a support will drop, and down, down, down, prices will come. Then, and not before, will Columbians be near their actual worth.

When the crash does come, it will hurt many;-it will cripple dealers generally, but it cannot be delayed loug. It is inevitable; the sooner it comes the better, and if the Philatelic public will stop in their mad rush, and stand back, prices may be righted. No ccrner, no matter how strong, will last against an encrmous supply, a scarcity of buyers, and general public indignation. Let us see, therefore, that we,for one-are not buried beneath the mighty avalanche, which is bound to come, for just as sure as the Earth moves and the Sun shines, it is coming.

In penning this article, my aim, is not to make a bear story; on the contrary, far from it. What I do want to see, is equanimity of prices. In arriving at my conclusions, I have taken as a poind-d"appui, the numbers of stamps in similar issues by other countries, and although not so many were saved-the excitement not being so great and unanimous-yet the prevalent prices are about in accordance with the above reckonings.

As the year 1894 is now a thing of the past, it may not be uninteresting to look back and see how matters philatelic have fared during the last twelve months.

While the number of stamp collectors has not increased as rapidly as in 1893, the steady growth of the national societies shows that the interest in philately has not been flagging.

Although the hard times have doubtless made themselves felt in the stamp business, I do not believe that dealers on the whole have much complaint to make on account of lack of trade.

In the journalistic field, however, the past year has made sad havoc. Not alone new efforts but papers of many years standing have been compelled to give up the ghost. When such papers as the Quaker City Philatelist retire, 'tis well to say, "The times are out of joint."

The past twelve months have been marked by an increase in the number of weeklies; also, I am sorry to state, by the collapse of three of them. The Philatelic Era changed its number of visits from two to four a month without materially changing its appearance, and is seemingly meeting with well deserved success. The Canadian Philatelic Weekly promised well, but was forced to suspend on account of not being able to secure second class rates. The Southern Philatelic Weekly which was excellent while it lasted also joined the silent majority after a short life, together with the Weekly Philatelist. This leaves the Weekly field covered by Mekeel's, the Era, and the Lon, Star State Philatelist.

Consolidations have been frequent. The Eagh, and Collector with the "Pennsy" and the Detroit with the American Philatelic Masazine.

Among the new papers of the year may be noted the Reniew of Revicws, the Dixic, Northern, Pipestone, Sun, Pet, and, last hut not least, the Evergreen State Philatelist. I do not wish to make the Editor blush, therefor, will simply say that the collectors of the Northwesr give credit where great credit is due.

Among the philatelic sensations of the year have been the Hooper episode, (last act,) and the fall of F. E. Goodwin and Henry Ades Fowler. Alas, how are the mighty fallen, but it was ever thus.

The struggle between the P. S. of A., and the S . of P . has unfortunately still been going on, but stamp collectors, like the rest of mankind are mortal, and the philatelic millenium is not yet at hand.

And stamps! ah, yes! we have had new issues in plenty; Seebecks, Jubilee issues and other moneying making goods have flourished, but of these and also legitimate new issues I will, with the Editor's permission, say a few words in the next issue of this paper.

WASHINGTON ROMES.

By Geo. S. Seymour.
The opening of the Postal Museum adds another reason why the conventions of our societies should be held in this city.

It is the opinion here that the statement on certain stamps of Mexico to the effect that they are Un Real, is a true statement. The Mexican government should take pains, in future, to more carefully conceal their private transactions.

That the blue shade of the six cent Columbian is only a faded purple, has now been satisfactorily proved. Your correspondent has one in his possession, half of which is blute and half purple. It was manufactured by covering one half, and exposing the other to the direct action of the Sun, which soon produced the result mentioned.

The issue of 1890 is dead! Long live the issue of 1894 .

几OTES FROM UगAH.
A well known dealer catalogues the 50 c . 1894 stamps at 75 c new, and 50 c used.
—:- -:-
Salt Lake City is not behind the times; lots of fault is found with the new stamps. Not long ago a batch of ten's were received without any stickum on at all. The two's and the rest are just about as bad.

About three weeks ago I sent for an album to a well known stamp and publishing house of St. Louis, Mo. The postage on the album was prepaid with a fifty cent stamp of the 1894 issue. What was my indignation to find, when I took the stamp off the wrapper to put it in the album, that the corner was torn completely off. When the album was in transit, some thief tried to take the stamp off; finding that he could not do so he tore it. Can anything be done?

It certainly was aggravating, and it is a misdemeanour punishable by quite a fine, for a pcs:master or his clerks, to remove stamps from mail matter. ED.

Edimorial eompourri.

Twenty pages and cover and still we have to leave out much of interest that ought to have appeared in this month's issue. We have given up trying to publish the E. S. P. in its present form and shall enlarge to the regulation size with our next number, which will be typographically, perfect. The subscription price will necessarily be raised to twenty-five cents per annum, and the ad. rates will be advanced to fifty cents per inch. Adding 500 more copies to our present circulation, gives us a better advertising medium than the majority of stamp periodicals now published at the same price. Until the next number is mailed, subscriptions will be received at the same old price of 150 per year. Ads, except those already contracted for-will only be accepted at the new rate herein given.

In as much as the size of this volume cannot be neatly bound with succeeding numbers, we have concluded to number the February issue, volume three, number one. Would it not be well for those who receive the paper this month as a sample copy, to take advantage of these liberal terms and begin your subscription with the first of the new volume?

The dollar values of the new stamps are out but we have seen none of them, as yet. We are told that the $$$ I stamp is printed in a deep black; the $$ 2$ stamp with the portrait of James Madison, is printed in sapphire blue and is a beauty; the $$ 5$ stamp with portrait of John Marshall, (full face) is a brilliant green. These stamps are well gummed, nicely printed, highly colored, and like the ballance of the set will compare favorably with any previous issue.

We are also informed that a few envelopes; with the new watermark are in circnlation; look for them. Same old design, but with the watermark "U S" in large letters with " P O D" inside the $U$, " 9 " in the upper curve of the $S$, and " 4 " in the lower curve of the same letter.
Mr. Gremmel has kindly favored us with a copy of his book "Minor Varieties" which orig. inally appeared in the Post Office, and was the most valuable work published during the year '94. The price of the book is 15 c with paper covers, or 25 c in cloth. Also, a copy of "Gremmel's Improved Stock Book for the pocket;' one of the neatest books we have ever seen in this, line. It it just the thing, and only ecsts 2 cc .

The neatest calender out is that containing the compliments of C. W. Kissinger. We are extremely proud of ours.

We have also received a Jan. blotter from the Mekeel Co; tasty, as is everyใbing emanating from this firm.

From Frisco comes the Californian Philatelist containing several interesting notes and the publisher's usual pricelist. We note that he has priced the 2 c pale pink, ' 94 stamp at 8 c un. and $3 c$ used. Time will tell whether there will be a demand for the stamp at this price, or not.

We fail to acknowledge several other courtesies received, on account of lack of space; also have to leave out a couple of $I$ ages of exchanges, a few trade notices, and a page of editorials.

Room will be given for all exclange and trade notices that may come in,-next month.

Ghigago Romes.

Another auction is promised by Dr. B. A. Cottlow, our society auctioneer, for Feb. Ist '95. This is to be especially rich in U.S; many of the old issues, departments, etc being complete. Any who wish catalogues, please forward their names to me and they will receive one gratis.

I have been asked to report the following fraud; L. O. W., Waukegan, Ill.

It is rumored that there will appear a Phillatelic fraud reporter; and although it is only a rumor, I am assured by those who ought to know, that it is almost a certainty. It all depends on whether they receive the support, in the way of ads etc, that such a venture so well deserves. If they were assured of the hearty support of a number of leading dealers and collectors, those interested would go right aheacl and make it a success in every way.

The 55th catalogue has not yet appeare:l and it is reported that it will not be on sale until January 15 th.

Very few philatelists know anything about the American Exchange Club; and for the beneGt of those, I am going to give a few details about this charming little organization. The A. E. C., is a society formed for the purpose of exchanging stamps among its members, on about the same plan as the A. P. A. exchange dept. It consists of about 100 members in various parts of the country and is about one year and six months old. So far its sales average about forty per cent and at present is in a flourishing condition. It is superintended and managed by E. Wagoner, and O. O. Ingersoll, both prominent philatelists of Galesburg, Ill.

I commend it to all readers of this magazine.

Attorney General Olney is looking up legal opinion in regard to suppressing the sale or publication of illustrated stamp albums and catalogs. He is of the opinion that the $\mathrm{U} . \mathrm{S}$. is not in keeping to their obligation to foreign countries by allowing the printing of fac simile of their stamps;-he thinks it should be classed as counterfeiting. If after a thorough examination, he decides it as such, steps will at once be taken to confiscate all albums and catalogs so illustrated.

Is this a scheme to force the collectors to use a blank album?

The Government has decided to stop the printing of similtudes of postage stamps and will seize cuts, plates etc, but will not confiscate publications now on hand.

An article in the December Eastern in regard to honesty of philatelists, reminds me of an instance that happened to me. An unsolicited approval sheet was sent me without return postage; as is my custom, I took 2 c worth from the sheet to pay the return postage and one of the stamps upon examination was catalogued at 12 cents. I consider I was honest as the sender of the sheet was willing to sell it for one cent, I took it and if I found it more valuable, that was his lookout and not mine.

Another case: A friend sent to one of New York's prominent dealers for a certain U. S. stamp which cost him 35c. A few days after, he showed it to a collector who advised him to send it to another dealer who wrote him, that he had a buyer who would give him $$ 5.00$ for the stamp, and he would devide with him if he would allow him to sell it.

You cars still find some good things, even if the old hair trunks are getting played out.

By writing to rural postoffices you can pick up many bargains. I saw a beautiful block of 16 three cent vermillion that were got at face value and several old envelopes of the 1864 issue: the total cost was 72 c , and they were catalogued at $$ 9.00$
-:- -:-

Aint that a beautiful figure 5 on the new 50 c stamp? It is almost a perfect letter $S$.
-:- -:-

The dollar Columbians are still being used. The Insurance offices here occasionly receive them; wish I could get a few.

IMPRESSIONS BY THE WAY. By W. L. Morse.

There is no use in denying the fact that the 亡. S. P. has an immense circulation; if any one desires to prove it, let him place an exchange notice in its columns. I received more answers to my last notice than would be easy to count.
"Veritas" may become sarcastic over my lumble attempts to put down the inclination among most editors of criticising their contem poraries so severely-but it is a serious-a very serious matter. How many enemies are made by this habit? Read "Charity vs. Philately" by Roy F. Greene, if you desire to see my views put forth in a stronger light.

THE POSTAL ISSUES OF 1894
In preparing the following summary of the postal issues of 1894, the writer begs to acknowledge the valuable aid of the excellent chronicle published from month to month in the "American Journal of Philately," from which much information has been gleaned.

The reader must not suppose that the following is to be a complete list of all stamps issued during the preceding year. Even if he had the ability to prepare a full list, the writer feels that it would take altogether too much space, and he will therefore confine himself to a brief summary.

The tendency to turn out stamps merely to sell them to collectors has unfortunately increased considerably during the past year. Among the speculative issues may be mentioned: Our old friends, the Seebecks, of course.

The postal needs of various treaty ports in China have suddenly demanded the issue of postage stamps. Locals from the following cities have appeared changes of color and surcharges. during the last twelve months: Other issues more or less specChungkiang, Newkiang, Ching- ulative, in the writer's opinion, kiang, Kew Kiang, Hankow, are the new stamps from the Congo Free State, the various emis- fact here, as, doubtless, most sions from Labuan, the three cor- readers of the Evergreen State nered Liberians, the Samoan flag Philatelist have seen all the stamp and other oddities from stamps made by the Bureau of that quarter, the San Marino la- Printing and Engraving ere now. bels, and last, but not least, our own wonderful Bicycle stamp.

The success which attended the issue of the Columbian series in this country has brought forth quite a number of Jubilee issues. Belonging to this class are the Don Henrique issue of Portugal, the Silver Wedding stamps of Japan and the San Marino Jubilee issues.

Several new countries have entered the stamp using fold, among which may be mentioned Abyssinia and Principality of Trinidad.

Among the countries adopting new designs on their postage stamps are Bolivia, Brazil, Cape of Good Hope, Hawaiian Islands, Persia, Roumania, Servia, South Australia and South African Republic.

The usual changes in color have taken place with the stamps of the Spanish colonies; the same may be said of those of the British colonies. The colors of the Uruguayan stamps have been changed, as have those of several of the Belgian Sabbatical issue.

Among the most prominent cases of re-engraving are the new 1 c . and 2c. Chili.

The United States of America have not been backward in changes. I need not mention the leading spirits of Philately will speak on subjects related thereto (or not), and this is a chance which "no true lover of fair Philatelia should miss" (quoted from R. F. G.).

Among the special attractions that have already been secured, may be mentioned:

Major Egan will deliver a twenty minutes' lecture on "The Eganesque style of writing editorials," interspersed with a few remarks on the advantages of using French, German and Latin phrases in philatelic writing.
"Why I bolted" will be the subject of "Benedict Arnold" Lang.
D. M. Averill, the well known Portland dealer, has kindly consented to give "A few hints on getting 30c. due stamps from the Postoffice authorities at face," and "Why I sell the new $$ 1.00$ stamps at face."
C. W. Kissinger will favor the assembled collectors with a carefully written sketch of "The Boston Philatelic Society, of which I am a member," also "Why Everyone should get a P. S. of A. Button."
C. F. Rothfuchs will narrate a "Week's Adventures with the Secret Service's Myrmidons."

The prize poem has been assigned to A. Tennyson Greene, who will immortalize "The Kelation between Love and Philately," proving the complete shortsightedness of those old fogies who fail to see that relation. Mr. Greene may also deliver a short speech on "How we will run the Denver Convention in August."
F. E. Pinkham, of the "Eastern," will give publishers a few pointers on "How to get One Thousand Subscribers in Three months."

Crawford Capen will make public "The True History of the 1890 5c. Error."
E. L. Shove has promised to express his views on "The AutiSeebeck Movement, What it accomplishes and What it Doesn't."
"The History of the Bicycle Stamp up to Date" will be given by Chas. E. Jenney.
R. M. Miller will give his reasons for starting the "Collector" again.

Lewis G. Quackenbush will present a composition on "The Writings for the Philatelic Press, What they are and What they should be."

Herbert Crane Beardsley will bandle the subject, "How it feels trying to be funny without Success," in his usual witty style.

Doubtless the event of the day will be the grand debate between C. E. Severn and Gus J. Luhn on "Which is the greatest Stamp Society in the Universe?"

Surely this is a chance to see and hear philatelic greatness such as few can expect to get twice in a lifetime. Let every stampite gather up his shekels and hurry hence.

IMPRESSIONS BY THE WAY.

BY W. L. MOISE.

From the far west there comes to me A paper I always long to see-
Its initials are The E. S. P.
It teems with good views, it is newsy and bright,
And always is anxious the wrong to right;
Toits subscribers I know its a welcome sight.
Its a "multim in parvo" fellow, sure,
And it gives us all kinds of stemp news, galore;
May it always remain "evergreen" as of yore.
Which of the E. S. P. readers are lucky enough to subscribe to the AmericanPhilatelic(?) Magazine? Those that are the lucky ones, refer back to the December number and read that juvenile remark with the tragic heading "He wanted revenge:" My, what a mighty perception that unsophisticated Brown must have. The idea advanced in that effusion might grace the pages of "Harper's Young People" or some such juvenile periodical, but for the editor of one of the leading philatelic papers it is simply ridiculous. Rhetoric is evidently not one of Brown's distinguishing characteristics.

It is a strange fact that so many of our best authors insist upon employing "jaw-twisters" in expressing their views, when much simpler words would perform the same functions to a better and more comprehensible advantage. Lowell has ofttimes complained of the American authors' studied want of simplicity in setting forth their views. He was certainly correct.

There are certain classes of philatelists who seem to delight in writing long arguments in which they attempt to prove that philately is a science. All this kind of folly should become obsolete with the advancement of education among us. I came across an article in an old copy of "The Detroit Philatelist" which deals with this matter very forcibly. The author, A. L. Becker, goes on to say: "Is philately a science? Is baseball a science? One question answers the other, for it is irrefutable that the chief end of both are identical, namely: the amusement and relaxation from care of the human race." These are, I believe, the sentiments of most sound philatelists.

DENVER'S STAMP OOLLECTORS AND DEALERS.

We will start with Mr. E. H. Pierce, who used to sell old books and carried stamps as a side line in the eighties, but now, with his partner, Mr. J. E. Zahn, vicepresident of the P. S. of A. for Colorado, do an extensive business at room 23, Cass & Graham block, under the name of the "Colorado Stamp Co."

Mr. Oney K. Castarphen, one of Denver's collectors, and well known in the stamp world about Denver, is a visitor to the stamp rooms often.

Next we come to Mr. R. M. Gottesleben, counterfeit detector of the Q. C. P. S., and owner of the largest jewelery store in the city, has one of those large collections including British colonies. In scanning the pages of his Album one sees the triangular capes, both wood blocks and ordinary.

Harold R. Foster is another prominent collector. His stamps are mounted on bristol boards arranged in drawers.
D. A. Callahan, late of New Haven, has over 7,500 varieties finely arranged in an album of his own design.

Mr. E. W. Plummer, who is shortly to issue a philatelic paper in Denver, and father, have the largest stock of Australian stamps on the American continent, over 40,000 good and bad.
W. A. Walker, J. W. Thorean, and several young gentlemen are enthusiastic collectors.

We have about twenty-five or thirty P. S. of A's in Denver.

Milo Múnson.

A Stamp Thief Secures a Prize.

While Councilman George H. Wood was at the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Philatelic Society, February 13 , a young man called at his residence and informed Mrs. Wood that he had been sent for her husband's collection af stamps.

This is one of the finest in this part of the country, and is valued at $$ 1.500$. Mrs. Wood gave the collection to the young man, who thereupon dissapeared. New York and St. Louis stamp centers have been notified by the police. -Ex.

NOTES.

BY P. A. G.
W. H. Bruce, the well-known Hartford dealer, was married Feb. 6th, to Miss Cora Belle Andrews.

The Holyoke envelopes can be plainly discerned from the Plimpton envelopes by the clear and sharp embossing of the stamp, every point being brought out.

Two letters were recently started from Hartford to go around the world; one went East and the other West. They were directed to well-known collectors in foreign countries, to be forwarded to the next place and are expected to arrive back in June.

A well know Hartford dealer recently lost a "snap." The secretary of the Phoenix Fire Insurance Co., while looking over some old papers, found a sheet of 1861 unused five cent yellow. He sent for the dealer, who made him the magnificent offer of $\mathbf{$ 3 0}$. The insurance man knew the stamps were valuable, so he wrote to a New York dealer and received a check for $$ 200$ for them.

Could our friends oblige us by remitting in silver, bills, or money orders whenever practicable? It would be a great accomodation as we now have on hand a large quantity of stamps and each lot being in sums of small amounts, makes it rather difficult to dispose of them.

The envelopes with the new watermark, of which description was given last month, are now coming into general use. We have seen several different sizes and colors of the envelopes with this watermark, which we think the poorest designed by the U.S. government. The design and color of the stamp, as well as the envelopes are the same as former issues. We have also seen the 1 c wrapper with the new watermark, but printed in a much darker shade of blue.

The high value Due stamps are now seeking their true level, as far as rarity and price are concerned. Competition has brought the price down to a dollar apiece, which we consider about their real value for the time being; it would be well, however, for those desiring a specimen to buy at that price, as it does not stand to reason that the stamps can remain at that figure any length of time.

A copy of this month's issue is sent to every stamp collector in the Pacific Northwest whose addresses we have been able to secure, and being familiar with the generous, fraternal spirit manifested by the collectors in this corner of Uncle Sammy's domain, we hope each one so receiving a copy of the paper this month will encourage home enterprise and help us further improve the paper, by forwarding us a year's subscription. This magazine is no new venture of mushroom growth but has been published regularly each month for the past fourteen months, and the hearty support of a few more Northwestern collectors would make our dawning success a certainty. As yet, the East has given us more material aid than our own neighborhood.

Priced copies of the J. W. Scott Co.'s (limited) last auction sale, held on the evening of Jan. 30th, are now out. As a general thing splendid prices prevailed, but there were many bargains secured nevertheless. Space will only permit of our giving the prices on single U. S. stamps, which received a bid of five dollars or more.

The 5 c brown sold for $$ 4$, and the 5 c dark brown for $$ 5$; both of the 1856 issue and in perfect condition. The 90c stamp of the same series, unused, brought $$ 10.60$; the 3 c scarlet, a beautiful shade, but slightly soiled and with a few perforations missing, went for $$ 20$; the 90 c of ' 68 for 58.75 ; the 24 c of ' 69 secured a bid of $$ 2$; the 15 c blue and brown stamps of ' 69 , no frame, no grille, perfect brown gum and unused, was knocked down to the highest bidder at $$ 26$; the 90 c stamp of this series in the same condition went for 540 ; the 5 c blue border Newspaper stamp and the 9c black Newspaper stamp brought $$ 9.50$ each, nearly full catalogue value; another of the 9 c value went for only $$ 7.25$; a complete set of agriculture department stamps sold for $$ 10.80$; the 6 c Executive at 88 ; 30c Justice at $$ 6.10$; 90c Justice at $$ 20$; a fine set of Navy sold for $$ 11$; another one for. S14.85; the $$ 2$ State brought $$ 9.50$ in one lot and $$ 10.25$ in another; a set of Executive at $$ 34.75$ unused and $$ 18.50$ used; surcharged "specimen" at $5.50; the State departments, complete except the dollar values, brought $$ 16.50$; many of the envelopes commanded high prices, and the only foreign stamps we will mention is the pair of 1 p . orange, unused, Prince Edward Isle stamps, which brought $$ 90$.

For prices in other stamps contained in this sale, order a copy of the priced catalogue from J. W. Scott Co. (Limited), of 40 John st., New York City, which will be sent you on receipt of twenty-five cents.

It becomes our sad duty this month to chronicle the death of Mr. Chas. Sutter, of Port Blakely, Wash.; an carnest devotee of Philately, and amateur journalism; also a member of the P. A. P.A.; publisher of the "Golden West," and a general favorite with all who knew him.

Mr. Sutter was 19 years old, and was accidentally killed by a rifle in the hands of a little brother. We extend our sincere sympathy to the bereaved parents.

The regular issue with ornaments in the upper corners are now all out except the 8 c value which seems to be in plentiful supply, as yet, in the old design.

The new stamps although well of the country issuing the stamp, printed and in good colors, still which makes it very easy for behave a tendency to crack on the ginners to quickly locate any slightest provocation, and are stamp coming into their possesagain coming in all the different sion. It also contains a Glossary shades imaginable of each indi- of Foreign postal terms trans* vidual color. We even have more lated into English by Chas. W. shades of the present 2 c than we Egan, and a list of Philatelic had of the old 3 c red of 1861-68.

Notwithstanding the $$ 1$ Columbian stamp was recently sold at an auction in New York City for 58 , it is not worth near that sum, and whenever put up at a legitimate sale free for the general public to bid on, the stamp does not generally bring half that price. True, a pair of these stamps showing the imprint below, brought 58 at the J. W. Scott sale mentioned heretofore, but at other sales, and without the imprint, it brings a much lower price. In England we have never known of it to bring much over $$ 2.25$, and although there are dealers in this country still asking from four to six dollars for a specimen, we doubt if they secure many sales.

The Davison Publishing Company has kindly favored us with a copy of Davison's Philatelic Concordance and Address Book, the most complete work of the kind we have seen. The Concordance gives the different inscriptions found on all postage stamps on which the name of the country does not appear, with the name terms which are up to date, and is worth the price of the book.

The directory contains nearly 5,000 names of stamp collectors and dealers, and is not the least important feature of this valuable work. We notice the directory gives quite a complete list of Eastern collectors, but like all other similar publications we have seen heretofore, is very incomplete as a directory of the Pacitic Northwest. For instance it gives less than thirty collectors in the state of Oregon, and we lave more subscribers to this magazine than that in the city of Portland alone; the same may be said of Washington of which we only find a list of eleven names of this state, and we have ten times as many on our subscription books. Our Eastern brethren lave but a poor idea of the number of collectors and the extent of the hobby in the Pacific Northwest, and the E. S. P. is proud of the fact that it monthly reaches five hundred of these collectors not so reached by all other similar publications combined. $1 in cloth, 50 c in paper covers, of Davison Publishing Co., 1 1\% Broadway, New York City.

OHIOAGO NOTES.

The thirty-third reserve auction sale of the Chicago Philatelic Society was a grand success. It is by far the most important sale ever held in the West and consisted of 1303 lots, which brought a grand total of about $$ 3,500$.

Notwithstanding Mr. E. Quere Philman's "remarks" in last issue, the s1.00 Columbian sold two days ago for 54.20; however, I think anything like such a price is a good deal above its true value.

Most of the lots in the last sale were the property of Mr. D. F. Higginson of this city, who, we understand is going out of business.

The stamp business, contrary to the usual custom of this scason of the year, is reported as being very slow. We are all hoping to see it "pick up" of course.

No values above the fifteen cent stamp have arrived as yet at this postoffice, although they are reported as "out."

Talking with a gentleman the other day, I happened to mention the fact that a great many men make a very good living out of postage stamps. In reply he said: "If anyone can make a living out of postage stamps, he had better fall down on his knees and thank his Maker, and then go into some other business; he would make his fortune."

The 55th catalouge arrived here January 18 th, and the entire consignment (50) were sold in half a day. Two hundred were promised for the 24th, but have not arrived yet (Feb. 1st).

Almost as long as I have been a nember of the Chicago P. S., there has been hung on the walls of our rooms, a charter, showing our society to be branch No 1, A P. A., but until Thursday evening, Jan. 15th, last, we have never to my knowledge held a meeting. On that day, however, resident Vice-president, Wolsieffer, called a meeting, the result of which was, that we shall now hold regular meetings on the first and third Thursdays of each month, and we are to have a supply of exchange books as soon as possible.

Mr. R. M. Bettesworth, secretary of the New League of American Philatelists, is a resident of Chicago.

Statistics show the advanced Philatelic population of Chicago to be 213. E. Van Ston.

A NEW NAME.

The Society heretofore known as the National Philatelic Society, orgranized at Wyoming, Iowa, Aug 28, 1894.. has been changed to the League of American Philatelists. Elegant official organ and literary exchange departments are attractive features. Address for blank, Louis J. Kramer, Pres., Elkader, Iowa.

WESTERN NOTES.

The 6th auction sale of the Nebraska Philatelic Society came off January 29th, at the Omaha collectors romis. 80 lots were sold and good prices prevailed. The next sale will take place on February 26th.

The Queen City Philatelic Society of Denver, have close to 100 members and publish their own paper. The first number will be out the second week of F'ebruary.

Cleve Scott's paper will not come out.

Stamps are still being sent to the "Million Stamp Crippler," Miss Brown of Illinois, although notices published in the Chicago Inter Ocean wish them stopped as they cannot attend to them all.

Let every collector in the West be at the $P$. S. of $A$. meet in Denver next summer and show the East what a Western meet is like.

Still another name for the National Philatelic Society. "The League of American Philatelists', makes three so far.

A notice in the E. S. P. brings in replies from collectors never heard of before and from states that I thought collectors had left. No doubt but what it is the leader of the West.

> L. Bronstone.

The Evergreen State Philatelist.

A MONTHIY MAGAZINE FOR STAMP COI, EECTORS.

Vol. III, No. 2.
Hartland, Washington, March, 1895.
Whole No. 15.

OHATS WITH MEN OF THE HOUR.

NUMBER ONE.
Firank Brown, Esq., Omaha, Neb.
My Dear Sir:-
Your letter of complaint against Reformer M.'s remarks concerning yourself and your style of writing is before me.

Let me give you a pointer (excuse the slang), about these Southern writers. You must not take them too seriously. They never mean half of what they say. You might as well take M.'s brother scribbler, the great pawn-broker-president, '‘aux grandes sericux."

You see we are profiting out here in the wilds from Major Egan's use of foreign languages in writings philatelic.

But I am wandering from the matter under consideration, as many philatelic writers do when going all around a subject without ever touching it or saying anything about it except in their heading.

Retournons! (Major E. again.) Don't think M. is in earnest. He must contribute his share as a member on the Evergreen staff, and for want of a better (pardon me, worse, ) subject bounces on your writing.

No, I would most decidedly object to your saying anything tending to lower the philatelic public's opinion of M. as a poct. Between you and me, I think that M. will be the last of Philately's versifiers. As we hear in literature of Uncas, the Last of the Mohicans, and Harold, the Last of the Saxons, future generations will speak of M., the Last of the Philatelic Poets. Another digression! I must apologize for deviating again.

I should consider it a personal insult if you were to speak in a supercilious manner of M.'s poetical effusions. Does he not say, "It (the E. S. P.) teems with good views, it is newsy and bright?" Being a contributor myself, I feel "my bosom swell with pride" when I read this line.

You doubtless think me somewhat inconsistent for telling you not to believe seriously what M. says, and then believing him myself. Such is the world. Consistency thou art a jewel, etc. I always believe the good things I hear and don't take much stock in the bad. 'Tis the most agrecable way, I assure you.

Now a word in regard to your great Society, the S. of P. Your resigning from Official Journalship No. 2 quite upset a neat little calculation I had made of getting three stamp papers a year for 25 cts. I was just about to leave the Grandsons and join the Physicians when you withdrew form the Official Journal field. You see I figured this way: For 25 cents I get the Pensy as a $P$. S. of A., but as a S. of P. I would have got.the Pensy, as successor to Lang's "Collector," your esteemed journal and the resuscitated "Collector." Your resignation has unfortunately spoiled all this.

Do you know where the S. of P. are at? Who are the trustees, presidents, etc? I never was much of a hand at puzzles, and this matter would from its complicated nature take considerable time, of which I have none to waste.

Trusting that you have recovered fully from the effects of the Reading Jove's thunderbolts, which he hurled in your direction some months ago, and that the A. P. M. has not become too topheavy, I remian, Philatelically yours, Veritas.

ODDS AND ENDS.
BY A PORTLAND COLLECTOR.
Ye Editor produced a very pleasant surprise with Vol. III,

No. 1. of the E. S. P. May its shadow never grow less!

Two of the largest collections in the city were broken up recently, the owners retaining a portion for specializing.

The quality of the stamps now on sale at the postoffice here is a good deal better than that of the first specimens of the new issue. However, there is still room for improvement, when compared with the 1890 issue.

The new issue of newspaper stamps have been obtained by several collectors here. They present a very creditable appearance, in fact, seem to be just as well made as the old ones. It is somewhat of a mystery how these stamps, which are not allowed to go outside of the postoffices, get into the hands of collectors and dealers.

A well known dealer of this city is selling out his stock of 6 cent Columbians, unused, at face. This will afford small consolation to the believers in the Columbian issue as an investment.

Lucky finds are not made every day, therefore, when a 3 cent pink is found in a lot of old correspondence, the finder may consider himself fortunate. Such an experience occurred to a Portland collector recently.

Mr. E. Gantenbein, one of the leading lights of former days, has returned to Portland, after a several years' sojourn in the East. Like many philatelists here, he specializes, devoting all his attention to U. S., Argentine, Hong Kong and a few other countries.

The prophecy I made several months ago that the Venezuelan remainders would drop considerably has been fulfilled in Scott's 55 th, although in my opinion, they are still altogether to high. I trust none of the E. S. P.'s readers were caught with a lot of these highly desirable (?) stamps on their hands.

HOW'S THIS?

One day during the past year by a mistake a batch of 100,000 2 cent wrappers were printed in blue before the error was discovered. As soon as discovered they were immediately destroyed, with the exception of 6 , which are now in the hand of collectors, who value them highly.

OHIOAGO NOTES.  by e. van ston.

It is my purpose during the next few months to give a short sketch of the lives of Chicago's most prominent philatelists. I will commence with P . M. Wolsieffer.

Mr. Wolsieffer was born on the 28th of May, 1857, and has been stamp collector and dealer since February, 1892, during that time, three years, he has built up one of the largest and most successful stamp concerns in the West. Owing to his invariable honesty and fair dealings, and his ever present smile and cordial hand shake, there is no more popular philatelist in the West. He is familiarly known by all his friends as "P. M." His leading advertisement "about stamps" is well known to everyone.

The annual banquet of the Chicago Philatelic Society, was held on the evening of March 7th, at 7:30 o'clock, at the Grand Pacific Hotel. Dainty notices and cards were sent to all members by the chairman of the committee, Mr. Wolsieffer. The others on the committee were Messrs. Massoth and Cottlow.

Owing to having received my information from an unreliable source, I made a mistake in my notes last month, which should read as follows: Meetings of the A. P. A., branch No. 1., will be held monthly, on the second Thursday of each month.

NOTES ON U. S. STAMPS.

BY GAYLORD S. WILCOX.
Scott makes an error in listing the 1853 envelope, $3 c$ on white and buff, Die 5. The top label measures $151 / 2 \mathrm{~m}$., instead of 15 m .

Has anyone ever noticed the quite scarce shade of the 2 cent 1893? It is a sort of light yellow and on comparison is readily distinguished from the common claret.

By far the rarest shade of the 2 cent 1894, is a bright rose, just the color that used to be labeled "rose color" in old fashioned paint boxes. The lucky finder of this has a rare stamp.

Notice that Scott lists the wrappers, as wrappers in the 55th, a thing which has never been done before.

No matter what may be said in regard to the claret dues, they will always be rare stamps, and fully worth the present catalogue price.

TWO OENT GREEN OOLUMBIAN.
There are in existence two specimens of the 2 c Columbian envelope printed in green. The holder of one was recently offered $$ 100$ for his, but he would not part with it for that sum. It's a beauty and after seeing it, it's surprising why the P.O. Dept. did not decide on that color. The specimen is entire and unused.

PHILATELIO "RATS."

Have any of the readers of the E. S. P. ever noticed in philatelic literature any of those articles which on reading I invariably designate, philatelic "rats?"

By "rats" I mean such articles in philatelic magazines as are only written for the purpose of showing off the author's large vocabulary, and which in reality only demonstrates his power to wade through page after page of meaningless manuscript, and gives the unhappy reader not one scrap of necessary, or desirable information when he had fin. ished.

I could point out half a score of shining lights in philatelic journalism, who in every issu2 of the larger and older jourals inflict upon the suffering puilic one or two windbarg such as I have just endeavorel to discribe. One of the main reasons, to my notion, of the E.S. P.'s rapid rise, and success, is the absence of such stuff and instead the insertion of matter, which, if not written "quite" so well perhaps is readable and newsy-every word.

And least I be accused of something of the above nature myself, I will close.

> Gaylord.

STAMPS OF IOELAND.

by walton viles.

If one is interested in having a complete collection of the stamps of some country, and has not the money to spare for the more expensive stamps, I would advise him to collect the stamps of Iceland.

They are quite cheap and handsome, and there are only two unused stamps that you might call expensive, and they are only $$ 1$ apiece. All of the adhesives unused can be had for $$ 4.76$, the officials for $$ 1.49$, and the postals for 71c, making a total of $$ 6.96$ for the entire lot.

All of the above stamps are easy to get and make a good looking page.

STAMP NOTES.

BY WALTON VILES.
There were 29 Carrier stamps issued by the United States.

In the Confederate States there are 21 stamps in the regular issue and 80 in the Provincial.

Just think how hard Mexico has worked, for she has issued, up to 1893, 111 postals.

All of Griqualand's stamps are surcharged except 1 adhesive and 4 revenues.

Among the stamps of South Australia are found, surcharged, 29 adhesives, 6 Official wrappers and 2 Official postals.

PERFORATED.
BY GAYLORD S. WILCOX.
For the benefit of such as are not sure of the meaning of the words perforated, rouletted, etc., I append the following information:

Perforated: having holes or indentations between the stamps io assist in separating.
Imperforate: having nothing to assist in separating.
Rouletted: a series of straight cuts made in the paper between the stamps to assist in separating, thus:---.

The words Imperforated and Unperforated are incorrect, as that would imply stamps with the pepforations cut off.

PHILATELIO SMALL TALK.

BY C. E. SEVERN.
The stamp collection of exPresident Kissinger shares his affection with a valuable portfolio of autographs. Philately and the collection of autographs are two hobbies that are congenial; they do not antagonize each other in the least. Mr. Kissinger's collection of the specimens of chiography of notable men and women is excellent. Among his autographic treasures are some that are of particular interest to philatelic writers; such as, checks for various amounts drawn in favor of Longfellow and Lowell respectively, by Messrs. Ticknor & Fields of Boston, the renowned publishing house of former days, which was duly endorsed by these glories of New England, and paid through the bank.-Pennsylvania Philatelist.

It is said that stamps of the 2 cent value are occasionally found on a decidedly greenish-blue tinted paper.

Editorial Porpouri.

The eight cent adhesives with ornaments in the upper corners does not seem to be out as yet; the old style is still in plentiful supply.

The 27 th auction sale of R. F. Albrecht & Co., comprising 1225 lots, will take place March 26th, 27 th and 28 th. Copies of the catalogue can be obtained by addressing them at 90 Nassau St., New York City.

Now that Postmaster General Bissell has resigned and another appointed to that office, it is to be hoped that the new incumbent will not deem it necessary to in any way change the current issue of stamps. At any rate the high values of the new set will no doubt be eagerly sought for, as in all probability, they will not be used over three years at the most before some change is made and are apt to become quite desirable acquisitions

Exchange and Trade notices not in prior to the tenth of the month necessarily have to lay over until the next issui. It is also imperative that they be plainly written and carefully punctuated, otherwise, ou: printer "guessing" at their meaning, may occasiontally make mistakes.

The editor has received with thanks a copy of the "Canadian Philatelic Hand-Book No. 4; the Standard Hand-Book on Counterfeits." This work gives a list of known counterfeits to date and how to tell the difference between the genuine stamp and the bogus imitation. 25 cents from the publisher, L. M. Staebler, $185^{1 / 2}$ Dundas St., London, Ont.

The stamped envelopes with the new watermark in the one and two cent denominations are out in nearly all the schedule sizes. The color of the stamps vary nearly as much as the adhesives. We have seen the one cent valuc-both envelope and wrapper-in greenish blue, blue and dark blue. The two cent in green varies considerable in color. The Department no longer issue a higher value than the five cent.

The U.S. 1890 five cent crror still goes the weary rounds of the press. Mr. Tiffany says be shall feel bound to accept this stamp as an "error" until it is proved that the stamps were not received by the postmaster in the state that they are now in, or that they have been changed since they were purchased from his office.

Notwithstanding the report that there would be no three cent value issued in the new Due set, the January "Postal Guide" states that only the one, two and three cent stamps of the new design have been printed, there being a supply of the old design in the other denominations still on hand.

Referring to the Special Delivery it says:
"The only change made in the special delivery stamp are the addition of an inconspicuous ornamental line near the bottom of the stamp, and the deepening of of several of the border lines. The difference between the new and old stamps are hardly observable, except upon close examination.

Will our readers please mention this paper when answering ads?

NOTES FROM UTAH.

Being unable to sell them, the postmaster at Provo, Utah, sent 200 letter sheets to the Salt Lake postoffice to be sold. They were here but a short time when they were bought by two of our enterprising collectors.

The Michigan Philatelist states that a dealer catalouges the sc . Columbian at 15 c .

Your correspondent has been told that the return postal cards are going out of use and will soon be a thing of the past.

The new issue (1894) from one to fifteen cents-except the eight-are now on sale at the Salt Lake post office.

Mr. Henry A Rebentisch, the money order clerk at the post office, was recently offered 5200.00 for his fine collection of stamps. The offer was promptly refused. Mr. R. also has a fine collection of postal cards and envelopes; enough to fill a large size scrapalbum.

The following item may be of some interest to your readers: I have two old photographs which have U. S. revenue stamps on them. On one is the 2c orange bank check and is uncancelled; on the other is the 3c. proprietary green and is cancelled with the initials of the photographer "O. E." and the date "September 13." Have the readers of the E. S. P. any, and and what are the values and colors?

B. D.

Photos taken during the war will be found stamped in this way, the 2 c value being quite common in either blue or orange. Rarities, such as playing card, unperforated, part perforated and double perforations are occasionally found.-Ed.

NOTES FROM RHODE ISLAND.

BY W. SANFORD.
50c red-brown due stamps are good things to handle.

I bought a fine used copy of the 15 c State not long ago for the sum of five cents.

Where are the high prices some looked for on Columbians in the 55th? The $$ 1.00$ seems to be the only one "thot's there."

There is only one stamp firm in Boston that have their name in the directory. That is the "New England."

We hear that Mr. Seebeck is not losing any sleep over the "Anti-Seebeck" society.

There are abont ten stamp journals that have started up in the last two months.
"St. Nicholas" is now devoting an entire page to philately. The page is in the advertising part of the magazine opposite the stamp ads.

There are a few dealers who advertise altogether in the juvenile publications.

October 20th, last, Postmaster-General Bissell issued an order that hereafter address labels may be pasted on the address side of postal cards, as well as on envelopes.

Mr. F. N. Massoth, the well-known atamp dealer, has removed to Chicago and opened upa stamp business in Masonic Temple.

Although the postal card has only been used a little over thirty years, there are about 1000 varieties to collect.

IN GENERAL.

Envelopes were used nearly sixty years ago.

It takes eighty persons to make a complete postage stamp.
"Nameless" is the name of a postoffice in Travis county, Teras.

New York City alone uses eight million postage stamps each month.

It is now conceded that the Columbian stamped envelopes with a plain full sized period are any thing but common.

A collection of Australian stamps has just been bought by a London dealer for $$ 50.000$, the largest price ever paid for a stamp collcetion. The collection was begun in 1872, and includes stamped envelopes, postal cards and wrappers.

An auction sale of United States and foreign stamps in New York realized $$ 3000$. A three-cent scarlet, unused, brought $$ 35.50$, and a Confederate States, Nashville, five-cent red brown, a rare and splendid specimen, was sold for $$ 24.25$.

Clarence L. Hazzard of Beverly, Pa., some time ago submitted a new design for a Government postal-card. It substitutes the reverse side of a penny in place of the head of Washington, as at present. and has lines drawn for writing on the city. county and state to facilitate the work of the postalclerks. The design was forwarded to Washington.

It is said to be a fact that certain English people are using more stamps on letters than are required by law simply to show that money is of no consequence, or with some insane idea of expressing respect for the person addressed. A paper, "The Woman of Good Family,' lays down the law to the effect that legal postage should be used on business letters, but more on those of friendship or coumpliment, and even prints a sliding scalc of sums suitable to be used for various continyences.

THE REMAINDER.

The status of the reprints has been fully discussed in the stamp journals of late years, and on the whole I think public opinion is against them, most collectors avoiding them sedulously.
A new candidate for philatelic favor, or more properly disfavor, which has within the last few years made its appearance is the remainder.

Although most E. S. P. readers no doubt know what remainders are, a short explanation of their character may not be amiss here.

The remainders belong to an issue, which, superseded by a new series of stamps, is dumped on the philatelic market, so to say, in order that the government having these remainders left can get at least what the manufacture of the stamps cost for them.

So much for the character of the remainders, now a word or two in regard to their value. In my estimation they are practically worthless, and, of course, make the unused stamps not sold as remainders the same. A comparison of prices in catalogues of different years will bear me out in this, although the present prices can hardly be taken as true criterions of value, as the publishers handle these stamps and do not care to give them away.

I append a comparative table of prices, compiled from Scott's 51st and 55th editions, showing the marked decline in higher values after the remainders were put on the market.

The question of desirability of collecting these stamps now presents itself. I should think they are certainly not to be sought after. I know I differ in this from no less an authority than Crawford, who wrote an able defense of remainders in the Eastern Philatelist of September, 1893. He asserted that it was a mistake to suppose that the only way for gain to collectors is to keep the prices of all stamps steadily advancing, also that the issue of remainders is beneficial in placing the stamps within the reach of all. There is much truth in the first statement, but I am afraid that when the unused stamps are placed within the reach of all, most of us don't want them. A drop of from $$ 7$ to 20 c is a little too large, and collectors, as a general rule, like their specimens to have some value at least.

If the supply of remainders of the above named three countries should become exhausted, the prices would naturally go up, but present indications are not favorable. Young collectors are chary of buying the beautiful new specimens, possibly from the old fear of reprints. Besides, they are really a drug on the market, as is the 1864 issue of Mexico.

Truly, Philatelists must not complain if the unafflicted laugh at them, for to pay 8 c for an unused stamp having a face value of $$ 1$ gives them good cause for so doing.

STATISTIOAL NOTES.

On the Ourrent Issue of the U. S.

The printing of the U. S stamps by the Bureau of Print ing and Engraving will save Uncle Sam about $$ 50,000$ per an num.

Under the present management the P.O. D. will be supplied with $40,000,000$ sheets of stamps each year, each sheet containing ons hundred stamps.

The stamps are printed in sheets of 400 stamps per sheet which is quartered during the process of perforating.

Apropos: I would like to inquire how many collectors are familiar with the story of the invention of the perforating machine, also with its mechanism?

One minute is required by each press in which to print 1600 stamps, each press turning out about 100,000 stamps per hour.

The sheets of stamps are counted five times while being manufactured.

As spoiled sheets represent money they are counted as carefully as perfect ones, and the printer is allowed $11 / 2 \mathrm{pr} c t$. for spoilage, and more than this he must pay for at the actual cost of materials.

The newly invented gumming machine will lessen labor, and is very much more efficient than the old plan.

The stamps when ready for use are put in packages of 100 sheets, each package containing 10,000 stamps.

These packages are placed in iron vaults from which they are drawn by order of the P. O. D., per the requirements of the Post Offices.

Chipmunk.

Mr. E. Stanley Gibbons, in some notes he has just sent home to the "Monthly Journal," mentions the remarkable fact that there are still people-and civilized people too-who are in utter ignorance of the existence of stamp collecting as a hobby. Mr. Gibbons met one such, a clergyman, while steaming across the Pacific.-From the S. C. Fortnightly.

ADVIOE TO YOUNG PHILATELIO WRITERS.

Being Intended for the Encouragement of the Philatelic Youth with Literary Inclinations.
In the March number of the American Philatelist and Collector appeared an article entitled, "To Young Philatelic Writers," penned by Mr. Raymond S . Baker, which is really very good (with the accent on the "very" or the "good" I am not quite sure which). Mr. Baker's advice has caused a responsive throb in my breast, and while we may not agree on all subjects, I think on the whole we desire the same degree of perfection on those following our admonitions.

The above by way of an introduction and apology. Now for the advice:

As a general rule it is supposed that a stamp collector should have a certain amount of philatelic knowledge. Strange to say, this isn't expected at all of a philatelic journalist. In some things "Ignorance is bliss," but in the philatelic writers of the present day "Ignorance is knowledge," paradoxical as it may seem. It is not at all necessary for a writer to be a collector, much less a philatelist.

Don't expect to succeed if you are going to give us a long, laboriously prepared list of the stamps of some country with all minor varieties mentioned. That would be altogether to heavy reading for the fin-de-siecle collector. What the collection public want is something light, not necessarily connected with stamps. Herbert Crane Beardsley's success on the amateur stage, Guy W. Green's secular (nontphilatelic) writings, or Roy F. Greene's poetical effusions would all be excellent subjects for up to date articles. "The Different Ways in which Leading Philatelic Personages part their Hair" would be another. Occasionally you might make a remark or two about postage stamps, but I would not advise you to do so frequently, as you are liable to be considered "dry." These "Heavy, Dry" articles must be avoided, as I said before.

Correct spelling is generally acceptable, although not an absolute necessity. You can put the blame on the compositor if any complaint is made.

While grammar is observed in all other forms of literature, philatelic articles are above such a small matter. "There has been many new members admitted," is perfectly allowable according to the present standard.

Mr. Baker in his article commends plainness of writing. This is excellent advice. If you use a pen in writing (it is customary), a few blots over your MS. will give it character, show you are not petty by nature, etc.

Now as to your style. There are many leading writers that may be copied to advantage. Probably Lewis G. Quackenbush has the smoothest flowing pen of any of the present scribes, but few can hope to gain such a degree of perfection.

One of the most celebrated writers of the age, the valiant Major Egan, has a style which is distinctly his own. His forte lies in a curious mixture of the English, French, German and Latin languages, which produces a very original and effective result. Another famous philatelic presonage, Guy W. Green, says the Major's way is all wrong, and that his articles are the worst cases of bad English grammar on record. From which it will be seen that there are two sides to every question.

Some scribblers delight in long words and tangled sentences, which lead the reader on and on until his mind gets into such a befogged state that he does not know exactly what he was reading about when he started, and deludes him into the belief that he has some very scientific article before him. There is certainly some satisfaction in fooling the reader.

In marked contrast to these stand the advocates of words on one syllable, one of whom, at least, is well known to the E.S. P. readers. I refer to Mr. W. L. Moise, whose remarks anent "jaw-twisters" in the February E. S. P. are certainly plain enough.

Mr. Baker must have had an attack of the "blues" when he lamented about the bad pay our poor journalists get, or shall I suppose that (unlike most collectors) he is mercenary? Alas and alack! Are we in this world only to make money? Never. If the philatelic publisher sacrifices his all keeping his paper afloat in these hard times, should we not expect the contributor to do a litthe for glory and advertising space too? Most assuredly.

If you expect to become a millionaire from the pay for your writing, I advise you to emigrate to China, or India, where new philatelic papers are bobbing up continually. There your hopes might be realized, but never in these United States of America.

Our writers are now comparatively few in number. Many more are needed, and if the above will lead any of the readers into the journalistic field, I shall feel that I have not labored in vain.

> Veritas.

NOTES.

> BY P. A. C.

In looking over a packet of 100 varieties for ten cents, New Zealand two pence rose, watermarked large star, perforated $121 / 2$ was found. This stamp is catalogued by Scott at $1.25.

A friend recently purchased an imperial album with perhaps 150 stamps for $$ 3.00$. Here are a few of the prizes: U. S. 1861, 5c yellow, catalouged at $55.00 ; 1869$, 30 c catalogued 53.00 ; 90c post-office-a superb specimen-catalogued at $$ 1.00$; interior complete except 90c, catalogued $$ 1.45$; Queensland 1865 , one pence orange, catalogued 52.50 , besides many other desirable stamps.

I would not advise one to exchange grood stamps with foreign collectors unless they know them to be honest. I saw a lot received from Austria, sent in exchange for 54.90 worth of good U. S. stamps, that catalogued just $$ 1.22$. What redress had the U. S. collector? He wrote the Austrian, but got no answer.

Another case: A friend answered an exchange notice in a foreign stamp paper and sent a lot of Columbians which catalogued over $$ 3.00$. In exchange he received a lot of the rankest kind of continentals, heavy cancelled, torn, etc., also cut postal cards which looked like they were cut by a blind man. The whole mess would have been dear at ten cents. He sent them back, asking for they return of his stamps, but the don't return stamps, I guess, for he is waiting over two months now for their return "Gentle Annie."

What a lot of approval sheets and loose stamps are being sent and received from over the water enclosed in newspapers to save a few cents in postage. A dealer here recently sent sheets to the value of six dollars, to England, enclosed in a newspaper and they arrived OK.

The resignation of Ed. C. Jones, president and trustee of the Illinois Philatelic Society, necessitated a call for a special election, which was made and which closed March 20th. Votes cast for President were: G. S. Wilcox, 8 votes; P. H. Shaffer, 3; R. M. Bettesworth, 2. Trustee: Earl Stevens, 7 votes; Clifford White, 6 votes.

Edirorial Porpouri.

The "Young American" of Portland, Ore., is now publishing an interesting stamp department. Let the good work go on.

The pulse of a philatelic magazine is its well-filled exchange and trade columns each month. Feel of ours and see if it is alive.

The "Philatelic New Sletter" speaks of this paper as the "Ever Green." While that is undoubtedly the correct definition of the editorial part-it hurts just the ?ame. The "Newsletter" is a new venture of high class order, but, like ourselves, needs to pay a lit. tle closer attention to proof read. ing.

The "Bay State Philatelist"a model magazine-is announced to appear in the near future with the Drown Stamp & Pub. Co. as publishers.

Mr. F. L. Brodstone of Super ior, Nebr., wishes to receive a postal from everyone intending to be at the P. S. of A. Conver tion in Denver.

The signs of the times point to an early demise of several more philatelic papers. We would be pleased to quote such reasonably terms for filling unexpired contracts that it will convince any. one it is cheaper to discontinuc. than to continue without proper remuneration.

Which is the better advertising medium-a magazine that claims to circulate an inch ad, in 3000 copies-one month, at a cost of a $$ 1.50$, or one that contains the same ad, in the same space, thre issues at a cost of only a $$ 1.25$ for the three times, and far exceet the other in circulation for th smaller amount of cost?

In our last issue we report the existence of six two cen newspaper wrappers which art printed in blue and two speci mens of the two cent Columbiar envelope printed in green and which the owners have refused $$ 100$ for. It does seem strange that our eastern contemporaries let such news as this escape them, especially as these gems are in the posession of collectors in their own locality.

A communication has been received from Dr. A. Wendlinger, of Richmond, Va., in which he states that he recently purchased at his Post Office, a sheet of 100 of the new 5c, 1894 stamps, imperforated horizontally througout the entire sheet, the vertical perforations being the same as usual. Do any of our readers know of similar cases, in late years, of the U.S. general issue being found only part perforated?

The editor has received with thanks a copy of "Averill's Catalogue of U. S. Letter Sheets, Date of Issue, Perforations, Folding Guides, Gums, etc., of all Letter Sheets issued, with correct prices." This neat little book lists 75 varieties, and no one ought to do without it at the low cost of ten cents a copy postpaid. D. M. Averill & Co., Publishers, 392 Morrison St., Portland, Oregon.

Also a copy of R. F. Albrecht Co's. 28 Auction Sale to take place on the 24 th and 25 th of the month.

A package of Confederate Bills from Chas. N. Davis, such as are
adv. in another column and well worth the price asked.

First Auction Sale of H. N. Bugbee which closes on April 25th.

Folios of magnificent scenic views on the road to $P$. S. of $A$. meet in Denver such as the world cannot duplicate outside of Colorada except on the Columbia river.

Photo of that popular author, Mr. Every Paget ("E. Quere Philman") whose friends are determined to run him for Vice President of the P. S. of A., and who will undoubtedly be elected to that office.

A sample of Geo. E. Cleaver's rouletted hinges.

One of those "Fitchburg Packets" priced at a bargain in our ad column.

A neat blotter from the Mekel Co. clippings, pricelists, etc, "ad infinitum."

Last month, through one of our regular correspondents, we reported that several of the new issue of newspaper stamps were out. We have since learned that the $1,2,5$ and 10 c denominations in black, and the 25 c value in carmine have appeared. The stamps, as heretofore reported, are a triffe smaller than the old series and the workmanship is fully as good.

We are also informed that the 8 c stamp of the new issue, i. e.
triangular ornaments in the upper corners-is now on sale in several of the larger cities.

Counterfeit Stamps.

United States secret service operatives in Chicago and Washington have unearthed probably the most unique swindle ever perpetrated upon any government:

It is said thousands of dollars have been secured by a number of skilled counterfeiters, who have reproduced with skill and accuracy the 2 cent stamp. Chicago has apparently been the headquarters of the gang, which has operated in St. Louis, Cincinnati, Buffalo and as far west as San Francisco.

Third Assistant Postmaster General Craig says that counterfeit stamps have carried letters through the mails and have been cancelled, but says that stamp counterfeiting cannot be carried on to any great extent, as the cost of making stamps and the difficulty in disposing of them is so great as to render the counterfeiting of litthe profit.
Just what complications this will make for us philatelists it is hard to tell.

A MONTHI,Y MAGAZINE FOR STAMP COLLECTORS.

Hartland, Washington, May, 1895.
Whole No. 17.

THE ART OF ADVERTISING.

Without stopping to discuss he matter, we will assert that ddicious, attractive advertising an art, and considering it as uch, analyze its properties.
Artistic advertising is by no leans an unimportant departent in Philately. Who are the uccessful stamp dealers? Are hey not the ones who deal most lentiously in printer's ink?
Every judicious advertisment nultiplies the success of the ealer and, profiting by experance, the more successful he beomes, the more he advertises.
Now of course nearly everyhing depends upon the adverisment you use and the sort of aper you pit it in. A poorly ritten ad - out of date and un-ttractive-is a mere waste of pace. Nor will a striking adertisment bring good results then inserted in a poorly printed it of paper with a name longer han even the presumption of its outhful editor.
Undoubtedly there is no great se of paying " 20 cents per agate ne" for an ad, when there are ? many excellent advertising rediums offering their profitable space for only fifty to sixty cents per inch.

Next comes the question of the essential qualities of the ad, itself and this depends largly upon the class of collectors one desires to read. If one wishes to attract the rank beginners, the old chestnut of "free" is the most serviceable head line he can use, but let him not try this when wishing to sell to the average collector. He by experience has learned ere this, that:

Stamps are not free, For you and me
To pay for with our thanks;
And just to try
"Free" stamps to buy,
Would break a score of banks.
To reach the buying class of medium collectors, the ad should be skillfully worded, so as to catch and hold the attention of the wary reader.

Now the far advanced Philatelist cannot be attracted by any catch words or phrases. He is a man of business principles and desires to know by the head lines of the advertisment exactly what the dealer offers for sale.

A St. Louis dealer, when asked the secret of his success in stamp dealing, replied:-"Why sir, I simply soak my stamps in printer's ink.

And thus it is, successful stamp dealing goes hand in hand with artistic advertising and by it is made profitable and more profitable, until it becomes a perfect success.

M. C. Spears.

NOTES ON U.S.

VEDA.
Dr. Massamore is authority for the statement that there were but eleven of the Washington City Dispatch with Washington City erased found. It is needless to say that this variety is a rarity. It was used in this shape in Baltimore instead of Washington.

A block of fifty-five used specimens of the 30 c 1856 orange is the rara avis of the United States stamps offered in Sanderson's first sale.

The post office department states that the 8c Sherman, Bureatu of engraving retouch was first issued on March 24, 1895.

The set of souvenir postals issued to commemorate the Midwinter fair make a handsome complement to the set issued in Chicago at the time of the World's fair. The set consists of four.

Up to date the die mark has been found on the 7,10 , and 12 c 1872 issue, to distinguish the Combumian Co. work.

FROM A READER'S POINT OF VIEW.

As a general rule it is suppose that a stamp collector should have a certain amount of phila telic knowledge. Strange to sat this isn't at all expected of a phi latelic journalist.-Veritas in E S. P. for April.

Brother Veritas, why is not; knowledge of philately requirco in a philatelic journalist?

How is the collector to obtaid his knowledge if it is not from the journals and if the journal ists, as you infer, know little nothing of matters philatelic then according to Veritas, tho journals themselves know noth: ing regarding philately.

In my experience of philateli journals I have rarely picked uif one from which I did not gait some information on some olt scure point or other or learnet something I did not know before

In your sarcastic remarks you say that journalists should veri seldom make a remark about postage stamps lest they should be considered "rlry."

Now, there are writers whow articles are dry, but it is maink due to the way they are written. not because of the quality of the information contained in them Information on philatelic subjects can be written in such a wan that it would be wearisome in the extreme to wade through a two page article on say,-"Ad ice to young philatelic writers," shile on the other hand, if it is rritten in a vigorous, grimly arcastic style, it becomes easily cadable and is very acceptable ven if it does not contain anyhing worth remembering.
What an editor should strive to rive his readers is a paper full of right, newsy articles written in conversational manner, not a maper as rich in scientific terms as a deed is of "whereases," and o understand which, a philatelic lictionary is absolutely indespenible. I see some writers are xicking most vigorously against he use of noms-de-plume, but for my part I do not see why a peron should not be allowed to use pen name entirely different rom his real name if he chooses o do so. There are people who are so sensitive and fearful of loal criticism that they do not are to have it known that hey write for the public press (i) they resort to this means to hield themselves from critics at wome, although they catnot and sunerally have no wish to protect heir efforts from the criticism of rontemporary writurs. There are others again who have such (n) inordinate conceit in their wn prowess, that they sign heir name to ansthing they wite, and then "run on" those who write under noms-de-plume. This latter class should have a ittle regard for the other, and not try to force them to reveal their true names by predjudicing the reading public against the nom-de-plume.

Then again the editors generally have the true names of their contributors and those parties who are possessed of such a burning curiosity can easily find the true name of the writer "by asking the editor," all of which is respectfully submitted.

> Dr. Guliver.

MICHIGAN NOTES.

Mr. Will M. Randall, Vice President of the P. S. of A., is now living in Detroit.

Rumors of a change in color of the present one dollar stamp. If this is true, collectors will do well to obtain a specimen of the one now in use.

The "Detroit Philatelist" is to be revived next fall by a stock company consisting of Michigan philatelists.

The Peninsular Philatelic Club, of which this paper is "Official Organ," now has fifty members and a steady increase to one hundred.

Howard K. Sanderson has a few good ideas about advertising. Loan us a few, Howard.

Where is the Philatelic "Review of Reviews?" It has not appeared since December.

What is the League of American Philatelists going to do for an "Official Organ?"

The Evergreen was chosen as an able Official Organ for the newly organized Peninsular Phil. Club, of which every up-to-date collector should be a member.

There are now about ten deal. ers and two hundred active col. lectors in the "City of the Straits" and still the D. P. S. goes "through."

Mr. W. L. Moise, informs us that Gus Luhn will soon resume regular publication of the "Southern."
J. F. Bowen, of Iansing, or Little Rock, Ark, but formerly of Iuka, Miss., is one of the worst frauds in existence.

Although it has been commonly reported that the current S1.00 stamp would be withdrawn from use, chiefly on account of the cancellation not showing well on its black surface, we do not take much stock in it, especially as we remember the same com plaint being made of the olit 30 c black, and the 55 Columbian

The triangular ornaments in the latter emissions of the cur. rent 2 c are much lighter shade: than formerly, causing them t: appear more prominently than heretofore.

Mexico has issued some nea: stamps, but the new scries fat exceeds anything ever put oui by that country-in beauty, and makes a very pleasing set for even the most fastidious.

Watch for our next issue lu. fore making up your mind wh" you are going to elect president of the $\mathrm{P} . \mathrm{S}$. of A . In all proba bility there will be a populat western candidate in the field.

The last auction sale of J. W Scott's Co., Limited, was a sul cess as usual. Space will on! permit us to give a few of the best prices realized. We not that the 5c Uniontown, Ala stamp of the Confederate State secured a bid of but $$ 757$ when is catalogued at $$ 1006$. A Lynch burg envelope, 5c black on ambo went for S250. A Spartansburs 5 c black on white sold for $$ 52$. the United States a 3c light blu New York went for 835 on wov paper. A 90c of '56 brough S10.60; 90c of '69, 51.75 ; at $2+$ reprint of ' $69,59.25$; a 12 c dar purple of $70, $ 33$ and a 24 c of the same series secured a bid of $$ 41$. Priced catalogues should be ordered of the company as they are valuable for future reference.

The higher values of the periodical stamps are out in a slightly larger size than the lower denominations heretofore chronicled. The 50 c is printed in pink; 52 in orange; $$ 5$ in blue; 510 in green; S20 slate; S50 carmine and the S100 value in purple.

The Peninsular Philatelic Club has honored this magazine in choosing it as their official organ and their first reports will be found on another page which shows its rapid growth in its mere infancy. It is undoubtedly destined to be one of the leading societies and every reader of this should send to our popular secretary for an application bank.

With our next number we will commence an active campaign in favor of certalin candidates for oflice in the coming $l^{3}$. S. of A . alection. While the editor does not desire the nomination ion any wflice whatever, we are anxious for the new trustees to be residents of the city of I'ortland, ()regon, and think if our castern brethren are gencrous they will concede us that much at least. There are several hundred collectors residing in that city alone, add the Pacific Northwest should receive recognition in this election, especially as it is now the only unworked field in which to secure any great number of new members.

The next two numbers will be worth an entire year's subscription to any P. S. of A. member for this campaign news alone. Extra large editions will be printed to meet the demand for these two issues and dealers should govern themselves accordingly.

We have received a copy of "The Comprehensive Check List for philatelic literature collectors, being a numbered, alphabetically arranged catalogue of nearly 600 United States and Canada philatelic papers and magizines, from $186+$ to January 1895. ."

It is indeed a necessity to one making any preteations at having a library, and can be secured of the publisher, E. B. Jones, Kuthren, Iowat, for 250 postpatid.

Also a photo of Mr. Chas W. l'arker, one of the eastern representatives of this Journal.

A copy of Albrecht's 2yth auction sale, winch they announce will be the last for the season of $189+.95$, and the usual quota of pricilists, etco, for which the donors have our thanks.

Also a catalogre of the Scott Stamp and Coin Co's., 133 auction sale to occur on the 27 t 1 l and 28th of the munth.

sPECULATIVE AND UNNECESSARY ISSUES.

N the issue for April of Messrs Stanley Gibbons' Monthly Journal inder the leading "Speculative and Jnnecessary Issues," they have issued circular that should be hailed with fladness by all interested in stampslealers and collectors alike.
"At the present time we find here, and abroad, a great agitation growing If against the abnormal, excessive, Ind speculative issue of such stamps as the Chinese locals (such as Wuhu, Nanking, etc. Principality of Trimilad, Seebeck issues (Nicaragua, etc.) French Colonial stamps, Surcharges, ic., and we think the time has arrived when, in the interest of the trade, the reading dealers of the world should onsider whether it is their interest to atalogue, to chronicle, or to sell such lamps.

W'e quite appreciate the difficulty in drawing the line as to what shall be collected and what shall not; but we are strongly of the opinion that there s a danger to the future of Philately in catering for and selling such a.class "stuff as the Chinese locals [and thers of like kin], thes especially reing made absolutely, and entirely, oi sale to collectors. As far as we know each of the places in question has no real demand for stamps, and lut one starup in a 100.000 of those sold is used for legitimate purposes. If you agree with us, we ask you to join with us in ignoring such stamps. We propose from now on to cease to catalogue these local and speculative issues, to cease to import, to sell, or to buy them, in any way; and, in fact, to ignore them as fas as possible. If four or five of the leading tirms agree on the same lines, these things will undoubtedly be killed entirely, and this would be a great step towards permanently establishing our business on a firmer basis."

In reply to this letter Stanly Gibbons has already received the adherance of Messrs Whitfield King & Co., of England, J. B. Moens of Eelgium, Senf Brothers of Germany, and W. F. Bishop, of La Grange, Illinois, and they now appeal to all Philatelic Journals throughout the world, to join by cutting speculative issues as far as possible.

Why should a step of this kind be necessary at all? Are philatelists a mere flock of sheep, who collect everything that appear in the catalogue they happen to patronize? If that is so, it is fortunate that the finest general catalogue in the world, that of Mons. Moens, is beyond the purse of the general collector, for it includes a multitude of things-reprints, proofs, essays, etc.-which none but a specialist and not every specialist, would attempt to collect. A catalogue shouid be a book of reference, to show the col-lector-not what he is to collect, but -WHAT EXISTS.

It is only upon the class of stamps mentioned, and many, co-called varieties of stamps, that it is impossible to allow discounts. There are thousands of stamps in such demand that leading dealers will pay close to catalogue prices to obtain. If collectors would severally eschew and buy from those who sell ONLY the highest grade of stamps they would gather together a collection of stamps that would have a permanent and increasing value, and a collection that would prove of greater interest than a heterogenous mass of "labels" of little actual value or with any real interest.

an Old Dealer.

FACTS.

The recent discovery of counterfeit two cent stamps has been the occasion of much foolish talk and speculation as to the number of counterfeit stamps in circulation. I quote the following from the "Michigan Philatelist":

It has been discovered that the country is flooded with counterfeit $2 c$ stamps of the present issue, their number, it is supposed, running into the millions.

All this, of course, is very amusing, but it seems to me highly desirable for philatelic magazines to confine themselves to facts.

The fact is, that only twenty-five counterfeit stamps were put in circulation, and furthermore, they were all used by one man. I have this on the best of authority. E. VAN STON.

REGARDING "ADVICE TO PHILA. TELIC WRITERS "  Respectfully Submitted for Doctor Guliver's Consideration.

I1 was with somewhat of an amused surprise that I read Dr. Guliver's rather sharp criticism of my Advice to Young Philatelic Writers, which appeared in the April Evergreen State Philatelist.

My dear Doctor, you have taken the "advice" altogether too seriously. I should not suppose that the writer of so able an article as yours would really think that l meant that all philatelic journalists know nothing about stamps.

I don't want you to suppose from this that I write noihing but nonsense, and that merely to fill space. I always endeavor to make my writing of some use. Whether I am successful in this or not stands on another leat. Therefore, I can truthfully say that there is a "method in madness."

You are no doubt familiar with the works of the great Scandinavian author, Ibsen. His principle is to show crime and its results in such glaring colors as to deter people from it. The embodiment of it makes reading far from agreeable in my estimation, but if used to show the foibles and fallacies of philatelic writers once and a while 1 think it would do much good. There you have in a nut shell the cause of the appearance of the "advice" you object to so much.

As to the amount of philatelic knowledge one acquires from reading some joumals, (please observe that I say some, not all) that is entirely a matter of opinion. You can easily get hold of half a dozen magazines that are full of philatelic news, and are nothing but stamps from cover to cover. On the other hand, some papers will give you much news concerning stamp men, stamp societies, abstract articles relating to philately, in tact, a good deal of general information concerning the hobby, but very seldem anything about the stamps themselves.

Now, my good Doctor, you doubtless think I am a grumpy old Dryasdust who delights in deeply scientific articles, and long stastical tables. No not quite. Still, if you are to choose between a "dry" article, stamps from beginning to end, and say a "philatelic" pnem, or some piece of fiction of the dime novel order, miscalled a philphilatelic romance, que dites vous. As philatelists we should not be afraid of a little study.

As fgr those writers who are always condemning the "heavy" article, how much do these wiseacres, most of them heardless youths, know about stamps? Very little, l'll wager. "Down with the dry, scientific article," is their war cry, and what do they give us in its place? Writing about everything under the sun having the slightest connection with stamps, but, as I said above of certain papers, they seldom manage to hit the stamps themselves in their efforts. This fact cannot be denied and the sooner the school of light writers realize the fact, the better for themselves and the reading public. Veritas.

NOTES FROM MICHIOAN
By De Trolter.
It is all over-Mekeel's 5c brown, 1890 , error is no more. Nothing but a changeling.

High value Columbians seeem to be very easy to obtain here in the "City of the Straights."

It is hoped by Michigan Philatelists that Detroit will be the next P. S. of A. Convention seat. Vote for Detroit.

Seebeckism is becoming more common every day. Where is the Anti-Seebeck Society gone? Also the Anti-Surcharge?

The Peninsular Philatelic Club is steadily coming to the front. Write to the Secretary for an application blank and join us.

The new two cent variety, that with plain triangles, is becoming very common, more so than the old triangle with the crossed lines.

The phrase "A Good Thing-Push It Along" is becoming quite a common phrase for advertisers. Kessler & Company, of Detroit, were the first stamp dealers to use the expression. It can now be seen in nearly every paper published philatelically. It originated in the play "A Passing Show."

Two varieties of water-marks are found on the envelopes and wrappers now in use. One of them has the "S" more sloping and the letters are farther apart than in the others.

PAPER USED IN THE MANUFACTURE OF STAMPS.

IWILL try to describe briefly in the following article a few of the most important kinds of paper used in the manufacture of stamps. We will begin alphabetically:

Batonne-This paper is generally known as "Foreign Note." Parallel lines wider apart than those of laid paper are noticable. For example see 1867-8 issues of Guadalajara.

Hand Made-Not made by a machine; the paper is of a superior quality.

India Paper-a very superior paper made of fibre and issued for proots.

Laid Paper-This paper has close parallel lines printed upon it. Examples are quite common.

Manilla-A tough, cheap paper made from the fibres of manilla hemp. See U. S. wrappers.

MOIRE-A sub-variety of wove paper with ribs. See issue of Spain of 1875.

Native Paper-Sec 1866 issue of Cashmere.

Oblong Quadrille-A sort of a quadrille paper with oblongs insteaduf squares. Seldom used.

Pelure-Another tough wove paper made from fibre. See earlier 1885 issue of New Zealand.

Quadrille-The paper is usually calendered, and has the heavier lines cross each other in squares. See 1867 Guadalajara.

RibbeD-- A course kind of wove paper showing ribbed lines little used. See 1858 issue of Canada.

Rice Paper-Made from the pith of a plant. See Japanese issue of 1871

Silk Thread-Usually wove pae: a silk thread is woven into the fibre. See the Swiss issue of 1854.

TinTED-Paper may be tinted in. tentionally but philatelically speaking they are dyed by the gum.

TONED PAPER-A slightly tinted paper rarely used. See 2, 5, 10 and 12c of 1866 issue of New Foundland.

Verge-A laid paper with the heavier crossed lines arranged diagonally.

Wove Paper- On holding the paper to the light no lines are seen; alsu called plain paper.

Quality of paper U. S. envelopes:
1st. White and amber paper the amber agreeing with straw or lemon.

2nd. Cream and fawn paper, the former corresponding with salmon or tlesh, the latter with chocolate.

3d. Blue and dark buft, the butl also known as orange or gold.

Manilla is used for wrapper and cards. Today the qualities are considerably changed. White is always tirst quality. Thos. R. Vaughn.
The ic envelope has leen re-engraved. The embossed head is changed and the lapel of the coat has nu button on, as formerly.

The secret marks of the Coniinental Bank Note Co., have been discovered on the 1872 issue in the $1,2,3,6,10$. 24 and 90c denominations.

NOTES BY P. A. $\mathbf{G}$.

A P. M. in Portugal was arrested recently for removing stamps from newly mailed letters, substituting used stamps in their stead, cancelling the same very heavily, and then selling the new stamps and pocketing the proceeds.

Apropos of the above, a rural postmaster in Connecticut was detected doing the same, but upon his promise to discontinue this practice to party who discovered it did not report him. What a chance to earn an honest(?) dollar; it's on a par with the conductors "knocking down." It only takes tifty to make a dollar.

A post card mailed at Hampoteace, England, to an address five minutes walk from the sender's home, made a journey of 25,000 miles. In the post the card slipped into a newspaper bound for Lasmania, Or., reaching Lasmania, the card was discovered and returned to the sender in a letter.

NOTES BY "00LLY."

It is said that Lewis Benton, the well known philatelic writer will give very little attention to stamp articles in the future-he is not going to be married though.

The stamps of the 1890 issue seem to be "in it" so far as errors are concerned. So far quite a number have been found, but "there are others," one of which I am going to mention. The error which I wish to speak about is in the 2c stamp of the 1890 issue. All collectors have noticed the little angle at the bottom of these stamps, which ordinarily has a number of lines running through it, but in the errorthere is not one, and the little angle is blank on the inside. I have also seen these stamps entirely blank under the words "two cents." This blank space is probably caused by a worn plate.

The current 5 c stamp has been reengraved; a thin line being added around the oval containing the bust of General Grant.

The editor of this magazine is not a candidate for honors, in any of the coming elections, and must decline to accept the nomination of any office whatever. As we hereinafter state, the Pacific Northwest is asking for nothing but the Trustees of the $P$. S. of $A$, and we think that equity demands that we should be conceded that much. The honors should be evenly divided, North, South, East and West, and for the good of the order, no twe offices, should be held in the same city, or even state. Let us be generous and see that each section of our, country is represented and we can double our membership in another year.

LaSt month we promised to publish special campaign numbers until after the election in favor of our own choice of candidates for office, but seeing since several papers seemingly filled with nothing but campaign matter, and thinking enough is as good as a feast, we have somewhat changed our plans. In this issue we have given an assortment of reading, and next month we will more fully devote our space to campaign news. This month we support-editorially, the three Trustees placed in nomination by the Pacific Northwest. We, of this section of the country, feel that we are deserving of some recognition in the coming election, and have secured the consent of Messis Walter L. McMullin, H. F. Bartels and H. Moeller, all of Portland, Oregon, to place their names in nomination for that office. They are all men of sterling quality, irreproachable character and undisputed fidelity to the P. S. of A., and fit elected, in all matters placed for their consideration will render nothing but unbiased opinions. Inasmuch as this part of Uncle Sammy's domain has never been represented on the ofticial board of the P.S. of A., we feel that could we convince the Pacitic Northwest the society was willing to recognize us otherwise' than in placing our names on the roll, we could induce hundreds to join our society. The city of Portland alone has several hundred collectors, as have also Seattle and Spokane. In fact the Pacific Northwest is the only unworked field in which to secure any great number of new recruits, and we trust our members will see the policy of assisting us to induce them to join our ranks.

AMONG the candidates for oftice in the coming elections, we are satisfied that the Father of the P.S. of A., Mr. C. W. Kessinger, will be elected as president. S. H. Hamilton, editor of the Springfield Hthilatelist is a strong candidate for vice president. Oney K. Carstarphen seems to be the choice of the West for secretary. W. H. Kessler Jr. is a popular candidate for counterfeit detector of the P . S. of A., also exchange superintendent of the L . A. P. Chas. G. Hart, editor of the Pipestone is in a position to make a model libraian for the L. A. P., and Detroit is a popular choice for convenliun seat-'60.

In referring to the recently discovered counterfeit $2 c$ stamp, the Postal Ciuide states that they represent the lighter shades printed and compared with the genuine stamp, they have a lizzy look. suggestive of photo-litho&aphy. The genuine 2c stamp of Oct. 5, 1894, "was very pale in color, nut did not exhibit the chalk $y$-white tpearance distinguishing the countereit, attributed principally to the broken horizontal lines, while those of the true steel-engraved stamp, are clear continuous and clean out."

AT a recent auction sale held in the East a Millbury local sold for $\$(15$, but little over half of its catalogue value; a $24 \mathrm{c} 1851-6$ went for $\$ 70$; a $24 c$ 1870 realized $\$ 37.50$; and Athens, Ga., local on original cover secured a bid of but $\$ 60.25$; a 5 c Memphis, red or orange, envelope, cut square brought but $\$ 20.25$; but the 1 st scarlet vermillion, of New Foundland, used and cut close, went for $\$ 93.12$, over $\$ 3$ more than the catalogue price.

THE current 2c stamps are out on paper water-marked "U. S. P."- one letter to each stamp, probably to prevent counterfeing. Those we have seen so water-marked have the dark triangles with the crossed lines. An exchange reports the ic similarly water-marked, but we have never seell one, as yet.

Be prepared to enjoy your summer vacation by having a camera to take views of all points of interest. We can furnish a better camera than the premiun offer on another page, for $$ 1$ cash, or twice the amount of subscribers asked for the cheaper one.

If you are a P. S. of A. member and receive this magazine as a sample copy, can you not return the favor by voting for the Pacific Northwest Trustees in August?

The Evergreen State Philatelist.

A Monthly Magazine for Stamp Collectors.

VOL. 3 -NO. 6. HARTLAND, WASH., JULY 1895. WHOLE NO. 19.

IMPRESSIONS BY THE WAY. w. LIONEL MOISE.

NOW that the warm weather is upon us, we should all do our best to fan the smouldering fires of enthusiasm in the philatelic breast. It should be in order for the dealer to send out a batch of circulars, booming his business; for the author to wield his pen more enthusiastically; for Mr. Quackenbush to give us another installment of Philately at Midsummer, and above all, for the collector to keep his album always wide open. Do not pack it away till the autumn. Those who go to the seashore for the sum. mer months, should carry their album with them, so also should the somist. Heretofore philately has lain in a dormant state during the warm weather, but such was not the case in '94, though not quite so much business was enacted as during the winter. Let each individual try his best to boom philately during the summer.

Mr. W. L. Kendall stated some time ago that he had a number of revenues uncatalogued. This state of affairs is not at all unusual, most especially among the revenues. I have in my U.S. revenue collection a very rare stamp. It is the $50 c$ foreign exchange unperforated, with top of the small " $N$ " in foreign (abbreviation) entirely cut off. Also one with two dots under the " N " instead of one. As far as envelopes are concerned, one would find it almost monotonous, distinguishing the various errors. As regards the collectability of errors, shades, etc. I have always considered that such stamps should be collected in separate albums and not in the general collection.

Confederate stamps furnish some very fit subjects for study. The 20c green is sometimes found with a faint line between them, something like the 10c blue with outer line. These are of considerable variety. The stamps are so rare, that a southern firm has "faked" them wholesale. The hand stamps are also exceedingly rare, tho' very little attention is paid to them. You Yankees who do not collect confederate stamps are missing a deal of interesting study. 1 have heard that there are certain hair-brained idiots who are so prejudiced against anything referring to the war, that they refuse to collect even the stamps. Ugh! I only wish I could get a lick at these cranks with my pen.

It seems to me that it would not be a bad idea for some genius who has the desire to form a stamp society to form a literary one. Make it a rule that no one be admitted without answering a certain number of questions, such as "When was the first stamp issued?" "By whom?" "When was the first paper on stamps published?" "By whom?" "Who is Seebeck?" "What stamps are called Seebeck's' etc., in fact fix it so that the stamp-educated can join. For it's object, say that it is formed to inform the advanced collector on all subjects pertaining to their pursuit. It might have for its official organ, a paper wherein all topics should be discussed by its members. What we need is a higher standard to go by.

P. S. OF A. 1896.

BY "DE TROITER."

NOW is the time when all of us are busy with elections. Take heed and elect a responsible person for each office. Dont be reckless and vote for a person who knows nothing about what he is to urdertake when serving an office.

This is why so many of our societies are run to the ground just because they do not have men with business principles at the head; for instance look at the S. of P. that dilapidated apology of a philatelic society. This society was not led by buisness men but two or three so called philatelists(?) owned and run it.

The Phllatelic Sons of America is our up-to-date model of a philatelic society. This society is about to elect a new set of officers ana brothers P.S. of A. members take care who you are voting for. A man who possesses business principles is the office holder for us every time.

My choice as to successful candidates are the following:

Our choice for President should be as we all know Mr. Clifford W Kissinger who has led the P. S. of A, out of many a tight place and has shielded them throughout its life time. This important office should go to the ever successful candidate who led us two years ago.

The office of vice President should go to Mr. S. L. Wing of Michigan. Mr. Wing is in a condition so as to conduct that office very successfully and in a business like manner. He is President of the Michigan Philatelic society and when called upon to act he can fill it very successfully and carefully.

The next Secretary will no doubt bi Oney Carstarphen Mr. C. has all the qualities necessary to make the very best secretary; vote for him.

For Treasurer, a Michigan man will be electecd, the personage of Mr. B. J. Bishop. Mr. B. holds that o.tice for the Michigan Philatelic society and will make a good officer.

These are the most imponant positions, and I will only mention the minor offfes and the better candidates.

International Secretary, Guy W. Green; Ex. Supt., 1. E. Patlerson; Purchasing agent, W. A. H. Conrer; Auction Manager, L. J. Kramer; Counterfeit Detector, W. H. Kessler Jr.; Librarian, T. Q. Pardee; Ţrusiees. the northwestern candidates, and last but not for one minute the least, is the next convention seat. As the conventions have been held in the east, and none in the west, it should be more contrailly located. Thus the prettiest and most appropriate city for a P. S. of A. convention is that bealltiful city of Detroit. Vote for Detroit for 1896 and you will have a royal good time.

ODDS AND ENDS.

By a Portland Collector.

$\mathbf{W}^{\prime}$HY have we not had an issue from the new Republic of Cuba? With headquarters at New York the officials ought to be able to make some arrangement with Mr. Seebeck.

Whew! How the prices for unused U. S. are going up! The prices realized at the latest auction sales seem to show that the Scott Co.'s catalogue is very much below the market value. Where will we be in a few years? U. S. will be a luxury beyord most of us if the advance continues as at present.

Speaking of U.S. the American variety hunter has surely found his paradise in the stamps of his own country. What with the discovery of the secret marks of Continenial Bank Note Co. on most of the '72 issue, the finding of varieties of 7 and 12c of the same issue and the multiplication of varieties of the current diminutive series by means of re-engraving and change to watermarked paper, he certainly has a first class field for operations.

The newly re-engraved $2 i$. stamp on unwatermarked paper bids fair to become somewhat scarce, being in use such a short time. Should the current series all appear on watermarked paper the higher values, (unwatermarked), are likely to jump up in prices rapidly.

It is a sad spectacle to see how unpatriotic mankind is getting in these fin de siecle times. Especially sad if we contemplate those most conservative people, the British, getting so. For such must be the case in the Colonies, at least, as a glance at their postage stamps still convince us. In former years the Britisher was not happy at home or in the Colonies when he could not see the effigy of Her Gracious Majesty, the Queen, oll his stamps; but now. alas, in these dreadful degenerated days, the Colonies are going in for scenery and that sort of thing, instead of the royal head.

New South Wales and Barbados lead the way, and now New Keland is advertising for new designs. We must come to the conclusion that these good people are tired of seeing Her Majesty's face, which is a most mournful fact to narrate.

However, there is still a very heavy philatelic burden resting on the old lady's shoulders, (the present writer fears that he lacks the required reverence due to royalists). Supposing she had abdicated the other day in favor of Albert Edward, as it was rumored she would. New issues from all British Colonies with the new King's head! The idea is on too enormous a scale to grasp at once. Let us of the slender pocket books be thankful that Victoria still draws her salary.

Now have the Mid-summer days come when the poilatelic phlitical pot begins to simmer and bubble and boil.

The virtues of various nominees are plainly set forth in the different papers engaged in the preliminary skirmish, and judging therefore if all collectors are like these candidates, the philatelists must be as fine a body of men as now exist on this globe.

Let the good work go on! August will be coming soon enough with a large number of defeated aspirants. Vanitas Vanitantum! We can't all of us be millionares.

NOTES FROM BALTIMORE.

By IRA REELY.

Baltimore has a branch of the hustling society-P. S. of A.

Collectors are warned to be careful in purchasing errors or misprints in columbian envelopes. The writer saw the two cent variety wholly devoid of color caused by being exposed to the sun 1 recently saw two very unique two cent envelopes on white paper, the stamp instead of being in the upper right hand corner was in the lower right hand corner. 1 may add also that they were not for sale.

A correspondent stated in the March number that he had specimens of U. S. Revenues taken from the back of photographs. The writer has found the two cent playing card stamp on photos taken in 1869, and has seen it stated that three and five cent playing card stamps have been so found.

Have any of the E. S. P. readers discovered varieties in the new one cent? I have been so fortunant as to find one. The variety of which I speak consists of a small blank ornament at either end of the inscription United States Postage. I have two specimens with this defect and evidently from the same sheet as they were both used in this city by the same party. Should any other reader find any like the above I would like to hear of it through the Evergreen.

CHATS WITH MEN OF THE HOUR.

 NUTBER 2. THE VOTER.EXPLANATORY NOTE-At first glance it might appear to the reader that the following does not belong to the list of chats as he probably never heard of Philatelicus Jinks, Esq., but if he will look through our journals for the last month or two, he will notice what an important personage the philatelic voter is and will allow that the letter is not out of place.
Philatelicus Jinks, Esq.,
P. S. of A. 9999 , Webfootville, Or, My Dear Sir and Brother (in distress)

Your favor of the 10th inst asking me for advice in the momentous question of selecting your nominees at the coming philatelic election is just at hand.

I feel both honored and flattered by your action and give you my opinion herewith concerning various candidates for various offices ir the P.S. of A. with an incidental hint or two on the other societies.

For President of the P. S. of A. there is but one candidate in the field, the Father of our society. It is not more than right that the man who has done more for the society then any other man should have the highest position for the next year. Mr. Kissinger is also a candidate for the Secretaryship of the A. P. A.

The younger element is coming to the front in this Association and the election of Mr. K. to that office would give them an excellent representative on the official board.
C. W. Kissinger for Prest., P. S. of A. and Sec'y, A. P. P.

For Canadian V. $P$. who is better than A. F. Wicks that hustler of hustlers?

Secretary--Oney K. Carstarphen. You say, "What's in a name?" Election is in that name, mark my words.

Ex. Supt. Two candidates loom up over the others, viz. Brodstone and Power. While I do not doubt that Mr. Power might become a power in the Socicty if elected, 1 think Mr. Brodstone's services in the past year have been such that he should be re-elected. There is no doubt but what he has made a great success of the Dept. and he will make it still greater if retained in office.

For the Canadian Supt., I should advise you to elect that veteran dealer H. P. Ketcheson.
L. J. Kramer, of Elkader, lo., would make an excellent Auction Manager. This gentleman is making a valiant fight for this office and I am convinced that he would make more out of the Auction Dept. than any other person.

The well known Brooklyn writer R. I. Perry is my choice for N. Y. Purchasing Agt. For Official Editor, Ashcroft or Beardsley? If we take the comparative value of the work of these two gentlemen, Mr. Ashcroft should be elected unanimously, Mr.

B; no doubt considers himself a very funny man, also possibly a capable one, but unless yon want to hear the attempts of a person who is not funny trying to be for the next twelve months, you will vote for Ashcroft.
W. H. Kessler, Jr. would make something out of the offiice of counterfett detector.

The sunny South would be well represented by Ben Russell as Ad. and Sub. Agt.

For Trusties I need not urge you for whom to cast your vote, as a native son of the Webfoot state. Since sleepy old Portland has at last awakened encugh to put three candidates in the field, it is plamly your duty to stick by them. The Pacific Northwest demands recognition in the distributing of offices and certainly this field should be represented. Vote for the Portland Trustees.

Since Editor French will not run who can handle the funds better than Treasurer Mott.
P. M. Wolsieffer and John R. Keech are sure to succeed themselves.

In the L. A. P. there are two candidates who are especially deserving of suciess, Chas. G. Hart for Librarian and T. H. Kessler Jr. for Ex. Supt. I am firmly convinced that both gentlemen will make model officers and ask you to vote accordingly.

Doubtless you will ask, "Can this be the same 'grimly sarcastic' Veritas, who is now making such matter-offact remarks?" Even so my dear brother. These long summer evenings when the smoke has not yet prevented our seeing over one hundred yards, have a soothing effect on your humble servant. Possibly after the smoke of the Denver battle has cleared away he may make merry over some of the defeated philatelic politicians who will be plentifully represented after that great strugyle.

Yours, in causa societarum philatelicarum,

Veritas.

Every copy printed is mailed each month and we cannot furnish back numbers at any price.

Although it is claimed that stamp collectors give their time, attention and thought to matters other than philately during the summer months, a glance at our columns will convince the most skeptical that the majority of the readers of this magazine are as industrially adding to their collections as ever. By the time our next issue is mailed the drones of our philatelic hive will be as feaverishly seeking bargains as of yore, and Philatelia will again rule supreme

The current one two and ten cent stamps are out on paper watermarked U.S. P. S.-probably standing for Unitea States Postal Service. The $2 ¢$ value being watermarked in its three varieties,-ie triangle with crossed lines; triangle without crossed lines and the variety with finer lines than those first printed, causing the triangle to stand out more prominentlygives us fourteen varieties of this stamp without counting those of minor importance. There are the three different letters (U. S. P. one to each stamp) in the watermarked and three plate variety which gives us nine varieties with watermarked. without, and two varieties in colors as recognized by ,he Government, the light pink and the present shade. And now it is reported that the Govermment is contemplating a change of color for the 2 c denomination as well as a new watemark which will probably be used for the whole of the current series. Truly, Seebeck himself, could not do any better.

AMONG the various aspirants for the P. S. of A. Vice Presidency, there is none better suited for the position than S. M. Hamilton, the capabie Editor of the Springfield Philatelist.

The P. S. of A. convention will convene at Denver Colo., on the 27th of August and soon after receiving this issue, those members whose dues are paid will be called upon to elect a new set of officers for our ever popular society, We wish to make our last plea for recognition of the Pacific Northwest in the coming election. We can truly say that no one could be better qualified to fill the position of Trustees than those nominated by the Pacific Northwest. This section of the country could have followed the examples of others and nominated good men of our own locality for each and every office, but we feel that equity demands that no city, or even state should ask for, or receive support for more than one representative on the official board. We are willing that other sections of the U. S. should have every other office and the convention seat for '96, but we do ask for the office of trustees. Shall we be granted that much? It is no single city asking for this; nor even one state, but the entire Pacific Northwest. Now while many undoubtedly would prefer to vote for their own candidate under ordinary circumstances, we trust that in justice and equity they will support us in this, remembering that every other city who have put nominees in the field for this office, has also several nominees for other offices before you while we only ask for this one, and it is the first request for recogination in any philatelic election from any part of the entire Pacific Northwest. Many letters of inquiry have been lately recieved asking who proxies could be sent to. Some one not an officer, nor a candidate for office. To all such we would recomend Mr. Ed. H. Wilkenson Box 47 Lincoln ${ }^{\text {© }}$ Neb. He will attend the convention and faithfully carry out all you request.

A COPY of a Texas paper to hand announces the marriage of Mr Edw. W. Hensinger and Miss Teodolinda Bruni. Mr. Hensinger is a prominent philatelist, well known to the majority of our readers who are united in wishing them endless joy and prosperity.

GURCHARGES OF PAST YEARS.

GEO. S. SEYMOUR.

$T$ has long been known that the American collector has no love for he surcharge and it will therefore ive him much gratification to note he welcome fact that its use is gradally but generally falling off, It is asonable to suppose that there will lways be a certain amount of surharging to meet the demands of neessity, but the great tidal wave to hich France and Portugal contributed rgely has passed bryond, its place as been filled by the numerous CCl mal issues and we have no reason to mk for its return.
The recalling by Peru of its Berudez surcharge of last November is step which serves to indicate the in things have taken. British uiana, who has 42 surcharges to her count, has issued none for over years. Fortunately, the Linited ates and her neighbor, Canada, ve clean records; the only instance ng the "specimens" of the former 1 bill stamps of the latter.
In 1894 there uere 123 urnccary surcharges; and of these France mished a quota of 62-more than 1. This is quite moderate when consider the tide which formerly fred forth. We find an example this in Ceylon, who, in 1885 , :harged forty as a single issce. I do not include official surcharges as unnecessary. As a rule they are issued only in good faith, and for actual use.

The countries which at present surcharge most freely are France. Guatemala, Siam, Samoa, Ecuador and certain British colonies, notably in Africa. The only way to prohibit them is by ruling of the U.P.U. but this will never be done. Meanwhile, as they go, we must respect them as a class, for they bear the peculiar distinction of being among the few things of which Major Egar has not said: "May they live long and prosper."

Wrapping of Philatelic Papers.

BEN S. NORRIS.

There should be more attention paid to the condition in which our papers are sent, as collectors now save them and have them bound, and the present way of folding them two or three times creases them badly and makes a very ugly book. All lovers of philatelic literature we think would be willing to pay extra to have thems papers sent in good condition.

Now, let the publishers offer a send us the papers, unfolded, in an envelope or in a neat roller, and I think all collectors will be willing to pay the extra charges of wrapping. Or the enterprising publisher will make his patrons happy by furnishing them free. W'ho will be the first?

THE PASSING HOUR.

FITH ON CURRENT EVENTS.

THE other day a friend of mine asked me why I didn't use the one talent and write for the press. Poor chap he didn't know that I had industriallay pushed the quill as many years as he could figure to the credit side of his account with his gaurdian angel. But I've kept quiet about it. You see I was afraid that people would think 1 was Lewis Quackenbush or Roy Greene. writing in disguise.

1 tell you plainly it was not. Heretofore it was F. Agustine Sylvan, but my neighbors soon detected the sham and why that's "Fith Sylvian."

I struggled hard to keep my central name afloat, but-well now it has been liquidated.

But I must get out of the channel into the current of events.

Quigley still laughs in his bloomers at the deluded stamp dealers.

Alas! Holmes thought so once.
But where is he?
Look out Quigley before your name is mud. (With apologies to whomsoever they belcng.)

Seebecks hold sway, but they don't hold water.

The Wall street sharks accuse the Missouri Guerillas in a manner that fairly shocks "Fith." Virulent Vampirestapping the life-blood of the A. P. A. And then appropriating the fluid to lubricate the cogwheels of their business. These are not the exact words; we dislike to be exact, but the sentiment is the same. The Oriental combination are too pronounced in their views. Their words are more striking than divine.

Some fellows love to see the sound of their voices in print. That's not what I mean, but-well thats what I do mean. I know a fellow who isn't that kind. He has done more work for the good of the P. S. of A. than all the "shouting candidates" afloat. or those recently submerged for that matter. And his name is William B. Murray. He lives down in Peoril (Some of you have heard of Peoria.)

Murry has continually kept after all his friends till they had to join. Nor did he proclaim it from the eleventh story window.

Like the one told of in the scriptures, "he did it with all his heart and prospered".

And now Pax Vobis Cum. Be un. right, gentle reader, and 1 am your friend, be downright and I'll mention you in my next.

Fithian Sylvian.

NOTES BY P. A. G.

Who says there aint money Stamps? A friend who went into the business on a moderate scale. After a years experience, audited his accounts. and found balance in his favor thusly cash $$ 218.21$; stock catalogue value $$ 115$; Bills doubtful $$ 17.18$ : Bill O. K. $$ 5.12$ besides a large addition to his collection.

Of course I must say during the past year he purchased some lots ani old collections very reasonable an: after assorting made a large percentass on the bargains and his mail trade was ery good, and had but very few dishonest patrons.
Has any Bacteria been discovered on your stamps? the papers are full of tems in regard to this subject. Whats he matter with making a specialty of follecting stamps guaranteed to conhin Germs and Bacteria? it would be In interesting hobby for our chemicalhilatelic, experts. Anything to start new specialty. Eh?
Wonder if Scotts next catalogue xill prize the Columbiall 2G Green Envelope. The silence on this subject is imply deafening. The Evergreen was the only one on earth" to speak thout them. There is another in exstince now making copies.

APPROVAL SHEETS.

By W. F. BISHOP.

Stamps purchased fron approval cheets are the most expensive that a aullector can buy, no matter at what mice they may be offered. By orderng what is wanted, you will get tamps that are never seen on sheets--the reason should be obvious to any melligent collector. Where stamps are advertised, they must, of necessity, nhal it will be unquestioned, be priced it the very lowest possible prices, ience the collector may be certain that he is buying as low as the stamps can be sold by anyone. Sheets are inwibly made up from stamps readily Howined in quantity, reprints, surharges, revenut and telegraph stamps and other rubbish, which should find no place in a postage stamp collection, being only such stamps that dealers can make a large profit on. This is necessary, owing to the many losses time and expense incidental to the approval sheet business. The buyer is greatly mistaken if he supposes that he saves money by buying the low grade, bought-to-sell-at-a.price stamps. The dealer sues to it that he gets no more than his money's worth-generally less: so it is simply like buying any other article. What quality are you willing to pay for? I handle only high grade stamps, and would be pleased to serve you.

U. S. POSTAGE DUE STAMPS.

By IRA REELY.

THE advance in dus stamps came very unexpectedly to many collectors. judging from the way they are now after them, especially the 30 c and $50 c$ varieties.

One rarely picks up a stamp journal of late date unless one or more items or advertisements in regard to the above stamps meets the eye. As the higher denominations are rarely used, the consequence is, the number issued is limited. Therefore, for a short period, nearly every available copy has found its way into some collectors album.

Fourth-class postoffices are never furnished with high value due stamps, as packages seldom, if ever, finds way into these offices with amounts due on them as high as fifty cents, or even twenty-five cents, and if they do, the postmaster, not having on hand such stamps as to suit the amount, substitutes the lower denominations

The first United States due stamps made their appearance in 1879 , and their color is familiar to all. In 1891 the color was changed to a bright claret, the design remaining the same. During the year 1894, the color was again changed, this time to a deep carmine, and the design also altered. The numeral is in the center as in previous issues, but in this series, the figure is surrounded by beautiful scroll work. The size is smaller than any previous issue.

MAKING A COLLECTION.

By:W. F. BISHOP.

A collection of unused stamps is always a delight to the cye, peesenting as they do, the artistic side of the stamps in all their beauty, Aside from that they have a permanert value, are always in demand, and their increase in value is much greater than that of used stamps. There are some stamps where used specimens are the more desirable, from a pecuniary pcint of liew, owing to th.eir lesser cost. In illustration witness the obsolete Baden and other German state stamps, and this but illustrates what has been previously said on the increase ia value of unused over ured stamps. In completing sets, they should contain, as far as possible, either unnsed or used stamps; one should never predorrinate over the other, if the colisctor wculd make his collection an artistic one. While the first cost of unused stamps are in some cases more than that of used copies, yet by limiting a collection to nnsur. charged adhesives only, the collector can well afford to purchase unused stamps, inasmuch as there is always a certainty, should he ever desire to dispose of them, that they will return at least the original investment, if not a handsome premium.

A FEW WORDS CONCERNING STAMPS.

As the obtaining of specimens of every stamp ever issued is a practica! impossibility, the question soon arises: "What shall I collect?" The wisest answer is, adhesive postage stamps without surcharges, errors, perforations and so-called varieties and shades of the modern stamp dealer. The omissions, while including by far the greatest number of the absolutely unattainable stamps, still leave a large field for caref:l study, and furnish enough material to keep up interest in new acquisitions for a life-lime. A cullection of regular government issues of unsurcharged adhcsive postage stamps will number about eight thousand stamps, against thirty-five thousand catalogued varieties. A collection of ten thousand varieties, and which includes everything, is tmusial, and the collector who wculd attain to the perfect enjoyment of his stamp treasurers and to be able to secure a large and representative collection, should confine 1 imself to the stamps pointed out,
$\approx$
The Philatelist is 25 c per year.

LEOITIMATE SURCHARQES.

By AN OLD DEALER

$T$HERE are, of course, many legitimate surcharges, and these can be placed in a collection in lieu of a used stamp, and will fill many spaces which might otherwise remain vacant, owing to the very high prices which are attached to the unsurcharged. No collector should pay for a postmark, when the same stamp ca.. be had at a much lower pice, even though it is unsurcharged. Among several inslances of these stamps, the fcllowing may be named:
British Guiana, 2c on 96c bistre; Turks Island, $1-2 \mathrm{p}$ on ish violet; Orange Free States 1-2p on 5sh green; British Honduras, 20 c on 6 p yellow. While believing In eleminating all surcharges from a collection, still there are a few which may not be strictly ionsidered as such, as in the case of the stamps of St. Helena, which were formed by means of impressions from the plate of the six-peice, printed in various col rs , and with different val ues added in black. For although such stamps would appear to be complete without the addition of the value they were not fit for use in that condition. Some of the stamps of British Columbia, New South Wales and ictoria al o conte under this class.

A 000D IDEA.

The following which is self-explananory, we consider a clever idea, and world like to fear from others on the sul ject:

As 1 am much interested in stamp sucieties. I beg leave to ask through your valuable magazine, if it would not be a good idea to start a "Junior Philatelic Society"-that is of young people, say between 12 and 18 years of age, who are interested in Philately. 1 think it would promote philately, especially when so many collect stamps for awhile and then give it up. This society could be a branch of some advanced society of advanced collectors, whose suggestions would be a great help to the juniors.

Will others please give us their ideas on the subject?
P. S. Collector.

The Michigan Philatelic Society held their convention at Detroit on August 5, and elected the following officers for 1895-6: President, W. H. Kessler Jr., of Detroit; Vice President, W. J. Lawrence of Kalamazoo; Secretary, I. E. Patterson, of Wyandotte ; Treasurer, S. E. Kirk of Mluskegon; Exchange Superintendent, A. H. Kessler of Detroit; Auction Manager, J. F. Miller of Detroit; Counterfeit Detector, J. F. Percival of South Huron; L.ibrarian, W. G. McDonald of Port Huron; Attorney, F. L. Van Dermark of Alden; Purchasing Agent A. W. Shaw of Jackson; Trustees, S. L. Wing, W. Bailey and A. S. Champion, of Coldwater; Convention seat tor '96, Port Huron.

An invitation to attend the Nebraska Philatelic Society. at September 15 , 1895 is at hand and from all indications an enjoyable time is anticipated.

It is reported, that all plates of the adhesive postage set hereafter engrav. ed will have the plain triangles.

HARTLAND, WASH., AUGUST 1895.

The Anti-Seebeck Society has disbanded by mutual consent; the Society for the Suppression of Speculative Stamps being better able to more fully carry out its designs.

We were considerably amused at article appearing in the July American Philatelic Magazine, complaining that what few dollars were received during the summer noonths, generally came in the shape of stamps, and "each villianous little scrap of paper is desperately clinging to its neighbor." Why, bless you brother, we sometimes think that remitters to the E.S. P. take particular pains to spi-- we mean moisten the stamps and deliberately pound them down solid with their fists, so as to delude ye foolish editor-who always pinches each envelope-into the belief that it contains a money order, silver, or a bill; yet we never say a word; neither are we going to, but we do sometimes sigh for those good old days when the Eureau of Engraving and Printing turned out Uncle Sammy's stamps minus the stickum.

In Novemter we will issue a special Thanksgiving number consisting of as many pages as the necasion may require and mail not less than five thousand copies-4,500 of which will reach collectors in the United States. We have decided to launch our big issue thus early to avoid the rush in the mails during the month of December, and being mailed the latter part of Ncv.-will reach the reader in exactly tbe right time to catch the Christmas trade. Advertisments to run three months or more will be taken at our present rates, bnt ads for the November issue alone, will only be accepted at double the rate now charged. Even at this price$$ 1.00$ per inch per 5000 copies-no such bonanza for advertisers has ever before been offered in the history of philatelic journalism, and every dealer who makes any pretentions at being in the stamp business, should be rep resented in our columns for that one month, if for no other. During the twenty months we have been publishing this magazine, we challenge anyone to point out a single promise we have made and not faithfully kept, and we shall publish and mail the aforesaid number of copies at the time specified whether the advertising patronare will warrant the expense or not.

The Seneca Philatelist is announced to appear from Seneca Falls, N. Y., about the first of September. We wish it and all the other new papers recently started up, success, but had they our experience in the pul listing line, we hardly "think they would favorably contemplate the expenditure of several hundred dollars to make them so. Of a dozen papers that tarted the same time as did this mag. izine, ours is the only one that has ppeared regularly without combining pumbers, and the "Californian" is the mly other one that is now in existence.

LETTERS of complaint againist Richif Doidge, of Galt. Ont., Ganada, huse ad has appeared in this magaine the past three months, are just reeived as we go to press. Mr. C. G. tone, of Har ford, Conn., has a claim $$ 10$-against him. Doidge acknowledged the receipt of the stamps, and promised to pay at an early date, but as yet no payrrent has been made. The Unxld Stamp Co., cf Portland, Or., sent him slamps to the amount of $$ 12.42$, and has written him four or five times, but can get no answer. It would be well to give this person a wide berth, and unless he settles the above accounts he is liable to find himself in a position where he cannot readily swindle anyone, unless it is the jailor.

One of our advertisers writes he paid out $$ 15$ in two diferent magazines for an advertisement and didnot receive a single answer from either, but the same ad placed in the E.S.P. brought in over $$ 40$. The moral of this little tale-of course, is to advertise in The Evergreen first, last, and all the time.

Mr. C. W. Parker announces the publication of a daily stamp paper. He must be a rustler, for it takes two of us the whole of one day to direct, and wrap a monthly issue of the E.S. $P$.

The editor has just received with thanks a sample of the packets advertised in another column by Mr. Cieo. C. Seymour, and was truly astonished at the value given for the price asked.

The Evergreen State Philatelist.

A Monthy Magazine for Stamp Collectors.

OL. 4-NO. 2. HARTLAND, WASH., SEPT. 1895. WHOLE NO. 21.

DLE ECHOES FROM THE BLUEGRASS.
ERE in the sleepy old blue-grass

Philatelists are few and far beween, and in these bright warm days nany collections are discontented.
Philately is for some reason associawith progress and action, and as entucky is somelimes called the lazy ate, one would naturally suppose colecting is not a ropular pastime here. ome look upon it as unnecessary xertion and for others it has not sutcient excitement. Therefore collectss are scarce.
So in these parts the Philatelist is rown upon his own resourses for he not like the city collector associate th fellow cranks and derive pleasure nd berefit therefrom However there e other lone Philatelists all over is broad land and a lew suggestions on a bluegrass Philatelist may inter1 them.
To keep up interest one must suhribe to and read all the bright newsy amp papers that are published, and ust also try to be interested in the lecion notes" whether he knows the ididates or not. He must keep his Min always open and add a new siment now and then as we are ito tire of what we already have. one goes away for the summer he n do some Philatelic missionary uk by takjing with him a well filled plicate book and several good stamp papers. But it is with those who are going to stay at home and wish to keep up their collections in spite of hot weather and mosquitoes, that i wish to talk.

You should try to secure all the common varieties that you lack now for a continential makes just as large a space in your album as a rarity. In the wintel through your desire for scarce stamps, you give little heed 10 the commoner varieties, so as very frw rars specimens are offerea for sale during the dull season you can buy up the cheap ones at a nominal cost and at the heginning of the campaign be prepared to wage war upon the higher priced varieties.

Another good plan for the summer is to look over your duplicates and secure your brightest. cleanest specimens for your collections. A torn or badly cancelled stamp will mar a whole page.

I know of a collector who intends giving his entire attention this summer to completing his U.S. revenues; and his is a good example to follow. How many of us know on what documents the various ravenues used, and to what special uses the tax derived from their sale was put? Learn in attach some meaning to the terms, "certiticate," "uriginal process" etc. And while you are learning you may just as well till in your blanks, as document revenues are always a safe investment. Revenues also offer a rich field to the variety seeker, for the variations in paper and perforations are almost limitless.

As the dealer employes the dull season to arrange his stock neatly and attractively, so the collector should firaige his stamps with an idea to beauty as well as value. Summer is undoubiedly the proper time to :ransfer ones collections from the nrinted book to the blank album or cardboard sheets.
M. C. Spears.

WAYside gleaninas.

Are you one of Seelock's dupes?
It is rumored that the color of the current two cent stamp will be changed.

The twelve cent scarlet of the numeral isssue of Mexico has been dargely reprinted.

The five cent Columbian unused has been "comered" and may le valuable some day.

The flag stamp of Samoa and the Don Henry issue of Azores have been cancelled to order.

Portugal only sold ahoun one third of the Don Henry isstue. But she will not take a lesson and has i.surd another jubilee set. This time to honor Santa Autonins de Pordua. Ugly is said to give no idea of the homeliness of this new set

At Bogert & Lurbin Company's 46th auction sale held May 18 last, a tell cent 1847 cut in half vertically on original cover brought $$ 30$. Who dares say that oddities are not valuable?

The $$ 5$ State at the sanme sale brought $$ 110$ while at an auction in Baltimore recently it onily realized $$ 57$, both being magnificient copies. Verng the ways of philatelists justly sece peculiar unto men.

Why cannot Washington have state society? We certainly ha. enough collectors to make a success one.

Many of the San Francisco collectan do not know that there are any deata in that city.

The insurgents in Cuba have orsiry ized a republic and issued a stamp 10 centavos value.

W'e all have our expensive reccola tions of lost bargins and one more win be ad.led to this list if you don't one of the current dollar stamps beio hrey are superceded by the seric. uatermarked parer.

PLAYiNG CARD STAMP.

By W. Sanford.
IN my opinion the 2c red "on lan Augus $1894^{\prime \prime}$ phaying card stain is priced allogether too high Scoti: li placed a value upon is which in wi never bring or come any where re. bringing that is at any near pert. I have seen them advertised by a re able dealer at six cents each unuse While a New York gentleman ofiered them at three dollars hundred unused in blocks and strip: From these prices it would seem the Scolt's price is a little too high. The stamps, however, are sure to go up: only a small number, comparitisen was issued and a large number of the are in the hands of dealers and colle" o:s for speculative purposes. The slamps are sure to be much sought after in a little while, but it seems to me that five cents would be a good price to set upon it when it was tirst issued uther than fifteen.

Although these stamps are supposed to be cancelled after being aftixed to the packs of cards, yet I have seen large numbers of them not marked at all, and many are the packs of 5 c cards that have been purchased for the sole purpose of getiing the stamp, which is a good thing for the card dealer. A way has been found of late to obtain entire sheets of these samps unused of ceriain gentleman at a very cheap figure, hence the cause offering them at three dollars a hundred unused. Collectors who have tendency to wards speculating will do well to buy all they can get at this rice as the stamps are fully worth i: FIt I think that tive cents each would ave been about the price to have ixed upon them in the 55th and ten rtifteen cents in the 56 th this winter. Ihey are very "good stamps" hou ver and if you have not got one you Fill do well to secure a copy and place in your album.

A NEW SPECIALTY, TORN STAMPS.

II' is always a pleasure to hear some new view expressed in the philatelic press, as we are not overburdened withoriginal atticles. However, there is one thing essential in an article, in my estimation, though many writers probably may not think so, and that is common sense. Assuming that the reader agrees with me in this opinion, 1 desire to call his attention to a composition entitled, "Memorial Day Musings", which appeared in the Allgust Pensy, written by Mr. Geo. A. Joplin, which is conspicious by its lack of the above mentioned commodity.

Verily the 'young Napeoleon Bonapart of philatelic journalism" must have let the various elections lurn his head to publish such an extremely "peculiar" article, to say the very least.

Let us analize this wonderfnl production With a pathos worthy of Ian Maciaren, Mr. Jopolm takes up about two thirds of his space in shedding tears about war veterans. This may be all very well, and the pension drawers ate ho doubt very worthy objects for lacrimose sympathy, but it is unphilatelic all the same, and Mr. J. wanders around among all sorts of military characters a very long time before coming to the philatelic point of his composition, which is nothing less than a strung advocacy of the collection of torn stamps.

He pleans for the torn and mutilated stamps, which he picturesquely compares to the G. A. R. veterans, (very complimentary to the vets), and as we should honor a veteran who has lost a limb, tooth, or eye in fighting for his native land, so we should "not throw away, as without value, those stamps that are scarred with heavy post-marks, or that have lost a corner, or been torn in the service they were rendering."

If we were still in that idealistic period of a few years ago when the philatelic poet threatened to become a favor in our world, with his "maiden fair with golden hair", love stories, etc., based on hair irunks, mortages and stamp collections, then might "Memorial Day Musings" have been an article par excellence, but now? Alas! This is a hard hearted generation with little of romance in its soul and a very keen appreciation of values.

Mr. J very correctly says, "I know that I will have the general opinion of collectors against me, over and over again, I have teard the instruction to beginners, to never put a torn stamp in the collecion.", i.e., barring his eittle grammatical error.
l. for one, fear that Mr. J. has written in vain. Twenty years agn he might have organized a "Society for the Collection of Torn Stamps", but now I believe the results of experience will prevent such a happy consumation of his hopes.

Truly the lot of the reformer of Philately in America is hard, as Shove, Moise, et al,will testify. Whether his object be good, bad or indifferent, the result is always the same. Failure! Failure! Failure! : Veritas.

AFTER THE FRAY.

$A^{1}$$T$ last the great battles of Clayton and Denver are over. Months of suppressed excitement have found their climax in conventions, and we can settle down to peace again.

Of the Clayton contest there is but little to say. The Western ring beat the Eastern reformers badly, and we may suppose that things will go along in the same way as hitherto.

At Denver quite a few surprises took place in the election of officials for the ensuing year, which, I think, is a good thing for the P. S. of A., is it shows that machine politics enter but very little in its elections.

And now, gentle reader, least you should think that I am going to start off into ecstacies of joy and praise for the "largest and best Socjety" on th: face of the earth, I shall merely wan you that I intend to do nothing of the kind. Of all the maudlin bosh that is written for the philatelic press, (and goodness knows we get enoush or it 1 , in my opinion none is worse than that of the writer who sits down and writes nothing but praise, praise, praise for some philatelic orgaization, which he must know is just as human and reliable as all other philatelic matters. Therefore, let us discuss the results of that great contest in Denver in a rational way, and not treat the victors like tin gods on wheels

Clawford W. Kissinger, alias the young Napeoleon Bonaparte of philatelic journalism, as his friends call him. alias the spoilt chuld of the Alleghenies, as his foes call him, is again Yresident of the P. S. of A., as a matter of course, and also Secretary of the Mekeel, pardon me, American Philatelic Association. Truly some people get everything they ask for and K. seems to be one of them. Elba is not thought of yet, and St. Helena is an impossibility.

In the great struggle ior the VicePresidency S. M. Hamilton came out victor. It is always a joy for us poor scribblers to see one of our number honored by the rest of mankind. Vivat Hamiltonus!

Oh!'Oney! Oney! how low thou didst fall in thy mighty combat with the Eastern clique! Ah me! Fox's little coup d'etat in favor of him of the showman's name did the business, alhough we Mesterners were blind ehough not to see it. Better luck next tume for our Denver champion.

Clifford's "Smiling Brodie" is with us again for another year. There will be no power in the land.
I.. J. Kramer's advertising succeeded in bringing him in with a fine majorily. Now then, Mr. K., show us what a hustler can do with the Auction Dept. Another surprise! Popkins and Kessler. Where is Kessler and what is the matter of him? 1 thought his election was a sure thiug.

The Philatelic Sons are young, i.e., the majority of them. So when it came to choosing an offcial editor, they threw aside their seriousness which they had employed in selecting the other candidates and took the one and only H. C. Beardsley. The joke sa first class one. Pent up emotion mnst be expressed in some way and he naughty youths took this most negative fashion of doing it. Ah; Beardsley, thou prince of fools! Now canst thou wear the cap and bells and exercise thy saddening wit at the court of King K. for the next year.

The Trustees. Oregon again defies the world! (This time she did not get left for once). Let the fraud with his crooked methods keep away from the P. S. of A. Portland may be a sleepy place, but the new Trustees will not spena their time snoozing, or the writer is greatly mistaken. Here's to the future growth of philately in the Northwest.

Such was the selection in Colorado. While many desired political honors, but few were chosen, but if these few do their work faithfully, no one should complain. VERITAS.

$\leftarrow$

Much valuable space has been taken up by the press of late in the discussion of a suitable universal emblem button or badge for philatelists. We think the Boston Stamp Book hit the nail on the head when it stated; "We don't see that this is any better way than for some enterprising stamp dealer to issue such a badge and see if collectors will buy it. If it is a good badge, and don't cost tno much, a good many of them will."
'Rah for the P. S. of A. and especially its Portland trustees. Shall we be 2000 strong at our next convention?

HARTLAND, WASH., SEPT. 1895.
In our opinion it will be some time before the "Oh Hand" playing card stamp will become rare for it is still attached to packs of cards by the thousand in this locality.

What are we coming to? So many complaints have brell received the past month, regarding new frauds, that it fairly makes one's head swim. Mr. J. F. Dodge, of Windsor, Conn.. warns the collecting fraternity against W. P. Brighten, Box 268, Trenton, N. J. (In inspector's hands) H. E. Tow, New Cross, S. E. London, Eng. (don't athswer).J. Paguelot, Rue de Alsace, Luneville, France. (don't answer but still advertising for victims in English papers) and Max Weispoff, Trantenan, Austria. (send him unused obselete envelopes and he will send you used postalcards) He promises other names in the near future. Mr. Jno. Cooper, of Red Bank, N. J. writes that C. W. Bist of Swayzee, Ind., is also a thief having stolen stamps from him to the value of $$ 43.18$. He also warns readers of the Evergreen to place the following in their "black list." Southern Stamp Co., Tallapoosa, Ga; W. P. Brighten, (also in Dodge's list: and Chas. D. Worth, 10 Oak St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Seattle is to have a branch of the P. S. of A., but then Seattle has more than her quota of wide-2wake cetlectors. They are also agitating the formation of a State society. There is no doubt but what it would prove to be of inestimable benefit io the philatelists of Washington, but would not an inter-state assuciation with Oregon as consoit be of even greater benefit, or better yet, a Pacitic Northwest association? The New England states have an association and find they have none too much territory. We bave received a very interesting letter from Gorden C. Corbaley, a prominent philatelist of this state, who also thinks a society embracing the entire tracific Northwest would be preferable. The following are some of the suggestions he offers; "That a notice be inserted in the E. S. P.. stating that such a society would be organized and fequesting all wishing to join to send in their names." Speaking of the N. E. P. A., he says; "I think that you hardly make a fair comparison as I believe that the society business is a little overdone in the East, while out West we have almost no philatelic associations and in the Northwest none at all except perhaps a few local ones; so that if such a society is organized, it will practically be without competition and its success is assured if the members will only take the right interest." He further writes; "I am unable to say as to how it is with others but 1 know that an far as 1 am concerned I have regarded the Eastern societies as too far off and as a concequence have joined only one, the P.S. of A., but If tlere was a society mearer home I would do my best to make it a success. The renple of the West have al:vays borne the reputation of being enterprising but our collectors have belied their fair fames and have by not organizing a society, virtually admitted that they were unable to support one. I do not think that such is the reason and firmly believe that with our up to date stamp paper "(pause till we get through blushing)" and our hundreds of enterprising collectors, the Pacific Northwest can have a society that will do it justice in the eyes of tle ptila'elic public." Mr. Edgar F. Barth, that well known collector of Seattle writes; "I, myself avor a Pacific Northwest stamp association. I think it would be better in many respects to a state organization and would rather help to organize one for the pacific: Northwest: and the quicker we get to work the befter it will be for .us." Now let us hear from everyone and we ought to get to work without much preliminary discussion as the best part of the season will be on us before we know it. Can some one suggest a move that we can make so as to organize immediateley after the Oct. E. S. P. is out?

In answer to the notice in last months magazine from one of our subscribers favoring the formation of a Junior Philatelic Society, we hive received many communications favoring the plan. We. learn from F. G. Wadkins of 869 Sixth St., Louisville, Ky., that such an organization has been formed in his city with a membership of twenty-five. Space forbids us going into details this month as much as we would like to.

Henry Gremmel has discovered the secret mark of the Continental Bank Note Co. on the 15 c of 1873. In consists of the first vertical line at the left, near the bottom of the upper left corner being shaded wider, and another slanting line being added very close to the original line.

Herein we acknowledge with thanks the receipt of a sample of the "Nutmeg" packet as adv. in dealers directory and well worth the money asked for it;

Do you read Kimball's ad, also, Wilson's on last cover page? You are letting many bairgains go by if you are not doing so.-

HINTS FOR THE DEALER.

The rain gets all the credit for the crops of grain and hay, while the sunshine does the growing in its steady smiling way. So the salesman's, salary is raised for the goods sold in the store, while the wily advertisement coaxes trade inside the door.- Printers' Ink.

7000 different, live stamp collectors will be reached with our November issue which will be mailed to not less than five thousand different addresses taking at least 6000 copies to go 'round, 4,500 of which will reach collectors in the U. S. We launch our big issue thus eariy to avoid, the rush in the mails during the months of December and being mailed the latter part of Nov.--will reach the reader in exactly the right time to catch the Christmas trade. Advertisements to ruu 3 months or more wlll be taken at our present rates, but advertisements for the Nov. number will only be accepted at double the rate now charged. Even at this price-I per inch, per 6000 copiesno such bonanza for advertisers has ever before beell offered in the history of philatelic journalism, and it is about half the price, charged by publications which do not even pretend to claim over half the circuiation which this issue will have. During the time we have been publishing th is magazine-nearly two years-we challenge anyone to point out a single promise we have made and not faithfully kept, and we shall publish and mail the aforsaid uumber of cupies at the time specitied whether the advertising patronage will warrant the expense or not. The follewing are a few of the many unso licited testimonials which we have received from our every day circulation.

"It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the small 300 ad. which I placed in the Trade Col. of your paper last month was the means of selling over $$ 25$ worth of stamps and orders are still coming in." N.R.LOWRY.

HINTS FOR THE DEALER.

The rain gets all the credit for the crops of graln and hay, while the sunshine does the growing in its steady smiling way. So the salesman's saldry is ralsed fur the goods sold In the sture, while the wlly advertisement coaxes trade Inside the door. - Printers' Ink.

7000 different, live stamp collectors will be reached with our November issue which will be mailed to not less than flve thousand different addresses taking at least 6000 copies to go 'round, 4,500 of which will reach collectors in the $U$. S. We launch our big issue thus eariy to avoid, the rush in the mails during the months of December and being mailed the latter part of Nov.--will reach the reader in exactly the right time to catch the Christmas trade. Advertisements to run 3 months or more will be taken at our present rates, but advertisements for the Nov. number will only be accepted at double the rate now charged. Even at this price- $$ 1$ per inch, per 600 copi es no such bonanza for advertisers has ever before been offered in the history of philatelic journalism, and it is about half the price, charged by publications which do not even pretend to claim over half the circulation which this issue will have. During the time we have been publishing this magazine-nearly two years-we challenge anyone to point out a single promise we have made and not falthfully kept, and we shall publish and mail the aforsaid number of cupies at the time specified whether the advertising patronage will warrant the expense or not. The following are a few of the many unso ${ }^{-}$ licited testimonials which we have received from our every day circulation.
"I received over one hundred answers, to my I inch ad. in the July E. S. P."

Chas. B. Hesse.
"From my ad. which appeared but once, I received one order for $$ 60$ worth of stamps beside many others. Do not let it go in agaın as my stock cannot stand such a strain." T. P. BERGER.
"It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the small 300 ad. which I placed in the Trade Col. of your paper last month was the means of selling over $$ 25$ worth of stamps and orders are still coming in." N.R.LOWRY.

II$F$ kind reader you expect something scientific in the following lines, skip them. I have been wadng through some U. S. plate numbers, which has caused such an aversion for the heavy article on my part for the time being, that I cannot hink of writing a treatise on the minor varieties of the stamps of Afghanistan. With this I had iniended o delight, or torture, you. Howver, for saving you from this philarelic ordeal, I should be forgiven for leing in a somewhat frivolous and lighty mood.
"Scientific" is possibly not the noper expression to use in connection with philately, as it was decided some ime ngo by a majority of cranks that hilately was not a science. The ublishers of the Bay State Philatelist vidently think differently, as their neer boldly proclaims itself to be a ournal devoted to the science of Whilately. Still they do everything in a ccientific way in the Hub, and stamp ollecting is probabiy no exception.
I admire truth, not Henry Labou here's, but that rara avis of human ite, the abstract quality. Therefore. I is that I admire a certain publisher In Maine also, who tells it, and pretty Nainly at that, be the consequeuces that they may. The way in which te sut down on the new A. P. P. A. a short time ago was startling, but then, truth is oftener stranger than fiction. Poor Beardsley must have felt a little put out at the candid way in which his application blank was rejected. For P.'s consolation it may be remarked that we are none of us too old to learn.

1 met a Philistine this morning, a man who is still in the deepest part of the wilderness as far as philately is concerned. After some casual talk which developed the fact that most businesses at this time were not overrushed with orders, as a good stampite, asserted that the prospects were better than ever hefore for a fine season in the stamp business. This ignoramus considers me as a sort of harmless lunatic, in such profound ignorance is the mass of unphilatelic mankind still buried. Make any money in handling used postage stamps? Who is so absurd as to buy them, and what do they do with them when they have them. Several $$ 100,000.00$ corporations devoting their time to the purchase ard sale of little bits of worthless paper? Twenty monthly magazines published in the interests of this folly? Incredible! Impossible! Thus does the dog of an unbeliever roar.

Gentle reader, if you ever have to deal with a person of this class, and it happens to nearly all of us some. times, remember that facts are stubhorn, overwhelm him with facts.
quote statstics to him if you are gifted in the statistical way, tell him that ancient story of Stanky Gibbons paying $$ 1700.00$ each for two stamps; in short make his life a burden to him until he is willing to concede the greatness of fair Philatelia.

This reminds me of what a prominent rhilatelic literateur and politican once advised me to do to get new members for a Socitty. I am sorty to say that I cannot wouch for the efficacy of the method, never having tried it to any extent. Afier a careful selection of your victim, bounce on him with both feet, figuratively, of course. Talk to him without cessafation about the multitude of advantages accruing from membership in the Society, stick to him until he makes the application, if only to get rid of you and have peace. As said above, I have never tried the plan, nor do I think it a good one except for people who have plenty of time on their hands, and plenty of brass; Excuse the slang; But then, our politicans are made of brass; how could they get along without it?

An Interstate Philatelic Association for the Northwest would be just the thing. Show the Easterners what you can do, brother collectors.

Has the reader ever let his fancy run wild and imagined what celebrated men of the faci and fiction some of our men in the public eye could be said to resemble. Let us exercise our imagination a little.

We have Napoleon Bonaparte. H. H. Zobel would make a fine

Alexander I of Russia. They have just concluded the treaty of Talsit. Major Egan in his contest with the Seebecks may be compared to Cervantes' immoral knight, Don Quixote, in his combat with the windmills. E. L. Shove would make a sympathetic Sancho Panza. F. S. Fox is the Sherlock Homes of philately. The jocund Doeblin is just the man for Sir John Falstaff. The polished essayist Quackenbush is the Cicero of these madern times. Thus could we go on ad infuitum.

I reserve the best of our characters for the last. Mention was made above of Napoleon Bonaparte. Has the reader considered how much greater Fredrick the Great of Prussia was than Napoleon? Napoleon lad one of the mightiest mations of the earth behind him, and his opposilion was but disconcerted alid vorerir. Frederick with only little Prussia 10 draw his surplies and funds for even years successfully held back Austra. Russia, France, Sxeden ard Saxony. Was not Fredrick the Great the greater man?

P. A. G. wonders if the 2 c green columbia envelopes will be catalogued by Scolt next year. Why tliss you, no. It is only a proof, and not the same die that was accepted, wings of eagle spread outside of inner circle. Well acquainted with the three owners of only copies extant-would like to Those who have the 2c pink sale ask $10 c$ or more for an unus specimen.

It seems extremly probable that a short time unused specimens both of the above named stamp be very rare and command guu prices.

COLLECTING SURCHARGES.

It is very often a matter of doubt with the young collector as to whether or not he shall collect surcharged stamps.

Manifestly, it is wrong to collect all surcharged stamps, since many of them exist for the sole purpose of decoying the 16 to 1 afticle and the microbe infected greenback from the pocket of the long-suffering collector. But when you are buying a stamp which exists both with and without a surcharge, and the surcharge is an honest one, secure the surcharged one in preference to the other, if you cannot afford both.

Thus you secure, as it were, two varieties in one, resulting in a saving of space and money.

The only way we can cure the habitual surcharge issuing countries is to cease baying these speculative pro ductions. H. I. Watts.

ARE you a dealer and not in our big edition?

The balance of the 1894 issue of W. S. stamps has appeared on the watermarked paper; also the special delivery stamp, and the due, or unyaid set are not watermarked the same,

OWING to the extra expense in getting out of the big edition next month, and the imperative need of economizing ini space as much as possible, we will have to charge a uniform rate of one cent a word for trade ads. and double our present rates for displayed ads. which are to appear only in that issue. Advertisements and notices not conforming strictly with these rates will be held over until the December number. This may seem like rather harsh measures to some but we will say to the uninitiated that our present rates of advertising will not pay for even the paper used in 6,000 copies.

That the height of the season will soon be fairly on us may be easily discerned by the numerous auction sales announced to take place in the near future. We have received a catalogue af R. F. Albrechts \& Co's, $30^{\prime} \mathrm{h}$ sale to take place on the 29 and 30th of this month, and note that during the past four seasons this firm held 29 sales and realized for the owners of the stamps thus marketed over $\$ 90,000$. A gool showing for one firm. It is the wise collector who gets on his hid before the 56th catalogue is out, as we assure our readers U. S. stamps are going to take a hig jump; especially in an unused condition.

Although many letters have been received favoring the formation of a Pacific Northwest Philatelic Asseciation, these are not one tenth of the number that ought to have been rcceived and none at all outside of Oregon and Washington, consequently, we believe an Inter state Philatelic Association is what we want and it ought to number up in the hundreds, instead of the dozens, even in the charter members. It has been sug. gested that another month be given in which to receive the names of charter members, which will be published in the November E. S. P., together with nomination for the various officers needed, which are of course now in order, and will be received up to Nov. 20. After the election, the president can appoint a committee to draft a constitution etc.

A copy of Stanley Gibbons, Limited, tenth catalogue is at hand, reduced to rocket size, a trifle smaller than Scott's. A further improvement is the separating of the catalogue into three parts; the adhesives; the envelopes and newsbands, and the post cards, being catalogued separately. The work is very complete and if it is any criterion of prices which will prevail in Scott's 56th U. S. stamps will be greatly advanced in prics. The price of the book is 87 c of the publishers; 391 Strand, London, W. C.

The association can be run at a nominal cost and there is no good reason why every philatelist in either state should not send in his, or her name at once. The benefits of such a society are innumerable and will far out-balance the cost. What we want is the name and address of every one willing to join the society. A postal card is sufficient. Further information in regard to balloting, and other matters will be published next month.

The Metropolitan Philatelic Club, of San Antonio, Texas, have made elaborate preparation for their anniversary banquet to be given on the 13 th of November. A philatelic exhibition; also an auction sale will take place at that time. This club is one of the most solid and influential societies of a philatelic nature in America, and we can insure a grand time to anyone fortunate enough to be able to attend.

Ye editor is constantly hearing of philatelists(?) who do not use a magnifying glass. We venture to say that nine out of every ten of them will grow tired of our hobby in time. How many of the readers of this article have noticed the "U. S." on the mail sack carried by the horseman on the 2 . . value of the 1869 set?

Do you want to do us as well as your many frizals a favor? If so, send us their names and addresses for a copy of our November number, which will gladly be sent them free. Care should be taken to write plainly, otherwise the magazine may be returned and cost us a small fortune in postage dues.

Mr. J. W. Soott has discovered a variety of the U. S. 10C. 1861 issue, which consists of a colored line above the "U. S. Postage" and under the five * stars. We are only blessed with a very few duplicates of this stamp, and those that we have are all of this variety. We would like to see one without the colored line, or at least learn which is the scarcer variety.

Through an unavoidable accident copy for not less than fourteen inches of ads that should have appeared in this number were destroyed and we have no way of knowing whose they were. If the dealer who sent them will kindly furnish new copy, we will put them in a fire-proof sate next time.

CORRESPOVDENDE.

Dear Sir; - lt will be well for you to warn your readers against bogus surcharges which I anticipate will shortly appear. I have been promised samples of the goods and as soon as I get them will foward them to you. My idenity must remain concealed or the game would be spoiled, One of the stamps selected is Jamacia official 1-2d. green light faced type.

Yours very truly,

Private checks from a distance are not negn'iahle in this "Wild and Wro"ly W'est" and invariably have to he re urnes. If not convenient to send bills, will remitters ki d'y send money orders at our expense?

The usual fall crop of new magazines are aprearing right along. He shall try and give a review of these in Novemler, as well as of the old stand-bys.

COPY for next month should be in as early as possible. We would like to get the magazine out on time.

Stamp Dealers and Publishers,

 90 Nassau St, New York. SEASON 1895-96.
Our Approval Sheets

for collectors possessing about 3,000 varieties are now ready. To select from same will prove to be 1 real pleasure for all sons and daughters of philately.

Our Approval Books

for advanced Collectors and adepts in philately must be seen to be appreciated.

We have had an unusual opportunity to replenish our stock at the great philatelic Convention at Maneheim, Germany, where all the prominent dealers of Europe recently met, and therefore feel sure to be able to meet the wants of all. We do not handle any trash, remainders, reprints or speculative stamps, but only that class of stamps which steadily increase in value. If you wish to receive selections on approval, please write to us give satisfactory reference if heretofore unknown) and we shall be pleased to serve you.

Auction Department:

Our zoth Catalngue has just been mailed to you and must be in the hands of all our auction customers ere this catches your eye. If you did not receive the same but wish to obtain our auction catalogues regularly, please inform us to that effect and your address will be placed on our mailing list. We have booked the 3ist sale for November 19th and 20th. This sale is very important, as it contains the U. S. stamps almost complete, unused anil used, (property of Mr. Jacques Horowitz of Frankfurt on the Main) and a collection of West Indies stamps property of Mr. A. C. Grosholz, of Philadelphia) which may truly be called magnificent. Secure a Catalogue of this sale by writing to us at once. We have compiled an epitome of the prices realized at the 29 sales we have held since 1892. This book is in press now: all collectors who were silccessful at any of those sales will receive the same with our compliments. Outsiders may secure copies at $$ 7.50$ each.

In Our Sale Room

90 Nassau St, we have on exhibition a tine collection of the stamps of the entire world, priced according to quotations in vogue last March. Value of the collection over Seven Thousand Dollars. All collectors and philatelists visiting New York City are respectfully invited to call and inspect the same.
Plate Numbers. of 1804 issue: We have the largest stock of same and can supply almost anything, also in shades. May be had on approval if want list is sent.

Philatelists' fall meeting.

$\tau$HE success which attended the first assemblage of philatelists on Washington's Birthday ha, nduced the leading spirits of the fraternity to plan another such a meeting, to occur late in November, or early in December.

This will doubtless be fully as great a success as the last affair, as a glance at the strong attractions must convince every thorough stamp man that he must be there.

Among the notabilities who have already been engaged may be mentioned the following:
H. A. Bricker,-- Subject, "Attempting to resuscitate a corpse.
C. W. Kissinger will give his "Philatelic Tour of the United States in Eighty Days," for the first time.

John N. Luff will delight the more scientific portion of the audience with "The Science of U. S. Plate Numbers."
H. C. Beardsley will display his histrionic talent in "The Girls ! left luhind me, at Denver."

Chas. Beamish has promised to relate about "The Sweetest Box of Candy 1 ever ait?," and other Denver recollections Crawford Capen will have his favorite "Minor Varieties."

C. J. Phillips of Stanley Gibbons will show how they raise the prices of slamps on the other side.

Richard Doidge will handle "The Fine Art of Stamp Stealing," with full illustrations.

Eugene Thwing's "Peace at any Price, will doubtless be greatly enjoyed by A. P.A. members.
C. E. Severn will deliver a short speech regarding the present standing of the A. P. A., what it will accomplish, and what it probably won't.
R. M. Miller will give a full account of the largely attended S . of P . Convention at Clayton.

To every Paget has been assigned "How it feels to get left." There are many aspirants for this subject, but, of course, the Committee has endeavored to select the most prominent politician, who is in a position to make the composition natural.
"How it feels to get there," will be S. M. Hamilton's subject.
F. S. Fox will explain his reasons for resigning the P. S. of A. Sccretaryship some tiıne ago.
S. L. Wing will make the effort of his life in trying to prove to the assembled cranks that the well known "Fun for Philatelists" Department in the Michigan Philatelist is amusing.

Thus we see what a fine array of stampic talent will be on hard to instruct and entertain the audience, and there can be no doubt but what a vas! concourse of the afflicted will gather.

POKTLAND NOIES.

There has been quite a rush in Portland for the unwatermarked $$ 1.00$ stamps, and the excitement has had its ludicrous sides. One collectur bought everything in sight, it is said, in the fond belief that he had cleaned out the Postoffice. A day or two later, however, it transpired that he had left several hundred behind.

When the writer, desiring to get 2 few first class, well centered specimens, asked the Assistant Postmaster if he was sure that the stamps were on unwatermarked paper, that official somewhat testily replied that he did not pay any attention to water marks, as it made not the slightest difference to him. What Philistines these Postoffice people are! (What idiots these collectors are, he doubtless thought).

However, the present scribe got some facts which may prove interesting. The supply amounted to some six or seven hundred some time ago. Three days later he had about two hundred and fifty lefi, and ten days, later a cuphei expressed the quantity.

The formation of a Portland branch of the P.S. of A.., which nas been discussed for some time, bias fair to become one of the realities of the near future. Probably before this number of the E. S. P. reaches its readers the first meeting will have been held. Even in the home of the venerated Mossback does Philately advance.

- To be a correspondent of a U.S. Minister in some far away land is quite a profitable distinction for a collector. The writer recently secured several of the 1 (atts.) and 2 a on 64 a., provisional Siam, postally used, from a collecting friend of Minister Barrett, a former Oregonian, He also saw quite a fine lot of Siamese from the same source.

The Interstate Philatelic Association is now an assured fact, the writer has been given to understand. On behalf of this city and vicinity, he desires to say that what the collectors here may lack in numbers, they will make up in enthusiasm. Long life to the Oregon & Washington Interstate Society!

NOTES ON U. S.

Among the prices received at recent English sales was $£ 2.8$ s ( $$ 11.66$ ), for a fair copy of the 1869 90c., 14s. ( $$ 3.36$ ), for a fair $$ 1$ Columbian, while $£ 4,12 \mathrm{~s}, 6 \mathrm{~d},($ 22.50$, ) was realized for the fu!! set. A set of justice brought $£ 13,5 \mathrm{~s},($ 64.38$.)

Up to date I have met the ic. blue envelope in dark blue (color of the $5 c$. ), in the wrapper. The manilla ununsummed circular, and on white and amber, making four varieties. I have also met with the 1 c . on white in a very light shade, almost so light that it would seem as if no inking of the die had occurred after the previous stamp had been printea.

The first prices quoted by the ad. vanced sheets of the 56th edition Scrut have been cancelled and a new pronf sheet issued. The Justice 90c. takes another $$ 10$ jump and $$ 60$ is nu.w wanted for it.

I recently met with an unperforated ; 6 . blue, head of Taylor, with very large margins on every side. It could lardly have been a proof as it was on correct paper and had been used. I have also heard of the 1c. and 2c. in similar shape and the query comes how did it occur?

The $2 c$. red Bureau print with fine lines in the border of the triangle are found only in plates $126,131,132$, 133 and 169 and bid fair to become scarce.

The only plate 1 have met with in the pink shave is 23 . but of course nther plates were printed in that tint. In the light blue I have seen No's. 17 , 18, 21 and 24.

A unique set of stamps are the lottery stamps of Lollisiana, being the only place in which a tax was placed on "chance." A full set consists of four stamps, two of $71-2 \mathrm{c}$. and two $121-2 c$. value. The earlier set show the Masonic emblems for a design and the lalter the state arms.

CHAT.

Doubtless those of the E.S.P.'s readers, who took the trouble to read my humble efforts under the above heading last month, wondered what under the sun I was driving at with Ficderick the Great and Napoleon However, I have an dffidavit, and a very good one for the philatelic writer, it he can produce it, and that is that the printer conspired to keep the hlushes from ye Editor's cheeks by leaving out a line or two. It may be said now, by way of explanation, that I made an attempt to dub Editor French the Frederick the Great of philatelic journalism, but fate evidently decreed otherwise.

And still they come, i.e., the gumpaps. Straits Settlements, Italy, New South Wales, etc., and in spite of the thunderings of the S.S.S.S., the speculative issue bobs up serenely continually. The end is not yet.

Will prices ever stop? It is a serıous question, in my estimation, whether this rapid rising will not be the cause of philately's decline before many years, for, unless we all become millionaires, 1 do not see how the majority of us are going to be able to buy stamps worth having a quarter of a century hence.

This is, of course, from a mercenary point of view, since there will doubtless be plenty of cheap continentals and. new issues to be had, as long as each country issues its own stamps, but collectors are getting more and more fastidious and are watching sharply that they get hold of something that will be worth a little in the future. Where will this class of stamps be in 25 years?

There may not be a crash, as some writers predict, but no douht there will be a fall in prices some day, or careful collecting will be confined to a very few, who will have purses fonk enough to aftord it. The tulip mania did not last forever in Holland.

THE IN TER-STATE PHILATELIC ASSOCIATION.

Many communications have been received from all sections of Oregon and Washington favoring the ,formation of a Philatelic Association for these two states as advocated in the columns of this magazine. The following nominations for officers are in and ballots should be in the hands of the Credential connmittee not later than the 10 th of Lecember:

Pres., Edgar F. Barth of Seattle, Wash., and E. C. Patton of Salem, Oregon.
Vice-Pres., Chandler C. Sloan, Tacoma, Wash., and David E. Brown, Port Townsend, Wash.

Sec.-Treas., Gordon C. Corbaley, Waterville, Wash., and J. D. Barnes, Walla Walla, Wash.

Ex. Supt., H. F. Bartels of Portland, Or., and A. D. Schoch of Forest Grove, Or.

Auct. Mgr., H. Moeller of Portland, Or., and W. L. McMullin of Portland, Oregon.

Purch. Agt., E. C. Patton of Salem, Or., and H. F. Bartels of Portland, Oregnn.

Librarian, W. L.. McMullin of Portland, Or., and Fred. Jacob of Seattle, Wash.

Trustees, Dr. Bories, Fred Jacob and John Zug of Seattle, Wash.

Trustees, A. D. Schoch, W. W. McEldowney and E. R. Whitlock of Forest Grove, Or.

Official Organ, The Evergreen State Philatelist.

Other nominations not herein mentioned have been declined by the parties interested.

It has been thought best to request each one voting to forward ten cems with the ballot, simply as an evidence of good faith on the voters part, and to kind of legalize the vote. The sum thus received will be credited to each memher for dues, and will be forwarded by the Credential committee to the Sec.-Treas., and give us a small fund to start with.

Messrs. H. Moeller, W. L. McMul. lin and H. F. Bartels have been ap. pointed as the Credentials committee. and the ballots should be in their hands not later than the 10 th of December. To save time and expellise no printed ballots have been prepared. Simply write your choice of officers on a piece of paper, sign your name and address at the bottom, enclose the ten cents as before mentioned and forward the whole to,

The Credential Com., I. P. A. 264 12th St., Portland. Or.
After this committee has made its report in the December E. S. P., the president will appoint a committee 10 devise a constitu:ion. The committee will accept suggestions from all members caring to make any such, and will then submit a constitution which should be adnpted by a vote of thi majority of the members.

The cost of membership in the sil ciety will undoubtedly be small, prowably not over 25 c. yearly, with no int Itiation fee; however, these will be jusi what the majority of the members vote them to be.

The benefits of being a member of this society are so many and varied that only a few will be mentioned. The use of the various departments alone will far outbalance the cost. lhe exchange department will build up your collection inasmuch as you can sell your duplicates and buy those of other members. The auction manager will offer your rarities at auction and secure good prices for them. The purchasing agent can buy for you new issues at a slight advance over face value. The library will save many times the cost of membership in the use of volumes which will soon be on tile. The official organ will undoubtedly he furnished by the society to its members free, this alone being worth all the cost of membership.

Is there any good reason why any philatelist in either state should not hecome a member of this sociely? Each one sending in a ballot will become a charter member of the society,-an honor to be proud of in the years to come, and should each eligible person who reads these lines do so, we would have a charter membership list of over one thousand in numbers.

> R. W. French.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Many af our wide-awake interstate collectors have espoused the cause of the Inter-State Philatelic Association, and are at work in its behalf. Are you doing the same? We wish that more collectors would act in this way and our society would have a good start on the grand road to success. Perhaps you do not think the I. P. A. will be a success and don't want to be identified with a bad cause and in so doing waste your time and money. This however, is an impossibility, as many philatelists of Oregon and Washington are interesting themselves in the formation of a society. These collectors are westerners, and a westener has almost come to be regarded as synonomous with enterprise. Are you with us and for the I. P. A? Remember that people are judged by their action and not by their word.
"Bark N. Tine" has re-entered the field of philatelic journalism by contributing an excellent article on U. S. Revenues to the October "Eastern."

The review columns of some of our philatelic magazines are one uninterrupted succession of "very good number," "nice paper," "magnificent," etc. This is no way to review a paper, as always praising and never condemning. however much it may be needed, is not reviewing. Such a review as the - number of the - - has heen received and it is a very nice one, filled with interesting notes and articles, contains not one word about what the contents are and no informatoon about the papers reviewed. Perhaps this forms interesting reading but we don't believe it does. A review can be made meresting but not in such a method as described in the above.

HARTLAND, WASH.,....NOV. 1805.
AN erroneous idea seems to have gotten out in regard to our big edition. The magazine this month is "big" in circulation but not in size.

A MONEY order for 65 cents, drawn in our favor on The Dalles, Oregon, will bring you Scott's 56 th catalogue postpaid and the E. S. P. until the first of January 1897.

In the "wild and wooly west" the collecting of plate numbers has not yet become a fad to any extent, but no one seems willing to sell a plate number at the usual price of the stamps without.

THOSE of our seaders who can realize the amount of work it took to get out this issue, will uverlook our lateness. Copy 'or the December issue, which will be out on time, should be mailed to us at once.

Owing to Mr. Patterson removing to Canada, Mr. Chas. G. Hart has been appointed secretary of the L. of A. P.; Mr. W. H. Kessler, Jr., being appointed librarian to fill the vacancy thus caused.

Mr. W. F. Bishop has called our attention to an article in a late Era, deteriorating to himself, and the stamps he is selling. It is only just to Mr. Bishop for us to state that we have had satisfactory dealings with him for the past two years, and have had the privilege of seeing many of his stamps which were always of the highest possible grade. Had we noticed the article in question, we would have made this statement of our own volition.

In answer to several inquiries, we will say that the plate numbers about which so much has lately been written for the press, is the number on a sheet of stamps, (U.S.) sometimes on the top, sides, or the bottom of a sheer, and usually collected with the inuprint of the company printing the stamps, generally requiring three stamps in a strip to show all this, but in the earlier issues, it often takes a strip of five stamps. In the Columbian issue we believe the plate number appears twice on both the top or the bottom on the sheet, but only the imprint of the company on the sides.

A REVIEW of the press was to have heen given in this number, but owing to the ads crowding the reading mattir so closely, the space has bren given to articles of more general interest. Not at all dismayed by the early demisie of scores of similar publications, a dozen or so of new ventures are to ke launched on an unappreciating public this winter. During the days before we made money ( ?) curselves, publishing a stamp journal, we used to subscribe for one or two copies of every stamp paper published. Would that everybody would do so now. What a model magazine we could get out if everyone receiving the EVERGREEN this month as a sample copy would good•naturedly forward a years' subscription.

THE big edition this month will cume to so near paying expenses, that we are disposed to try another in the near future-either January or Febru-ary-but will mail only 5000 copies next time. Taken in connection with the number mailed this month, it gives us the largest circulation of dily philatelic monthly published in America. Cullectors are appreciating a tine exthange column in a magazine of so large a circulation, and we have an unusually large paid up list of substribers. The present rules and rates governing the various departments in the Evergreen, as well as the ad raltes which are half of what magazines with less carculation are charging, will only hold good untal the first of the vear.

The doHar values of the '94 set of U. S. stamps have become quite raraties. In the first place there were but 35,046 of the $$ 1$ value issued; 10,027 of the $$ 2.00$ denomination and only 6,251 of the $$ 5.00$ stamps. Thus we see there were more of the $$ 1.00 \mathrm{Co}$ lumbian stamps printed than of all these three values together. Not only this, but many of each value have been returned by postmasters, on account of poor perforations and other defects, and destroyed; however it is safe to assert that of those not so destroyed, nearly every copy has, or will eventually fall into the hands of some philatelist. it is also stated that the $$ 1.00$ value was in use but mine months, and the $$ 2.00$ and $$ 5.00$ but eight months. Scott prices the three stamps unused in his 56th at $2, $4 and $$ 8$ respectively. In the watermarked series, the watermark is so hard to distinguish with any certainty, that many collectors who do not specialize in minor varieties of U. S. stamps willgive up the idea of obtaining a specimen of each set and be satisfied with a stamp of each value, irrespectively of the watermark. The only sure way we have been able to determine the watermark, is by the plain marginal strip on each sheet of stamps in which the waternark call be quite easily seen. An inducement to collect plate numbers.

MAY each of our readers enjoy a very merry Christmas; is the wish of ye edt:or.

The auction sale is the true basis of the real value of an article, governed of course by the law of supply and demand. Prices bid on stamps will undoubtedly take an upward tendency after the 56th catalogue is out, but during the few sales already held this fall we notice that many stamps brought their new catalogue valuation. The $$ 2$ Columbian, unused, seems to to have had no trouble in securing a bid of twice its face value.

A PRICED copy of Burton's twelfth sale held on November 1st has been received in which we notice that many good prices, as well as several decided bargains were secured. His next sale takes place on December 25th, and a copy of the cetalogue will be sent by him free on request.

OH ye men of many means why nn: make a deserving friend a present of a year's subscription to the EVERGREEN, and in this way make three of us happy.

We have been favored with a sample of the "Fast Mail" packet advertised in another column-a good assortment well worth the price asked for it.

THE usual auction catalogues were received this month, but as the sales lave already taken place and we have none priced, we do not review them

There is a renewed interest in the collection of philatelic papers.

CHATS WITH MEN OF THE HOUR. NO. 3.
major C. W. Egan, "The Bravest of the Brave," (Anti-Seebeckite ). Washington, D. C.

Cher Major:
Il me fait beaucoup de- I beg pardon, but I am so accustomed to associating foreign languages with you that the French came as a matter of inurse. Retournons a nos moutons.

While it gives me great pleasure to see you, as the old war horse of the Anti-Seebeck movement, still pounding away at the enemy, I must say that, with all due respect to such a distinguished philatelic personage as vourself, I think your language just at present is becoming somewhat heatdd,and,I must admit, more forcible than cheyant. Ma foi! Y'ou really shock me heyond all measure whell you speak ut parasites-vermin and $1-$. You cullse me to blush a brighter hue than the pansy's rosy cover. Where, oh, where, dear Majah, is your polished flow of foreign tongues with which sul have been delighting the philatelic world for these ten years past? these phrases ahove referred to are tuo- 100 -plebian.

It really looks as though Seebeckwn has had its day. Has not the arch enemy of stamp morals, the much-abused Mr. Seebeck confessed himelf a repentant sinner, secing that the satme is up? Are not the philatelic petitions more numerous now in Central American republics than revolutions? Are not the four S's jumping on the speculative issues with both feet?

Yes, the signs of the tumes point to the complete collapse of Seebeckism. What, dear Major, are you going to do without that subject of yours, the Seebecks? This you have served up to us in all sorts of forms since the Seebecks were young and puny. The reading public has breen so accustomed to seeing you engaged in mortal fray with these foes of philately that it will doubtless wonder what will become of you.

There is, if nothing else, a chance for you to get a pension, and I sincerely hope you will be successful in pro.curing one. Perhaps it would be better to wait till '96, when a republican administration will doubtless bless this happy land. You know the present people have somewhat peculiar views on the pension question, awfully atraid of giving a valiant man his dues, etc.

Should you be unfortunate enough not to secure one, I should advise you, if I may allow myself the liberty, to start off on a new tack, and combat with all the strength behind your powertul quill this spirit of speculation that now possesses our poor deluded collecfors. Strike at the root of the evil. Have they not been pouring their riches into Uncle Sam's coffers to get hold of Columbians, 50 cents, $$ 1.00$, $$ 2.00$, and $$ 5.00$ unwatermarked? Does not our own government, by its needless multiplication(?) of varieties cause a mania for gambling in the rising generation which is worse in its effects than playing marbles?

Here, Major, is a field where you can attack, parry, thrust, and slaughter to your heart's content. If you can crush this new enemy to the philatelic weal, thrice greater shall be your name.

For the present, au revoir, auf Wiedersehen, etc. Yours, in causa bonae philatelicae, Veritas.

The first issue of Bergedof was in use for only eleven days.

Most of the British colonials are the work of De Ka Rue & Co., of London.

The portrast of Franklin on the five cent 1844 is from a painting by Longacre.

The United States was the eleventh country to adopt postage due stamps.

Will the wonders never cease? The November "Pennsy" actually contains a philatelic article; i. e., one about stamps. This is no doubt an accident -and entirely unintentional; but still, it is welcome.

In Mauritius, Ceylon, and the Seychelles Islands, the cent is the hundredth part of a rupee, which has a value of 50 cents our money. So their cent is a little less than half of ours. This fac: should be kept in mind when buying unused stamps of these countries.

Harris Reed, jr., has an article in the November "Pennsy" on some of the benefits derived from corresponding and exchanging stamps with foreign collectors. It foreign exchange was such a path of roses as he pictures it, I would recommend it to all. But to send a lot of fair U. S. to a foreign philatelist and receive no reply is enough to cause even "Veritas" to lose his usual good humor.

Gordon C. Corbaley.

PICK-UPS.

H. P. A.

The postuffice receipts of the Argentine Republic for the year 1866 were $$ 57,000$; for the year 1872, $$ 137,434$.

The $10 \mathrm{c}, 20 \mathrm{c}$ and 40 c of the 1806 issue of Belgium was first printed in London and afterwards in Belgiuns. The London print is much the rater. and can be told by the clearness of impression and by a lighter shade than those of the local print.

There is a renewed interest in the collection of philatelic papers, and it will, it is rumored, not be long ere a priced list will be issued by an easternt dealer.

The imperial 8 d of Ceylon brouglis $$ 155$ at a London auction recently. and it is doubtful if $$ 200$ would tunch a specimen now. Auction prices are the straws which dealers watch fur to see "how the wind blows."

THE PASSINO SHOW.

AS VIEWED BY "FITH."

Whatever ambitions rest within the brains of the inventors of the new press association (for the benefit of patient and long-suffering editors), certain it is that the new-born institution can never thrive unless regulated by wise legislation. Every creation is amenable to some law, and the attempt to organize into some tangible relationship, the wild and uncurbed imaginations of young aspirants (whose master pens would fathom the empyrean, or likely, seek Seebecks from the solar world), and the gray headed wisdom of the siren sages, will prove the greatest blessing of the hour.
We would not speak disparagingly of the younger writers. Latent talents often develope into useful service. But in that developement imbecility may transform the bright ambitions if a society into a hopeless travesty.

Applicants there will he, no doubt, who haven't sense emough to carry water for the elephant. Having, in my younger days, acquitted myself with cretit of this nccupation, 1 decline to join any society which would encourage the admission of imbecile children, though of laudable ambition. In the event of an increase of rates paid for MSS.. I shall urge prompt aclion on the part of the organization committee. Reasons too obvious to necessitate demonstration.

Welcome, thrice welcome into philarelic arena, oh! union of hack writers. Turn on the side lights and work a lranstormation scene. No more shall we sit, like Marius amid the ruins, amid the massive piles of returnced manuscript.

The golden age will make silver freer, rendering shorter the length of time between refreshments. With antxious eye we look into future to see whether we are sinkıng or swimming. Until then "Fith" must hang his hopes upon the mercy of the rude stream or public opirion that may incidentally submerge him. Fithian Sylvan.

NOTES BY J. F. D.

Among the list of officers elected at the meeting of the Supreme Council, 33d degree, A. A. S. R., at Washington, D. C., October 24, we notice the name of our genial friend, W. C.Vanderlip, of Boston, Mass., (president of the N. E. Stamp Co ), as Grand Keeper of Archives. Mr. Vanderlip also holds a high position in the suprem: governing body of the B. P. O. E.

Have you got both dies of the 4 c green enveiopes?

STRAY ITEMS.

Many collectors, and dealers, for that matter, seem to be unaware of the fact that postage stamps, cancelled or uncancelled, when offered for mailing in an unsealed condition, are not merchandise, but third class matter. Many are the packages I have rectived prepaid at the fourth class rate. However, stamped envelopes are merchandise.

The "corner' on the $$ 2.00$ Columbians seems to have been quite a successful venture. I was offered $$ 4.00$ each for a block of ten by a Philadelphia gentleman the other day. Perhaps I wasn't wise, but I refused. If the corner holds good, there is no reason why these stamps should not be worth at least $$ 5$ very soon.

Speaking of the Columbians, I would advise anyone not to be anxious to part with any of the 50 c value they are lucky enough to possess. I have very good reason to believe that this value is being quetly "raked" together. Presurnably corner enough cannot be found on this issue.

I recently received word from a Philadelphia gentleman (who, by the way, holds a nice little stock of $$ 2.00$ Columbians), stating that he knew of a party who held yet unsold between $$ 400$ and $$ 500$ worth each of $3 c, 4 c$, 15 c and 30 c unused Columbians which he was closing out fast at face value, and asking me if I wanted to invest any money in this great sale.

What's the matter with the Columbians, barring the $50 \mathrm{c}, $ 1$ and $$ 2$ values? Are the speculators getting left?

> W. SANFORD.

U. S. ENVELOPES.

While it cannot be denied that nearly all general collectors have a few envelopes in their collections and that there are a few more envelope specialists to-day than there were a year or two ago, still envelopes are not very popular with the great majority of collectors. I think it is very natural that envelopes should not interest beginners to any great exient, but I could never understand why they were not more popular with the majority of moderately advanced collectors.

It is true that, to the best of my knowledge, there is no hand-book or catalogue on the subject that is up to date, complete, and for sale at a reasonable price, but that should not keep collectors from turning their attention to the subject, although it is undoubtedly a great want. Speaking of completeness, it would probably be impossible to have a catalogue that would be absolutely complete; but it certain. ly is possible to have one near enough for all practical purposes of the average collector.

Looking at the subject from a pure. ly philateic point of view, the envel. opes of the United States offer a very rich field for study and research, as the dis, the watermark, paper and gum present an almost endless array of varieties. Looking at them as an investment they are equally good, for as philately advances inore attention will undoubtedly be paid to minor varieties and you will not collect envelopes any great length of time without finding catalogued varieties. Then, too, when the prices of the older adhesives reach the unapproachable, many collectors will give more attention to envelopes. Entire envelopes will at some time become popular, and when that time arrives the older issues will go up at a rapid rate. So many of them have been cut square. In my opinion square cut envelopes are slowly but surely going out of favor, and in a few years will be looked upon it the same light that we look at the round-cut specimens of to-day.

We hear considerable complaint about the amount of room taken up by entire envelopes and about the trouble of obtaining a suitable album for them, but I should have rather a poor opinion of a collector who would not collect them on that account.
I fully expect that I would be looked upon with the greatest contempt by all envelope specialists if I were to confess that I did not collect the different sizes of envelopes; yet such is the case. I collect differences of die, watermark and paper, but not differences of size. I strongly recommend this plan to collectors having limited means or to those who do not wish to specialize in envelopes, but to collect them as a branch of their general collection. While I fully realize that a general standard catalogue can never be complete enough for a specialist, yet it xeems to me that Scott might catalogue envelopes a little more fully: but perhaps it is far easier to see the faults of others than to do $a^{r} y$ better of as well ourselves.
F. C. Hammond.

ONWARD AND UPWARD.

What a wonderful advance philatelic literature has made within the pasp rear! At this time one year ago we had a lengthy list of so-called philatelic papers, probably more than we have now, but what an improvement has taken place! Nearly all the pror and worthless sheets have gone into olscurity, while in their places have prong up magazines of inestimable worth to the plulatelic public. Espe. cially is this true in the western part of our country. Besides this, nearly all the older and better established magazines have enlarged and improved to that extent that the American philatelists have such an array of good magazines that they can point to with pride and challenge any foreign nation to outdo us in beauty and excellence of philatelic reading matter.

Not only among papers and magazines is this grand advance noticeable, but the dealers are awakening to the fact that philatelists are an intelligent people and they are therefore giving more work and greater attention to the arrangement and appearance of their catalogues and price-lists.

A year ago, if a dealer could get out some kind of a sheet, written, typewritten, or printed in some cheap manner, giving the prices at which he sold his stamps, he was satisfied. Of course, this was not the case with all dealers, but it was the general rule. Now the general rule is the other way. Almost all the price lists and calalogues that we receive are neatly printed and gotten up in a handy style, which makes one feel that he is not wasting his time in reading them.

Mr. E. B. Jones, of Ruthven, lowa, has done just the right thing at the right time by placing upon the market his Check L.ist of Philatelic Publications, and has surprised us by the completeness of the work. In fact, everything that would come under the head of philatelic literature has made a great movement forward in the last year; and we all join in the desire to let the giond work go on.
D. Harlan King.

HARTLAND, WASH., DEC. 1895.

MAY edch of our readers enjuy a very prosperous and most happy New Year.

For sixty-five cents we can furnish you Scott's 56th catalogue postpaid and the E.S. P. one year.

With this issue we complete the magazine's second year of existence and its fourth volume. It was thought best to begin the new volume with the first of the year. We see no need of stating what has been done in the past or what will be done in the future, as the Evergreen is now too well known to call for the use of space in sodoing. Our readers know for themselves that in its two years of ups and downs it has never missed a number nor reprinted articles from other magazines. It can now be designated as one of the old standbys, and grateful for past pavors, we hope it will always merit them in the future.

Several hundred subscriptions ex. pire with this number. and a prompt renewal is solicited from those pleased with the magazine. Back numbers of the Evergreen are not kept in stock, and we invariably have to commence subscriptions with the current number. Would it not be well, then, to begiln your subscription with the first of the new volume?

AT this late date everyone is aware that the main increases all along the line in the price of United States stamps in the new 56th catalogue, is those unused or uncancelled. In our opinion this will create a greater demand for the cancelled stamps than for those not cancelled as long as thert is much difference in price between the two. Should this be the case, the unused stamps will not materially change in price during the coming year, and will practically be catalogued and sulu the same in '97, while the lightly cancelled specimens will take phenominal jumps in price during that time. A word to the wise should be sufficient.

A valued correspondent in Holland informs us that at the government printing office at Haarlem they recently printed the current issue. 5 c blue, in the yellow color used for the 3c stamps. "Immediately the mistake was discovered and the sheet destroyed, although fifteen stamps were lost and into the hands of dealers. At an auction sale in the month of September they were sold at the ridiculous price of twenty and thirty dollars :ach. The Dutch Philatelic Sociey wrote to the postmaster general at The Hague about these forgeries, and got the reply that the stamps are not acknowledged by the government and have no value at all to the trade. Therefore, I warn all American philatelists not to buy such inpies."

Dealers complained that our big edition last month was mailed too early in the season for them to satisfactorily price their stock, and we have therefore decided to put out a 5,000 edition for their benefit in March. Transient ads. will only be taken at $$ 1$ an inch, but contracts for three months or more will be accepted at our usual rates. In the near furure a big edition -big in reading-will be put out for the benefit of our subscribers, and we are preparing several treats for that issue.

In a communication from Mr . C. C. Gonzales, of Philadelphia, we learn that he has sailed for London to enter action against the firm of Harry Hilkes & Co. for $$ 100,000$, for defamation of character. His business will be promptly attended to during his absence. He also adds this pertinent query: "Do the English think we Americans do not value our gond name?" Harry Hilkes & Co. will be remembered as the publishers of the 'Stamp Collector's Fortnightly, the leading stampic magazine of England.

From Mr. R. Hollaar, of Rotterdam, Hollana-the E. S. P. representative for Europe-we learn that a scarce type of the Holland 1895 unpaid letter stamps in ultramarine has been discovered; namely, a minute but distinct ring in the right under corner of the frame-work enclusing the words "Te Betalen." These stamps, he writes, are very scarce, as on many of the sheets none are to be found, and on others not more than two on a sheet of 200 stamps. The specimen sent for our inspection shows the ring -in white-very clearly, and he says the price runs in Holland from one to five dollars each. This variety he has in the $1,5,10,12 \frac{1}{2}$ and 15 c stamps, but not in quantities justifying him advertising them for sale, although he has a few to dispose of. He corresponds fluently in English.

The past month we have been favored with a copy of A. F. Wicks' new price list- a list of interest to everyone and mailed by the publisher free, on request. A copy of W. F. Bishop's finely illustrated catalogue, of high grade stamps in unused condition only. A catalogue of C. 'i. Holden's 16th auction sale to take place on the 28th of this month. Also a neat card with the compliments of the season from J. N. and W. J. Deglman, those popular dealers of Mankato, Minn.

He had lots of stamps to sell, But found no one to buy 'em, Till the heard that E. S. P. ads took well, And said, "By George I'll try 'em." He did so, and next week he found, By nine or ten o'clock, A slew of answers on the ground, Who wanted the entire lot. - J. HANCOCK.

PHILATELIC TREASURES.

H. I. WATTS.

It makes the stamp collector's heart ache when he looks at the yawning blanks in his U. S. collection and then thinks of the stacks of rare old issues that are hidden away on old forgotten letters, in boxes and barrels. in damp cellars and mice-infected attics. Alas! how few of these treasures will ever see the light! and fewer still will find a resting place in the album of the aspiring collector.

I would rather rummage through some of these old letters, for stamps than to take a free trip around the world.
How often in tearing down these odd houses, dozens and hundreds of old letters, each one bearing a precious philatelic prize, are fed to the cruel ilames!

Such a vast majority of people are ignorant of the value of such stamps, that yearly great numbers are thus destroyed, and no effort can avail to save them.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER.

There are eleven presses iu the Burealu of Engraving and Printing at Wavington, engaged in the printing of prostage stamps for Uncle Sam. Each one of these presses produce 160,000 specimens per hour, so that in a working day of eight hours, each press turns out $1,280,000$ stamps. And thus the entire eleven presses would produce $14,080,000$ stamps iti the course of the day. The perforations are made with machine in which little wheels that look like saws, are arranged the width of a stamp apart, and produce the perforations, by which the stamps are so easily separated, as the sheet of stamps is fed in beneath. These machines are operated by girls. The Bureau of Engraving is a very busy place, and but very few persons, except employees, are allowed to enter, either during or after working hours.

In the official Postoffice Guide for July, postmasters are warned against selling periodical or due stamps to any one. It seems queer that such instructions should be given to postmasters, but of late there has been so many calls for these stamps by collectors, that some postmasters have sold them.

The Western Union have issued their 1895 Franks. They are of a rich chocolate color, with the numbers in red.

Ones who know, claim there will be some surprises in the prices of certain stamps when the 56th edition of Scott's catalogue comes out.

Stanley Gibbons' standard catalogue tenth edition, has made its appearance.

It is rumored that the color of the present $2 c$ is to be changed. This may be authentic or not, but most collectors would be pleased to see some other shade take the place of timehonored carmine. C. E. Bostwick.

CORRESPONDENCE.

New York City, Nov. 4, '95.
Mr. French. Dear Sir:-l recently purchased several thousand Victoria stamps, and in arranging them in packets I noticed in several tha: the inner line in the frame surrounding the queen's head was broken, some in one place. some in two and three or more places. I have found only five this way among about 10,000. I enclose three stamps. No. 1 you will notice is perfect. In No. 2 the frame is broken in one place, and in No. 3 in several places. Can you or the readers of your paper tell me what should cause this?

1 also have a stamp of 1861 , on the original cover, issued unperforated. It is genuine, and the size is $24 \times 26 \mathrm{mim}$. Can you or anyone tell me what value to place on it? This stamp show's 3 mm . of the adjoining one, so there cannot be any possibility of its being perforated. Yours very truly,
Chas. C. Rogers.

The stamp raferred to is the one penny of 1890-92.-ED.

NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN NOTES

> EY-JOVE.

It is rumored around town that the Scott Coin & Stamp Co, are to sell out; they have sold their coin department to J. E. Handshaw, of Smithtown Branch, New York. May this prove to be untrue. But alas, it is on good authority that it comes from.

The National Philatelic Society held a meeting December 10, at which time a small auction sale wa: hed. At the next meeting it is expected that the largest sale ever held will take place.

The Haley Stamp Co., of Brooklyn, have bought over five collections during Novenber, one containing over 5,000 varieties.

The postmaster-general has decidec that the postoffice is not a collectung agency. What a boon for approval sheet swindlers!

The fad of collecting plate numbers has run its length, and is now hanging.

Nassau Street, Stamp Vilie.

RICHARD DOIDGE, GALT, ONT.

A good deal has been said of late about frauds; among others, Richard Doidge, of Galt, Ontario.

We were informed that this gentleman( ?) had left for his home in Enyland some time ago. A vear ago we had some dealings with him, but did not trust him very highly. However, he did get into our debt, and paid ift attention to letters asking for settlement. About six months later we happened to stop at Galt, and, calling on "our boy," collected the amount without any tr cuble.

Our opinion is that his intentions were not in defraud anyone. His scheme of business, it seemed to 11s, was something like this: Carrying (1). ly a small stock, heordered stamp: 0 approval from dealers. These he - ent out on sheets to collectors, and the majority of the latter were never again heard from. Consequently he could. not return the dealers' lots, nether could he pay for them. He advertised his approval sheets quite extent sively, and no doubt was roped in hy many dishonest collectors; so, in order to get even, it appears he ha made himself as scarce as possith. leaving a number of accounts unseltled. He was probably about 20 years old.

raHY is it that our revenues are so little in demand? Truethe demand is on the increase, but it certainly is not what it ought to be.

It camnot be for lack of beauty, for there are no more beautiful stamps in existence. Who has ever seen a full page of revenues, and has not longed to possess them? Certainly not the reader.

To all patriotic Americans they should have more than a purely philatelic value, as they are of historical value as well- having played an important part in our late civil war. On Juiy 2d, 1862 Congress passed an act levying a tax, or duty, on nearly all of our daily necessities; therefore the revenue stamp had to be issued in value from one-cent to two hundred dollars. This issue was unperforated and continued in use for nearly two years. July 9th, 1864 a new act was passed imposing additional duties on a majority of our daily necessities. This issue was of the same design as the previous issue, but perforated. The reason the stamps are of historical value is that the duty put on the articles, mortages, bonds, etc., was to pay the expenses of the war.

In 1871 the government abolished the duty on all articles except medicine, matches, and legal documents. The stamps were then issued in values from one cent to $$ 500$ and colored blue and black wtth Washington's head in the center.

In 1872 the goverment issurd another series from one cent to twenty dollars, in nearly all colors, with black in the center. At this time the taxes on matches were taken off.

In 1871 the proprietary stamps were issued in values of from one to six cents; in 1874 from fifty cents to $$ 5.00$, and in 1875 the ten cent stamp was issued. The stamps were black and green.

One of the objections of times made is, that they are catalogued at very low figures. This is not the care of any one can see by looking over a catalogue. In the 55th edition Scott's catalogues four general varities; the unperforated or those which had in be cut apart; the perforated, the part perforated (perforated at sides but not top or bottom) the old paper (dark shade, the new is almost white) and last but not least, silk paper, which has a few silk threads-perhaps only one-the object being to prevent forgeries.

> tRemarks on > ERA.

The ten green Woodworth perfume stamp with the name and location cut out is a variety which is seldom met with. The only notice of it will be found in Sterling's list of medicine oddities. The stamps is also found with the erasures made with heavy line cancellation.

The lower values of the newspapers have appeared on water-marked paper. Where will the unwater-marked series rank in variety?

Three distinct colors of the first issue 5 cent confederate can be found light green, dark green, and sage; the latter shade being but seldom met with.

The 1,3 , and 10 cent 1872 exists in rare proof condition on pink laid paper, and in this shape are much rarer that on the yellow "chemical" paper.

Among the varieties offered in Casey's 29th sale (Oct. 17, 1891) was an unsevered pair of $$ 100$ Oregon revenues, one of which was upside down to the other, undoubtedly coused by the insertion of a die in the plate upside down.

The 1 cent Ives matches has been noted with double perforations but are about as plentiful as white crows.

I recently saw two elegant specimens of the 5 cent, head of Taylor. the first unperforated with extra large margains and the other on laid paper. The owner was justly proud of the pair.

The E. S. P. stands without a peer, as an adverlising medium.
"H2oteg."

$\mathbb{I}$UBLISHERS of stamp jour. nals serve up their bills of fare in many different forms. We have the deeply scientific article, with its long lists of statistical information, which are a delight to the advanced philatelist, but a sore to the young novice; the semi-scientific, which attempts to impart philatelc knowledge in a newsy manner; the essay, which handles some philatelic subject in a abstract fashion; a com. position that may be termed the "remonstrating" article, setting forth the complalnts of some reformer against existance abuses and his idees of reform; the light and airy artice, which has but little connection with philately; and lastely the "Notes". Of these notes, their merits and demerits, the writer begs leave to make a few remarks in the following.

In spite of some abuse and condemnation the note still flourishes and multiplies. It is not difficult to get at the cause of this. It is no great labor to sit down and dash off a doun notes, while a long article requires much thought and work. The philatelic essayisis who give us the loung artistic compositions are graduall leaving their first love, phulatelic journalism, and entering the professiont field, while the note writers are te coming more numerous every dal Their style is not particularly elabor. ate, in fact, frequently very simple but as far as knowledge goes they art not behind their predecessors.
"Knowledge Is power" applies to philately, as well as to uther matters. The article, be its form what it will, which gives the most information is the best We are not so much in need of fine rhetoric, although this is an agrerable adjunct, as for solid stamp knowledge. Notes can give this in a nutshell, which should recommend them strongly to the fin de siecle reader, who appreciates the merit of brevity.
Of course, there are notes and notes. Hany are very poor stuff and a mere waste of space. These cannot be too sirongly discountenanced.
It may also be said that a paper imposed entirely of notes certainly proves tiresome. One can get too much of almost anything and philarelic notelets are no exception to the rule.
If used in a reasonabiy limited way, however, they prove a most agreeable thange from the old time articles of various lengths, and, in the winter's evimation at least, should not be unreerervedly condemmed, but, on the contrary, the production of good notes should be encouraged.

"Col." N. F. Seeker, of gumbug fame, was a prominent stamp dealer in the early seventies. It is a pity that he could not have stuck to an honest occupation.

The stamps of the new issue of Porlugal have their backs, advertisements similar to those on the New Zealand stamps But these are all alike and a government affair. Why could not our postoffice department have utilized the backs of our stamps to save money instead of letting the contract to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing? They would have made more money by it and the people would not have been compelled to use those ungumed outrages, which appeared at firs!. But is the government making so great a saving by the new contract if we consider the large number of stamps that had to be destroyed at first? However, the Bureall is doing very good work now. ## z 5atire on Errors.

NE thing of late seems to harbor almost with the ridiculous. That is the discovering of errors (?) in postage stamps.

It is all very well to collect legitimate errors, and it also probably casts credit upon the discoverer if he brings them before the public, but there is a limit to all human endurance:. Perhaps, io use an old adage, "Too many cooks spoil a broth."
With a government as large as the United States, and where such an imnense numbel of stamps are made. it is but reasonable to suppose that a greater or less number of minor errors creep out-even under the strict scrutiny that stamps receive.

We, as Americans, are interested in our stamps, and are anxious to bring these small variances to light. It is all well enough to do this, but, as I have before averted, there is a ridiculous side to everything. When Jason Stumper brings to light some efrors, showing the period on one to he one hundredth of a mm . smaller than ordinary, or when Arthur Lancer finds a two cenit 1890 which has turned somewhat yellow or a stamp where one tonth of the perforation is missing, our limit of human endurances is strained to the last notch.

It is not uncommon to see a 2 cent $18 \% 0$ of a yellow shade. I actually know where several of this shade are. lhey were made into a design reprerenting a railroad, and framed, and exposed, to the bright sunlight for over a year, and the red coloring matter (as it is want to do) faded away.

Herewith I chronicle a list of unchronicled errors (?) :

Commencing with the 1 cent 1890 , the specimen I have before me has no figure one on the left side (torn off).

The bust of the 3 cent is severed and the lower part has been torn off by somebody.

A drop of red ink has changed Lincoln's features on the 4 cent.

There is a hole in the collar of Grants coat in the 5 cent. The 6 cent stamp was boiled with a lot of rusty nails and consequently has a rurty appearance. (a valuable errornot)

A small ship has been stamped across the face of the 8 cent stamp. It (the ship) is of green color. The ten cent Webster was severed in the center and one half of it pasted over the 15 cent stamp. West is it worth 25 cents, or $12 \frac{1}{2}$ cents?

Some enterprising philatelist (?) has neatly removed the center of the 30 cent stamp and inverted it., thus making a great error. (no pun)

A trifle of the upper portion was burned 0 the 90 cent stamp, and consequently it is somewhat serated and a few mms. shorter than the ordinary.

Conclused next issue.

Another popular packet is the 85 variety one sold by Mr. E. T. Carıer

While in Goldendale recentlythis county-our attention was called to a notice on a bulletin board offering to buy for cash, old U. S. stamps. This would be generons person lives in Nebraska alid it seemed like meeting an old friend to find this notice where people do not know the dit. ference between a phlatelist and any other kind of an ist. We wonder how many bonanzas he has secured from our own stamping grounds,-as it were.

Speaking of Goldensale, - we advise any of our readers looking for a profitable field in which to invest their capital, to write to J. G. Maddock, that popular publisher of "The Republican."- the leading newspaper of the county-for a copy of his paper. Any inquiries pertaining to the rounty and its resources will be cheerfully attended to by addressing the same party. Mr. Maddock is also president of our leading bank and one of our most intluential and reliable citizens.

In March 5,000 copies will be printed and mailed to as many different addresses. This edition is put out for the benefit of our regular advertisers and transient advertisements can only be published at $$ 1.00$ per inch, but contracts for three months or more will be accepted at our usual rates. For the last six months this magazine's bona fide circulation has been larger than any other monthly, philatelic magazine published and we are pleased to note that many of our most reliable deaters have at last found it out.

The next number will be a special ritition,-"big, in reading and other treais - for the benefit of our subscribers. Arrangements are being completed to publish cuts of all the officers of the new Interstate Philatelic Association, including the three Portland Trustees of the P.S. of A. Photo engravings of these celebrities have never been seen in any of our periodicals and this one issue will be wouth several times the subscription price. A number of extra copies will be printed and can be secured at ten cenls each. No free sample copies will be sent out during next month (ill account of the expense attached to the getring out of this costly edition. Subscribers and those paying for a capy will receive one; advertisers will receive a marked copy as usual.

In a letter we received from Canada containing copy for insertion we find the following: "Say, if there is going In le a fight bring your stamps along as vou will need something to cheer "ow on your fruitless errand." Why, Wess you brother; we'll tell you welming if you wont tell anybody. ite philatelists who specilize in U.S. are quietly huyng up Canadian, for if this "ligh"" rakes place it will only be a matter of time when the whole of British North America will belong to Uncle Sammy and we must have the stamps of our own country. Even "great Scott" has heard of this and you will notice in his 56th, advances all along the line in the price of stamps of what is now called Canada.

Rrobably every one is aware that a bill has been lately introduced and has many influential supporters, to reduce the rate of postage to one cent on tirst class natter and to raise it ${ }^{\circ} 0$ eight cents a pound on second ciass At that rate it would cost such magazines as Harper's, the "Century" etc., nearly eight cents per copy for postage and we think such a vigorous kick will be raised that some sort of a compromise will be made. It is well known that many perıodicals are now circulated through the mails at second class rates which are not entitled to them and they will undoubtedly be shut out in the near funure. Philatelic magazines would suffer greatly too,on account of their low subscription price-should this law pass. It costs fully two cents a copy to only print an pdition of the Evergreen and then add eight cents a pound postage it would materially reduce our receipts Of course new ventures would necessarily be killed in their infancy, but a magazine well patronized with ads could he issued hut with little profit to its publisher.

ひ. $\mathfrak{m}$. Droots.

$\mathbb{I D}$AVE you ever thought how very cheap the U.S. proofs can be obtained at present? But a very short time ago l obtained a keautiful set of Justice for two dol. lars, and they are selling for very little, if any, more to day. Comparing the number in existence with the number of certain admitedly rare stamps would prove that a set of proofs of ally of the scarcest departments ought to bring more than two dollars-as indeed they should. The reason they do not is simply and solely because they are not fashionable. A good many collectors, when you talk proofs to them, say: "I do not collect proofs lecause they are not receivable for postage and never were." This is true as far as it goes but it don't go very lar. Postage due stamps, to say nothing abuut official seals, do not pay postage. Yei we collect them as, although they do not actually pay postage, they bave a postal use. For this reason I think we should also collect proofs. The United States government did not issue proofs for profit or pleasure, but because there was a use-a need-for them.

Proofs,-especially proofs of the department stamips,-make a beautiful looking page in your album and while beauty is not the main thing yet it counts for something in their faver. If proofs should get their deserts and become fashionable, as at some lime they surely must, it would not take long to exhaust the dealers present stock and to send the prices higher than Giljaroy's proverbial kite.

I do not know the exact number of proofs issued by the government or l might make some interestung comparisons with certain high priced stamps, hut it is just as well, perhaps, as statistics do not amount to much in stamp matters.

I think that I am correct in stating that the greater part of the proofs sold during the last five years have been sold to advanced collectors, although it seems to me it would be natural to expect exactly the opposite.

My album does not at present, 1 am sorry to say, contain anywhere near a complete set of proofs but I shall take good care to have it contain quite a few more a year from now than it does today. I do not think you will ever have cause to regret it if you make the same decision about your own album. Although I know that all the money that I have spent for stamps has been well invested, I think that time will prove that one of the best investments | ever made was in the purchase of U. S. proofs.
F. C. HAMMOND.

E Satire on Errors.

The "Dol" of dollars in the $$ 5$ Columbian is missing. In assorting 5,000 this one caught on a tack and was torn thuswise. The "R", in DOLLAR of the two dollar Columbian is also missing. Some one having cut it out. And so on, ad infinitum. A period may be scraped off a stamp or one put on, by the dishonest, and we have indeed a magnificent (?) error.

What we want is proofs that your finds are really errors. I should not place much faith in the story of some inexperienced youth. If you convince us you have really discovered an error, will believe proof, but cannot place much reliance in a single statement, nor a single specimen.

I may cut a one cent stamp into forty-nine pieces, and, in one sense, they are varieties, yet how many persons would receive them as such? Saying and demonstrating are two entirely different things.

Chemical changelings should have no bearings in Philately. It is a comparitively easy matter to change a red color to white, or vice versa. In fact, I do not think there is a color that camnot be changed; but, is the person guilty of such an act a Philatelist?

Not, if we know of what we speak. Changelings are 110 more valuable than so much paper.

Can not a period be enlarged, removed from, or a new one placed on, a stamp? Especially is this easily done on a surcharged stamp. How. ever, the counterfeit will sooner: or later be detected, and anyone guilty of such an act should be severely pun. ished

As before stated, a little variety is relished; alegitimate error is appreciated, but a counterfeit or a stamp doctored to sell, we have no use for.

The Government places many safeguards to prevent real or accidental errors appearing before the public. and a very strict account is kept of a spoiled sheet, from the time of spoilation until it is destroyed, yet it is reasomable to suppose many varieties do leak out nevertheless. There is no rule that hath not its exceptions. Let us quote the capped variety-2 cent $\mathbf{1 8 9 0}$. Do you suppose the examiners noticed this small error?

Again, how is it the newspaper stamps getting into the hands of the public? Were they ever imended to get out of the hands of the Government? They d: get out, notwithstanding, and if they, why not others'

What we wish to shut down on is "fake errors". Give us the genuinc or none. We have a supply of the former, but can stand ais increase if the genuine.

If every dealer and coliector would adopt the rule "Prove it hefure we believe it", it would be an exceilens plan. Before rushing of with an error, have absolute proof that it is not a counterfeit. This once forever settled, the rest is comparitively eas: e. Quere Philman.

On Articles and Other Matters of Interest in the Philatelic World.

$\tau$ASMANIA and its Stamps is the initial article of every good number of the Eastern Philatelist, ( January). Miss Amy L. Swift gives a very entertaining description of the Island and also an interesting discussion of its stamps (which unfortunately cannot be said of every such discussion of the stamps of some country) She mentions several uncatalogued varieties and gives some good points for distinguishiilg the different varieties of the 187091 issue. We are in need of more such articles didactic without being dry.

The first installment of what will probably be a valuable contribution to philatelic literature, "Counterfeits 1 have seen," by S. B. Hopkins, will be found in the same number. Mr. Hopkins says that counterfeits can be "Spotted" by "(1) perforations differink in size or style from those of the origulal, the latter to be obtained from any standing catalogue or reterence list; (2) by the defective or improper impression of the design, or of the cancellation, if one is applied; (3) by a variation, more or less marked, from the color of the original; (4) by the presence or absence of the watermark, of horizontal or vertical lines, of silk threads, of a certain color of texture, in the paper used; (5) by failure to reproduce exactly, in all its details, the orignal design; (6) by the application (A) an impossible cancellation, 100 many bars, too few circles, bars too thick or too far apart, circles too thin or too close together, incorrect date of post-office number, etc." Some of these differences will be found on every counterteit. The counterfeits of the 6 d . rose, 1868, Orange Free State, and the IJ. S. 1867, 5c. blue, (newspaper) are the first forgeries treated.

Lovewell handles the subject of the "Error"-What is it? somewhat faceniously, and gives the cataloguers a whack or two on the score of consistency in cataloguing errors. The compler of catalogues is a much abused mortal just a present, and it seems that the process of hauling over the coals will not end with the vigorous remonstrance against the skyward direction of the prices.

Mt. Raymund S. Baker continues his Chats on B.N. A. Stamps, those of Prince Edwards Island being discussed in the January number. The remark above in regard to Tasmania and its Stamps applies to these as well. Mr. Baker is certainly giving us sume excellent work in this series. It might not be fair to the other 25 c magazines of the Critic were to say that the Eastern is "the" best of the class, but it certainly is one of the very best, and Editor Pinkham deserves considerable credit for giving the collecting fraternity such an excellent paper for such a small price.

A feature in the philatelic world is the importance attached to Auction Sales and Prices. The Boston Stamp Book and the Philatelic Era are both devoting considerable space to them, while most of our papers have more or less to say on the subject each month. There is no doubt but what the true valuations of stamps can be easily obtained by closely following the prices realized at the various sales. Collectors seem to be awakening to the fact that pices fixed by one firm cannot possibly be always correct, and that auction prices are the true indicators of values.

The Critic has the fortune, or misfortune, as some of our friends would say, of having profound admiration for the publisher of the Philatelic Era and his able Associate. Their paper is indeed published in the interest of collectors, and time and again they have proven their zeal in the collector's cause. It is gratifying to see that their Weekly is meeting with much success.

Mr. Tr.wnsend in his Washington notes, (issue of Feb'y lst), makes some sharp remarks in regard to the reprints of the large Newspaper stamps not being catalogued. Wolcott of Chicago pitches into Puritan in a rather too personal way pussibly, but it must be admitted that he was justified to a great extent. Mr. Jenney, the Pacific Coast correspondent, gives some points as to the method he used in making a check list of his collection. The Boston representative gives us the interesting information that probably the watermark on the U.S. stamps is to be changed. This is news indeed, and such as to cause some stamp men sleepless nights, i. e., those of a speculative inclination, and a majority of fin de siecle collectors are. Think of the worry and vexation which followed in the train of our last charge! The Postoffice people's life will not be a happy one, if Nesco's prediction comes true.
W. H. Kessler, Jr., the new Editor of the Michigan Philatelist, gives an interesting account of the "Increase in the Prices of U. S. Stamps" in the February number of that Journal. The comparisons between the prices in the $51 \mathrm{st}, 55 \mathrm{th}$, and 58 th editions of the catalogue of the Scott Co. show some startling advances. QuestionAre these advances justified? In many cases, it may be said, almost. if not entirely; in others, the 30 and 90 C Justice for example, most assuredly not. The Critic thinks however, that no collector will make a mistake in following Mr. Kessler's advice to fill up his U. S. collection. Veritas.

a. 5. Rotes.

ERA
As tar as instanced by the auction sales the best authorized advance in the 56th edition is that of the $11 \times 13$ grilled 15 c black which is selling right along very close to the near price.

Why the Scott Co., fail to list the 1875 first perforate issue seems to be that being unreceivable for fostage they are reprints and not reissues and consequently barred; but this fact does not interfere with their scarcity at all and they rank on a par with the other 1875 issues in the manner in which they draw upon a would be owner's pocket book
The Bureau of Engraving issued the first of the special delivery stamps prefared by them on Oct. 10, 1894, and up to Aug. 16, 1895, when watermarked paper commenced to be used 3,596,500.
Considerable prophesying has been done whereby the unwatermarked 8c is to become a rarity but when the number issued is considered ( $2,426,-$ 100 ) and the further consideration that collectors have probably absorbed at least half of the issue, it would hardly seem that there would be a death of specimens for several years yet.
A variety hard to obtan is the last deyign due stamp ic in a pink color. l.ook out for them.

A bone uf contention between the a it orities just now is the ribbed paper issue of 1872 ; hut as yet neither side seems to have made out a conclusive case. The only point up to date made of any seeming value, is the fact that all the ribhed finds of 3 cents made by one side came from continental plates and are of a dark yellow qleen shade.

Hotes.

Just now the question of stamp hinges is being discussed and several liew styles of hinges may be shortly expected.

In must of the larger post offices there is hardly a sheet of stamps now kearing the marginal strip with imprint and number. Their 'absence marks the path of the plate number collector.

Dealers report that the trade in plate numbers is rapidly growing and that ever mail brings urgent requests for selections.

Some people seem to have laid in a greater amount of one cent Columhians than they care to keep. A large dealer has just used several thousand of them to mail their annual price lists.

The question of using illustrations of British stamps is still being aiscussed in England.

Canadian correspondents announce that the supply of the new two cent envelopes in the smailer offices is already exhausted.

Auclion sales are numerous and some lancy prices are being paid for certain choice stamps. H. I. Watts.

Current Comment.

 BY NEB. SIRROM.The latest is the Philatelic Literature Society This is a good idea, and should be, and is being encouraged. It will be a great help to collectors of this grade of literature, and will also help our journals wonderfully, as every member will be a subrcriber to ten or fitteen papers. Help it along boys.

The rules laid down by the Eastern Ex. Supt. P. S. of A. are not as good as "Brody's" way. In the new rules the receiver of the sheets has to pay postage and registration both ways while in the old rules you only pay it one way.

Ohio will have a new stamp paper the first to be issued about June 1, '96. It will have about $158 \times 12$ pages and cover.

Philatelic Literature collection is rapidly pushing to the front. It is one of the most interesting branches ot our beloved "hobby."

The S of P . hand book has been received, it is a credit to the society and its publishers.

Welcome! Aye duubly welcome is the Daily Stamp ltem It is another rock under the solid foundation of Philately.

A great many small papers are springing up lately, that is about $3 \times 4$ inches in size.

The West has a candidate for almost every P. S. of A. office.

A Literary Exchange Dept. has been added to the P. S. of A.

Hotes for Collectors.

BY F. W. KAUPP.

We used to think that stamp papers sprung up as fast as weeds, but weeds aint in it, and they'll have to hust!e next summer according to looks of things.

It is said that some of our first class papers are going to have a department in which to chronicle new stamp fapers. That's all right but who's going to start a grave yard.

There has been 60 different stamp papers published in Massachusetts. It may also be interesting for some to know that the first number of the Eastern Philatelist was published in Fitchburg Mass. in 1887, and that the first two volumes were published in this place.

If you find that there are too many papers to collect, why don't you make a specialty of the papers which have been published in your own state.

Our Canadian Brothers have but one paper now, and it should be given the best of support. There was once a time when our best papers camie from Canada, but the withdrawal of second class rates from two of the largest papers has not only caused their "death" but it has also puta stop to the issue of new publicalions.

Written for the Philatelic Press.
As every one knows, one origital idea is worth ten moth-eaten and time-worn "pieces of think," in this, modernized struggle for existence, and theugh if you investigate, you will find them very scarce, being only ideas dressed up a little more elathorately than when discovered, sonle centuries ago, yet if the style of dress is becoming, it is liable to attract at tention and you will be crowned as a benefactor to the human race, but cart must be exercised and exercised, to prevent the crown from turning to thorns, for the public is once fickle.

With the necessary adjuncts of a literary life, namely dictionaries and enclycopedias galore at hand, and plentiful and unlimited supplies of paper, ink and a good pen and pencil, a person of a literary turn of mind can by tollowing the general rules laia down in this article, write an eligible article for any paper extant, if he remembers that originality, first and last, is the only quality that will carry much weight with it.

Taking my subject in hand, or pen, as it happens to be, 1 give the experience of several years literary work. both on my part, and that of other persons for your guidance.

Unless you have something to say never take up the pen, but taking it for granted that your brain is fairly teeming with good things, struggling for utterance into the world of letters, I say choose your subject and along that line, take copious notes, and anything and everything relative to the chosen subject; then make a rough draft in pencil and then revise.

Statistics are needed in any shape nowadays, but when told in an interesling style they are sure to get their share of attention, and that must be taken into consideration whill revising; ly that I mean cutting out useless sords and phrases, eliminating ambigirous or words of doub:ful meaning, carefully filling in all details, rounding off rough corners, and strengthening weak places, no matter where found, and throwing in here and there a little "hot shot" to liven things up and krep one from going to sleep.

As a general thing articles covering and including facts concerning stamps are mostly called for by our press, and yielding to the laws of supply and demand they bring the lighest prices, but good stories, with or without morals, will fetch a few cents here and there, and poems, verses, prose hits and other squibs will catch a tew quarters every now and then, all the time placing you more before the public; the publicity sometimes being indesirable however, but that is diverging too far.

I would like to advise every author, would be or shall be, or that now is, to demand a far valuation in cash for every article submitted for publication, for divers and various reasons go to prove that it is the best plan. Set a price on your MSS. before sending it to a publisher, and as sooll as a combined effort is made along that line, our Philatelic Journals will rapidly improve, both in contents and character, for first the paper that is always and eternaily offering advertising space or its equivalent in anything except cash, will be gradually forced to the wall and the worthy papers will receive its patronage or it will improve so much in tone and looks, achieved by its independent payment of cash for articles submitted, that it will be gladly supported; secondly a much larger and consequently brighter force of authors will appear, for does not money bring competitors, and competitors compe. titor and competition business; in more ways than one? and thirdly a larger amount of money will be placed in circulation by and among philatelists (for which I will be truly grateful, by the way,) thus opening the "pocket book" to a more "i. e.' thorough realization of its duty, subscribing for "Philatelic Journals."

Of course you must always enclose return postage, except when contributions are requested and as I have said it is best to set your own price, but always remember, first, last, and always, it is either origınality in ideas, or in the decoration of ideas, that overcome all opposition.

Young authors must not underestimate the worth of a note-book, by any means for it is the notes really that make a good author, for who could remember all the data of an interesting article and tell it in an interesting manner at the same time, or as the old negro man said when talking about China, on the oppusite side of the world on the visavis side of it "Marster"?
rioping that the above will interest all readers, I request those that do not like it to clip it out and return it to me with not less than 25 c cash.

A bill has been presented at Congress proposing a plan to let all cities in the United States, numbering 100,000 inhabitants or over, to have postage stamps of special designs. These stamps will commence to orate some notable historical event or resident of the city. If this scheme should be carried out, the question naturaliy arises among us: will this he help to Philately or not? This is a difficult question to solve, but it seems to me that, though it might stimulate an interest to collect among the present noncollectors, it would be constant trial to the advanced philatelist tu have so many new issues coming out every two or three years.

We read in Philatelic Journals all over the world of the dangers with which our science is surrounded and the mistakes to be avoided, but how many times has the reader tound anything upon the above subject? We do not intend here to surgest a remedy but the plilatelic press should be outspoken against the practice of misleading adverlisements, as well as aim to exclude the advertisements of unknown patrons. A short time ago we received a sample copy of a philatelic journal containing the advertissments of two frauds, and looking at the editorial page we found that the paper claimed a circulation of 2,000 . Are we justified in believing the statement in view of the fact that the Journal is not entered at the postofice for transmissior at second class rates? Our attention has also been called recently to the advertisements of ar American dealer. Although we reyu* larly recelve over 50 American stamp publications we never see his advertisements in any of them, but he advertises in a large number of foreign papers after this style: "Fine U. S. Mixuture containing at least 60 sorts 1847 to date, the $1,2,3,4,5,6,10$, 12. 24,30 , and 90 cent values; a great many grills; the 7 dues; special delivery, newspaper and old confederate states, etc., at $$ 7.20$ per 10,000 ." Now how many 5c 1847; 12, 24 and $90 c$ postage; 30 and 50 c dues would you naturally expec: to find in such a mixture? If there were one of each of the 5 stamps mentioned they would be worth one-third of what he gets for 10,000 . Again he advertises "Columbus 9 sorts $$ 1.20$ per 1.000." How many 3.6 , and 15 c stamps? To clinch his hold on the unsuspecting rictim he adds. "These lots are very low and give tremendous profils, being composed of fine specimens of scarce and desireable stamps in larger variety lhan other dealers."

Calk of pbilately.

The catalogues and the advance in price seem to occupy most of the mind of the American philatelic public. The 56 th is out and a new edition of "Ours" is amnounced for February 1st the advanced sheets being already issued. For the time the collecting of vamps seem to hold a minor place and our so called philatelists are naught hut speculators. No doult to be in a feverish staic of mind concerning the prospect of advance in the quotathin of some favorite class of slamps is "quite the proper thing". Why not be stamp collectors in fact as well as in name.

New papers galore are entering our journalistic field. But in most cases these new candidates for public favor are far inferior to the long established magazines. And naught but an early death can be predicted for them. The Pacific Northwest is soon to have another journal, the Philatelist published at Waterville, Wash.

The suspension of Georges Carion for one year from the American Philatelic Association is being thoroughly discussed in the press. The general opinion is and justly so, that a great wrong has been done a gentleman of un!arnished fame If it is so, as we have seen it stated that the suspension is the work of the French Philatelic Sociefy and its president M. Maury, why should a moments attention be given to a complaint coming from such authorily? M. Maury, father of the Abssinian frauds, will have many spurious French Colonial surcharges to answer for on that great judgement morn. That the word of this philatelic black sheep should be accepted without question seems peculiar to say the least. To suspend the popular San Francisco dealer on the mere accusation of such a man without a defense being allowed savors more of the Spamsh Inquisition than the boasted liberty of America.

Now that the holidays are past we settle down to solid business, once more, R. R. Bogert is to be seen every day making for the Shoe & Leather Bank with a wad of bills and a bag of gold between two and three every afternoon.

A movement is on foot to organize a philatelic club in Brooklyn-brother Raymond L. Pery is said to be at the helm. It is a long felt want and should cease to be so.

Ralph Ashcroft the well known exSec'y of the P. S. of A. is a resident of the city of churches, and a well known chess fiend.

1 recently noticed an advertisement on a fence with the following: "Was, in our stamp business. Selling during the holidays at one-half price. Stamps bought." How long before our daily papers will have stamp ads.

The trolley mail service is in operation in Brooklyn, thus doing away with wagons and causing a large saving to the P. O. authorities. The cars are white and thirty-eight feet long.
W. S. Brockway 1071 Lafayette Ave, Brouklyn has a collection well worth looking at. Mr. Brockway started it some 22 years ago, and in it are to be found some of the most complete sets in the city.

The Halsey Stamp Co., of 226 Halsey St., Brooklyn has just issued a 250 page catalogue, which they ask 25 c for, the prices are very reasonable and all stamps will be supplied at catalogue prices. Success brother Peny. look out and do not crowd the Scott Stamp and Coin Co , out.

The New York chamber of commerce has taken up one cent postage on all letters under 2 oz .

Owing to the lateness, in sending out the notices of the National Philatelical Soc'y meeting, the notices not arriving in many cases untıl the night of the meeting, the auction sales to have been held on Tuesday Jan. 28th and Tuesday Feb. 11th were posponed until the 11 th and 25 th of February.

What has become of the $S$. of P ? No Collector (Official organ) and no notices that a new year is here and 25 c will take you and the S . of P . through it.

The Scoti Stamp & Coin Co., have frames of stamps on every elevated R. R. station on the 3d Ave. line, they have had them on the 6th Ave line for several years. but having them on the 3 d is new.

One of the best auction sale cata. logues in appearance ever received by the writer is for the sale of W . Elliut Woodward's magnificent collection principally of U. S. stamps. They are to be sold at auction in Wesleyan Hall, 36 Bromfield St. Boston, Mass., on March 11, 12, and 13, 1896.

Brooklyn is to have a new stamp journal the Brooklyn Philatelist, it is to be published by the Pellington Stamp Co., of 11 Pellington Place. Mr. J. W. Van Ostrand Jr. Mgr. May success be with you and may you fair better than Asheroft publisher of the old Brooklyn Philatelist and the Brooklyn Stamp.

The Bronklyn Philatelic Club is an assured thing having for its charter members R. L. Perry, C. R. Braine. J. W. Van Ostrand Jr,, Ralph Asheroft, Beecher Ogden and Gerald O.

Lamont. The first meeting was held at Mr. Lamont's residence 212 Park Place, letters were read from several regreting their not being able to be present, but joining and giving their best wishes. A good move, Brooklyn has long needed a stamp socie y.

TRANSIENT trade motices can not be published in the next number unless the copy is accompanied by the cash at the rate of Ic per word.

AND now speculators are buying up the ic State Defarment stamp, no doubt thinking it is going to climb the ladder of price as did its brother, the 2c value,

There recently came into our possesion plate number 215 of the current

A resolution has been introduced in the Senate, directing inquiry whether the Danish West Indies can now be hought, it will be remembered that Denmark wanted to sell these islands to our government thirty years ago. I heir sale would greatly advance the price of certain stamps of these islands which are already quite desirable; three of them now being priced in the dollars.

Congressman Loyd has introduced a bill in Congress providing for the msurance of mail matter to the extent of $$ 10$, which, should it pass. might require a special stamp tor that purpose; and another bill that any card that conforms with the size required by the department may go though the mails with a ic stamp atrached thereto. BESIDES giving us the foregoing 10 think of and speculate over, another lill has heen introduced to abolish the fourth-class or merchandise rates of pristage, and include the same schedule inder the present third-ilass rates. In fact Congress seems determined to tinker with our present postal laws intil-should they succea in fixing (?) them-their own father would'nt know them.

LaST month we promised to publish photo-engravings of the officers of the I. P. A. We have endeavored to do so but could not secure the photos in time for this monthly edition. They will be published without tail in the April number and a copy sent to those who paid for a copy this month or who may send in their dime for a copy in April. We cannot mail any free sample copies of that issue. In passing we wish to state that we are proud of our organization, with its fit ty members and more, and less than three months old, and prophesy it will number two hundred and fifty before its first year of existence.

ONCE again we have had to permantly add 500 more copies to our monthly circulation, caused by the large number of names recently put on our subscription books. Previous to this the E.S. P. was the choicest medium afloat at the rate of advertising and it now siands without a par even at triple the cost of our present rates.

The Detroit Stamp Co. have transferred their name and business to A . R. Fernald and G. S. Amsden, two well known gentlemen of the same city.

AT last a philatelic emblem has been put on the market.

A sample Stamp Holder, a neat and most useful little reciptacle for the safe-keeping of stamps in the pocket.

We have been favored with a sample of a neat philatelic emblem gotten out by H. Edgar French, of St., Louis, and advertised in another column, also, some more than beautiful sea shells from Florida, from Mr. L. E. Shirley. Massillon, lowa.

The past month we have been favored with a copy of Henry Gremmel's "Comprehensive Catalogue" of U. S. stamps, a valuable and neatly gotten up work of eighty pages; 10c in paper and 25 c in cloth of the publisher, 85 Nassan St., New York.

DID ally of our contemporaties ever get out such a bona fide edition, they would not wonder at ninteen pages of ads being given in our November issue, to offset the nine pages of reading. At our low rates of advertising it could not be made to pay expenses otherwise.

Having been requested to amounce the candidancy of Mr. Oney K. Carstarphen for the office of President of the P. S. of A., we of course cheerfully do so, at the same lime thinking it rather early in the day for such announcements to be made. We are of the opinion that our hohby is running to much to politios; to the formation of too many new sucieties, and to too much speculation instamps and not enough to the collecting of them. Let us talk up candidates when it is too hot to think of o . g. specimens; let us discourage the formation of new societies unless they can in some way be of some real benefit and enable us to further add specimens to our collections; let us leave speculation to those who have nothing else to do but think of some way of investing idle capital and let us devote our whole time and attention to putting a new specimen into oulr album as fast as our means will enable us to do so Increase your collection in numbers or desirable stamps and its increase in value will take care of uself. We remember of paying but seventy-five cents for our specimen of the 90 c Justice Dep., and it taken from an approval sheet. Why not then, fill out your sets and let speculators, new societies and polititions take care of themselves for the present.

In March our biggest edition will be mailed and to those thinking of rumning an ad in it, or to those who have not yet decided to, we present some interesting reading in our advertisine pages whish should receive their careful consideration. Let us caution dealers not to advertise stock they are nearly out of, in this edinion. or they will find themselves umable to till reders, as did many in our November edition. The work on such an edition is simply enormous, and is the late issue of so many in number, that we will put out mitil next November.

Jor E. 5. D. TReaders.

H. C. Beardsley is getting out a directory of stamp collectors. He claims it will contann 10,000 addresses.

The L. of A. P. seems to be the coming society. It is now in a very flourishing condition.

We are promised new issues from Sweden, Greece, Hong Kong, Ecuador, and Hungary. They are all commemorative or speculative emissions.

Many new stamp societies have been lately organized. May they all survive!

The J. W. Scott Stamp Co., are getting out an album for plate numbers only.

A great many new and minute varieties, especially in U.S. are catalogued in the 56th.

A collector in Southern Ohio recently missed his album, and after a prolonged and diligent search it was found in the possession of a pet goat, who was devouring its contents as fast as he was able. He must have been reading in the stamp papers that U.S. were good investments for he was putting them away a page at a time. The only part of the collection saved was a sheet of unused Chinese locals. He must have been an Anti-Seebeckite. C. E. Bostwiç.

One of the best of our new stamp journals, is the "Missouri Philatelist," edited by Mr. N. G. Wilson, the well known stamp dealer. Several of the articles in No. 1 are reprinted, but we suppose it will not characterise future issues.

The December number of the "International Phil." contains very little readable matter, but is full of technicalties. It is eminently a paper for the adept.

About the smallest aspirant for journalistic honors is the "Midland Philatelist" hailing from Kansas City, at the subscription rate of 10 c per year. From this one would judge that Mr. Hurst is seeking glory,-not wealth.

む．․ Walatermarks．

All must admit that so long as the watermarks are as indistinct as they are in the present issue，they cannot be of the slightest use whatever for their intended purpose．

These watermarks are supposed to protect the public against counterfeit， but how can they do this when it takes even an expert philatelist some time to determine whether they are water－ marked or not．

We grant that on some of the stamps the watermarks are clear enough，but on the vast majority it appears simply a confused patch of white spots．

It would not require much skill to produce paper watermarked fully as well，as this is，so that counterfeiting would be just as easy as before．

Either the watermark should be greatly improved or else some other device should be adopted for protection．

Tbe Stamps of Bfghanistan.

A Scientific Essay.
Several slightly advanced countries have issued postage stamps and thus hetokened their progress in civilization. Among these are the well known Native Indian States and Afghanistan. The former are in great disrepute at present because of their semi-speculative nature. But the latter are quite the freper thing among advanced collectors. Their favoriteness among the elite of our scientists tends to make them popular among ordinary philatelists Very few collectors have Afghan stamps in their album because of their high pice but all desire their possersion.
One characteristic that can be found in a stamp of this country, see it where you may, is the extraordi:ary u;liness apparent in the design. But this is hardly frue unless a conglumerahion of dots, dashes, and tiger faces may be called the design. No idea of urder seems to stray into the chaotic train of the Afghan artist, when a Samp is heing prepared. Perhaps his highness, the Court designer takes the requiste number of dashes etc., required in the design of a stamp, and alter giving them a thorough stirring, makes an instaneous photograph of the result. The human being surely does not exist that can compress with one brain, such a mass of ugliness into a small a place as an afghan stamp. If such a man does breathe, he should reform, for to a surety his double-deck brain would make him worthy of a situation as the counterfeit defector of a philatelic sociery. Verily, the studied lack of beauty to be seen in these savage stamps is the work of genius. The originator could almost make a philatelic paper pay expenses.

We admire beauty in stamps but when such unearthly homely labels are displayed our joy exceeds its bounds. To gaze upon such things, is the philatelists seventh heaven.

And yet their Asiatic beatities are popular. A great part of this may no doubt be laid to their being well thought of by the philatelic 400. Their high catalugue value must cause many a sigh in envious desire for possession. But there is a weird something about these stamps that attracts. The rudeness of the design coupled with the supposed slight civilizatıon of Afghanistan may cause this. For even a devotee of our hobby that has passed the beginner stage, feels a pride in possessing stamps from remote countries. But in addition to this, there seems to be a mesmeric influence exercised by these inanimate bits of paper. Perhaps "Brer Tiger," whose pleasing "physiog" is depicted in outline with such beautiful results, is some old mesmerist. Why could not one of these mysterous beings in the course of the transmigration of sonls, end up in the "Prince of the Forest.

Afghanistan is uncivilized. Its stamps, is everythong evidence that everything about this oriental country seems quaint to our occidental optics, even that curious custom of havintg the post-master affix the stamps to your parcel without selling the precious labels seems as antiquated as the spinning wheel. But this method of conducting the stampic affarrs of a post-office is simply the origin of a flan recently adapted by a prominent American photograph company, "you pay the money and we do the rest."

But Western civilization is conquering the land of the Afghans. Tomorrow may see the quaint customs overturned by the evil spirit of the antiquarian reform. Even the designs of the stamps may be involved in the change. Then a cat may be able to gaze upon an Afghan stamp without tieing its tail into a bow kno! because of the fright at the vision of ugliness before it displayed The affairs of to-day are common history. but who can predict the morrow?

Gordon C. Corbaley.

Hotes on ひ.

ERA.
I recently saw the first specimen of a right cap $2 c 1$ ever met with. The cap did not compare at all in distinct.
ness with those found on left hand specimens atid if it was the "real stuff" as its owner declared I am inclined a little to be sceptical as to the "hona fideness" of the variety and inclise in thonk it was due to an accident in printing rather than any difference in plate.

I recently saw a U. S. postal card with the stamp cut so that half appeared on each margain of the card. It certainly was a curious error.

I recently saw plate No. 237, 26 red with guide lines, where the? seemed to be a double line numeral. It might have been caused by poor inking but looked really as though it was so engraved.

Counterfei Goliad locals are re. ported to be in the market but the average collector is not at all annoyed thereby. If offered within the reach of his pocket book he would know they were such and if held at the proper figure the price wouldn't lie forth coming.

When a block of four $$ 2$ Colun:bians brings $$ 17$ at auction it would look as though the $$ 2$ had really advanced to near the $$ 5$ mark to star. Anyway that is a mure legitimate price than $$ 7$ is for the $$ 1$ Columbian.

Plate No. 260 is the 30 c due and 261 the 50c due; both are out hut with the continual notifications given post-masters not to sell, it is not likely many of these high value due nlute numbers will be floated. The Filruary guide contains special directions not to sell due or periodical stamps.

The set of 1855 reissue sold in the Terrett sale brought $$ 101.75$ nearly $$ 30$ advance over the pice in the Albrecht's catalogue and yet it is only about five years ago I saw a set marked $$ 7.50$ on one of the Am. Phil. Asso. exchange sheets, the property of one of the New York lading dealers who evidently did not anticipate that they would ever be in yreat demand.

Since writing my last lot of notes for the Evergreen it would seem that the date of the ribbed paper issue had been well nigh conclusively proved to be 1873 , but the fact of whether they were accidental ", ag ends" of paper rolls has yet to be proven or refuted.

The ©ritic.

On A-ticles and Other Mattors of Interest in the Philatelic World
As ye Editor has kindly consented to allow the Critic to occupy a page or two every month in the E. S. P. with this Department, a few remarks on the manner which it will be conducted may not be out of place.
"Without Fear or Favor" will be the Critic's molto. Where praise is due praise will be given: where sharp biticism is merited. it will be used. He does rot lay claim to the infallihility which some of our young publishers possess (?), but judges as a simple mortal to the nest of his alvility. He may cut sharply at times, but ouly when the circumstances are such as to justify it.

The spirit of personal animosity winch disgraces the pages of some of our journals wil! find no place in this Department. A criticism of a writer's productions has nothing whatever to do with the writer personally. If this fact was borne in mind by some of our pen pushers and publishers, a good deal of ill feeling would be averted

Marcus $P$. Stewart contributes the first article in the January Plilatelic Newsletter, entilled. "San Marino's Smoke," and quite a readable one it is, although not by any means a long scientific lines. From the threatened disappearance of the diminutive re. public as an independent state, and American sympathy for the tiny sister in distress the writer gradually comes around to the stamps of the country. The shameless philatelic speculation, and Otto Bickel and others share therein, is denounced in burning terms The conclusion that the San Marino stamps are rubbish, which "merit the complete banishment from the collector's album" will meet with the approval of everyone.

On the point, however, the Critic thinks Mr. Stewart is a little inconsistent. He says: "The stamps of San Marino were all right until the arrival of Bickel", and then condemns all the stamps of the countiy. How is this? As far as the Critic is concerned, he thinks no collectors make a mistake when he leaves all emissions of the Italian Republic severly alone.

Scott's 56th is given a critical review in the same paper, in some particulars a little 10 critical for Scoti's point of view probably, but incresting nevertheless. The iniflation in prices is hit hard, and the cataloguing of many speculative issues of former years also.

It is evidently the intention of the Scott Co., to boycolt only the future speculative issues. The dealers cooperating with the S. S. S. S. on both sides of the Atlantic seem to make, "Let bygones be bygones" their motto, and leave the collector to find out for himself what the speculative issues before ' 95 were. Some condemn this policy. It may be asked if the enthusiastic anti-gumpap collector expected the dealers to make a grand atto da fe of all the speculative stamps they had in s.ock at the time of the formation of the S. S. S. S. As the dealers are not in business for their health, nor do they pose as philanthropists in disguise, this could hardly have been expected. "Half a loaf is better than no bread at all." The collector must needs be satisfied if future gumpaps are boycotted.

Philatelic journals are sometimes distinguished by exceptionally good articles, and sometimes, it must be cuntessea, by productions which one would hardly expect would be allowed publication in any paper. One of these letters graces a column of the Seneia Philatelist for January-February. It is entitled "A Revival in Yhilately" by "The Doctor". One would expect from this that he would talk about good times, philatelic prosperity, etc., but, no, he takes up the greater part of his space in pessimustic complaints against existing conditions, which shows that the title is plainly a misnomer.

He begins, "Pihlately, as perfect as she may seem, . . . . . is upon the verge over which, should she have the ill fortune to fall she would be the must vile of hobby's (!) That is not the worst of it - she is growing more corrupt every day." What choice and vigorous language! Verily a poltical document on the eve of a strongly coniested election could scarcely equal this for force and elegance of style.
"Her, (Philately's), ranks are with a few excep:ions comp $s d$ of the frauds of the nation." This is cheerful very cheerful indeed, and highly complimentary to collectors in general. "To prove this we state, 1st-The writer of this article has from 3010 45 papers devoted to philately in his recriving list. Oui of that mamber at least ten, each month advertixe frauds. Many black iists are upent the market and are constantly being revised by new editions." The Crilic is somewhat in the dark as to how this last essertion, which is probatly. true enough, unfortunately, proves that philately's "ranks are with a few exceptions composed of the frauds of the nation." Possibly the Doctor has some new system of arithmeric which makes ten larger than iwenty oir thirty-five.

A second proof-"The collector of to-day is nothing more than a speculator This is shown by the amount of space in some of our magazine (given) to auction sale and marktt prices." (!!) So the fact that the collector is a speculator, (a view in which all collectors will not agree, (the Critic is sure), proves that philately's "ranks are with a tew exceptions composed of the frauds of the nation." Logical conclusion, a speculator is a fraud. This is probably a new estimation of a speculator, and starting in its originality.

A very black picture is painted of the speculator-collectors, which will no douki convince every fair minded reader that they are a very bad lot.

A third proof that philately's "Ranks, etc." is that our magazines are degenerating." The Critic doubts whether the medical gentleman remembered what he was trying to prove when he leached this point iti, his di sertation. It certainly seems he was a little mixed, But considering the statement by itself. what grounds are there for such a daring assertion, which will surely call down upon the illustrous writer's head the wrath of editors. He adinits that there are a few papers which are improving with each issue, "but some roh the phalatelic public and never have sontained an article with a real tearing upoll stamps."

I he Critic is quite ready to admit that there are some stamp napers which are conspicuous by their lack of slamp matter, but have not these things been thus for many a year? A ylance at our prevent magazines should prove to the most cynical observer that the average journal was better than it was five or ten years ago.
"In conclusion we say that the revival is necessary. This revival has started. The American Philatelic Dealers' Association and the American Philatelic Press Association are completing arrangements for these im provements. Are you a member of either? The conclusion has a merit of having some connection with the title of the article, which cannot be said of what precedes it.

Along what lines is this great revival to take place? 1.-The frauds are to be rescued from their evil ways, and as nearly every collector is a fraud accurding to the statements made by this writer, it will be quite an undertaking. 2.-The speculators are to be led back to the true occupation of the real philatelist, that of collectong stamps without any regard to their market value. 3.-The "degenerated" magazines are to be brought up to the standard of an ideal philatelic journal.

Truly this philatelic Max Nordau has laid out work for himself and his societies which would paralize his great prototype. An expectant public will hold its breath and wait for these great results, and will probably wait a long time.

It is not generally known, but is conceded to be a fact, that a Stamp Hospital has been established in the Alley, (Nassau St.) where pour old s!amps, abused and battered by being torn from a home of luxury and sent to others, where they meet face to face with other stamps younger and stronger, can be rejuvenated. This is indeed a most humane institution.

The photographs of the ten l P. A.
officials have already been forwarded to the photo-engraving company, so the half-tone and the biographical sketches of the officers of our Oregon and Washington society can safely be promised for the April number.

State Directories or Hand Books seem to be the order of the day. Edw. W. Hensinger promises one fro Texas; Chas, G. Hart is busily at work on Minnesota; H. B. Vesey will get out one for Virginia; W. H. Kesler Jr., for Michigan and Philatelic Facts will publish one for California. L.et the good work go on.
R. F. Albrecht & Co., announce that "As the market is at present quite unnecessarily inundated with undesireable stuff, not fit for auction sales at ail, and thus in this country a depression prevails caused by trying to overdo a thing, we have decided to close the season this spring earlier than usual with our 38th sale."

What a serious affair Philately has to be when we have to use tongs to handle stamps with. We hope it will never become necessary to use tongs or five ounce gloves to handle stamp collectors.

What will our advanced collectors do when their collections are complete with blocks of four, pairs, and strips with plate numbers? We wonser what they will tackle when their favorite fad has reached its millenium!

Correspundence.

Dallas, Oregon:-Enclosed find ic stamp of plate 168 which you will notice that the outer line of the right triangle broken. In every stamp that I have examined it is the same and I have 6 sheets of 100 stamps each. Would you attach any value to these stamps? I suppose other collectors have noticed this as well as mysilf. I do not find it oll any other of the sheets and I have examined sheet after sheet but find it oilly on plate No. 168. Very Respectfully, U. S. Grant.

Port Townsend, Wash: - 1 noliced the remarks in the E.S. P. Correspondence by C. B. F. I have an envelope in my collection with a 5 c 1894 slamp, and postmarked "U. S. Postal Agency, Shanghai" dated April $111)_{1}$, 0:30 A. .in, while outside of the mark made by cancelling are the lizures "95." Yours respectfully D. E. Brown.

Wells. Me:-Will explain for ' C . B. F's." benefit that we lave two regular approval sheet customers in Shanghai. China and that all of their resisered mail comes prepaid with current U. S. stamps of different values, although their ordinary correspunderce is sent by the French Post learing the regular "China" surcharged stamps. The U. S. has exahlished in Shanxhai, and other Asiatic ports which do not possess a reliable postal service, post offices of its own, administered by U. S. officers under anthority of the P. O. Dept. at Washington, and using our regular stamps. This is done for the convenience of Americans residing in those cities and to aftord a safe means of communicating with our country. The post-mark C. B. F. could not decipher reads: ${ }^{〔}$ U. S. Postal Agency, Shanghai, China. Very truly, F. M. Bailey.

The surcharged issue of 1895 of the Republic of Salvador, is destined to become very rare, and it is well to lay huld of the cancelled ones even in low values, and as a dealer said who is familiar with the stamps of South and Central American countries, says: "They will be as scarce as hens teeth."

We are awfully anxious to know whether the United States are going to change the watermark on the present issue to a spread eagle or a star. Whatever it may be we trust it will be such as can be discerned without having to buy a full sheet to persue its edges to assertain.

It seems so strange that our beautiful country should be so near tinancial ruin that it is necessary to issue bunds to replenish the depleted gold reserve, when the changing of the watermark or a new issue would have tided matters over in great shape. In Philately there is strength.

Dbilatelic Savings.

We have received two letters from correspondents in Stillwater, Minn., regis'ered, learing 8c Columbian stamps. Evidently the post-aftice at that caty is overloaded.

The 1 franc stamp of France is coming in a slightly difierent shade of green since the first of the year.

Australians are a little duil at present, but prices show no marked downward tendency anywhere.

West Indians are still in the field and Africans are slowly rising.

A move has at last been started int England, in catalogue English rev. enues.

A Recent article in the Boston Herald informs us that the United States Bureau of Engraving and Printing have reduced the gumming of stamps to a science The different seasons of the year have a special gum. Those who think specialism has not been carried far enough, might make a collection of unused stamps with special regard to gum.

Horduras has issued a new set of stamps.

Stamps having run short at Corea, Province of Azuaz, Ec iador, provisionals have been broug!t into use in their trade. The current stamps have the date 1894 changed to "1885."

18 small varieties of post cards have appeared from Maurituis.

The M. J. chronicles a new card from the Orange Free State, the value charged in black, instead of red.

A new issue has been listed for Morocco.

Hotes for 2. 5. ૬pectalistg.

It is said the fillest collection of "plates" belones to J. M. Andreini of New York while that of H. J. Crocker, of San Francisco is a close second, and a Boston collector is the proud pussessur of one which well nigh rivals the others and that of H . E. I Jeats also comes in the same class.

1 have recently noted the 8 Sc with suide lines, also the 2c due

I recently received a letter from Hong Koa, Cluma, sent through the Consular agency at Shanghai franked by a current 5 c stamp. It was a fine aldition to any lot of postal curiosjlies,

Among the prices realized in foreign vales for U. S. stamps $$ 6.60$ for the 90c 1868, sold by Ventom Bull & Cooper, and $$ 10.20$ for a 90c 1869 sold by Cheverly & Co., which would hardly indicate that our English brethern consider them as deservable property as we do.

All elegant lot of India paper proots and essays formed an attractive portion of the 37th Allvecht sale and realized good prices showing that interest in everything connected with U. S. postage stamps sill continue undiminished.

Recently I met with a gentleman who while not a collector, has a son who is and he says one of the most interesting things he ever saw was in New York several years ago when a dealer displayed a block of forty cancelled stamps. Prior to this he never realized that the high values were neccessary for postage but this convinced him.

It may be a question for the collector to settle whether to collect by the plate system or numbers, but when it comes to margains without the stamps it seems to be carrying things a little too far and yet the National Society of New York City held an informal auction in February to sell a lot of them.

Several years ago it was reported that an all over grill 3c 1869 existed in all eastern collection but the statement seems never to have been confirmed or else the grill was found to be bogus, or else cataloguers deemed it so as it has never been listed.

The editor of the Evergreen is mot a dealer, speculator, or stamp broker, and we'll state in answer to brother Bradley's query in a recent L. S. S. P. that we find plate numbers as fascinating as any other part of our hobby although, altogether too steep for our editorial finances.

IT is so seldom we blow our own horn, and as we never personally solicit ads, we want to state for the benefit of all wide awake dealers, that we claim the Evergreen is the best advertising medium of a stampic nature published, and make no ex. ceptions. A trial is all that is asked to prove the correctness of this assertion.

All the current issue of $\mathrm{U} . \mathrm{S}$. stamps has appeared on the watermarked paper now in use except the 30 c and 50 c due stamps and the $\$ 2$ periodical, and as yet no change has taken place in the watermark notwithstanding many reports and rumors to the cuntrary. Does it not behove us however, to complete our '94 set, if it is not as yet completed, for, in all probability, a new administration will soon take charge of affairs and very likely make a complete change in the stamps now used. either in color, or design, if not in other ways?

A STATEMENT made by some of our contemporaries has been bothering us considerable of late, i. e. that of first-class rates are reduced to one cent an ounce, no publisher would olject to paying four cents a pound for second-ilass rates, as he would save enough on his first-class matter to compensate for the increase of rates on the second-class. The postage on the E. S. P. on an average costs $$ 2.50$ monthly, while our monthly postage otherwise but seldom goes over $$ 5$. Should this desireable (?) change in postal rates be made, we would have to pay $$ 10$ a month on second-class matter and 2.50 a month on firstclass. Will some one please explain how the reduction on one is gong tu compensate for the increase on the other? Said contemporaries must either mail but a few copies monthly. or else write a tremendous amount of letters. How is it my brethren?

-O

Tite ?'alsey Stamp Co., whose ads appear in another column has kindly favored us with a copy of their "American Standard Catalogue of ail the Postage Stamps" 1896 edition, profusely illustrated, which they seli at 25 c . This book meets the demand for a catalogue, easily understood by the beginner, all the minor varieties and watermarks beingomitted. They have catalogued the current ic and 2 c stamps with the colored lines at the top, sides and the bottom of the stamps, thus adding sixteen easily obtained and interesting varieties of the present issue. We notice many other pleasing innovations and can concientiously recomend the work to he of exceptional value.

From the late Postal Guide we learn that the " $A$ " size ( 2 15-16x47 inches) postal card of the U.S. is not as common as it might be. It is the sinallest card ever made and never very salable Their manufacture ceased in 1893. Denomination one cent. The "B" card ( $3 \times 5$ t inches, 1 c value) can only be secured by postmasters in the Cincimati sub-district. None of those have leen made since 1893. The " C " card is $3 \frac{1}{2} \times 5 \frac{1}{2}$ inches (one cent value) and cannot be obtained by any postmaster. None made since ' 93 . The " $D$ " card is the double domestic "return" card and although they cannot be separated by the postmaster and sold singly, either half can be used first by the purchaser. The " $E$ " card is $3 \times 5$ d inches; denomnation 2c. They are single cards for maling to toreign countries. The " G " card is $3 \frac{1}{2} \times 5 \frac{1}{2}$ inches and is the current ic value. Were first issued Jan. 2d, '94 to supersede the A, B, and C sizes, none of which have been made since. They are the only cards furnished in sheets, and then only in lots of 10,000 or its multiple. These sheets measure four cards wide and eight cards high.
$I T$ is said there is a falling off of the boy's trade and a need of some way ot recalling it. In our opinion the main cause of this is the lack of use of printers' ink in the right manner. Advertise; and advertise at a reasonable profit such stamps as the younger collectors want and which are within their means; fill a twentyfive cent or a dime order with the same courtesy and despatch that is generally given to a larger one; do away with neediess varieties; simplify our catalogues and reduce their price to the popular one of twenty-five cents; throw out greater inducements to approval sheet agents in schools, and we think an improvement will be noticed. To gain new recruits to our ranks would also be desireable. It has been suggested that dealers contribute their commoner stamps and give them away by various methods which would undoubredly accomplish this desirable end. Dealers in cities could undoubtedly help this move along by improving the attractiveness of therr show windows. Monthly blotters circulated in schools free, with pictures of stamps and the dealer's card would accomplish some good; in fact many ways could be used to advantage if a determined move all along the line is made. Let us wake up and try and see something to do, ard then do it.

A drawback to the department is ton high prices and to circulate damaged stamps. I would reguest to have members to price their stamps so as to lxe an inducement for buyers. otherwise it will siluply be a waste of regisiration fee to those that are on circuit. In the future 1 shall reject all damaged stamps nor do I intend to circulate books holding nothing but Postals except to those that want them. 1 would request all those that are interested in collecting postals to communicate with me.

RF.PORT OF BOARI OF TRUSTEFS
The first meeting of the Board of Trustees was held March 30. 18y, all members being present. As there was no regular business before the Board the meeting was largely of an informal nature. There was some discussion regarding the necessity of exercising care in the admission of new members. The different departmentio of the Association are now in running order and all equal interest is displayed by the officers and members in their successful operation. No ob). jections have thus farlseen received against any of the candidates for admission to the society.

On Articles and Other Matters of Interest in the Phllatellc World.
It is generally believed by Americans that English humor is a very ponderous affair, resembling in weightiness the proverbial cake made by the young lady who is an amateur in the cullinary art. A perusal of the Stamp Collectors' Fortnight!y will convince the reader that either the theory is all wrong, or that the fun in that paper's pages is the shining exception which proves the rule. Be this as it may, there is no doubt but what the Fortnightly is full of full of humor of the test quality, which does not diminish the philatelic merit of the paper in the least owing to the evident uncon:ciousness of the humor.
Mr. "Alfred Jingle's" Gossip of the Hour Column is an excellent antidote for the blues, while the merry way in which the Editors handle gumpaps, frauds, some of their contemporaries, etc., is most assuredly just the opposte of what we would expect to hear from our said English cousius. For the scientists Mr. Hilckes is publishing "The Secret Marks of the Stamps of Oldenburg," which will satisfy the cravings of the driest Dryasdust in this country. In the issue of March 7th, Mr. Hilckes announces the discuvery of the secret mark on the 3oc 1873. Whether Mr. Hilckes' story will be generally accepted remains to le seen. The results of his investigatinns are interesting, and as the Critic helieves that mirss of the Evergreen's readers are always glad to read anything interesting in regarding U. S. stamps, he has taken the liberty to quote somewhat extensively.
$\because I$ begin with the 30 c brown, 1888 . Opposite the first shading line underneath the mouth rumning to the left, within the white frame separating the central medallion from the border frame a small dot is visible which apparently has $n o$ connection whatever with the design.
"We then examined the 3oc black. searching for the same dot, and very soon found a large number of copies which showed quite a different mark at or about the same place. We found that the same line (the first underneath the mouth) considerably protruded over the rim of the medallion into the white frame, thus appearing as a projection of a more or less pronounced character. More copies were examined and we again found that although this projection was visible in a very large number of copies it was aluays of a different shape and plainly proved that it was reallv not part and parcel of the design, but a kind of afterthought. In some instances, we have found that although we could not see any absolute projection, this lengthening of the shading line happened to fall between two shading lines.
"leet us repeat, the first issue of the boc black printed by the National Bank Note Co., does not show either dot or projection. The copies we found without this mark are always on the hard paper well known to be peculiar to this issue. The second lot priuted by the Continental Bank Note Co., and showing the projection, is partly on the hard paper and partly on the soft paper; the retouch die, showing the drt only, does not occur on anything but the soft paper." The capable editor of the Post Office pokes considerable fun at this discovery (?) claiming it is nothing more or less than the plate dot which appears in the side of the oval; a device of the engraver for the proper placing of the die upon the plate.

The second philatelic paper in Washington has made its appearance. The well known writer, Gordon C. Corbaley, of Waterville, is the editor of the Philatelist, which augurs well for its contents. The rapidity with which No. 2 followed Nu. 1 shows that there is push behind the enterprise. The gifted editor is treating "Our Departments" quite thoroughly each month and gives many new facts relative to the use of various Department stamps. There is always room for more good stamp papers. and for this reason it is to be hoped that the newcomer will grow and prosper.

The March Philatelic Californian publishes a paper read by Mr. Geo. Schiller before the Calitornia Philatelic Press Club, in which some light is thrown on the authenticity or more properly non-authenticity 24 c of the U. S. $1851-56$ issue, (unperforated).

A point is made that the $24 \mathrm{c}, 30 \mathrm{c}$, and 90 c unperforated are catalogued as being issued in 1856, while the first perforated series are given as appearing in 1855, one year earlier.
"It is probable that the perforating machine which was found to be such an improvement was only used on the 10c stamps and the other values sent out imperforate?" Further it is stated that Albrecht's 1896 catalogue pronounces the 30 c and 90 c proofs.

Mr. Schiller relates that he inquired of the Third Asst. Postmaster Gen. in 1889 whether the Government would redeem certain stamps of the issues of 1851 and 1856, among which was the 24 c perforated. In the reply it is stated that the 24 c was engraved in 1860. On this statement he bases his claim that the 24 c unperforated is also a proof. "You will note that the dates given are for the engraving and not the printing of the stamps." A 24c stamp certainly could not have been printed in 185, from a piate that was not engraved until 1860.

The writer of the article does not claim that the above is absolute proof that the 24 c stamp was not issued imperforate, but from it he has come to the conclusion that all so-called copies of this imperforate stamp are either the 24 c of 1860 with the perforations trimmed, proofs or unfinish ed specimens of theis issue secured from the printers during the time they were in use, or from the stock in the hands af the printers when they wert declared absolete. Veritas.

The arms on the stamps of Bergedorf are composed of one-half of each the Hamburg and the Lubec coat of arms.

Gbsolete Stamps as Wistoric nidementos.

by Lewis g. quackenbush.
It has always seemed to me that the most interesting stamps in our albums are thuse issued by mations whose names are no longer to be found on the map of the world. It is such stamps as these which teach history; tor I hold that stamps do teach history.

I believe that had I not heen a philatdlist, my knowledge of the most important historical events of the past half-century would have been tar more limuted than it is; and I have no dulbt that every real student of Philately can indorse my words with a like statement as to his own experience.

The heading of this article, "absor iete stamps" may not be quite appropriate; for the purpose of this essay is not so much to consider all the kinds if stamps which fall under the class at absolete, as to speak of the emissions of absolete nations, if I may be allowed to use the word in such a comection. As I before remarked this class of stamps are of unusual intimsic interest. They are mementos il countries, the memory of whose existence is fast fading from our minds.
Look for instance, at the stamps of Poland. Who can behold them without remembering the time when the brave men of Poland fought for life and independence; and lost, alas, their very existence as a nation? Amerrcans should cherish tenderly the memory of this brave little nation, for some of the noblest of her sons fought side by side with the American parriots in our own struggle for independence; and the memory of such brave soldiers and true patriots as Koscinsko and Pulaski will live as long as the story of the Revolution continues to thrill the heart of every lover of his country.

What story do the stamps of AlsaceLorraine tell us? Is it not a wondrous our? Did you ever look at those stamps without recalling the FrancoGerman war, and the fall of Louis Napoleon? Every glance at the page of Alsace Lorraine refreshes our minds in regard to the details of the great strugg!e. Are not these stamps then, teachers of history.

Then, there are the stamps of the Contederacy. War issues and most interesting ones. No American is in danger of forgeting the Civil War; but philatelists in other lands may find that the issues of the Contederacy are most excellent historic reminders.

And right here let me say that it has always been a source of wonder to me that Confederate stamps are so neglected by United States specialists. They are United States stamps in everything except name, and they should be considered as among the emissions of the United States. No war issues can be so interesting 10 Americans as those of the Confederacy; yet little attention is paid to them by those who specialize in Unitsd States stamps. The Confederate locals, though quoted at high prices in catalogues, and seeming to sell well at auctions, are not really in such demand but when locals of any kind are not especially popular at present.

The issue of Baden, Prussia, Saxony, et al, now suspended by those of the German Empire are another exceedingly interesting sign of absolete stamps. They remind us of a time when the present German Empire was divided into a score or more of petty states, continually fighting and quarreling among themselves.

The stamps of Parma, Sicily, Naples, Roman States, etc., etc., in like manner tell of the days of Italian discussion and dursion. The Roman States' stamps in particular take us back to the time whell Catholicism was at the height of its power, and when the Pope was the most powertul politicial agent in Europe,

There are many nther stamps of this class, but I think I have mentioned enough of them to illustrate my theory as to the unusual interest attached to the stamps of any country which has lost its identity by being consolidated with another nation more powerful than itself. I believe that such issues are bound to increase in popularity as the years go by. They are free from any suspicion of Sebeckism. They are legitimate issues, brought to life to fill the actual postal needs of the country and no more. We can be certain that they are not speculative issues, for they are on deck before the days when speculation is rampant, and when we are rendered suspicious of every new issue which comes on the market, for fear some philatelic speculator may be at the bottom of it.

Those stamps which are unsullied by the slightest suspicion of illegitimacy will in the end stand higher in the estimation of philatelists than the most gorgeous of speculative issurs. And their market value must mevitabls increase also, The era of speculation has had its palmiest davs. Speculative' issues must and will in the natural order of things, become exceedingh unpopular in the near future. And what will collectors turn to then, but these old issues, less brilliant. but nore upright.

I have read of a specialst who collects only those stamps issued print to 1860 and it is not such a bad ide?. after all. In these days of specialism. such a specialty might be worthtryill: The limits seem rather narrow, and in a through trial of this specialt! it might be better to include all issure up to 1870. The most interestin! " these obsolete issues would thus he included, and the peculative iscus?
which are a comparatively recent evil, would be wholly neglected.

Cbe Critic.

On Articles and Other Matters of Interest in the Philatelic Wurld.
Were the Critic so firmly convinced of the absolute perfection of everything that appears i: the stamp papers of to-day as some of our writers and editors are. he would be inclined to consider Editor Capen of the Post office somewhat in the light of a philatelic Diugenes from the tenor of some remarks made in the April number of that excellent journal. As such is unfortunately not the case, however, he must admit that there is much sad truth in the said remarks. Do not the following assertions cause a sigh of reyret to escape from the careful reader of stampic literature, and make him wish these facts were not so?
"There is very little of real and permanent interest in much that finds its way into stamp papers. The whereabouts of this or that collector, the stamps contained in certain collections, the number of duplicates of valuable stamps that a wealthy collector is hoarding, are all well enough as transitory news, but otherwise are of small consequence. , . . . We reject enough material, (MMS), offered in fill several magazines of the size of the Postoftice, but while we are willing 10 pay a good price for proper articles they are not forthcoming."

Mr . Capen urges the readers of the P. O. who are students of their stamps and who are able to write ahout them to come to the front "like little men," and it is to be hoped that success may reward his request. At the same time as long as Mr. Capen continues to contribute his able articles to the P . O., the readers of that paper need hardly complain in this connection.

Mr. Lionel W. Homburger has an excellent illustrated article on the Secret Marks on the Stamps of Hamburg in the same paper, which will enable any collector to detect counterfets of the stamps of this Free City. Two of the most common of the forged cancellations are also illustrated.

Not alone is there "very little of real and permanent interest in much that finds its way into the stamp papers," but there is oftener something that smacks strongly of idiocy, kindergarten composition, or what shall it be called? Why some things are published is a mystery to the Critic. Take for example an article by Chip in the March Pensy entilled, "I am a Stamp." Possibly the reader wrote compositions in school when still below his teens about the adventures of a snowflake, or a drop of water. This production will take him back to his boyhood days, if such was the case. How pathetic the tale of the little stamp! "I was young; I was happy; I remained unused; that was enough," Unfortumately this blissful state of affairs did not last long, in fact the poor little stamp went through all sorts of terrors until it was picked up by a young girl, "a girl of the people, poor enough to deem a smeared stamp a treasure trove. She was quite young, (of course), not very beautiful, perhaps, (no, really?). except for wonderful soft azure eyes and a mouth smiling and glad, with lovely curves to the lips, and hair dark as a raven's wings, (Here the writer developes the proper romantic spirit). Of course the young lady married after years had gone by. The philatelic public unfortunately has no record of the personal appearance of the luck y husband, the loss of which it will have to survive the best it canl. On Christmas eve after many a year, the "not very beautiful" lady presents her collection to her only son and turns to the page and shows which stamp was the first,—the 1sh. violet Nova Scotia, which went through all the agonies mentioned.

Seriously speaking, what is there of philatelic merit in this article?

Foremost in the small group of thorough philatelists in this country who give the benefits of their researches to their fellow collectors is Mr . Johu N. Luff, formerly of San Francisco, now in the employ of the Scott Stamp & Coin Co. of New York.

The May number of the American Journal of Philately publishes a paper read by Mr. Luff before the National Philatelic Soctety April 14th, 1890 on "Reprints and Re-issues of the Stamps of the U.S.," in which the subject is handled with that gentleman's usual ability and thoroughuess.

The following is of special interest as it will probably settle the talk about the Scott Co., not calaloguing the 1847 and 1857 reprints. "I have frequently been asked why the 56th edition of the Standard Catalogue does not list the reprinting of the 1847 and 1857 issues, while it does those of later issues. It is because the former are reprints and the latter re-issures. and the 56th catalogue does not list any reprints,-reprimts are printings of stamps which are the available for postage. either because the original stamps have been declared obsolete in because the reprints themselves are not a!lowed to do postal duty. Rrissues are printings of stamps which are available for postage, though the originals may have heen replaced by a later issue. In 1861 the stamps of the 1847,1851 and 1857 assues wele declared obsolete and of no lurther postal value, in order 10 prevent any use of the large quantity in the hands of postmasters in the disloyal states: hence any sulsequent primings in these stamps are reprints. But the stamps of 1861 and all later iswes are yet available for postage and this: applies to all printings of them, made at whatever date Therefore the 1875 printings are to be called re-issues."

The writer claims that the 1847 reprints were not govermment counter feits, as they are commonly considere.l. "It is a well known fact that the" plates of this issue did not betom? to the govermment but remained in the hands of the contractors, Messr. Rawdon, Wright, Hatch and Edson. But the dies were govermment prop. erty. At the time it was decited 11 reprint, these dies were hrought out and found to be somewhat the worse for wear and rust. They were, therefore, recut to a small extent and from them new plates were made. Thus the stamps are impressions from new plates made from retouched dies. They are reprints and in no sense counterfeits."

The difference between the originals and reprints are described thoroughly. The critic will be allowed to quote but very briefly.

The colors of the '47 issue differ decidedly. There is considerable difference in the design, as most of the readers probably know.
"Reprints of the 1857 issue are rapidly distinguished by the perforatisn, which guages 12, instead of 15 , as in the originals. The paper is also very white and there is a generally new look about the stamps" "There seems to have been no attempt 10 mutate the colors closely, especially the scarcer shades of the five cents."
"The re issue of the 1861 set can (urly be distinguished from the original printings by the witness of the paper, brightness and freshness of the colors and sometimes the crackly white gum.-No attempt was made to reduce the pink and scarlet three cents (ir the yellow and red-brown tive ients."
"The re-impressions of the 1800 wate have the bright colors, white paper and crackly white gum, iharacteristic of the 1875 printings. They also differ from the originals in line absence of the groll. The very are ungrilled originals may be distinguished from the re-issue by their smooth brown gum, and by slight differences in the colors, Of the fifteen cents only the variety without the frame and the diamond above the central picture was re issued."
"It is certain that a special printing of the then current (1873) issue was made. This includes the two cent vermillion and the five cent blue, (Taylor) of 1875. It is extremely difficult to distinguish the stamps of this printing from those of the regular issue"

The question of reprints of Newspaper stamps is considered at some length, and lasily Mr. L.uff mentions a set of Postage Dues which he thinks "represent another special printing for the benefit of philatelists."

IT is our sincere belief that the I.. 1h A. $P$. is destined to be the leading w ciety-next to the A. P. A.-in Amer ica. At the present writing its paid up list of members is nearly as great as the S. of P.. or the P. S. of A. The S. of $P$. is on a tirmer basis than it has been for some time, and is carrying no dead-heads, which is as it should be. Although not a member of the society, we consider it on the rapid road to recovery of its old time popularity. Of the P . We will speak somewhat more definite on this, next month.

While we gratefully appreciate such an unexpected honor as to even be thought of in comection with the highest gift of office in the flourishing l.eague of American Philatelists, and have a warm place in our affection for our brothers who have so kindly indorsed this premature announcement, we will have to state again that the editor of the E. S P. is not a candidate for any office, in any society. Thank you! brethren, just the same.

Mr. R Hollaar. of Rotterdam. Holland, our European agent, inclosed his last communication in the 5s Holland envelope, large size, issued to the public on the 24th of April last. This envelupe is $5{ }_{3}^{3} \times 4$ inches in size, on white paper, blue inside, and what looks queer to us Americans, with the stamp in the upper left hand corner, as is unusual with the Holland slamped envelopes.

The Interstate Philatelic AsSOCIATION with its seventy-five members acquired in five months' time, must be a surprise to those Eastern Directories who generally list less than half a dozen Philatelists in either state. We personally know of several hundred collectors in Oregon and asmany in this state who are not now members of the I. P. A., but whose duty it is to join and in helping the society, benefit themselves. The cost is small and the benefit great.

A very few numbers of last month's edition can be supplied while they last at ten cents a copy. They contain half-tones and hingraphial sketches of the tenotticials of the Oregon and Washington snciety, and will be mailed flat, or we can furnish the half-tone on heavier paper, suitable for framing at the same price.

Although ads are coming in a columin or more a day, we are compelled to close our forms and go to press, to enable the magazine to be mailed as near its usual mailing day (the 20th) as possible. We are determined to get the June number out on time.
om
Mr. Chas. ©. Sart wriles us that on account of lack of time, he has had to discontinue the publication of both ihe Pipestone Philatelist and the Minnesola Philatelists' Address Book.

A HANDY PROSPECTOR'S FURNACE

 of a new improved apparatus for testing and smelting various kinds of ores and minerals, such as gold cupper, nickel, silver and lead ores, refactory and compound ores.This furnace is designed and constructed by and for a prospector, who requires a serviceable furnace, easily transported over a mountainous country by a pack animal; that is complete and ready, and can be set up at any dump of low grade ores, that otherwise will not pay to ship with profit and make a good day's pay oult of one to two tons of ore a day.

To judge the value for such an outfit-of a CUPOL.A SMELTER, KNOCK-DOWN BOTTOM TYPE, with extension when smelting ores, made of No. 10 steel plates with slag and menal spouts, rotary steel blower, countershaft with geared pulley for blast supply, by either water, stean or hand power; with three graphide crucibles, three steel ladles, six furnace steel bars and tools, only weighing 1285 poundswhen the prospector can deeermine the value of one ton of the ore in a five-hour heat by the output of the bullion.

With a little ordinary intelligence of the average prospector, this five feet by three feet inside diameter little smelter, rin on low grade ores, will not only pay for itself every week, but it will convince the skeptic beyond redemption who does not believe with us that the little smelter must come to the ore.

The fact that a great many of these CUPOLA TYPE smelters are now being adopted throughont the Western mining districts. and all giving entire satisfaction, is sufficient recommendation for the sudden demand as an absolute necessity to every prospector, mine owner, millman, sampling works or mining company.

Full and complete instructions go with the outtit, which gives mode of treatment of different ores, directions as to the setting up and starting smelter, fuel, fluximg material, and general smelting operation.

A small size $2 \times 4$ feet of 1 ton capacity per five-hour heat, only weighs 650 pounds, same number of tools, with blower, \&c., designed for the poor prospector, who feels umable to purchase the larger smelter oultit. Ores and compound ores assayed and repurted on.

Tittle jfacts.

The letter sheet of October, 1886 was not the first attempt of our government to employ this useful semi-envelope. One, of three cent value in rose on blue paper was issued in Angust 1861, and withdrawn in April 1864. These two failures seem to settle the question of the need of a letter-sheet by this country.

The stamps of Cashmere, being printed from ivory blocks, are often very indistinct.

The entire expense of the support of the public schools in British Guinea is defrayed by the profits from the postal department.

In 1850, a fifty centime stamp was authorized in France, but was never issued.

The 1897 P . S. of A. meet should be held on the Pacific Coast.

The $12 \stackrel{1}{2}$ cent Canada and 13 cent Newfoundland were used to prepay pustage to England

John Crawford issued the 5c Athens. Ga., Confederate local, in 1861. But his name is given on the upper label of the stamp as " 7 . Crawfurd, P. M."

Biood's dispatch was founded in 1847 by David Otis Blood. At one time it carried over two-thirds of the local mail of Philadelphia,

The arms on the stamps of Bergedorf are composed of one-half of each the Hamburg and the Lubec cuats of arms. Gordon C. Corbaley.

Hotes on ©l. 5. ERA.
The rares: of the Plympton war envelopes is the 100 , of which only 345 were issued for use while of the Reag issue, an even 500 is said to have been issued.

The most striking comment on the value of the prices of the 56 th ed. is the fact that a prominent firm is advertising all the War and Treasury department stamps except at a uniform cut of 50 per cent.

An even ten dollars was realized at a New York sale for a bisected 1847 ten cent on the full original cover which is the only specimen which I have ever noted in that condition and which was certainly cheap when the whule stamp is held at $$ 4$.

How many of the readers of the Evergreen have ever ran across a tin foil revenue? They are scarce and seldom met with nowadays, and from the nature of the foil are frail and difticult to preserve which vepy materially helps in rendering them more scarcer every day.
ln looking for silk paper revenues of the first issue it is necessary to carefully scrutinize the enture stamp as the silk threads are few and far between and not infrequently but a minute portion of a single thread will be found on a specimen.

In some cases no less than seven varieties of the same stamp can be found in the first issue revenue, unperforate, part perforate, (either vertically or horizontally) perforate, and double perforate and perforate on silk paper, and perforate on thick paper, and in case of the loc values several co.or variation can also be met with while the 4 c and 3 oc values can be found in shades ranging from deep purple to nearly pearl grey.

1 recently ran across a counterfeit which would deceive many a novice, in fact only accidently discovered it myself and escaped getting caught. A few bits of silk threads had been in some manner attached to a ic Gales stamp making a water marked stamp appear as silk paper unless carefully examined. Whether other specimens similarly doctored are afloat or not it would be a good safe scheme to examine carefully where the watermarked specimens are cheaper than the silk.

While speaking of paper varieties keep your eyes open and examine all the specimens of the Kendall issue of the B. & O. Telegraph stamps and full sets can be found on both thick and thin paper. The only time these varieties have been noted so far as I know is in the appendix to Mekeel's 1895 catalogue.

The Critic.

On Articles and Other Matters of Interest in the Phitatelic World.
That age is not a necessary requisite of a good philatelic paper is proven by the Boston Stamp Book. Although it has just issued its twelfth number, it has made a place for itself in philatelic literature which it would be difficult to fill should it join the great majority, an event which is fortunately of no more liklihood than the exclusion of so called "political" new's from a good many papers presumably devoted to Philately

There are so many good things in the Stamp Book that the Critic can refer to but a few of them in the space at his command. "A Reference Lisi of Die and Type Varieties" by Edilor Kilhon is an excellent work in its way: In the Aprit number the dies of the 10c blue, 1863, Confederate Stales are described, also those of various Argentine Republic Stamps.

A sketch of the new Society, The American Stamp Exchange, together with the rules of the Excliange Dept., is given. The fact that quality, not quantity, is wanted in the membership roll speaks well for the new organization. The ease with which ans Tom, Dick or Harry of swindling proclivities can enter our older societies has always been a bad featur: with them.

In this Dept., "The Market." Mr.

Geo. L. Toppan makes some remarks about the late anti-Auction crusade, which hit the nail on the head pretty squarely. "It is not the number of sales which we have to fear, but the quality of the stamps which are oflered. To be sure the philatelic press has recently bren full of gloonly prognostications for the future, and all based upon the fact that so many sales would surely break the market. lhis sort of twaddle does very well to fill space, but to the thinking philarelist it is amusing only, as he knows good slamps will always bring good prices, either at auction or elsewhere."

It is not hardly necessary to say that the market's back is fust as stiff as ever, in spite of all the auctions held last season. In "Facts for Philatelic learners" there is always something of interest, not alone for the hegimer, but for the collector fairly along in his studies as well.

The June Philatelic West contains another plea for simplification in catalogues and albums. Mr. A. Philley wants collectors divided into two classes, advanced collectors and those "who recognize only the same varielies as were collected tell years ago." Both sides of the question of whether we should go in for minor varieties or not, have been well defended in the rhilatelic press of late, but the result will prolably be that each party will keep its own opinion.
lhe Critic has always had a luigh opinion of the sound sense of the editor of the Philatelic West, Mr. E. H. Wilkinson, and that gentleman's remarks in the same number regarding philatelic politics increase it considerably. The P. W. "will let politics severely alone." Ah! if all our edtitors only had such views! It is useless, however, to attempt to prove to them that Philately and philatelic politics have not the slightest connection

The International Philatelist has alsorbed the Michigan Philatelist, and is consequently Official Organ of that rising Society, the I. A. P. Mr. S. W. Maywood talks entertainingly about U. S. Lue stamps in the April number. "In shades there are a great variety especially in the 189 -93 issue of 'clarets' We have found three distinct varieties of these stamps, mamely, very bright claret, deep claret and almost browin. Of the 1894 clarets we find several shades. the same as in the regular issue, and at least four other distinct shades-deep claret, blood red, dark red and pink. Of these four shades the deep claret is the rarest, we having only one of this variety, -. The ink of the later issues is of inferior quality, thus making the color run to a great extent." This is collecting shades with a vengeance. The Critic believes the following is the first mention of secret marks in connection with the Dues. "On close examination we have discovered a very small, white, curved line extending veetically from the inside of the lower part of the figure five in the five cent stamp, and is also found in the same place in the three cem. We find this on the three and five cent stamps of all the earlier issues, that we believe this to be the secret mark of the engraver."

The Critic made some rather severe remarks regarding a certain article which appeared in a recent number of the Pensy last month, and so it affords him double pleasure to be able to call attention to an excellent essay on the First lssue of Chile, by Fred B. Woolston, in the May number of that paper.

Mr. W. treats his subject exhaustively, and shows that the stamps of the South American Yankees are well worth the earnest attention of the philatelist.

It is stated that there are three different watermarks to be found on the 5 centavos, differing from each other in the size of the " 5. " "Halves of the 10 centavos used as 5 centavos are not uncommon. They are generally cut diagonally "
"The blued paper is the result of a chemical action between this gum and the ink. The $20 c$ was likely gummed with this gum but the paper did not blue because the ink did not have the necessary ingredient—many specimens are not blued because they were used and the gum removed soon after they left the printers. For the same reasons many are only partially blued."
"I have a 5 centavos (first watermark) with a 2 min margain at the left. In the urper left corner are watermarked 'O. S.' in outline capitals extending half way across the stamp. The rest of the space is taken up by four of the lines, parallel to the top. The wide margain indicates that this stamp is from the left edge of the sheet, while the lines show it to he from the top, so it must be from the upper left corner. It would be inter. esting to learn if there are other letters, what they mean and with what types of watermark they are found."
"Mr. E. J. Nankivell states that lie thinks that he has two copies of the 5 c watermarked on laid paper. II watermarked laid paper was used it must have been machine made because hand made laid paper was not watermarked." The copies on laid (?) paper are surely not common. The Catalogue for Advanced Collectur: mentions the 5 c on ribbed paper. It may be thit the ribbed paper has been mistaken for laid Hand made wone may be ribbed but hand made laid cannot be watermarked."
"The counterfeits of this issue are lithographed-easily distinguised from the line engraved originals. It is in buying 10 cemavos on blued paper and the halves used as 5 centavos that one is liable to be swindled" "There are no reprints."

Here is an example of the class of articles the phitatelic public are in meen of. Why calli we have more of them' by miss e. I. LOCKE.After all the learned discussion as to whether we should be general collector: or specialists, the stamps thenselves seem to be settling the vexed question for us. If new stamps continute tor come as they have of late, "thicker and faster, and more of them," it will not be long before it will be an utter imposibility for any one person to make a general collection that will be at all representative. What will Columbians, of high and low degree; watermarked, and unwatermarked, with all their values and varieties; 2 c pinks, capped $2 c$ etc, ad infinitum; to say mothing of the legions of foreign stamps, commemorative and otherwise too mumerous to mention, the general collector of late has had his hands full.

But all this is nothing to what is in store for him if all the bills now before Congress and to come, should become laws. Think of having every city in these United States, of one-hundred thousand inhabitants, or over, (about thinty in all at the present time) issueing a new set of stamps every time some special amiversary calls for them; or it is desired io honor some beloved citizen!

All these, together with the endless "new discoveries" and "varieties" cropping up every now and then, present rather a bewildering mass to the "general" collector. unless he has time unlimited, and wealth rivaling that of Croesus and Forturatus comhine.d.

And then his philatelic library-he will have no room for the collection of stamp papers, so deat to the heart of the up to-date "stamp fiend." All his book shelves will be taken up with atalogues and albums. For in the near future, I dare say, the stamp pullishers of each large city will be issuing special allouns for the stamps of their own particular burg. How sweet (?) is the prospect spread out hefore the future "general collector!"

Your correspondent had the pleasure to meet Mr. B. C. Kenyon, a prominent philatelist of this state and examined his magnificent collection. Mr Kenyon makes a specialty of the stamps of Hawaii and possesses a collection of rarities seldom seen.

Mr. A. W. Luming, the pioneer dealer of Los Angeles has disposed of his stock and collection of stamps and departed for his old home in Cambridge, Mass

A number of well known collectors bave spent the winter in this "land of sunshine" among the number was Mr. H E. Deats of Flemington, N. J., Mr. A. T. Becker of Buffalo, N. Y., Mr. D. C. Callahan and Dr. Post of Denver, Colo.

Revenues are all the rage in San Francisco. I think little of them as they are a seperate department from postage stamps. They never were used for postage and do not rightly helong with postige stamps any more than Beer stamps on original covers.

Mi Chas. A. Cook a well known collector of Orange contemplates a trip across the continent on his wheel.

It is reported that a strong Romanist would have nothing to do with the A P. A. (All. Phil. Ass'n,) and a strong Anti-Romanist collector would not collect the stamps of the Roman States. Next! E. (3. Naro.

The E.S. P. the balance of the year for only fifteen cents

With this issue we complete volume five and as back numbers of the Evergreen always command a premium would it not be a good plan to send in your subscription to begin with the first of the new volume?

In a letter from Mr. Carion we learn that Franz Woodge, a former Oregonjan who defrauded stamp dealers by using divers aliases has been sentenced to one year's imprisonment. This should lee a warning to others similarly inclined.

OH ! those printers. in mentioning a recently acquired, unexpired subscription list, a compositor made one of our contemporaries state that by the change they had added 1100 to their circulation. Never mind brother, everyone knew that he got one cipher too many to it.

A VERY few copies of the April number containing half-tones and biographical sketches of the ten officials of the Oregon and Washington society, can be supplied while they last at ten cents a copy. We will also !nclude a half-tone on heavy cardboard suitable for framing.

ANY of our contemporaries thinking of discounting their publications should write us. We can fill subscrip tious very cheaply and what is the use to continue if you have not the sime to devole to the work or sufficient remmeration to compensate for the amount of labor performed.

A CARD with the following created considerable consternation in our office: "This entitles the bearer 1o one trip over the S. C, W. L. and C R. R. The conductor will take up this pass and punch the holder unless he is going to vote for C. L. Thurston for Ex. Supt. of the P. S of A. 1896 . 97."

Messrs Kaupp and Handshaw shou considerably enterpuse and should he patromized accordingly, in favorins: the collecting fraternity with auction sales after the supposed leaders in this line have given up until the fall season. We can concientiously recommend both gentlemen as being strictly nonest and reliable and no one well make a mistake in sending lids on these sales. some very desirable lots are offered.

ARRANGEmENTS are being completed to publish cuts and sketches in the July EVERGREEN of the prominent candidates for office, in the coming clections of our leading societies and 4,000 copies will be printed and juticiously circulated. The value of this number as all advertising medium need not be mentioned. No advance will be made in our rates, and but a limited amount of advertisements can le accomontated.

We are willing to do our part to create greater interest in our hobly during the next few months and to help it along we offer orders on the Scott Stamp & Coin Co., gord for either albums or stamps as follows: To the three sending in the largest lists of yearly subscribers at 25 c hefore Oct. 1st, '96, we will give to each, an order for the same amount as the cash sent in. Thus forty subscribers, if one of the three largest lists sent in, woukd entille the sender to an order for tell dollars worth of goods.

In 1894 a little batch of 5 c envelopes were made in Holyoke, Mass., by the Purcell Co., who had the government contract at that thele. but soon gave it up. The Purcell Co, ellgraved a new die. differmg considerably from the 1887 die, and which Scoti's 56th now designates as "die B." Only 63,000 of these envelopes were printed on amber paper and a somewhat larger number un white. These envelopes are catalogued at 10 c each by several dealers, but as they are not obtainable the price certainly has nothing in do with their value. We do not know of but one person in the country who has these envelopes and therefore his advertisement occupying a full page in this issue, will be of interest to every collector and probably to many dealers

Several of our contemporaries ate lamenting over the lack of advertising given our publications during these summer months and producing arguments why stampic ads should pay during the so called dull season While we have no complaint to make as yet, nor ever should have with our circulation and rates, it seems to us that enterprising dealers should use printers' ink the year round. We always think a subscriber secured during the summer is worth two secured in the winter months. He is one who never grows tired of oll hobby; he always promplly renews his subscription, and we cannot see why the summer customer should not be of equal advantage to the dealer. It is a well known fact, that when the fall trade opens up, advances all along the line on certain stamps take place. many of them not being procurable at any price until the new catalogue is out. The experienced buyer realizes this and is always ready to sulap up any bargain offered during this time. Why not then offer a few bargains each month and give the summer advertising a fair test, using-of course -a live medium?

PKLESIJENTSADDRESS.

'To the Members of the I. P. A:
Having received a petition signed by twemty members of our Association. I am requested in accordance with Section $G$ Article II, to call a mail vote on the following questions:
I. Whether it would be advisable not tohold a convention this year?
2 If such should be the decision of a majority of the members. that the second additional provision, not embodied in the Constitution the date should he clanged to 1897 instead of 889 as it is now?
3. Those not in fasor of a convention this year, but are in fivor of election of officers, whease drop the lrustees a card to that effect?
4. That the Constitution be: so amended as in consolidate Auction and Purchasing Deptrs?

On the above questions, I would reguest that those opposed to postponing the Convention to 1897 to drop the 'lrustees a card to that effect.
And those in favor of holding an election of ofticers this year, to drop a card to the Trustees.

These who are opposed to consolidating the Auction and Purchasing Dep's vole.

The foregoing rules are made proving how difficult it is to get a majority of the members to vote.
Your vote must bebin the hands of the luonrd of 'Trustees by July 3. 189 ǵ.

And now fellow members in conclusion 1 have repeated the statements several times and hand tried to make the question, dear. 1 would re. yuest that each one give the question lyis promplt :und careful consideration.

I am yours for the I. P. A.

A RARE U. S. ENVELOPE

Scott & Co. only Ask I ©cents. BUT I ASK ONE DOLLAR!

READ THIS ADVERTISEMENT THOROUGHLY!

It isn't very often nowadays that any dealer or other person gets a corner on U.S Stamps. Our government issues too many and the opportunity never comes to any one person. Nevertheless, I have got the big end of a corner. Here's the story:

In $18 \varepsilon 4$ the government contract for printing U. S. Envelnpes was given to the Purcell Co., who erected a plant in Holyoke, Mass. Owing to inadequate farilities they soon had to give up the contract, which soon reve ted to the great Plympton concern of Hartiond, Conn. During the short time the Purcell Co. held the contract they printed a few 5 cent envelopes, making for the same a new dir, now designated ir. the 56th catalogue as "DIE B." The die ia now destroyed. The Purcell Company issued of these envelopes 119,000 on white paper, and 63 ,000 on amber. The supply was almost inmediately sent out to fill orders received and were used for foreign mail almort before anyone knew of them. So, you'll see mighty few of them.

Wh.en the Purcell Co gave up the contract, a few thonsand of the die a on Anher were left, and I gecured them. Sentt's catalogue prices them at 10 centa. If you want one at 10 centa write tcott or any big denler and see if theyr'e not "just ou"." They were "just ont" of them when the catalogue was isfued, and are liable to be "just ont" for the remainder of their business career. "Just out" means, "we haven't pot 'em."

MY PRICEIS $\longrightarrow$ ONE DOLLAR EACH

I can afford to hold them indefinitely, so if you think they will be cheaper, don't harry, but wait. I have only the AMBERS, and I have the only Ambers; so there's the atcry in a nutsthell. I will sell only 6 (aix) to one address, and will nend six for $$ 5$. Single apecimens $$ 1$ each.

K aupp's 4th SALE To be held Sat., July ii, 1896. THE ADVANTAGE of an auction sale is, that you buy stamps at your own price. WAKE UP TO THIS FACT. Look this sale over, pick out what you would like to have, and bid on it, and don't forget it is summer, and that there may not be many bids, thus giving you a chance to buy stamps cheap.

There is no Reserve

on any of the !ots, but all are just as advertised, and will be taken back if you do not ind them so.
0-Bid just what you are willing to give, don't bid for the fun of it. I mean business, and if your bids are the highest you will be expected to remit when informed to that effect.

A HANDY PROSPECTOR'S FURNACE

This furnace is designed and constructed by and for a prospector, who requires a serviceable furnace, easily transported over a mountainous country by a pack animal; that is complete and ready, and can be set up at any dump of low grade ores, that otherwise will not pay to ship with profit and make a good day's pay out of one to two tons of ore a day.

To judge the value for such an outfit-of a CUPOLA SMELTER, KNOCK-DOWN BOTTOM TYPE, with extension when smelting ores, made of No. 10 steel plates with slag and melal spouts, rotary steel blower, countershaft with geared pul'ey for blast supply. by either water, steam or hand power; with three graphide crucibles, three steel ladles, six furnace steel bars and tools, only weighing 1285 poundswhen the prospector can determine the value of one ton of the ore in a five-hour heat by the output of the bullion.

With a little ordinary intelligence of the average prospector, this five feet by three feet inside diameter little smelter, run on low grade ores, will not only pay for itself every week, but it will convince the skeptic beyond redemption who does not believe with us that the little smelter must come to the ore.

The fact that a great many of these CUPOLA TYPE smelters are now being adopted throughout the Western mining districts, and all giving entire satisfaction, is sufficient recommendation for the sudden demand as an absolute necessity to every prospector, mine owner, millman, sampling works or mining company.

Full and complete instructions go with the outfit, which gives mode of treatment of different ores, directions as to the setting up and starting smelter, fuel, fluxing material, and general smelting operation.

A small size $2 \times 4$ feet of $\frac{1}{d}$ ton capacity per five-hour heat, only weighs 650 pounds, same number of tools, with blower, \&c., designed for the poor prospector, who feels unable to purchase the larger smelter outfit. Ores and compound ores assayed and reported on.

U. S. COLUMBAAN ENVELODES.

We all know why the Columbian series were issued, and what the results have been, to philatelists, of the United States setting the ball rolling in the issue of commemorative postage stamps. Nevertheless, if collectors must admit that the U.S. Columbians were the first of a long list or speculative issues, there are lew to be found who have the courage not to collect them. It is said in defence of the Colunbians that the idea of speculation played but a very small part in their issue and that they would have made their appearance even if stamp collecturs did not exist. In this they differ radically from the later day gumpap, whose existence depends solely on the gullibility of the philatelist.

Speculative or not, stamp mell will collect the Columbians. It is the object of this article to throw a little light on one portion of the Columbian issue, about which a good many young collectors are in the dark, i. e., the different varieties of the envelopes. It is somewhat strange that no more attention is paid to these varieties by the average collector. The unpopularity of envelopes may have something to do with this, but the most important factor is no doubt their ommission from the Scott Stamp & Coin Co's. catalogue. Should they appear in the next edition, a change would come about quickly enough. Possibly when the adhesives have been exhausted and intinitesimal varieties can no longer be found there the turn of the ewvelopes may come.

There is but one way to collect envelopes, and that is entire and unused if possible. This may seem to be an extreme assertion, but among the few who collect envelopes earnestly this is rapidly becoming the accepted opinion. Mr. F. C. Hammond in an article on U. S. Envelopes in the December, 1895, Evergreen admitied that he did not collect the different sizes of envelupes. The writer was glad to read this, as he has always collected them without regard to size, and considers it merely a waste of money and energy for the ordinary general collector to gather in the various sizes. (With the specialist, the case is, of course, different.) On this account, no attention has been paid to the sizes in the following:

As every collector knows there were four values of Columbian envelopes issued, viz. ic deep blue, 2 c violet. 5 c chocolote, 10c slate browil.

The design and watermark need not be described here. Only cream paper was intended to be used.
There but few variations in color. The 1,2 and 5 c are sometimes found in lighter shades than the colors given above, but the differences are very slight. The 5 c exists in slate brown, the same as the loc.

As to die varieties, Mr. Fred O. Conant compiled the most complete list the writer has yet seen for the July, 1893, Philatelic Era. This was taken from Moen's Le Timbre Poste, and other varieties not mentioned added by Mr. Donant.

The 1 c is divided into three types, which may be distinguished as follows: a. No periods after "America" and "Cent." b. Periods after "America" and "Cent." c. Periods. Line behind the head of Columbus.

There are other differences, but the above will serve to make distinctions.

There are nine types of the 2 c mentioned. The sixth, seventh and ninth have periods, the others none. They may be distinguished as follows:

3rd type. a. Same as first type. b. Left hemisphere 11 and 10. c. Right hemisphere 11 and 11. d. No line behind head.

4th type. a Same as first type.
b. Left hemisphere 11 and 9. c. Right hemisphere 11 and 10 d. Line.

5th type. a. Same as first type b. Left hemisphere 11 and 10. c. Right hemisphere 11 and 10. d. Line.

6th type. a. The ends of wings are rounded. b Left hemisphere 11 and 6. c. Right hemisphere 11 and 8. d. Line, 7th type, a Wings pointed and showing feathers. b. Left hemisphere 11 and 9. c. Right hemisphere 11 and 10. d No line.

8th type. a. Wings tapering, b. Left hemisphere 11 and 9. c. Right hemisphere 11 and 11 . d. Line.

9th type. a. Wings tapering. b. Left bemisploce 11 and 11. c. Reght hemisphere 11 and 10 . d. No Line.

Two types of the 5 c are given. The distinguishing marks are:

First. Left hemisphere has 11 and 8 lines. Line behind head. Secon.t Left hemisphere 11 and 9. No line tehind head.

But one type of the 10c is known.
The $2 c$ is said to exist without watermark. In the April, '94, A. J. of P ., mention is made of some ell. velopes found on white paper wilh regular U. S. watermark.

Mis-strikes, half albinos and other oddities are known to exist They deserve passing mention only, as they are of bui little interest to anyone save the oddity hunter. Veritas.

WANDERING THOUGHTS.

Stamp collecting as a mania is a peculiarly incurable disease. There are very few people who once wor shoped at the shrine of Philatelia who ever become wholly free from the benign influence of that fair goddess. While the smoker may take some one of the prescribed tobacco habit cures, or the drunkard the gold cure, and each become cured of his particular vice, the stanp fiend remains a stamp fiend still. "Once a collector always a collector" is a saying as true as is any provert of Solomon. The one who, even that tender period of life wherein he is denominated a "kid," nonce contracts the stamp mania has formed a habit which will cling to lim through life.

As he grows older he may lose interest in his stamps and lay them aside or he may even sell his collection and believe that his collecting davs are over. But the time will come when the dormant interest will he again aroused. It may be months, it may be years, after the supposed final closing of the album, but sooner or later the re-awakening of the collectug instinct will come

The revival may be caused it various manners. The retired collector inay read an article on Philately in some of the newspapers. He may chance to look over a friend's collection, or in some one of a dozen other ways the pleasures of the old collecting days are brought vividly before his mins.t. Inmediately the Philatelic instinct revives and the old thirst for stamps comes back to him with intensified strength. He once more enters the ranks of collectors and so the victim. of the habit remains a stamp fiend to the end of his days.

A pretty and unique ornament can be constructed with postage stamps. Take a piece of plate or common window glass about $8 \times 12$ inches, and paste stamps in some ornamental figure or design, on the back. It may be hung to the wall by small brass chains running around the edge and then forming a loop at the top. It makes a fitting ornament for the collector's "den" or for the parlor. in pasting them do not put them all over the back bat leave a good margain.

The word so well known to us as Philately, was first absurdly used by M. Herpin, a stamp collector, in "Le Collectionneur" in 1865 . It was intended to mean "the love of the study of all that concerns prepayment."
$$ 7,865.27$ was the amount realized from R. F. Albrecht & Co's., auction sale on Jan. 28, 29, 30. This is the largest amount received at any of the other sales during January.

If you have a friend who says stamps are not worth anything, please tell him that there were $$ 55,199,49$ worth of stamps sold by aluction in the month of Jamuary.

There is a movement on foot in Congress to raise the price of second class matter. A similiar bill was before Congress in '94 and did not pass.

THE CRITIC.

On Articles and Other Matters of Interest in the Phil. atelic World.
The average reader of philatelic papers who subscribes to a goodly number of journals, good, bad and indifferent, has no doubt observed the large amount of space that has been wasted during the last month or two by some of the papers on so-called philatelic politics. What is Philately? The collecting of pustage stamps, or a scramble for offices in the societies, accompanied by mud slinging, which many a politician would he ashamed of? Is a philatelic journal to be devoted to the interests of stamp collectors, or to those of a body of amateur politicians, (mostly youths who may have reached the age of discretion in years, but whose years have certainly been shorter than those of other mortals, leaving them proportionately childish)?

A very pertinent letter in this connection from Mr. Clay W. Holmes to the Editor of the Philatelic Era is published in the issue of June 27th of that paper. Mr. Holmes says, "I am entirely disgusted with many of the journals which take up more time lately about who is to be 'voted for' at some future election than they do about philately. It is simply sickening and I have no patience with them. Some men care more for oftice than stamps (?). They are just the ones who ought not to be elected and if they succeed, philately declines." There is only one objection to trying to defeat the candidates of this sort for some of the offices in some of the societies, viz., that the offices conlel not be filled, owing to a lack of aspirants who are not being "boomed. "A sad world, my masters"

After being inflicted by a supply ol electioneering twaddle, it is refreshiny toturn to some of the "old stand-bys" who are ruming along as usual devoting their space to stamps, the supposed purpose of philatelic papers.

The July American Journal al Philately is as full of good things as usual. The Catalogue for Adranced Collectors finishes the stamps of South Australia in this number, treat also of those of South Bulqaita and commences with those of Spain. "Our English Letter" makes its appearance again after some month" absence, and is just as readable as ever. The Critic was afraid that Mr Nankivell was to be one of the beanties of by-gone days, as far as hicontributing to the A. J. of $P$. was concerned, but luckily such was not the case. Among other things we learn in the above mentioned letter that the recent decision in the Upcont Gill case forbids the illustrating ol stamps in Great Britain, that H. K. H. the Duke of York has succeeded the late Earl of Kingston as President of the London Philatelic Society, that a big International Exhibition is to lie held in the early part of next year.

Mr. John N. Luff discusses the "Stamps of Heligoland" in his usual paintaking way. The distinction between the originals and reprints are given in some length, and in such a manner as to be lucid to all classes of colleciors. Anyone who is interested particularly in the stamps of that island can find no better guide to aid him in collecting them than this article.

Mr. Henry L. Calman furnishes some "Notes from Abroad," giving an account of the various London dealers and of the London Society's ammal dinner.

The Delahaef tragedy, with which no doubt the readers of the Evergreen are so familiar by this time, comes in for its share of space. "A Cause Celebre-The Stamp Bourse" is a translation from Le Collectionneur de Timbre-Poste, which deals tirstly with the ghastly crimes and the monves that lead up to it, and then take up the Paris Stainp Bourse. After describing it, the writer pitches into it in such a fashion that if it were not tor the fact that M. Maury, the publisher of the Le. C. de T.-P., is a dealer who loses business on the existence of the Stamp Bourse, we might think that it is one of the worst places a slamp zollector can visit. The picture is certainly a most disagrecable one.

The usual Chronicle and notes, "The Market" and reports of Society meetings round ofti a first class midsummer number.

The June Eastern Philatelist contains an article for U. S. specialists hy Crawford Capen. dealing this time with "Continentals from National Plates." When it comes to discussing U. S. scientifically, Mr. Crawford is pre-eminently one of the best yualified prople to do it. Dirigo gives "My Early Experience in Collecting and Exchanging," which takes one back to the good old days when one stamp was as good as another and speculation was an unknown quantity.
.ir. Ramond S. Baker makes a plea for Revenues. Revenue collecting is one of the side issues of Philately, and, while not strictly belongs to it at all, will undoubtedly find its place as one of the main brancles in due time. Mr. Hopkins continues his descripuion of Counterfeits, those of the 12 and 24c 1869 issue of Liberia being treated in this number of the E . $P$. Editor Pinkham has his columns as full of news as usual. He may well take some pride in having issued the centemial number of his excellent magazine.

The Michigan Philatelist, (New Series) is a new candidate for the collector's favor. Vol. I. No. I. is not haif bad for a starter. The Northwest's crack journalist, Gordon C. Corbaley, talks entertainingly of "Some Dealers of the Eighties and of To-day," giving the reader quite ant insight into the stamp trade of ten years ago. Mr. S. W. Maywood depreciates the speculation which is steadily gaming ground in philatelic circles and prophecies a crash if things are kept up at the present rate. Mr. H. I. Watts condemns the "Fon Chow" stamps, claiming that they are cutirely unnecessary and that a letter can be sent from Foo Chow with a Japanese or U. S. stamp without the local attached, "The truth is, these stamps are merely used as revenues, and as such as might be collected by philatelists." Where does Mr. Watts get his facts to base his statement on? While the Critic does not claim to know very much about Chinese locals, having left them all alone, from Shanghai to Wuhu, it does not see how a local postage stamp can be termed a revenue. What is the stamp put on the letter for if it is a revenue?
"Funnigrams" is a feature of the M. P. which would be more appreciated if left out. A philatelic paper is no place for so-called jokes. The space could be profitably devoted to something connected with stamp collecting.

> NOTES FOOR U. S. COILLECTORS. ERA.

The increasing popularity of the collecting of entire envelopes was well instanced when a not particulary fine copy of a used 10c on butt 1857 issue changed hand at a price very close to $$ 30.00$.

Speaking of ellvelope stamps reminds me that a Western dealer recently was oftering a fine cut specimen of a 100 war at $$ 60$ which is just a cool 40 per cent. discount from the 56 edition price.

Is the decline in prices in Columbias which has been anticipated by many at hand? I have seen $$ 2$ slamps offered at $$ 2.25 ; $ 1$ at $$ 3.50$ and 50 c in blocks at 55 c . and understand purchasers are not very numerous either.

With Columbians offered at these figutes I lxgan to believe that of stamps of recent issue which will be the rarity of the future are the $$ 2$ and $$ 5$ unwatermarked, really fine specimens of which seem to be well nigh impossible to find and which when found can not be touched at any thing like a reasonable price.

The find of another 10c Baltimore is reported. Doesn't it look rather peculiar that for over forty years none should be found and then in a year they should turn up with due regularity about every other month?
G. Carion in all article in The Philatelic Californian states that 73 varieties of the periodical stamps exist, which with proofs, specimens, sets, reprints, etc., would make a collection in themselves and undoubtedly some day the "periodical specialist" will be with us.

A novel use of stamps is reported from Washington where a collector has had a pair of ten cent 1847 mounted in his cuff buttons. What is the matter with this suggesting a neat and suitable design for a phili:telic button.

The renewed search for old stampon the part of the host of boy-collectors that has sprung up here in the "Bluegrass" has resulted in some very unique discoveries. I am not at liberty to chronicle these discoveries, but cannot resist making this comment for the benefit of those who declare the age of Philatelic discovery to the past and gone.

Contrary to the laws of nature the warm weather seems to have infused new energy int the majority of our stamp papers, yet there are still some laggards and faint rumors of an early demise.

How rapidly have the collectors of the Hhilatelic Northwest came into prominence. A year ago it was not known that this region posessed as yreat a wealth of Philatelists as of precious ore; but now through the Evergreen the Philatelic Northwest has came to take a prominent place in the Philatelic world.

Stamp matters are booming in the "Bluegrass," and the collectors here do not intend to remain behind the collectors in other regions. Several infant tirms have sprung into existence, and there are stray rumors of a llew stamp paper. M. C. Spears.

IPIILTHELIC TDVERTISIN(i.

 BY F. W. KAUPP."Advertising is to business as food and drink is to man," but many of our dealers do not seem to believe this, and therefore do not have the trade they would have if they advertised.

When a collector reads a stamp paper he reads the advertisements as well as the articles, notes, elc., and many times the advertisements first.

Many dealers advertise in a paper and as they do not get large results consider the paper as a poor advertising medium, but if they would stop to think they would see that it is as much their fault as that of the paper, and a great mally times it is the dealer's fault, simply because they do not advertise the right thing in the right place, and do not say the proper thing to keep the reader's attention.

To attract a reader's attention is a very easy thing, but to keep it is a different story, and in it his recut' of advertising.

After you get your reader's attention do not dissapoint him, but tell him something that will interest him, and always remember, "That it is not what you say, but the way you say it."

Another point which dealers do not consider is that it makes a big difference what they advertise, and where they advertise it; but it does, and dealers should take great care in placing an ad according to what he has to sell.

If he has a lot of the cheaper grade of stamps he should place his ad in a paper that reaches young collector's don't place it in one of our first-class papers and then kick because you did not get enough answers.

Surely you would not try to sell a millionaire a $$ 10$ horse. Of course not. Well it is just about as absurd to try to sell our advanced collectors cheap stamps, for it "don't go."

Place your ad according to what you have to sell.

If there is one person in the Philatelic Sons of America, who is better known for his sterling worth as a member, and who is more alive to the general success and welfare of that Society, it is the subject of this sketch. Oney K. Carstarphen of Colorado, candidate (and incidently, the most popular one) for President of the $P$. S. of A for 1896-97.

One of the greatest arguments in favor of Mr. Carstarphen elections this summer are the words with which he was greeted last year upon his defeat as secretary. The words were these and were almost if not entirely the unanimous sentiments of the Denver convention. "Oney we were mistaken. We little knew the man we were working against, otherwise the result would have been different."

When they acknowledged they were mistaken they thereby paid one of the highest tributes to the loyal and enterprising personality of Oney K. Carstarphen.

A HANDY

 PROSPECTOR'S FURNACE.$\tau$HE attention of Prospectors aud Miners is called to the merit of a new improved apparatus for testing and smelting various kinds of ores and minerals, such as gold cupper, nickel, silver and lead ores, refactory and compound ores.
This furnace is designed and constructed by and for a prospector, who requires a serviceable furnace, easily transported over a mountainous country by a pack animal; that is complete and ready, and can be set up at any dump of low grade orec, that otherwise will not pay to ship with profit and make a good day's pay out of one to two tons of ore a day.

To judge the value for such an outfit-of a CUPOLA SMELTER, KNOCK-DOWN BOTTOM TYPE, with extension when smelting ores, made of No. 10 steel plates with slag and melal spouts, rotary steel blower, countershaft with geared pulley for blast supply, by either water, steam or hand power; with three grachide crucibles, three steel ladles, six furnace steel bars and tools, only weighing 1285 poundswhen the prospector can determine the value of one ton of the ore in a five-hour heat by the output of the bullion.

With a little ordinary intelligence of the average prospector, this five feet by three feet inside diameter little smelter, run on low grade ores, will not only pay for itself every week, but it will convince the skeptic beyond redemption who does not believe with us that the little smelter must come to the ore.

The fact that a great many of these CUPOL.A TYPE smelters are now being adopted throughout the Western mining districts. and all giving entire satisfaction, is sufficient recommendation for the sudden demand as an absolute necessity to every prospector, mine owner, millman, sampling works or mining company.

Full and complete instructions go with the outfit, which gives mode of treatment of different ores, directions as to the setting up and starting smelter, fuel, fluxing material, and general smelting operation.

A small size $2 \times 4$ feet of $\frac{1}{2}$ ton capacity per five-hour heat, only weighs 650 pounds, same number of tools, with blower, \&c., designed for the poor prospector, who feels unable to purchase the larger smelter outfit. Ores and compound ores assayed and reported on.

THE CRITIC

On Articles and other matters of interest in the rhilatelic world.

MR. SEEBECK'S stamps are a never-failing topic for discussion in the Philatelic press. It might have been supposed several times that we were rid of the worn out subject, but, no, Mr. Seebeck and his stamps bob up serenely every time after being a short time out of the public mind. With the latest phase of the standing of the Seebeck's most of the readers of the Evergreen are probably familiar, but for the benefit of those who may not be, it may be stated that an agreement has been made betweell Mr. Seebeck and the S. S. S. Committee in New York to the effect that "in the consideration that Mr. Seebeck agrees 10 use his influence with certain Central and South American Governments, with which he has contracts for the furnishing of postage stamps for the years 1897, 1898 and 1899, to induce them to accept, in lien of a special issue for each year, a three years supply of the stamps for 1897 , also to place this issue in circulation on Jan. 1, 1897 , and to use it exclusively for at least three years,-the dealers agree that, in case any of the governments should enter into any contract similar to those entered into with Mr. Seebeck, with other parties, they will not handle such stamps as may be issued under such contract at all." Most of the dealers in this country have signed this agreement-and on all sides we hear rejoicing that at last Seebeckism is a thing of the past.

The Philatelic Californian, well known for its independence in the way of looking at philatelic matters, does not regard this malter as an unmixed blessing, in fact, comments rather severally upon it, June number . The following glaring defets are noted:
"1st It binds Mr Seebeck only in regard to the countries with which be now has contracts, but does not prevent him from entering into similar contracts with other countries
"2nd. How can Mr. Seebeck or the Hamilton Bank Note Co., bind the several foreign countries from making like contracts with other parties, and, if such contracis are made what possible benefit can accrue from the above agreement between the dealers and Mr . Seebeck, except to establish the 1897 set, printed and supplied by Mr. Secbeck? And so on further.
"The agreement is all in favor of Mr. Seebeck, and seems to be an opening wedge for a new deal in the near future.
"The proposition will most likely be to issue new sets every two or three years instead of annually."

The Californian does not want to compromise. "We want no more Seebeck stamps, not evell one set, and there may be three if the respective governments do not agree."

From all of which we see that all that glitters is not gold, especially when subjected to such close scrutiny as the California Philatelic Press Club is likely to give it.

The July Post Office devotes considerable space to informing the public of how one of the would be philatelic political leaders manages his office in his own interest. It is to be regretted that so much of the P. O.'s valuable space is wasted on such scurvy matter, but then, it is in a good cause and good results may come of it.
"A Descriptive Catalogue of U. S. Postage Stamps," now appearing in the P. O., looks for its equal for comprehensiveness, and probably looks in vain. For completeness and clearness of description it certainly stands pre-eminent, and adds another to Editor Capen's many laurels. The catalogue is illustrated by cuts having a bar across the center. In the space at his command the critic can make but general mention of this excellent work; to give an idea of its exhaustiveness it may be stated that the 3c. 1851 is divided into the following varieties:
A. Original plate. a. Complete die; b. Misplaced die; c. Incomplete die.
B. Retouched plate, a. Complete die; b. Misplaced die; c. Incomplete die; d. Shifted die.
"The complete die of the original plate is represented by the stamp which shows that the lines of the die exactly fitted and corresponded with those of the plate. There is a slight space between all parts of the stamp and the outer line which completely surrounds it. The misplaced die shows the stamp in a wrong position in relation to the outer line.
"The misplaced die is sometimes confused with the shifted die. The misplaced die refers to the stamp produced from a plate in which the die was set in a wrong position and kept there. The shifted die refers to the stamp made from a plate in which the die was set in a wrong position, and slightly impressed on the plate, and then moved to its proper position where the full impression was made. The misplaced die gave one badly made stamp. The shifted die produced a plate which at one stroke gave two stamps. one a light impression in a wrong position, the other a heavy inpression in a correct position.
"The incumplete die produced a stamp in which it can be seen that the outer line originally on the die has been removed from it.
"The retouched plate differs from the original in having additional lines drawn vertically from rosette to rosette just within the outer line. We speak of these lines of retouching in a general way as drawn from rosette to rosette, but they are frequently found passing one or another rosette and connected with the little corner triangles just above them.
"The shifted die is found in the stamps from the retouched plate. There are numerous shifts of this die, the most noticeable of which is the one illustrated by our cut, in which the lower line of the words 'Three Cents' passes through the center of the words, and the central portion of the rosette appears just above them in the form of little white circles."

The Critic begs to acknowledge receipt of a copy of the "Stamp Collectors' Hand Book and Directory of Michigan." The compiler, Mr. Wm. H. Kessler, jr., of Detroit, is to be highly commended for his enterprise in placing it before the public. Its thirty odd pages contain, besides a goodly array of advertisements, portraits and sketches of some of the leadng Michigan philatclists, a lengthy directory of collectors and dealers, a list of the philatelic publications that have appeared in the State and a short sketch of the Michigan Philatelic Society, one of the leading State associations in the country. The press work, Speaker Printing Co., Detroit, deserves special mention for his excellence.

A pleasant surprise greeted the Critic when he received V'o. 1, No. 1 of the Stamp Lore, "Canada's up-todate Philatelic magazine" If future numbers are up to No. 1, some of the papers in the States may look to their laurels. The typographical appearance of this new candidate for stampic tavor is excellent, and the contents are equally good. Mr. Chas. E. Jenney, a Coast man, by the way, discusses "Varieties of the $\frac{1}{2}, 1 \frac{1}{2}$ and 2d, Line engraved Stamps of Great Britain" most learnedly. Varieties of watermark, hair lines, perforations and postmarks all come in for a share of his attention. in addition to these he gives the market value of each variety. Mr. Wurtele makes a strong plea for a modern National Association for Canada, urging the consolidation of the present societies.

Mr. Severn contributes "Three Points of View," of which the first is undoubtedly the best. It is entitled a "A good all-round Stamp," toc violet black 1859 issue of Canada. After discussing its value. (catalogue $$ 2.50$, and "soms collectors think it is worth more"), he says, "Ils pusition is somewhat analogus to that of the 3c pink 1860, U. S. When a collector has a real pink, he has a scarce stamp, and when he has a true violet black, he has an uncommon stamp. The collector who posesses a dark violet shade of the 10 c must mot think he has the violet black; but if he persists in calling it the latter, treat the specimen with a little per oxide of hydrogen. Then, you can, perhaps, make merry at the expense of the chagrined collector, like as not, the stamp will loe restored to its original lue, violet or red lilac." Mr. Severn relates firther of one collector who gathered in twelve different shades of the 10 c stamp, among which was a black one. This collector had only found one stamp in linis shade and althoiseh he often tried to discover another stamp in this shade he was unsuccessful, This is one of the collectors who thinks the violet black is worth more than $$ 2.50$. The second point of view is "Sug-. gested by the Daily." As the Review Editor of the Stamp Collectors Fortnightly once said, Mr. Severn hath a pretty wit, vide; "When a philatelic writer wishes to emphasize his point, he says that so-and-so marks a philatelic era or an era in philately. If we are to take the philatelic pen people at their word, philately is marked by an era every other week or so." However, besides the above this short article contains little of particular merit. The Chicago essayist has a most optimistic way of looking at thinks, which has its advantage, of course, when his writings are read by beginners and Philistines. He has exercised his optimism to its fullest capacity in this point of view. The Daily deserves all the praise he gives it surcly, but see what follows. "Then, too, the tone of the philatelic press has been strengthened and manifestly improved during recent years, and the ones who complain, sincerely enough. perhaps, about the literature of philately, are finding themselves without an occupation.
"A daily, weeklies, monthlies; exponents of typographical art, magazines that rival the dantiest creations of the outside world; solid, sensible publications, etc., go to make up a literature that rises superior to the carpings of the idealist." Happy is the man who holds such a good opinion of American philatelic journal. ism. We are improving, sans doute, but have we now a "literature that rises superior to the carpings of the idealist?" But then, the Critic always was an old grumbler, who never could find anything good anywhere, n'est-ce pas? This is why he is called the Critic.
"Common Stamps at Wholesale," third point of view gives a point or two about wholesale dealers. Politics in Philately, and notes of various kinds round of, the first number of this excellent publication. The publishers are to be congratulated upon producing such a creditable initial number. They promise great things; let us hope they will succeed.

NOTES.

It was said that in July there would be issued by the Japan government two stamps remembering the last great war against China. These stamps, 2 and 5 sen, of which one will represent the General in-Chief of the Japan army Pince Aresugawa, and the other the field marsal Prince Ketasherakawa, both dead now. These will be the first stamps of that country with an effigy.

It is reported that Mexico will have a new issue; be represented by a geographical map of Mexico.

Holland just issued the 5 gulden stamp grey green and carmine.

Plate No. 60, U. S. due stamp one cent value can be found in both the light and dark shade on unwatermarked paper, the former however, seems to be the rarer shade and judging from the date furnished me by the postmaster who had the light shade as the time he received them would indicate it was the first issue. The postmaster was very loath to attach a plate number strip to a letter with postage due thereon for fear he might be violating the laws.

The slump in prices of Columbians still continue, the Eastern dealer who tried to comer the $$ 2$ value having given up the job and offering any quanti:y at face value. I have even been informed that a deal had been consumated whereby a block of tell changed hands at $$ 1.90$ each, but it must have been that the seller was in need of funds. The $50 c$ also can be picked up at well nigh face value, but somehow goond used specimens scem to be held at better prices than new ones.

There is said to be in existence a mortgage with 25 two hundred dollar revenue stamps attached. Wonder which is the most valuable to-day the property thereon described or the stamps.

1 recently saw a $2 c$ envelope, albino used. While albinos are not remarkably scarce, I never, to the best of my recollection, ever saw a cancelled one before. -

Speaking of albinos'reminds me that I never saw but one of the 1853 issue and although I made a good offer for it I failed to get it, and learned about afterward that only a few days subsequent to showing it to me, the owner lost it together with about a hundred dollars worth of other good stamps which vanished with a pocket book in which they were kept. I wonder if the finder knew their value.

The new A. P. A. Board will he: F. P. Olney, President; W. E. Van Derlip, J. Toppan, J. A. Kilbou, Vice-Presidents; Jos. Beard, Secretary; H. Phillips, Assistant Secretary; N. E. Chandler, Treasurer; E. Doeblin, Int. Secretary; G. Mekeel, Ex. Sup't.

Dead broke, never so hard up, etc., are the words you hear from the dealers.
R. L. Perry has gone on a hunting trip to Maine, and Rockefeller of The Standard Oil, is cursing summer and vacations as Perry had to have his.

It is said by some who do not know R. Ashcroft that a vole for Ashcroft is a vote for Kissinger, but only by those who do not know Ashcroft for if ever an independent party lived Asheroft is one.

A PROVOKING mistake occured in the sketch of Edgar F. Barth published last month. Mr. Barth is the candidate for Ex. Supt., L. of A. P. and is the President of the I. P. A. and not Mr. Bartels as the compositor would have it.

Plate number collecting notwithstanding it has its many enemies to gain new recruits daily. Dealers are commonly offering $$ 50$ for No. 89 2c value '94-95 but it is said there are but four copies of this number known to be in existence.

00
Mr. Ed. C. Ives & Co., have favored us with samples of their superb blank approval sheets, and Ralph L. Shepard, with a souvenir of Omalia which should convince anyone that that city would be a desirable place for the ' 98 Convention.

00
Mr. J. M. Bartels & Co., of 439 9th Si., N. W., Washington, D. C., have favored us with the first complete priced catalogue and reference list of the plate numbers of the United States adhesive postage stamps, issued from 1847 to 1896, and a very meritorious work which they sell at tifty cents per copy.

00
in our June number a page ad of Mr. Allen Willey's was printed claiming a corner on the M. S. '95 envelope Die B, and offering them for sale at one dollar each. We have since learned that Mr. W. has not the corner he supposed he had for the same envelopes are offered in another column by M. Cornish at fifteen cents each.

A peculiar stamped envelope was recently received in our mail sent by a friend in the East. The peculiarity being a round cut envelope stamp was pasted on an ordinary white envelope having an additional embossed head of Franklin prasted on the top of the embossed head of Washington on the round cut stamp. Uncle Sammy's postal officials are not generally philatelists or they would have noticed the peculiarity of the head of the ic bemg attached to the frame work of the 2 c denomination.

The magazine last month was a failure as far as carrying out our intentions in regard to printing many cuts. The candidates were partly in fault in not getting their photos to us on time, and the official organs of the various societies were also, in being published ton late to leam the final denominations. The photographs had to be in the engraver's hands before the 10th ult, to enable us to secure the cuts in time fur printing. We had to return all the photos as well as several cuts that reached us too late. hut we hope to do better another time.

ARE you trying for one of the roders we offer on the Scolt Stamp and Coin Co., as follows: To the three sending in the largest lists of vearly subscribers at 25 c before Oct. 1. '96, we will give to each all order for the same amount as the cash sent in. Thus twenty subscribers, be one of the three largest lists sent in, would enlitle the sender to an order for five dollar's worth of gnods. No lists have been received as yet although several have written for their determination to try for the prize. This is a good way to get a costly album, or some desirable stamps.

Mr. B. S. Ross, of Chicago, Ill., has been refused admittance in the Columbia Philatelic Society. He was objected to by six different members, five of which were owing Mr. Ross for stamps ranging from 60 c to $$ 111$ each. The Trustees after examining the charges took it for granted that Mr. Ross was a fraud and reported adversly on his admission. Mr. Ross was never consulted on the charges, and never had a chance to defend, which shows how the Columbia Philatelic society is conducted. The worst criminal has a chance to defend himself in any case, but Mr. Ross was not allowed this.

As we go to press we learn from Mr. E. Aldrich at the A. P. A. Convention under date of Aug. 11, that President Tiffany is absent-at home sick; "that a ruling will be made that the full list of July applicants will not be members until Aug 15, the requisite length of time (30days) from date of publication," and that D.J. McDermoit withdrew C. Kissinger's name as a candidate. If such a ruling as before mentioned is made we consider it very injust one as these applicants were really promised a vote and are now to he deprived of that privilege until they are members of the society for 13 months, while others have the privilege of voting who only joined a week or so before. These applicants are undoubtedly glad to belong to the Society under any consideration, but it should be understood that only July applicants are not entitled to vote until members 13 months, otherwise the A.P. A.may he accused of obtaining money under false pretenses.

A HANDY PROSPECTOR'S

 of a new improved apparatus for testing and simelting various kinds of ores and minerals, such as gold. cupper, nickel, silver and lead ores, refactory and compound ores.This furnace is designed and constructed by and for a prospector, who requires a serviceable furnace, easily transported over a mountainous country by a pack animal; that is complete and ready, and can be set up at any dump of low grade ores, that otherwise will not pay to ship with profit and nake a good day's pay out of one to two tons of ore a day.

To judge the value for such an outfit-of a CUPOLA SMELTER, KNOCK-DOWN BOTTOM TYPE, with extension when smelting ores, made of No. 10 steel plates with slag and meial spouts, rotary steel blower, countershaft with geared pulley for blast supply, by either water, steam or hand power; with three grachide crucibles, three steel tadles, six furnace steel bars and tools, only weighing 1285 poundswhen the prospector can determine the value of one ton of the ore in a five-hour heat by the output of the bullion.

With a little ordinary intelligence of the average prospector, this five feet by three feet inside diameter little smelter, run on low grade ores, will not only pay for itself every week, but it will convince the skeptic beyond redemption who does not believe with us that the little smelter must come to the ore.

The fact that a great many of these CUPOLA TYPE smelters are now being adopted throughout the Western mining districts. and all giving entire satisfaction, is sufficient recommendation for the sudden demand as an absolute necessity to every prospector, mine owner, millman, sampling works or mining company.

Full and complete instructions go with the outfit, $u$ hich gives mode of treatment of different ores, directions as to the setting up and starting smelter, fuel, fluxing material, and general smelting operation.

A small size $2 \times 4$ feet of $\frac{1}{2}$ ton capacity per five-hour heat, only weighs 650 pounds, same number of tools, with blower, \&c., designed for the poor prospector, who feels unable to purchase the larger smelter outfit. Ores and compound ores assayed and reported on.

EVERGREEN STATEDHIL_ATELIST

A Monthly Magazine for Stamp Collectors.
WOI. 6-NO. 3. HARIAND, WASH., SEPTEMISER 1896. WHOIE NO. 33.

A STORY OF DISSAPOINTMENT.
No other issue of stamps has excited the general public in so great a measure of our Columbian set. During the prevailance of the Columbian fad, their Fopularity knew no bounds. Everybody was Columbus mad and even conservative newspapers devoled columns to articles on them, and incidentally upon stamps and collectors in general, while but tew did not publish comments upon our most beautiful stamps.

The people of this and nearly every other land seemed to be assailed with a desire for their collection. Black and white, young and old, fortign and American all joined in the mad rush for this possession. From philatelic Germany, anique Ekypl, non-progressive China, and American Japan came the orders for entire sets, accom panied by the necessary $$ 16$. Because of this great stampede Columbianware it safe to say that the greater part of the rarer values was hoarded in anticipation of the increase of value that now seems so distant though so apparently near then. All expected them to be of great rarity, and none doubled their value as an investment. Everybody blindly trusted but none paused to consider why this should be.

The Columbians are without question the most beautiful set of stamps ever prepared. Intended as a gigantic advertisement for the World's Fair, right well has their mission been fulfilled The Columbians are gems and as such must inevitably be popular. They appeal to the people through their semse of beauty, as no other set tever has done and because of this beauly are destined to continue in favor.

The Columbian craze affected, as may be supposed, the philatelic class more than any other. Pages of our journals was devoted to landing the Columbians, the gems of philately. The speculative craze also came with the admiration of their beauty. To procure them was difficult, as no one wished to sell and all desired to buy.

This apparent failure to supply the demand caused anl immediate advance, the dollar stamp leading, that value having been "comered" by a clique of prominent dealers. The success of this "corner" caused others to be altempted.

John Calvert of Philadelphia secured all the available supply of two dollar stamps and thus compelled an advance of several dollars on that quotation. Encouraged by this success he attempted to do the same with the $3,6,15,30$ and 50 cent stamps unused. But he discovered to his sorrow that he had over reached himself, as the number preserved was far greater than supposed. He first offered the four lower values for sale at face, and then finding himself unable to secure the 50 cent stamps, gave the trade an oppertunity to purchase those he had bought, asking but 52 cents apiece.

This was the beginning of the end. His failure in the attempted comer showed how great was the supply and Columbians are offered everywhere at a small advance upon face. The one and two dollar stamps, which had up to this time seemed certainly cornered, broke and now worth a little over face. Of the latter, Mr. Calvert holds something like $$ 1000$ worth, which he offers at the same price as originally procurable at the fost-ottice.

Now is the time to buy Culumbians. Most of the supply is on the market, and that at abolit face. When an unused IJ. S. stamp of an absolete issue can be purchased at just what it could be procured for when current, then is the time to buy.

Some dismal croakers persist in their declaration that the Columbian will never be valuable; but these philatelic pessimists should remember that because of their historic association, beauty and kindred reasons they will always be popular. A demand there cannot but be and this desire for their possession must tend to advance the value. There was issued not onetenth enough of the dollar stamps to supply those who desire them. And when only one out of ten is suceessful, he must needs pay for his triumph.

Remember that the demand makes value, and as long as all have them not, the Columbians will be worth saving. Gordon C. Corbaley.

NOTES IBY IOLA.

After reading the circular of the French dealer who ofiers stamped envelopes issued in France on the occasion of the coronation of the Czar of Russia and the comments on the same in the Era; we were surprised to see the dealers "ad" appear in the lnternational Stamp.

An oddity among our revente is a $3 c$ U. S. I. R. double perforated at right and left. The left strip is part of another stamp. Our block of four $$ 2$ mortgage takes up quite a little space.

A poem or verse illustrated, entitled "At the 'Phone" by Roy Farrell Greene, appeared in a recent Boston Sunday Herald.

The combined Scott Mekeel dollar album seems to have failed to materialize. Will the 10c catalogue cost us 25 c whell it is published.

Honduras has entered into a parcel post convention with the U.S which will become operative about Septemher. Honduras is the fifteenth country that has entered into parcel post relations with the U.S.

There are 53 counties embraced in the Universal Postal Union China, Orange Free State and Corea are the only important organized governments yet outside, and these are expected soon to take steps looking to this end. Collectors will be interested in the next Congress which will be held in May of next year at Washington, as a motion will be brought forward; having for its object the suppression of all Jubilee and commemorative issues of stamps in so far as international postage is concerned. The questicn of issuing an International stamp will probably also be discussed.

I believe Pearson's is a weekly English paper. I leave the reader to guess where it got the following information clipped in turn from a daily newspaper: "The Egyptian government has decided to issue two new series of postage stamps, which will become available next winter and the following summer. Notices are to appear at the counters of the different postoffices bearing alternately the words 'winter' and 'summer,' according to the season. The summer stamp is to be the color of the sand of the desert at a white heat, and that tor winter is to be colsred like a dead leaf. Later on we may hear that the dreamy Egyptians have been favored with a white stamp for morning post and a black one for night.- Pearson's' by era.

On the left hand side of one variety of the Byam Carlton Co., match wrappers the following pretic eflusion appears:

For quickness and sureness the pulalic will find. These matches will !rave all others behind. Without further remark we invite yon to try em, Kemember all goods are signed by fi. Hyam.
The collection of C. S. Paeth of La

Porte, Ind., was sold at auction in December 1881, and for comparison with present price the following sales are interesting: N. Y. 3c buff $$ 2900$, U. S 1851 set unused $2, Full set executive $$ 1$, Set of 10 Justice $$ 1$, Full sel, cent value State $1.92, All original New Haven $3.12.

Among the gems exhibited by those in atrendance at the Minnetouka convention none was more interesting than one shown by Mr. Geo. Gregory of Chicago. It was a fine specimen of the 12 c black ol the reverse of which was a portrait of another impression, the sheet from which it was taken being evidently run twice through the press. receiving an impression on each side. I understand Mr. Gregory recenilly dispused of it to a New York dealer for a good price

Another interesting "ireak" was exhibited by F. J. Bescher in the shape of a block of the current one cent stamps which by the folding of the paper, the corner stamp was perforated across the upper dexter corner so as to make a portion of it a tringular stamp Mr Bescher also showed another strip where several of the stamps were perforated horizontally partially throngh the stamp in addition to the regular perforation.

THE CRITIC.

On articles and other miatters of interest in the Philatelic World
For "that tired feeling" read the Stamp Collectors' Fort-nightly; not to produce it, as some American stamp journals probably do, but to make it vanish in thin air, more effectively than the best patent medicine. The Critic has spoken of the humor in that paper before. Well, it is always on tap, given together with plenty of solid scientific articles and useful information.

The issue of Aug. 8th is of special interest to American readers on account of the extensive Review given of papers from this side of the pond. And a right good one it is, too. The publication of the Descriptive Catalogue of U. S. Postage Stamps in the Post-office is mentioned.

The gentleman from Waterville gets his "New Issue List in 1915" which appeared in the May International Philatelist very favorably reviewed and quoted.

Mr. Kilbon's Stamp Book is touched upon next, then the July American Journal of Philately.

Mr. J. M. Andreini's work ill the Metropolitan Philatelist on English stamps used abroad comes in for its share of praise, as well as the other Departments of the M. P. This English used Abroad affair is going a little too far for the average American crank, who probably holds the view that "the postmark does not alter the nationality of the stamp." The day may come however, when our collectors will scrambie after postmarks with as much avidity as after revenues and plate numbers now.

Of the Mekeel and Scott fraternization in publishing albums and catalogues we read, "Many people would have dated such an entente as this along side the millennium and the Greek Kalends; but it is unexpected that happens, first, last, and all the time. The announcement is welcome as yet one more proof that Philately, so to speak, is thicker than water."

Mention is made of a most singular philatelic publication. viz, Das Tauscheft, Reutlingen, Wurtemburg. "It is simply 'full of emptiness' its pages being ruled and arranged for the reception of stamps. Advertisements are the only letterpress this novel publication contains. It is intended for use by members of exchange societies and collectors generally."

Considerable space is devoted to the action taken so far in regard to the proposed exhibition of postage stamps in London next year. The selection of the Galleries of the Rayal Institution of Painters in Water Colours, instead of the Chrystal Palace, which was first offered, called forth some rather warm criticism in recent numbers of the S. C. F. Mr. J. M. Tilleard, the honourably Secretary pro. tem. of the Exhibition, explains the situation fully in a letter published in this number, which disposes of all critucism. The S. C. F. advocates the holding of an English Philatelic Congress at the time of the exhibition. A short review is given of the last English auction season, which, "from the Auctioneer's standpoint was an unmitigated success." Messrs Chevely & Co.'s sales realized for stamps actually sold $£ 13,500$. "Mr Wm. Hadlow has also been going strong."

His total is $£ 6,063$ odd, etc., etc. This is certainly a first rate showing, but we must not discuss these wicked auctions. Are they not worse for philately than a republican would consider free silver for this glorious country of ours?

There are various other "taking" features in the S. C. F. However, least he should be taken for a convert to Anglomania, the Critic will turn to something American.

The August Filatelic Facts & Falliacies published under the heading of "Original Gum-A Rejoicer," an abstract of a paper read by Mr. Wm. G. Gardner before the Pacific Philatelic Society. M. Victor Flandrin recently made a vigorous attack on the original gum fad in Le Timbrophile Poitevins, which has caused considerable merriment in various quarters. Mr. Gardner's defense of o. g. is a very able one. Einre autres, he says, "The term 'mint condition' cannot describe stamps without gum, even if uneven centering or imperfect perforation be tolerated. I think it was Mr. Nankivell who said some philatelists are willing to pay for original gum at the rate of $£ 20,000$ per pint, and Mr C. J. Phillips this year found even in Germany an awakening in this regard, and an insistense on yum, original gum, applied by the government or its authorized stamp manufacturers."

Mr. Gardner stated that during his early collecting experience he washed every unused stamp he received, not excetping early Russians. About four years ago, however, he had the green portion of a 5 sh , Leeward Island stamp fade away before his eyes while receiving its bath, which incident cured Mr. Gardner most effectually.
"The non-gumists may ask whether I did not find the washed stamp presenting a cleaner appearance than the gummed, as well as better and more original color. The paper is certainly whiter, and in some cases the colors are more faithfully presented, but the same stamps with gum are simply a little mellow with age, and with this allowance the collector can always know the shade."

The principal and foundation reason for original gum is because without it the stamp cannot be in immaculate condition, as originally sold by the issuing government. Any one must notice that when a stamp has gum and therefore has never heen in water. the surface has a soft, velvety appearance. which becomes dull and flat atter soaking."

One of the strongest arguments in tavor of gu'ו is that by it we know that a stamp is actually unused, not a doctored specimen. Many of the early British Colomals were promiscuously used for tiscal and postal purposes. "In early days quill pens were used a great deal, for callcelling and as a rule they did not disturb the fiber of the paper written on. How then can you tell an honest unused early Tasmania red, we will suppose, if it has no gum?" It is well known l'he demand for, and sale of United States revenues seems to increase as the season advances, and the new catalogue will contain many surprises in this line to the unitiated.

We have quite a number of pack ages of stamp hinges which we had to lake on a bill, and not being a dealer we have no use for them. We will gladly give one of the packages, as long as they last, to any new subscriber sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with his subscription.

LAST month we mentioned a likelihood of a ruling being made in the A. P. A. Convention not to consider the July applicants as members until Aug 15, which would necessarily deprive them of a vote. We are pleased to note that the Society, with its usual courteous generosity did not make such a ruling and that the July applicant's votes were entertained.

00
In a letter recently received from Mr. Ellsworth Lentz,-the largest user of stampic printer's ink in the Northwest, and a very popular dealer-we find the following: "The E. S. F. has done me more effective service for the amount of advertising I have placed in it than any three Eastern papers I have tried. The reason is quite plain.-those papers have not one fourth of their claimed circulation and of course do not reach the collectors they claim to."

MANY of our readers are again attending school and have a great oppertunity to add specimens to their collections by the method of "swapping;" also by acting as approval sheet agents and using their commission by retainng stamps not in their collection from the sheets thus handled. Either method is an economical way of increasing a collection and many pleasing acquaintances will in this way be acquired. One should always have a stock of duplicates ałong,-clean specimens and frae from paper attached to their backs-and talk trade on the slightest provocation.

In November our annual great edition will be mailed consisting of enough copies to reach 6,000 different addresses. Many very flattering testimonials were received last year from a similiar edition and it is unnecessary to mention the benefits to be derived from an ad. placed in that issue. We promise a bona fide edition of the fore mentioned number and the publisher of this magazine is now well enough known to insure the carrying out of the promise and not issue but a half or a tenth of the specified number as is so often the case. Advertisements to run three months or nore, will be taken at our ustal rates, but transient ads. for that month only, can only be accepted at double our present rates. Even at this price the Evergreen will be by far, the best paying advertising medium for the season.

How many of our readers are aware that the registration ffee in the United States was only 5 c in 1863. In 1864 it was not to exceed 20c, remaining so as late as 1870. Our dada lacks the year '71 but in '72 the rate was not to exceed 15 c . We also have valuable data and statistics on hand regarding the laws which governed our revenue stamps and have lons.
been trying to find time to prepare an article on this branch of our hobby. Many collectors are often surprised to find playing card, telegraph, or other revenues on the backs of photos or documents they do not seem to belong to, and for their benefit we quote under year ' 69 as follows and trust time and space will permit us to present something truly valuable in the near future: "The indiscriminate use of all kinds of stamps (except postage or proprietary ) is permitted, case of being taken to affix a stamp, or stamps, of the proper amonut."

Ye editor recently had a queer experience in trying to join the S . of P . Receiving an application blank from the president with his signature as reterence and a request to join the Society, it was filled out and mailed to the Secretary. In the course of time the blank came back with the laconic information: "Must have local reference" Now in the answer made to the usual question, we stated that we were a member of the A. P A., P. S. A., L. A. P., S. P. A., W. P. A., P. P. C., I P. A., etc., and that we had anever been refused admittance into any society. so it was simply amazing to learn that membership in these societies, and a blank signed by its president and one other member of the Society were noi sufficient to allow the publishing of our name as an applicant. Of course we could have easily added the name of John Brown, or Bowser Spoopendyke, and their efficient. The Secretary would then have permitted the application to be published. We have concluded that the Society under its present management is too exclusive for us and will try and get along with the aforesaid societies.

I'HE CRITIC.

also that many reprints are distinguished from originals by the gum."

Mr. Gardner asserts that it is not as difficult as generally supposed to distinguish between original and false gum, and cites several different kinds of gum in use.
"Original gum is generally evenly spread, even to the extreme points of the perforations. as the sheets were almost invariably gummed before being perforated. Fraudulent gum will have a different appearance, unevenly spread in ever case. smeared over to give some to the very edge all around. Stamps with fraudulent gum will also have the dull appearance of washed copies, while those with original will have the soft, mint bloom of the unwashed." And so on. Verily philately is growing more scientific every day. Veritas.

A HANDY PROSPECTOR'S FURNACE. - Mactors

HE attention of Prospectors aud Miners is called to the merit of a new improved apparatus for testing and smelting various kinds of ores and minerals, such as gold, copper, nickel, silver and lead ores, refactory and compound ores.
This furnace is designed and constructed by and for a prospector, who requires a serviceable furnace, easily transported over a nountainous country by a pack animal; that is complete aind ready, and can be set up at any dump of low grade ores, that otherwse will not pay to ship with profit and make a good day's pay out of one to two tons of ore a day.

To judge the value for such an outfit-of a CUPOLASMELTER, KNOCK-DOWN BOTTOM TYPE, with extension when smelting ores, made of No. 10 steel plates with slag and metal spouts, rotary steel blower, countershaft with geared pulley for blast supply, by either water, steam or hand power; with three graphide crucibles, three steel ladles, six furnace steel bars and tools, only weiphing 1285 poundswhen the prospector can determine the value of one ton of the ore in a five-hour heat by the output of the bullion.

With a little ordinary intelligence of the average prospector, this five feet by three feet inside diameter little smelter, run on low grade ores, will not only pay for itself every week, but it will convince the skeptic beyond redemption who does not believe with us that the little smelter must come to the ore.

The fact that a great many of these CUPOLA TYPE smelters are now being adonted throughout the Western mining districts. and all giving entire satisfaction, is sufficient recommendation for the sudden demand as an absolute necessily to every prospector, mine owner, millman, sampling works or mining company.

Full and complete instructions go with the outfit, which gives mode of treatment of different ores, directions as to the setting up and starting smelter, fuel, fluxing material, and general smetting operation.

A small size $2 \times 4$ feet of $\frac{1}{2}$-ton capacily per live-hour heat, only weighs 650 pounds, same number of tools, with blower, \&c., designed for the poor prospector, who feels unable to purchase the larger smelter outfit. Ores and compound ores assayed and reported on.

PUNCHED STAMPS.

A subject that has been agitated some in connection with postal reforms is the substitution of a punch for the present ink cancellation. If this were done, a metal punch would be used to remove a piece of the stamp. By this means the possibility of second use is rendered slight.

An absolutely indelible ink cannot be used to obliterate stamps. Therefore, almost any cancellation may be washed. The use of fast colors in the printing renders this difficult. A little washing of these stamps causes them to fade. 'As the danger is slight of reuse at present, punched cancellation will probably never find much favor in this country.

The adoption of this reform would be opposed by philatelists. In these days of good specimens, to be perfect a stamp must be entire, with no parlicle, however small, missing. If a prece of the stamp should be removed as obliteration, its value would be greatly damaged. To obtain good specimens would then be difficult, if not well nigh jmpossible. This difficulty could be alleviated by collecting unused stamps. This, however, is for most of us, too expensive.

The stamps might look neater canielled in this .manner. The appearance might be more pleasing with an unsightly hole in the center than with a neai ink cancellation. This is a question that can best be answered by individual taste.

Several countries use a punch for cancelling some of their stamps. The United States even employs this method of obliteration at some offices, but such cases are by no means frequent, and this disfiguration is seldom seen i:s our stamus. When sold, they bring a price far below the value of a perfect specimen.

After the war, when revenue stamps were in such common use, several large companies employed a punch in cancelling their stamps. Somewhat akin to this is the tearing in two of the present playing card stamps, which is required by law. In Afghanistan we find another similar method. There the letter is taken to the postmaster with a fee in money sufficient to pay the postage This servant of the imperial government of Afghan takes a stamp of the required value, and, having torn off a corner, affixes it to the envelope. This method is a trifle slow and primitive, but so are the people of this slightly civilized land. Soon the march of Western civilization will drive this quaint custom into the past Then, ton, perhaps memtoned before. The punched Afghanistan will isste a stamp the stamps of Western Australia, which sight of which will not cause delirium tremens.

Spain probably employs the pench to a greater extent llan any other country, this being the manner of cancelling the stamps on telegrams. As no telegraph stamps are issued, the postage stamps are used in this way. Therefore, all slamps of this country cancelled with a small hole have been used to prepay telegrams and deserve no place in a postage stamp collection. This should be remembered when buying Spanish stagnps.

In most European countries the salaries pard are very mearer. To make up the deficiency many of the employes are not averse to laving hands upon small arlicles when the opportunity offers. As stamps are valuable and also salable. they were formerly favorites of the kleptomaniacal employes. This soon increased to such an alarming extent that it formed a serious loss, and to stop it became necessary. Arrangements were made with the postoffice department by which a special design was punched into the stamps sold to each house. Thus stamps that had been stolen were easily recognized, and to sell them would be impossible. This is the reason for the designs frequently seen punched ill the stamps of Spain and other countries. These latter are perfectly legitimate postage stamps, as in contrast with the telegraph stamps are sometimes seen, have been used on official mail, the punch being intended to inaicate 'no reventue' to the gov. ermment. These stamps are as unworthy of the distunction of being catalogued as a separate set as some of the so-called officia!s of Costa Ricil, which were never in use and were thusly surcharged upon the remainders.

The surcharge fiend has lately employed the punch in his nefarious work. The government of Tunis, early in 1895, perforated a letter T in to a lot of the regular two-cent stamps and used them in somewhat the same maniner as our postage dues are empioyed. This is a novelty in this case. but should the need of like stamps strike other lands, some of the new ness will wear away, and they will no longer be welcomed with open pocketbooks by the philatelic fraternity.

There are other countries that have punched siamps, but mostly these are the same as ordinary cancellations. However, we are glad to say that theil numbers never increase.

Gordon C. Corbaley.

ABUSE OF (GOV'T FIZANKS.

The subjects of postal reform and the proper use of government franks have been under discussion in the House alternately for the past decade. but until recently no vigorous action has been takenl on the same. A bill has been prepared and submitıed to congress by the chairman of the committer on pustoffices and post mads. which provides among oller things for the exclusion from the mails of matter that ought is transported by freight or express To this provision the ralload officials are maturally oppored, they preferring to carry Uncle Sam's freight at mail rates. As it is at present an average rate of 8 c per pound for transportation alone, it costs $$ 160$ per ton to send by mail certain bulky articles which might just as well go by freight or express.

During the fiscal year ending Junc 30, 1895, the amount of mail matter carried free under government franks weighed $96,158.135$ pounds. This included second-class matter amounting to $46,820,135$ pounds; the letters of congressmen enclosed in free penalty envelopes amounting to $9,062,286$ pounds, and the government supplies, amounting to $34,859,580$ pounds.

An official letter from the postmas ter at Washington shows the abuses of government franks, and it ean readily be seen that a large per cent of this expense is useless. The substance of the letter is as follows: "In the past year desks have been sent by mail, and frequently type-writers with the stands. The stationery divisions of the treasury and interior departments send all their supplies of ink, mucilage, etc., for all outside offices attached to these departments. It is not an extraordinary thing to have cases delivered by the treasury department weighing as much as 1700 or 1400 pounds, and some have to be returned for the reason that they could not be gotten through the dours of the railway postal car. The treasury department dispatches all of its revenue stamps through this office. Their weight is estimated at about 500 tons per annum The carpets shipped from the treasury department are not in the ordinary roll as they come from the factory, but are all cut and made here for the rooms of the public buildings throughout the country. Congressmen send many chests, weighing 150 pounds or over, paying on each the registry fee of 8 cents. All the foregoing matter is dispatched by registered mail for the reason that the receipts for addresses can be oblained only by that system." This occasions a great increase in labor for extra handling, marking, etc. "For transmission in ordinary mails" this office continues to receive from some of the executive departments sacks containing flags for custom houses and observers at signal stations; occasionally bedding and tent equipments for surveying parties, and boxes containing locks for internal revenue collectors. The postmaster also shows that a million pounds of stationery a year is sent out by the government in this way. One member sends his laundry each week many miles away to his home city, all franked in the U. S. mail, which, in the wording of the statute, must be strictly high class government mail matter.

This is not a new discovery. Every postmaster-general's report for Should this brevity he objec!ad in, years past las called attention to the there is one weekly at least in which matter, but all seem powerless to offer a remedy while the statutes remain as they are at present.
W. C. MOulton.

THE CIRITIC.

On Articles and other mitters of interest in the Philatelic world.
The time was, and one does not need to have reached the age of the venerable Major Egan to remember it quite clearly, when philatelists would have laughed at the idea of a weekly stamp paper. However, everything is possible in philately, and we have had several weekly papers, some weakly ones, 100 , for that matter. The latter have gone to the happy hunting grounds of stamp journals, and the year 1896 sees the "survival of the fittest" and those backed by the largest purses.

There are collectors who do not look with favor on the various notes, which form one of the main features of the present weekly. However, in this busy, bustling country, where we are all rushed more or less and our time is at a premium, it may well be asserted that these "notes," usually writte: by the best writers for the philatelic press, give us a veritable "multum in parvo;" certainly not the "parvo in multum" which can be found in some of the monthlies. New facts are brought out briefly and to the point, without any waste of space What could occupy a page or two in a monthly is related in a dozen lines.
can be found enough long articles to satisty any "scientist." It is almost needless to say that reference is made to Mekerl's Kickly Stamp News. This publication, which holds the record as the oídest existing "eekly, has since the Philatelic Journal of America ceased to appear as a monthly, had the leading "poins de resistance" of that paper included in its pages. This gives it all the advantages of a monthly, with the additional no of appearing four limes as frequently.

The number dated Oct. 1 serves as a good example of the skillful blend. ing of "news" with material suitable for a monthly. lin way of motes there will be fomud C. E. Severn's Chicago notes, which, like all productions of this gentleman's pen, are always readable; J. IM. Bartels' Wasin-ington ditto, which narrates all events happening in and about the postoftice department and the bureau of engraving and printing; and Iberius' quota of news from New York City. This last writer fnrmishes the most entertaining and instructive notes that appear in America. Among other things, he gives quite a list of quotations from the advance sheets of Scott's 57 th, reports the present status of the Club project and makes mention of the fact that the $$ 2$ Columbians are now offered there in sheets at 25 per cent discount. Iberius has turned his attention to find out something about the Nova Scotia remainders recently put on the market, and, as usual, has chelles and a list of current values that gathered together some interesting are to be mamtained are furnished.
facts.

First as to what Dame Rumor haa beensaying: "It is sand that a syndicate hought the remainders for something like $$ 10,000$; that such remainders consisted of five values only and represented in face value the above sum; that the syndicate divided the stamps equally in two thousand lots, which it sells to dealers at $$ 60$ or thereabouts per lot "

Facts-"l am enabled to state Hat each int consists of 261 cent stamps, 272 cent stamps, $2781 / 2$ cent stamps, 1410 cent stamps and $6121 / 2$ cent stamps, making 100 stamps in each lot. From what I hear the only value which sells well is the $8 \frac{1}{2}$ cents, which many collectors lack. Quotations are $\$ 2$ to $\$ 2.50$ for this value only."

For the collector who goes in for philately scientifically, Prof. Reymond's translation of M. Moens' Stamps of Heligoland will prove of more than passing interest. The Weekly's Chronicle of New Issues is embellished by a goodly number of illustrations. "Notes concerning Stamps in General" is one of the most valuable features of the St. Louis paper. In this number the white and blued papers of the first De La Rue issue of Gt. Britain are discussed at some lengith; a new variety of the $1 / 2$ anna Jhind envelone is described: and some interesting facts about the recent changes in postage rates in the Sey-

The A. P. A. reports and editorials take up their share of space.

Under correspondence information is asked regarding a 10 c . rose Confederate stamp, priced in J. W. Scott's American catalngue at $100.00; in reply the publishers state that they do aot beleive that a genume used copy of such a stamp was ever produced.

Mr. W. H. Plank, although a resident of Kansas City, Kas., makes a forcible plea for the gold standard in his article "How the Stamp World is Affected by Silver" Originality in philatelic literature is always welcome, as it is ralher a rara avis at present. Mr. Plank's article is certainly original and well written and will tind favor with all gold men. The Critic himself considers the writer quite correct in his conclusions, but no silvel Philatelist is likely to agree with him. It remains for some Bryan man to file a bill of exceptions.

Probably alt the readers of the E.S. $P$. are familiar with the Weekly Philatelist Era, published by the veteran Portland, Me. collector, W. W. Jewett. This paper is again publishing the advance prices of Scott's catalngue as they appear, which makes it of great value to the speculatively inclined stamp man, who is not blessed with too many $$ 5.00$ pieces. The Era is supplied with notes by an able corps of correspondents, among whom may be mentioned Dr. Cottlow, of Chicago, a writer who is possessed of a good deal of homor and knows how to impart it with ease; and many others.

The Hub Stamp Co., of Waltham, Mass., have favored us with a calalogue of U. S. heter shetes, pricing 109 variefies at from six to seventyfive cents each.

Do you want to do us as well as your old friends a favor? If so, send in their addresses for copies of our November number.

Owing to a rush of work in the printing department, the masazine has been delayed for October. Copy for November slauld reach us at once to emable that month's insue to be out on time.

Owing to the extra expense in getting out next monṭh's issue, we will have to charge a uniform rate of one cent a word for trade notices which are to appear onlv in that number. Evell al diat price they will not pay for the paper used to print them on.

From a circular letter at hand we learn that our old friends Messrs. Benton & Kirby of Taunton, Mass., are contemplating publishing a joumal entitled, "Philatelic Literature." They are old time publishers, and we wish them success.

ACTIONS speak louder than words. In May. June and July, the Chesapeake Stamp Co. ran a three inch ad with us; in August and September, notwithstanding it was the dullest of the dull season, they increased therr space to four and one-halt inches monthly, and this month they appeat betore you with nine inches of space. This company is one of the most pieasing firms we have ever dealt with, and they evidently have the stamps the readers of :he Evergreen want, and at popular prices, or they would not feel justified in increasing their space so rapidly.
R. F. Albrecht & Co, of 90 Nassau St.. $N$ Y City, have favored us with a copy of their catalogue of U.S. adllesive stamps and designed to go will their Favorite Album; also a copy of their catalogue of entire U.S envelopes, at very popular prices. Either work is free to intending buyers.

Ar the date of writing the advance sheets of the 57th edition our U. S. revenues have not made their appearance, causing much speculation as to their probable rise in price. There is now, and has beell all summer, a heavy demand for revenues, and startling advances in prices are predicted for manly of the same vatieties.

$\bullet$

One of our esteemed contemporaries has seemingly received so few subscribers of late that it is now offering stamps worth $$ 100(?)$ and the magazine a year for twenty-five cents; or in other words, giving a year's subscription and 75 c worth (?) of stamps free. Another e. c. has found it necessary to reduce its price to ten cents per year, while still others have cut their price in the middle. Let us hope the quality of the publications will not be reduced accordingly.

In answer to numerous inquiries we will stare that the cheap two cent catalngue to be issued by the Scott.Mekeels will be known as the Intemational Catalogur, and entirely difierent from the 57h edition, which will ap. pear as usual in December and sell for 50 c over the counter and 58c by mail. No one will be allowed to cut under that price We can offer the 571h catalogue and the Evergreen this year and all of '97 to new subscribers for a 65 c money order on The Dilles, Or., or will advance present subscribers one year on our books and mal a copy of the catalogue at the same price. . This will practically be getting the E S. P. fourreen months for seven cents and the catalogue will be mailed as soon as issued.

NeXt month our anmual great edition, consisting of enough copies to reach 6000 different addresses, will be mailed. Transient ads will be inserted at $$ 100$ an inch, but contracts for three months or more will be accepted at our usual rates. Even at $$ 100$ ant inch the Evergreen will be by far the best paying medium for that month and the cost is lower than magazines claiming less than half their circulation usually charge. Being mailed the last of the month, it will reach our readers at an opportune time to catch orders for Christmas trade.

EVERY COLLECTOR Should send al list, issued in parts, mailed free. A few whole. sale quotations for dealers. List fiee

THE ORILLE.

The American people are universally acknowledged the most ingenious nationality. To so great an extent is this true that the inventive ability of the "Yankee" is almost proverbial. Among our inventor class there are certain men who, in some cases, have true ability, but in all cases are eccentric enough to deserve their title: "crank." These are commonly laboring under the delusion that they have produced something destined to revolutionize the world. Among these we have the perpetual motion crank, the financial crank, and numerous fraternal relatives.

Every branch of this government is continually bothered by the inventor genus. The war department is showered with designs of destructive war engines, machines of death unique, but when tested are about as fatal to the operatives as to the enemy. The navy secretary annually receives more designs of submarine boats, etc., than the government yards could construct in ten years. Very seldom is one of these intricate but impracticable designs adopted for test, but many times baffled genius is continually producing more, for the crank takes no discouragement from the ill success of his predecessors.

The postoffice being under the closer view of the masses and far from perfection in its workings, is a favorite with Sir Crank. Countless are the bomb-proof cars, counterfeit preventors, and like designs for the improvement of the postal service, but they are, almost without exception, passed by as unworthy of trial.

One of these plans proposed to defeat that enemy of the government revenue, the counterfeiter, was tried and proved a partial success, but was, after a short life of four years, discontinued. No doubt that worthy crank, who from his cerebral cavity evolved the grille, built lofty castles in Spain. Hisdreams of posterity and honor knew no bounds, but unhappily this genius, who left this puzzling invention more to the weary brains of his fellow cranks, philatelists, than to succeeding generations, has not left us even a record of the cognomen under which he sailed through life.

The grille was a rectangle of square indentures into the paper, impressed at the back, designed to break the fibre of the paper, causing it to readily absorb the cancelling ink and retain it so as to prevent washing and subsequent re-use. An invention of this kind would seem necessary as no perfectly indelible ink, except pure carbon, is known, and this latter is hardly practicable to use in cancelling stamps.

The term embossing has been incorrectly applied to the grille, but that is really a method of printing, the IT. S. envelopes being prepared by that process.

The 1861 issue of stamps of May 8th, 1867, were placed on sale in a grilled condition, the whole stamp being covered. It is supposed that the entire set was thus issued but only three values, the three, five and thirty cent, are at present known. As the thirty cent was not discovered until so short a time ago as 1890 , it is barely possible that other values may some day be found. All three of these are rarities. The three cent not being especially noteworthy in that respect, but of the five and thirty cent there are not over five copies of each known.

At first it was deemed necessary to cover the cutire stamp with the grille in order to effectually break the fibre of the paper. But with experience this was found unnecessary, and consequently the dimensions of the grille were gradually reduced until the convenient $9 \times 13 \mathrm{~mm}$ size was reached.
The first step toward reduction was making the grille $15 \times 15 \mathrm{~mm}$. This is only found on the three cent, and there is reason to believe it was applied only to this value, and that as an experiment. This is somewhat of a rarity.

The next change was a reduction in size to $13 \times 16 \mathrm{~mm}$. This also appears only on the three cent stamps, which in this condition are more plentiful though by no means common.

An experiment was also made of impressing the grille on the face of the stamps, causing the points to be seen at the back, but appears to have been unsuccessful, as the former method of applying it upon the back was resumed and thereafter used. This size is, however, all found that way.

On the 8th of January, 1868, the $11 \times 15$ variety appeared. This ranges in size from $11 \times 14$ to 11 x 13. Still later the small grille, $9 \times 14$, which also varies between 13 and 14 mm in length, was issued.

The grille, considering the great difference in price a small variation may make, should be carefully studied by all philatelists. We often read of rare grilles being purchased by wise philatelists of their foolish brother collectors, who took them for the common stamp.

Very few know the number of rows each way in the different sizes, and yet when one row more or less may make a difference of many dollars this is peculiar to say the least. Lack of knowledge is money lost when you are collecting stamps. Study your stamps, and when you find a rare grille you will know it.

In this set the 56 th edition lists a hitherto uncatalogued size, the $12 \times 14 \mathrm{~mm}$. This is not a new varicty, but one made known to the general public, and it is a rarity, too. There are other uncatalogued sizes, which some day will be listed, and non-studying philatelists will make up and find several hard spaces to fill. Don't wait for the Scott Company to officially discover these varicties, but secure the stamps before it is too late. In the following list, I have given the regular sizes with all varieties I have seen or read mention of, also stating the number of rows in each:
$10 \times 18 \mathrm{mun}$, $14 \times 24$ rows $13 \times 21 \mathrm{~mm}$, $16 \times 30$ rows $\left.13 \times 16 m 111 . \quad 16 x^{2}=4\right) " \quad 12^{1}{ }_{2} \times 16 \mathrm{~mm}, 17^{1} / 2 \times 200 \quad$ " $111 / 4 \mathrm{x} 15 \mathrm{~nm}, \quad 15 \times 18$ is $11 \times 1 / 11 \mathrm{~mm}, \quad 14 \times 161 / 2$ $11 \times 14 m \mathrm{~m} \quad 14 \pi 17$ " $1^{11} 16 \times 14 \mathrm{~mm} \quad 15 \times 1 \%$ $111 / 2 \times 14 / 2 \mathrm{~mm}, 15 \times 18$ * $12 x 44 m \mathrm{~m} .151 / 2 \mathrm{x} 17$ $11 \times 15 \mathrm{~mm}$. $14 \times 16$ * $101 / 2 \times 14 \mathrm{~mm}, 14 \times 1615^{\prime}$ " $101 / 2 \times 141311,18 \times 16 \frac{1}{3}$ " $4 \times 11 \mathrm{~mm}, 12 \times 17$ yxi3mm, $12 \times 10$ "

The above list is very likely far from complete and possibly incorrect in some particulars, but it is given in the hope that some authority will see fit to improve it and publish an authentic table. At least this is a handy table for reference in determining the size of a grille when your gauge is mislaid. And by the way, have you not found measuring grilles a somewhat difficult task?

The grille was made from steel dies, which were arranged in a plate like postage stamps. As there was considerable irregularity in feeding, the marks may be found in different places on different stamps. Occasionally the operator of the press seems to have considered a sheet not deeply enough grilled and ran it through a second time, thus we have numerous double grilles. Sometimes these grilles did not coincide, and what is apparently a large size is formed, but examination will reveal the deception.

The careless feeding caused the sheets to be so much misplaced sometimes, that a small grille is seenin the corner of each stamp. The grille proper being divided into four parts. Reversed grilles are by no means uncommon.

The grilled issue of stamps was contracted for in October, 1868, but was not placed on sale until April of the following year. This set was very much smaller than the previous issue, the grille being also reduced in size to $91 / 2 \mathrm{x}$ $91 / 2 \mathrm{~mm}$ consisting of $111 / 2$ rows of 12 squares each.

By this time the efficiency of the grille in preventing washing was very much doubted. And consequently very much care in applying it as at first was not (Continued on Prge 78.)

Scott's 57 th edition and the E. S. P. to the end of '97 for sixtyfive cents.

$\odot$

Well! Well!! Well!!! We imagine we hear the readers say: and is this the Evergrefn that has never missed nor doubled up a number; is this the immense edition of 6,000 circulation promised us for November; and where is the October number, etc, etc?

Thereby hangs a tale: As many of our readers are aware, we have not done our own printing for some time, but have hired it done, the number put out each month being too great for the facilities of a small town to cope with and taxing one of the finest equipped offices in the Northwest to its utmost capacity at times. Although the copy for October was turned in at the usual time and the magazines completed were promised for the 20th of the month, as usual. At the date of writing-the 5 th of Novemberwe learn that the October edition cannot be ready to mail before the 10 th of November, if then. We do not propose to stand such nonsense, and having been disappointed nearly as badly several times before, we have changed printers to one who we believe will keep to his contract and give us a better printed sheet, freer from errors. As it is impossible to get change of copy in for the big edition we issue this makeshift for the November number and will postpone our big edition, or rather issue it at the same time (the last of November), but date it December. In this way we gain a month instead of loosing and the Evergreen will, in the future, be mailed and reach subscribers the first of the month instead of the last of the month as it previously did.

Those intending to use our columas in our 6,000 edition should get copy in to us at once, remembering that this edition will reach the readers the first week in December, an opportune time to catch Christmas trade. We would have gladly given more reading this month, but could not do so without vexatious delay; neither were we able to print any ads, except copy coming in since we last went to press.

$\odot$

The 57th catalogue will show remarkable advance all along the line in the price of unused stamps in immaculate condition. Those of us with limited means will necessarily have to fall back on lightly cancelled specimens thus creating a heavy demand for stamps in that condition which will eventually use up the supply and force up the price to nearly that of the unused specimens. Does it not behove us to fill our vacancies as speedily as possible? $\odot$
If uncancelled specimens are to be the rage and command the highest prices, we can at least collect Uncle Sammy's stamps in that condition, the current and all future issues at ony rate.

$\bigcirc$

In answer to about twenty-five postals received daily on an average, stating that they have not yet reçived the October number, this edition is respectfully dedicated.

$\odot$

This is the first number we have put out for some time that has not at least paid the printing bill.

$\odot$

At least we are original in getting out the November edition before the October, but in the words of Gus Luhn it is unnecessary for others to follow, as we much prefer being left alone in low priced glory.

$\odot$

Every few weeks another remarkable find in revenue stamps is reported leading many to think that the advance in price on this branch of our hobby is uncalled for in the new catalogue. They seemingly forget that there is now and has been for some time a heavy demand for revenues, and previous to this their price has remained practically the same for years. It is our opinion that a slump in the price of U. S. revenues can hardly be hoped for. They are not like recent issues of Dues which nearly everybody had and which are even yet on sale at many offices, nor like the Columbians of which the majority of collectors who could afford them had one or more complete sets before they were cornered, but the revenues have been neglected for years and we will now have to pay for them or hunt up some "finds" ourselves.

To those who are patronizing the exchange columns we wish to state that the notices will be published as fast as our space will permit. There are enough on hand to fill an unabridged, but they will eventually appear in the order received; in the meantime, have patience.

THE ORILLE.  (Continaed from f'age 75)

used. The grille seldom has the deep impression of the first issue, and frequently is very irregular in appearance. Sometimes but a little part is to be seen.

This is the most unsatisfactorily grilled issue. Most collectors would very much rather have a stamp without the little marks as it would then be one of the scarce 1875 reprints. But the grille persists in appearing, even if but litthe visible. Many collectors are today cherishing in the album places alloted the reprints, stamps on which they either would not or could not see the little desired grille. Some day a less blind brother collector will point out to unwilling optics the few small places which take away the value of their rarities. Then the grille will not be blessed by one philatelist.

The 1869 issue for several reasons was soon withdrawn, being superseded in October of the same year by the more popular and longer lived 1870 set, so called. The size of the new issue was about one-third larger, which was undoubtedly a much better and more popular size.

In size the grille is increased in this set, two plain varieties bring noticeable, $81 / 2 \times 101 / 2 \mathrm{~mm}$ composed of $10 \times 13$ rows and $101 / 2$ $\times 121 / 2 \mathrm{~mm}$ of $13 \times 151 / 2$ rows, the latter being found on the entire set, while the former appears on but the one, two, three and seven cent values. Between these two sizes a large number of minute varieties are noticeable. But many of the stamps are so lightly impressed that they show just a row or two of the grille this being particularly true of the fifteen cent.

The grilles to be seen on these stamps are the poorest yet found, only the seven cent being always deeply impressed. Little or no care was taken in its application as its true value for preventing re-use was now recognized. Perfectly grilled specimens are seldom seen, while to find a stamp entirely without the grille is not uncommon. By this latter I refer to stamps used during 1870, and so postmarked. At last in 1871, without previous notice, the grille was entirely discontinued.

Thus passed one of the prominent inventions which at one time was thought destined to prove a safeguard for our stamps. It was devised for great things, but utterly failed to realize them on trial. The grille was a failure, but it took our slow-going government four years to discover the fact, and more money was thus spent in a fruitless effort to prevent postage stamp cleaning than was ever lost in that way.

Peru is the only other country which has experimented with the grille as a postal reform. But there, too, it was of short life, being decided more expensive as a variety producer than the easily applied surcharge, which comes from that country in such a bountiful supply of triangles, etc.

The.great enemy of the popularity of the grille is the difficulty in determining counterfeits of it. The uncertainty of genuineness causes many a gem to be regarded with suspicion for there seems no means of certainty. A genuine grille sent to seven or eight experts will seldom be given a unanimous verdict.

One well known western company offered some grilles at an auction last winter whose genuineness they refused to guarartee. However, they agreed to refund the purchase money should they be decided spurious. This is all that any firm can do, but only these gentlemen seem to be bold enough to acknowledge their fallibility.

When we consider that the grille is very minute, sometimes indistinct and often damaged in use, is it to be wondered at that the legitimateness of its origin is a hard question to answer on a doubtful stamp? The experts are frequently mistaken but not without reason.

When a stamp, removed from old family correspondence, is pronounced by a counterfeit detector as possessing a false grille, don't let this lessen your esteem for the learned gentlemen, but rather consider the difficulty in his task.

One great help in placing imitation grilles on the market is the ignorance on this subject of the average collector. The grille is treated as of slight importance, and any specimen said to possess the tiny indentations is accepted without question or examination. It is this class that affords the counterfeiter his living, and so long as we have followers of this stamp, so long will we be bothered with the sharpers who imitate rare stamps for a livlihood. Study your stamps and the grilles you possess, and you will never regret the work expended. As I said before, knowledge is moncy, and this is truly applicable to the grille.

THE CRITIC

Un aeveral new ventures and one old one.
There is one business which goes on forever epparently, in good times and bad times it is all the same, and that is the stamp paper producing industry, When times are hard, as people say they have been for the last year or two, one would naturally suppose that new philatelic journals would not make their appearance, but the times appear to have nothing whatever to do with it. As long as philately exists stamp papers will bob up, and if the anticipated return of prosperity we have been hearing so much about makes its appearance, the number of these philatelic literary births will no doubt increase at an alarming rate. The word "alarming" is used because, while there is always room for more good papers, a goodly share of these new ventures are very poor stuff, lacking originality of contents, a respectable dress and financial backbone, and like Seebecks would be more appreciated if eliminated from philatelic life. Such, however, is not likely to be the case, so we must "grin and bear it." (The Critic does not desire to cast any reflections on the following new papers by the above remarks. He does not review "very poor stuff" favorably.)

The veteran publisher of $S$. of P. fame, Mr.R.M.Miller, launched the American Collector on the troubled seas of philatelic journalism a few months ago, and from all indications seems to be making a success of it. A likeness of Mr. John E. Zahn, the weli known Denver philatelist, embellishes the front page of the October number, and is accompanied by a sketch of that gentleman's career. "Elk" talks agreeably of entire covers and their collection. "The Collection of Paper Money" is an article which will be of interest to numismatists. "Canadien" notes some increases in prices since 1889 in Canadians, and draws the moral that it is advisable to complete one's collection of these stamps while they are still cheap. The much talked of "Boy Trade" comes in for its share of space, also Edward C. Biggar, alias "Broncho Ned." The "Cid" dwells at length on how they manage Ex. Depts. in England. The reader will probably concede that Trilby's Laird was right when he noted that they do these things better in England, at least as far as the subjects under discussion is concerned. The appearance of Mr. Miller's paper must be a source of great satisfaction to him, it being one of the best printed papers devoted to the hobby.

The Philatelic Free Lance, of Bellaire, O., has issued just five numbers. Its name indicates its way of looking upon the follies and foibles of philatelic life. The publishers devote considerable space to that comparatively new feature of philatelic collecting, the gathering of literature. In the October number Mr. Woolston suggests a method of making a Philatelic Literature Index by putting the name and number of each paper containing articles on certain stamps in the margin of the pages referring to those stamps in Scott's catalogue.

The editor chats pleasantly about Philatelic Journalism in Waehington, very pleasantly indeed as far as the E. S. P. and its writers are concerned. The Critic understands that Editor French and some of the staff have been consulting that new specialist, the "blush Doctor."

The Ohio Philatelic Association, a new State Society, comes in for a good share of the Free Lance under dissection. Verily this is the day of State Directories and Sectional Societies. The table of papers received during September is a valuable reference list to the Collector of Philatelic Literature.

The Postage Stamp emanating from the Hub of the Universe, is small, but that does not affect the contents. As to dress, it may be called a diminutive "Stamp Book," the aristocratic and literary appearance of the latter publication also being evident in the Postage Stamp. Number 4, dated October, contains, some very sensible suggestions about taking good care of stamps. "Every moment spent in making a collection attractive in appearance is profitably spent. In philately, as in everything, it pays to do things right."

The Chronicles of Philately," written in the English of the times of King James the First,relate in a very amusing manner how the wise men were sore afraid and took counsel with each other to get back the boy trade. What they did is worth repeating:
"And the wise men saw that the counsel was good, and they did so and even more. For, lo, they made albums that gave a part but not all; and they made books of the law that had only part of the law, for they said if we put in all the law the new collectors will be afraid and will refuse to obey the law altogether. These things will please the boy trade, and there will be more collectors and more shekels and. greater stores of purple and fine linen for the faithful. These things they did and more also. But the end is not yet."

The editorials are evidently penned by a writer with somewhat cynical inclinations, to judge from those appearing in No. 4. A page of technical terms gives some useful definitions, short, but to the point.

It gives one pleasure to see the Postage Stamp. May its shadow never grow less, on the contrary grow larger as time goes on!

The Lone Star State Philatelist has absorbed the Dixie Philatelist and appears greatly improved in appearance. However, if the contents of the September issue are to be a sample of what future numbers will contain, it would have been better for the members of the Southern Philatelic Association if the consolidation had not occured. The Critic admits that the red and white cover is very finc, but the reading public: can't live on covers. The convention reports deal with what is ancient history by this time.

The I. S. S. P. has been fortunate enourh to secure the services of the one and only Moise as editor. Mr. Moise was the last of the philatelic poets in days gone by, now he "enters the hallowed field of editorialism and makes his respectful bow to that conclave of geniuses who constitute the literati of the pursuit-the editors!" He gives us to undersatnd in his inaugural address that philately is in a very bad way, but that the tide in its affairs, which if taken at the flood leads on to fortune, etc., is coming in 1897. He doesn't give the exact date, but, of course, he is going to be there to see that philately does not get "side tracked," to use a slangy expression. This is very considerate of him.

Mr. Brown of the A. P. M. is charged at by the newly crowned editor in a way which recalls Kissinger at the height of his youthful dissipations of the editorial pen. Poor Mr. Brown!

Free Silver, Seebecks and Trilby are talked about in a fashion which is unintelligible to the Critic. He fancied he knew a little about all three; evidently he doesn't.
"Free Silver and Seebecks are synonumous terms. Both are alike in their origin, and will be even more alike in their termination. Trilby was another example of the same state of affairs. The public . . . follow the path of the leader without inquiry of the why or wherefore, whether correct or idiotic."

Mr. Scebeck's silver views were never made public before. It is a great pity. The election might have gone the other way if they had been. Poor Trilby has been attacked before. This last thrust from this minister of the "gospel of philately" will finish her.

Really Mr. Moise is very entertaining. Veritas.

TO WOULD-BE PUBLISHERS.

BY S. ESTLE MILLER.
It was said by Job, that gentleman of unparalleled patience, that "man is of few days, and full of trouble." Had there been philatelic publications in his day, no doubt he would have expressed a similar opinion concerning them. For it is certainly a verity that stamp papers generally live but a few days and all those days are full of trouble. In the morning they come forth like flowers, but ere the evening they have passed away. There are many reasons for this ephemeral life. If they are enumerated here, it may serve to keep many "it fool and his money" together. Assuredly, there can be no harm done.

The majority of philatelic patpers are launched by the young and inexperienced. The idea seems to prevail that most anyone can make a paper go. It is extremely fallacious. Encrgy, capital, brains and diverse experiences, are absolutely essential. It is thought by some that capital and brains alone are sufficient. But this idea is erroneous and certain journalistic ventures of the last few years corroborate this statement. Our journalistic aspirations weigll lightly when tested alone. Mamy would-b: journalists would possibly make good plough-boys, but never successful publishers. Desire and aspiration are good things, but they often carry us in the wrong direction. It is one of the signs that Philately is progressing, when we discover that the day for $6 \times 9$ philatelic folios, and even quartos, has gone by. The large journals alone survive the first year's voyage. We are not come to decry any paper because of its

THE FUTURE COLLECTOR.

BY H. I. Watts.
That the future collector must be a specialist, there can be no doubt.

No one can ever hope to make a collection of all the world's stamps. That is impossible, even to one of great wealth, for there are many stamps of which few specimens exist, and which money cannot buy.

Therefore, collectors of the future will confine themselves to certain countries and endeavor to make complete collections of these stamps, instead of having a few from each country.

Thus he will be led (in search for varieties) into a close study of his special stamps, and may become known as an expert in his chosen field.

Specialists can and do pay more attention to minor varieties of paper, color, etc., and thus in searching for the known varieties, new ones may become known, and thus we may acquire knowledge concerning stamps of which little has previously been known.

And now, at the beginning of a new year, let me urge all collectors to become specialists, and become better informed regarding a few stamps, rather than have only a smattering concerning all.

Of course many collectors prefer to specialize on United States stamps, but other countries just as good and fully as interesting are Mexico, British Colonies, Argentine Republic and British North America, either separately or in connection with the British Colonies. Mexico, next to the U. S. is the great favorite.

One may well include a collection of revenues of his special country or countries.

Philately should be a brotherhood, a family wherein we are taught to help each other. Backbiting and petty jealousies should not be. Philatelists should pull together and not permit anything to come between them. Let us place more confidence in one another.

U. S. NOTES.

BY ERA.
Ar Eastern firm is advertising a 3 cent 1868 showing a portion of a grille on each side of the stamp for which they want $$ 5$. I wonder if any oddity collector is sufficiently enthusiastic to pay such a price.

While speaking of grille oddities I have in my own collection a specimen of the same issue which shows either wholly or in part three impressions of the grille, in fact I have shown it toDcollectors who took it for an all over grille.

Another curiosity in the grille line which passed through my hands several years ago was a three cent green each corner of which showed a portion of a grille. The specimen, I beleive, now graces an Eastern collection, and I didn't get the prices wanted for the two grilied specimen either.

The reputation which the Quaker City has for "sleepiness" is well sustained by a circular recently showed me which passed though the Philadelphia office in 1854, and which, instead of being franked by a one cent stamp, had a hand stamp "paid I ct" showing the office was either out of stamps or had not yet received a supply.

Under the date of February 20, 1890, Postmaster General Wanamaker gives a lengthy description Qf the 1890 series, placing the date of issuance at February 22, and the date of contract November, 1889 , and that the designing was done subsequent to the letting of the contract.

Speaking of this issue I cannot refrain from copying from my scrap book a fragment from the New York Commercial Advertiser, which a non philatelic friend sent me at about the time the set was placed on sale at the New York office. It is "the gorylooking production with which our letters must now be ornamented does not suffer from indistinctness. The design is cheap, the paper cheaper and the general work so badly done that the blood-color is driven through, in unwholesome looking dribbling, to the back of the stamp. Perhaps the most appropriate part of the whole design is the face of Washington, which bears an expression of sullen contempt quite suitable to its dingy surroundings." If the 1890 issue caused such a frame of mind to attack the reporter, what did the early Bureau work do-cause an attack of brain fever?

Among the statements made by the authorities this fall in their reports is that the printing of the stamps by the Bureau has caused a saving of over $$ 25,000$ to the department. Will the increase in business done by mucilage manufacturers show a corresponding increase and has the recording angel used up 25,000 pages in recording the instances of profanity caused by the miserable work turned out?

PHILATELIC FADS.

A few years ago Philately was known as a fad, a hobby, or a mere schoolboys' play. Now it is known as a science and has fads of its own.

About the most important one is specializing. The collector realizes that there are too many stamps for him to get a complete collection, so selects the stamps of a certain country and gets as complete a collection of that country's stamps as possible.

Another fad which has come into prominence of late is the collecting of plate numbers. In my opinion there is nonsense in this, and all the good there is in it is that when the craze blows over, the collector will have several stamps that can still be used for postage.

Another branch of this wonderful science is the collecting of philatelic literature. This is all right, but in a few years we will have to specialize in this.

The oddity collector is another class of "crank," and loves to spend half a day in detecting the watermark and distinguishing whether a certain stamp is on laid, wove, or ribbed paper. About all the oddity collector needs is a pair of good, strong spectacles.

The envelope man is the next in order and the fad of collecting only unused, entire envelopes is increasing so rapidly that the cut squares "are not in it" and will sron be as worthless as the cut rounds are at present.
The collecting of unused stamps in blocks of four is well enough for those who've got the "dough," but unfortunately I'm not one of the lucky ones.

The above are only a few of the more prominent fads. To these may be added many more, which goes to show that Philately is growing rapidly and is fastly taking the place of the collecting of the cumbersome old coins. S. W. Maywood.

How many of the new stamp papers that have "started up" lately will be on hand to answer to the roll call one year hence, is a question not best to dwell upon. Let us hope there will be many, however.

"The Philatelic Advertiser" from Portland, Oregon, with H. L. Geary, 50 20th St., to back it, is promised early in December, and as its name signifies will be devoted exclusively to advertisements. If such a publication can be made a success our Portland brother is equal to the occasion.

There is so much press work and binding on the magazines this month that in order to mail them as near on time as possible we will have to close our forms, although copy is coming in a column or more a day. We have even now waited until the first of the month and the papers should, at this time, be in their readers hands.

On opening one of our letters recently we found a Confederate bill-besides the needful for a years' subscription-on the back of which was neatly inscribed: "In due (represented by current unused due stamp) time remember me. Compliments of Robert S. Nelson." It is such unexpected courtesies as this that make a wearied editor think life is really worth living, after he has gotten out three issues in one month and pald for them with hardly any help from those who should remit promptly. Must we do without Turkey for Christmas too? At least send us enough of the needful to get a little Greece.

Mr. T. G. Saunders of Council Bluffs, Iowa, has shown us a block of ten 2 c blue current playing card stamps unrouletted on any side. A unique condition in our opinion. These are the first we heve seen printed in the blue and we notice that they are slightly different from those in red-the "On Hand" stamp.

We are informed that Antiqua has issued a new set of stamps which have already fallen into the hands of speculators. It is said that a German had bought a large number before the stamps were issued. Fears are entertained that a reprint in other colors is contemplated, as the small stock left will not exist long.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.
Fellow Members, I. P. A.:
Mr. John Zug, of Seattle, Wash., having resigned as Exchange Supt. of our Society, I have appointed as his successor Mr. E. S. Blackwell of this city, who is amply qualified for the position. All the departments are now in running order, and members are requested to participate in the benefits thereof.

> Fraternally yours,
> H. F. Bartels, President.

I.IRRAKIAN'S REPORT.

Portlani, Or., Nov. 19, 1896.
To the Members of the I. P. A., Ladies and Gentlemen:
I desire to thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me in electing me as your librarian for the ensuing year, and trust that you will help me to make the library of some use to yourselves.

In national societies the library is generally of use to the librarian only. I have suggested below a few ways, which show that such need not be the case with our organization, and ask you to assist me in carrying out my plans.

The library contained some 630 papers when it was turned over to une There are almost complete files of Mekeel's Weekly Stamp News, Weekly Phil. Era, Rocky Mt. Stamp, Boston Stamp Book and Phil. Tribune. Vol. IV of the Southern Philatelist is complete, while other papers, too numerous to mention, are represented by from one to twenty-five numbers.

This forms an excellent nucleus for a collection of philatelic literature, for which the society is indebted especially to Mr. W. L. McMullen, who donated a large portion of it. Miss Bailey and Messrs. Bartels, Barth, Schoch and other members, have also been kind enough to send various copies.

Mr. Wm. Brown, Salisbury, England, has very kindly been sending his excellent paper, the Phil. Journal of Gt. Britain, for the library since March.

52 magazines have been donated since Oct. 15th, as follows: H. F. Bartels, 16; R. W. French, 5; W. L. McMullen, 1; from publisher Weekly Phil. Era, VI 4, 5, 6; from publisher Evergreen State Phil., VI, 5; H. Moeller, 26.

The following papers are included in the above: American Collector, 1, 2, 3, 4; Boston Stamp Book, II, 1; and 6 last numbers of Mekeel's Weekly.

Mr. W. W. Jewett, publisher of the Weekly Phil. Era, 502 Congress St., Portland, Me., informs me that he will send the Era each week to the society.

Members wishing to consult any paper are requested to drop me a line, and it will be sent to them if in the library. Questions regarding philatelic literature, subscription prices, place of publication of various papers, etc., will be cheerfully answered.

New papers will be circulated among members as received, each being allowed to keep a new paper two days. Those desiring to be placed on circuit will please let me know what journals they want.

I would request all publishers to send copies of their papers for the library. Everything received will be acknowledged in the official organ. Donations from members will be thankfully received.

Trusting that members will make use of the library, I am,

Yours for the I. P. A.,
H. Moeller,

Librarian.

FXCHANGE SUPT'S REPORT.

Having been appointed Exchange Superintendent by our President, Mr. Bartels, wish to state to the members that the Department is in running order, and that they can obtain books at the same rates as formerly, viz: 3 for 10 c or 10 for 25 c . Would like all the members to send in some good stamps, marked at reasonable prices, and those who do not want to sell must want to buy, so send in your names to be placed on the circuit. Hoping to hear from you all I remain, Very truly yours,
E. S. Biackwelt..

TRUSTEES' KFPOKT.
Sajem, Or., Nov. 26, 1896.
We, the newly elected trustees of the "I. P. A.," beg leave to submit our first report. We have received the Bond of E.S. Blackwell, our new purchasing agent, and have approved of the same. We wish to express our thanks for the support that the members of our noble society gave us, and we will at all times strive to promote the society's interest. We ask all to take hold of the exchange department and make it a grand success.

Respectfully submitted,
E. C. Patton,

Trustees for the "I P. A."
E. C. Patton, Chairman.
miniature size. We attempt to show the folly of trying to float a small craft where there are many larger and stronger vessels. The lesser must go down. So heed our word of warning. If you contemplate issuing a stampic journal, don't, unless you have plenty of experience, energy and "money to burn."

The irregularity of issuance is another drawback to many publications. Some stamp journals are ever behind time, and from one to two months continually. I am seldom tempted to patronize such papers in any way. It is very evident that there is push or capital wanting-a screw loose somewhere. Just think of a paper containing Christmas offers, appearing in January or February. It is certainly a back number. The leading and successful papers and magazines of the day are always issued promptly. The stamp journal that expects to remain in the arena must imitate this admirable punctuality. Such journals are appreciated and patronized.

The uncertain circulation and high advertising rates militate against small publications. Few advertisers like to pay two cents a line, and often more, for space that is going elsewhere at onehalf cent a line. Some of the largest and most prosperous papers of the day sell their advertising space at one-half cent a line, and even less, per thousand circulation. Apply this rule to many philatelic publications, and the rate ought to be about twelve cents per inch, and with many publications even less than six cents per inch. And yet they ask us anywhere from twenty-five to fifty cents for such space. Judging from the replies that some of them bring, they are not worth zero per page. The facts in the case are that the mass of amateur publications are unprofitable at any price. The many reasons for this need not be given here.

Then the typographical appearance of many papers is very far from excellent, and the proofreading not to be mentioned. The mistakes, even in very pretentious journals, are often very annoying. Some errors are frequently ridiculous, and there seems no excuse for them save utter carelessness or downright ignorance. How can such papers hope to merit patronage? Stamp collectors are critical and aesthetic, and are after the best, and when they find a good thing they are ready to help push it along.

We are not making a crusade aganst smaller papers, nor do we wish to discourage completely the issuing of new journals, but there are a few things worth considering, and it is well to look before we leap.

A HANDY PROSPECTOR'S FURIACE.

The attention of Prospectors and miners is called to the merit of a new improved apparatus for testing and smelting various kinds of ores and minerals, such as gold, copper, nickel, silver and lead ores.

This furnace is designed and constsucted by and for a prospector, who requires a serviceable furnace, easily transported over a mountainous country on a pack animal; that is complete and ready, and can be set up at any dump of low grade ores, that otherwise will not pay to ship with profit and make a good day's pay out of one or two tons of ore a day.

To judge the value of such an outfit-C CUPOLA SMELTER, KNOCK-DOWN BOTTOM TYPE, with extension when smelting ores, made of No. 10 steel plates with slag and metal spouts, rotary steel blower, counter shaft with geared pulley for blast supply, by either water, steam or hand power; with three graphide crucibles three steel ladies, six furnace steel bars and tools, only weighing 1285 pounds-when the prospector can determine the value of one ton of the ore in a five-hour heat by the output of the bullion.

With a little ordinary intelligence of the average prospector, this five feet by three feet inside diameter little smelter, run on low grade ores, will not only pay for itself every week, but it will convince the skeptic beyond redemption whodoes not believe with us that the little smelter must come to the ore.

The fact that a great many of these CUPOLA TYPE smelters are now being adopted throughout the Western mining districts, and all giving entire satisfaction, is sufficient recommendation for the sudden demand as an absolute necessity to every prospector, mineowner, millman, sampling works or mining company.

Full and complete instructions go with the outfit, which gives mode of treatment of different ores, directions as to the setting up and starting smelter, fuel, fluxing material, and general smelting operation.

A small size $2 \times 4$ feet of $1 / 2$ ton capacity per five-hour heat, only weighs 650 lbs, same number of tools, with blower, etc., designed for the poor prospector, who feels unable to purchase the larger smelter outfit. Ores and compound ores assayed and reported on.

Vol. 10 -No. 1.

Whole No. 55

NOTES FOR U.S. COLLECTORS. BY ERA.
For the first time for at least a couple of years I saw a price placed on the so-called error-2cent green Navy, and the price advertised is $$ 27.50$. On March 1 st at a London sale $$ 19$ was realized for an unused specimen.

The current issue of due stamps have a division or perforation guide line between the fifth and sixth line of stamps.

In plate 262 the one cent periodical the division lines meet in a focus over $V$ in the word "Engraving" in the imprint; also in 269 2-cent periodical, while on plate 100 the point of focus is between A and V.

Another official seal of the stamp supply department must be sought for by collectors who retain them. The current issue one bearing the signature of John A. Merritt as Third Assistant Postmaster General.

From the Philatelic Referee of October 25, 1883, an English Quarterly, I find that the Lydia E. Pinkham Co. offered the U.S. government $$ 10,000$ a month for the privilege of attaching an advertisement of their medicine to the canceller of the New York office and thus herald the merits of their Compound to the world, but the offer was declined.

Three hundred and ninety-one cancelling machines were placed in various offices during last year.

The amount of unused stamps found in letters or found loose in the mails and sent to the Dead Letter office, the past year, amounted to $$ 1153.98$.

The full amount of postage paid on mail carried is allowed on all sea vessels not under contract, flying the U.S. Hag, this being nearly four times the compensation paid non-contract foreign vessels.

The total amount of sales of stamps, envelopes and postal cards for the year ending June 30, 1897, was $$ 78,959,545.66$.

The actual profit arising from special delivery service in the last year amounted to $104,640.40.

It might be apropos to remark at this time that in comparing the prolificuess of issue, another English paper, in about 1885, states that in the number of recognized issue at that date Spain came first with 212 labels and the U. S. second with 178.

In placing ads for the coming season, remember the E.S. P. has a big field exclusively its own.

The Evergreen until Jan. 1st. 1899 for only 8c in unused Omahas, or until Jan. 1st, 1900, for 25 cents.

In answer to postals from 706 subscribers and letters from 37 others, asking "wbere is the E. S. P.?" and complaining that no July or August numbers were received, we wish to thank all for the interest shown, and to state that no July or August numbers were issued this year nor will be in the future. We had been overworked, needed a rest and took it. Many educational journals take a vacation during July and August with success, and it should be a good one for monthly philatelic magazines especially. Five numbers will constitute a volume. The subscription price will be 20 c per year or 10 c per volume. An exchange notice free with each annual subscription.

-     -

The Omaha stamps are not as pretty as they should be. but they are an interesting and popular set with collectors. We may wake up some day and find they are not as common as they might be. It is seldom they are seen in the mails, comparatively speaking.

-0 -

We do not believe that the 1c and 2 c surcharged revenues will be very uncommon, neither those printed right side up, or upside down. Dealers are offering the latter at 75 c and $$ 1$ per stamp, however.

- -

Small boy-Webfooter, presumiably: "Great Scott! The government must be stuck on the Oregon all right to use a picture of her for the new revenue stamps."

-     -

The present season promises to be the best one experienced in many years. Prices will be better, money more plentiful, stamps in greater demand and more interest demonstrated all along the line.

It is said that Lieut. Polo, of the Maria Teresa, had a valuable stamp collection destroyed with that ill fated vessel. Uncle Sam also put to soak a collection of nearly 2500 postage stamps, many of them extremely rare, and the property of Midshipman Morris, of the Vizcaya.

-○-

At last the cruel war is over, and Johnie comes marching home again - hurrah, hurrah! After three months of monkeying with our Uncle Sammy, Spain is willing to call it quits. As a result of our little difference of opinion the stamps of the Philippines, Cuba, Porto Rico and Hawaii have become obsolete, and the commemorative set of stamps we prophesied some months ago, have made their appearance, the battleship Maine series - a sort of rememberative set as it were.
The new revenue stamps should be prime favorites, and will undoubtedly boom that branch of our hobby. Owing to the large number of values it was found to be necessary to use several shades of the same color, and a number of them may be changed later on. Some have already appeared with colors changed, and it is advisable to secure the sets early so as not to be left as changes occur. The proprietary stamps are of such low values that we would recommend collectors securing the set unused, the cost being but $17 \frac{1}{6}$ cents. The values and colors are: $1 / 8 \mathrm{c}$ green, $1 / 4 \mathrm{c}$ brown, $3 / 8 \mathrm{c}$ orange, $5 / 8 \mathrm{c}$ ultramarine, 1 c dark green, $11 / 4 \mathrm{c}$ in both dark purple and brown violet, 2c violetbrown, $21 / 2 \mathrm{c}$ lake, 4 c purple, and 5 c brown. The documentary seties are $1 / 2 \mathrm{c}$ in both orange and gray brown, 1 c pale blue, 2 c rose, 3c ultramarine, $4 c$ pale rose, $5 c$ lilac, 10c dark brown, 25 c purple brown, 50 c violet, $\$ 1$ yellow green, $\$ 2$ lilac, $\$ 3$ brown, $\$ 5$ red, $\$ 10$ black, and $\$ 50$ brown. As every one has now very probably seen a sample of these stamps no description of them is necessary. The cent values are of the same design, with the word "Proprietary" or "Documentary" designating the series. The design for the dollar values has a vignette of "Commerce" similar to the $\$ 50$ newspaper and periodical stamps. The stamps are rouletted and are watermarked "U.S.I. R." There will also undoubtedly be cheik stamps of a variety of designs issued, and private proprietary stamps made to order in a multitude of designs.

Mr. F. Drews, of Portland, was in to see us last week, but we are sorry we were not at home; so he "found us out."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Philip L. Gile, of Melrose, Mass., has sent us the neatest nickel-plated combination padlock for a bicycle we have seen. They sell for 50 c each, or he will trade a few for stamps,

The government has discontinued the use of the newspaper and periodical stamps; is calling them in, and will probably sell them to the public at less than face value. Dealers are anxious to sell but collectors should be in no hurry to buy. Better complete your Omaha and revenue sets first.

Several other changes have been made in our current set since the 1 c was changed to green and the $5 c$ to blue. A Washington correspondent informs us that the 5 c will appear in a lighter blue and the 4 c in a lighter color, as the former colors of these stamps were too dark for practical purposes. The 4 c is to be printed in the color of the 6c. As soon as the supply of the 6 C and 10 c is exhausted new colors for them will be used. Plate number collectors will have no rest for some time to come, as other changes are also contemplated.

Many of our readers will remember Mr. John E. Burton trading a costly hotel for B. S. Ross' stock of stamps since when the Burtons have been liberal advertisers and have built upa remunerative business. The whole transaction was of inestimable benefit to our hobby bringing it into benificial prominence before the general public. Mr. Burton is now offering a superb farm of 320 acres, worth $$ 5000$, for stamps.

The "Pennsy" has been merged into the "Perforator." This advances the Evergrefin to the second oldest philatelic monthly in America, the "Eastern Philatelist" having been the oldest for some time past.

NOTES FOR U. S. COLLECTORS. HY GRA.

Lewis Robie, the Columbus of Philately who is always discovering new worlds of varieties, has disguised himself with a new set of whiskers since last we met, and spent much of his time correcting proof sheets of his new book.
A. W. Batchelder came to the defense of the West and made a strong point in favor of Detroit by refuting slurs which had been cast upon the attendance at the last Western meet in regard to attendance. By the way, A. W. seemed to enjoy himself immensely in the prow of the boat on the excursion.
W. C. Stone, he who always has the privilege of making the motion for adjournment, was present-of course-and made more friends than any other member so they say-out at Coney.
J. H. Leippe, of Reading, was one of those "fellows" whom to meet once is to wish to meet again. When it comes to anyone's good luck to go to Reading, don't neglect to call on Harry if you want a good time and get out of town-sober.
E. B. Sterling, the old time authority on the stamps of our "native land," was on hand accompanied by a later edition of himself, and I don't know which gave me the greater pleasure-to meet him or the genial father of Philately.

It is always with pleasure that I meet any collector, but when it is one whose collecting life has been co-existant with our hobby, like that of John Walter Scott, an extra thrill of pleasure can be well experienced,- and the many philatelic achievements of one of the greatest of American philatelists can but be brought to memory.

And Jewett, the only Era man, the philatelic freelance of the day, with whom for years I had a "corresponding" acquaintance, but whom I had never met before, I found to be the embodiment of a gentleman, and long may his pen be wielded in behalf of Philately.

Henry A. Chapman, the Perforator, presented those in attendance with a souvenir in the shape of a portrait of himself and family, and made himself an especial favorite of the ladies by his many courtesies.

In a recent ad Lewis Robie states a lady friend in Oregon sent him in a letter a necktic asking for a copy of his books in exchange as times were hard in Oregon. This is calumny of the worst kind. Robie further states that if someone would now send him a pair of $11 \frac{1}{2}$ sox he would be O. K.

In a personal letter from Bro. Chapman we learn that he more than enjoyed the A. P. A. convention and the people who composed it.

RESPECTFULLY DECLINES (?).

Pueblo, Colo. Sept. 12, 1898. Editcr Evergreen State Philatelist:

Dear Sir:-- Your favor of the 8th inst. lies before me, which I trust is the only departure from the truth about it, although circulation alfidavits are ever viewed with suspicion by the hardened advertiser. As you know I have for a long time confined my muse closely and only permitted her an occasional canter in the somewhat cramped columns of The Stampman. I may add too, that I am being blessed by thousands for my forbearance, and several excellent judges of philatelic literature (among them Mr. H. E. Deats of Flemington, N. J.) have intimated that a further curtailment of my literary output would be much appreciated. Under these circumstances it shows considerable hardihood on your part to ask for a column or two of copy. I aun writing this at length so that the pain of my refusal may be lessened and also for fear any abrupt declination would cause a relapse on your part and a further siege of measles or pip or whatever it is you have been suffering from.

As to your other request: I have been as you know doing most of my advertising in the weeklies, for a number of reasons, some of which would only increase the prevailing megalomania if I stated them. Stamp advertising cannot be made to do any good unless it is looked after closely. I find it difficult to keep up with three weeklies and often lose a week or two in one or more of them-that is I do not get copy to them in time for a change and ads are repeated. This may seem like shiftlessness to the average reader, but it is a sad fact that all of us are not like Lewis Robic, of whom it is said that when he wants an ad he drugs himself with corn plasters and when in the proper state of coma can produce good things by the yard. Common mortals have to dig, and after a year or so of digging in barren ground one gets just a trifie wearied. On top of all this is Charlie Severn cracking his whip and urging us poor devils to increased efforts. But I am preparing to get square with Mr. Severn. Let him beware! After all this I am sure you will excuse me if I decline to add to my burdens. Of course if I had nothing else to do but to write ads it would be another thing. The business they bring in has to be attended to: and Bro. Chapman has to be written to ever and anon. Bro. Chapman is farming a little now and so and. As neither knows anything of bucolics we are pooling ourignorance,* and are hoping for the best.

Mr. Chapman, by the way, went to the A. P. A. conveation for the purpose of seeing Col. Robie. I judge the latter must have emitted some sparkling conversation, because Mr. C. hasn't been heard from since.

While I am about it I wish to add a mite of commendation for the publishers of the Standard catalog. With their record and well known views on many much mooted points they could not possibly produce any new edition at this time that would even partly meet the very mixed condition of things in the stamp market. A new edition which would follow the lines of prices in the present catalog would be a hollow mockery just at this time, and it is far hetter to leave us with the existing standard and disconuts until such time as the market is once more calm and self possessed.

Day before yesterday I happened to he in Denver and was much saddened by the depression existing in stamp circles. Pierce & Zahn have almost abandoned stamps in favor of old books, of which they have some hundreds fewer than a million in their little cubbyhole of a store. They could report little life in philatelic Denver, and even the society. which is large enough on paper, has not had a meeting for months. It seems that Joe Davis has gone to work-not that he didn't work before, but he is working forkeeps now. Stamp politics interests Oney Carstarphen no more apparently, and President Nash is too busy taking pictures and hunting for plate numbers to attend to stamp matters. Poor old Denver!

Fraternally,

> D. W. Osgoon.
*Such an unblushing confession is positively shocking. Why in the name of plate number collecting don't they consult a 2c Omaha? So those cattle on the dollar Omahas belong to these people. Too shiftless; sitting reading the latest Evergreme with critters in that condition!-Editor.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Seatitie, Wash. Sept. 19, 1898.
To the Members, of the I. P. A.
In accordance with the Constitution and resolution of the last Convention, I hereby issue the call for the Second Annual Convention of the I. P. A., to be held in the rooms of the Portland Philatelic Club, Washington Bldg., Portland, Or., on Friday, Oct. 21, 1898, at 8 P . M., and trust that all members will endeavor to contribute their share toward making the meeting a success.

The following committees have been appointed: Arrangements-H. Moeller, Dr. Fried and H. F. Bartels. Cre-dentials-Dr. Fried, Mrs. M. V. Russell and F. C. Drews.

All officers are requested to prepare full reports of the work done in their departments during the year, and any who may not be able to attend should send the same to the Secretary several days before the Convention.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the nominations made thus far for the year 1848-99. Any additional ones should be sent to the Secretary at once, in order to insure their insertion in the list on official ballot.

Addressing you for the last time as President, I desire to thank you again for having bestowed the highest office in the Society upon me, and to express my appreciation of the cordial relations that have existed between myself and the various officers and members. While the gear has not been just what we would have liked in all respects, I believe there is a boom in store for our hobby now, and I sincerely hope that the I. P. A. will take advantage of it and will continue to increase and prosper, as in the past.

Trusting that I may have the pleasure of seeing the largest gathering of stamp men yet assembled in Portland next month, I remain, Yours for the welfare of the Ass'n, Harry Logan Gfary.

SECRFTARY'S RFPORT.
Portland, Or., Sept. 19, 1898.
To the Members of the I. P. A.:
The following application has just been received:-Herbert Drummond, 831 19th Ave., Seattle, Wash. Ref: H. L, Geary, H. Moeller.

It gives me great pleasure to report that Dr. D. E Brown of Port Townsend, who has just returned from Alaska, has been re-admitted to membership.

The following members have been dropped for non-payment of dues:Nos. 3, 8, 11, 17, 20, 24, 34, 37, 50, 57, 59, $(0), 6 i, 67,79,87,90,91,94,96$. Any of the above will be re-instated on receipt of 25 c dues for the year 1898.

I am pleased to state that the quarters of the Portland Philatelic Club have been secured for holding the Secund Annual Convention, and hope every member will make a special effort to be in attendance. Our city will have what will probably be the largest and most successful Exposition that has been held here during the month of October, and Philatelists will find many attractions in addition to the Convention. Those who contemplate visiting the city are requested to notify me of their intention by mail.

Ballots and proxy blanks will be mailed as soon as prepared.

STANDARD AND DISCOUNTS.

BY D. W. DSGOOD.
It has always seemed to me (mind I do not claim to be either an expert or one so experienced as to be entitled even to respectful consideration) that the objection to the Standard catalog founded on its equality of prices is not worth much practically. It is conceded by all that a standard of prices is a necessity to philately. Now what difference does it make to the great body of us if the catalog does price some too high and others too low? If all adhere to the standard it is fair for one as for another. If you are trading today a stamp worth full catalog for another priced the same but worth only half, tomorrow the conditions may be reversed in your next trade. Likewise if a dealer sells at a uniform discount he doubtless disposes of many stamps which are worth full catalog and which he can hardly replace at his own selling price, if at all. But he also sells many, very many stamps that the wiseacres say are overpriced, and matters are evened up. This is the practical working of a deficient standard and is far from the ideal condition. But any catalog produced by human agencies (and the Scott Company is very human) is bound to have more or less of the present inconsistency. No one man unless it be "S. E. L." of Boston, is infallible or embraces universal knowledge. A group of men could do better perhaps. but I guess the practical working of their catalog would be the same.

Discounts occasionally receive an onslaught from the critics, and truly it does seem odd to fix a "standard" of value and then straightway commence dealing at various discounts from it. But as human nature is at present constituted we cannot expect anything else. No matter how low the catalog got or ratber how near the price at which dealers could secure a supply, there would still be discounts offered to tempt the trade. I believe myself it is more satisfactory to have high prices as at present and big discounts. The commercial instinct which is born in Americans has fuller play, and while no one regrets more than I do the invasion of what should be a purely amateur (in the sporting sense) diversion, still I am something of an opportunist and the conditions being what they are am disposed to make the most of them.

It always tears my heart when I feel compelled to a course which gives others pain. At the inception of my business I felt called upon to issue a pricelist, and being by nature and practice something of a newspaper man, I quite naturally gave it a name and in other ways made it imitate a stamp paper. The imitation was and is so good that most of the double-dyed cranks who collect religiously every bit of paper that is soiled by philatelic publishers have been completely dezeived. Several times have I declared explicitly that the "Stampman" is not a paper and I have also habitually referred to it in ads and otherwise as a price list. Still my simple friends are convinced of their own view and remain unshaken. This would not disturb me much but for the fact that I have twice tound it necessary to change the sbape of my price list, and each time the air has been filled with assorted objurgations from Messrs. Deats, Stone, Shove, et als. All this is painful to me, but I stand firmly on the original proposition that no one can dictate the size and shape of my pricelist. Selah!

The new "Stampman" has its friends. Bro. Cbapman and Corporal Dietz from all appearaces are pleased with it.

CONVENTION ITEMS.
Gleaned by The Evergreen's apecial reporter
Another year has come and gone and with it the Second Annual Convention of the I. P. A. While the membership of the Society has decreased somewhat, it is now on a firmer basis than ever and the attendance at the Convention showed that interest in stamps continues unabated.

The Convention Souvenirs were much admired and reflect great credit on Librarian McArthur, who got them up. It is to be hoped that all who were present will long and pleasantly "Remember The Second Annual Convention Interstate Philatelic Association."

The selection for Convention seat for 1899 called forth the usual oratorical contest, in which Dr. Fried again showed his ability as a speaker. It is rumored that the sale of maps of Oregon and Washington in this city has increased considerably since the meeting, owing to the desire on the part of I. P. A. membsrs to find out where Mr. Schoch's city of Rome is located.

For the first time in the history of Northwestern Philately the secular press has concerned itself seriously with philatelic matters. The announcements and reports of the Convention in both the Oregonian and Telegram were written in a manner which showed that the reporters knew what they were about, barring the fantastic squib of the Honorable Jeremiah Coldwell in Friday's Oregonian, but then, nobody takes Jerry seriously, so there was no harm done by his calling our philatelists "harmless lunatics" and announcing a quite fictitious exhibition of a Cape of Good Hope rarity.

The exact date of Dr. Fried's departure for the Philippines for the purpose of organizing the $I$. P. A. branch there has not yet been determined. Doubtless the medical gentleman will give full announcement in next EverGREFN.

Our esteemed fellow member from Salem, E. C. Patton, is still the same genial gentleman as of yore. He is still holding those celebrated Columbians of his. Anyone wishing to pay good round prices for any denominations of the Wanamaker series should apply to him. (N.B. This is not an advertisement.)

It was a happy thought of Auction Manager MacMullin of the Portland Club to hold an auction after the business session. He rattled off his lots with his usual ability and speediness. The sale showed plainly that Cubans and Porto Ricans are the coming stamps here, as elsewhere.

It is a bopeful sign that the attendance of members living outside of Portland was twice that of last year. Double it again, gentlemen, and we shall be satisfied.

The report of Ex. Supt. Drews was especially gratifiying and showed that his re-election put the right man in the right place. A percentage of 21c on the dollar is one of which he may well be proud, considering the size of the Society and the number of stamps circulated.

The authority given the Librarian to sell all papers issued previous to January 1, 1898, is likely to result in there being several more current publications on file at the Club room than heretofore. The uselesstress of the Library for reference purposes has been clearly demonstrated and this course will make the department of some good to the Society.

The Treasurer's report shows that the Association is 4 c richer than it was last year and its monthly expenses about 20c less. Financially it is therefore much better off. It remains for the members to increase the membership during the coming year, so that the Society will be one of the leaders again among the sectional organizations, as far as membership is concerned.

Veritas.

Canada is to have a $4 c$ stamp. It is required for penny postage letters of double weight, also city letters of double weight.
With the exception of a few trade journals this is the oldest philatelic magazine published.

The law repealing the old document revenues was passed in 1872, but proprietary revenues were used as late as 1883. Many prominent officials hope our present document revenues will speedily be retired from use, but think the proprietary tax has come to stay.

There is no denying that the Omahas are scarcer than the average collector wishes them to be. One does not see one high value, or even above the 2 c , where he saw ten Columbians during their use. At least this has been our experience.

And now a word with the advertiser. Do you realize that our circulation is at least a thousand more than the other monthlies. That we cover a field not reached by all the other papers combined, and that times were never better in the Northwest, it being the dumping ground of Klondyke's wealth, and blessed otherwise financially. 'True we never personally solicit ads, nor cut under our published rate, but when you advertise in a cut-rate publication for almost nothing, it is generally worth it.

This month a magazine as big as Harper's was promised, provided everyone receiving it last month as a sample copy sent in four cents for the rest of the year. Only 201 did so. The eight dollars thus received would not pay for the ink we contemplated using, so we give you one more chance. If every non-subscriber receiving this number will send in any sum from 2c up, we will credit you at the rate of 2 c per number, or insert copy desired if an ad, and get out the December number to be the best and largest stampic magazine yet printed. If you are too poor or indifferent to do this little missionary work, please send us your address on a postal and we may be able to send you a copy anyway. Do it now before forgetting it.

The 4c in the new color is out. Also the is in a much lighter shade of blue. As several if not all of the rest of our current set are to be changed, and no more printings of Omahas are to be made, collectors of U. S. will be kept hustling if complete sets are secured.

Williams & Co. of Lima, Peru, inform us that the new 1c is in general use and orders have been sent to New York for 50,000 each of the 5 and 10 soles.

---

Of the proprietary revenues the $5 \mathrm{c}, 2 \mathrm{c}$ and 1 c respectively seem to be the hardest to obtain in used condition.

The Scott Co. will issue a supplement to the 58th, listing all stamps issued to October, 1898.

The $1 / 8 \mathrm{c}$ c proprietary required for 75 c articles is now in general use, blue it color.

To the Members of the I. P. A.:
I have the honor and pleasure to acknowledge receipt of the notification of my election as President and Trustee of the I. P. A. I can assure you of my most assiduous care of the different duties expected of me. Itrust with your united assistance to be able to report a flourishing condition of the affairs of our association at the termination of my official term. Again thanking all for the honor, I am Respectfully yours, M. Firied, Pres.

VICK PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.
Pokt Townsend, Wash., 10-25-'98.
Fellew Members I. P. A.:
I am a good deal like the little boy who told his father he was "next to head, " but when his father asked him how many in the class, he said "two." Mr. Bartels received your votes, but declines; so, as I anı "next to head" I and elected your Vice President. Well, I thank you very wuch and will endeavor to fill the office to your satisfaction.

We have a fine little Society, and if every member will try to interest the collectors in his or her town we will soon be able to leave off the word "little"' before Society. We have enough collectors in the states of Oregon and Washington to give us a membership of three hundred. Let every member get at least one new name. Thanking you again for the honor conferred on me, I remain

Yours for the I. P. A.,

THE I. P. A.'S CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL.

T'be very successful outcome of the Second Annual Convention of the I. P. A. has caused a yearning in the hearts of the leading lights of that Society for more frequent conclaves of the faithful in the Northwest's philatelic Rome, Portland, the Home of the Mossback. or the "City on the Slough," as our friends in the neighborhood of our illustrious Ex-President call it.

Realizing that such gatherings will give additional lustre to their reign, the officials of the Association resident in the metropolis have put their heads together and have planned for a grand Philatelic Christmas Festival, which will eclipse any meeting of philatelists known to history in the number of entertaining features introduced, even outdoing a Kissinger Convention in this respect.

Dr. Demosthenes Firied, the energetic President of the Interstate Society, has acted most wisely in leaving the entire management of the entertainment in the hands of Colonel Philharmonic Mapleson Bartels, the celebrated impresario, who, as is well known, has imported more guaranteed genuine musical rarities to the Northwest than all the musical societies and clubs of this section combined. The Colonel, following his usual lavish manner of catering to the public, will engage either the Marquam, Arion or Auditorium, so that there will be room for all out of town cranks who may feel the spirit move them.

Considering the excellence of the programme, the number thus moved will doubtless be large and it can confidently be anticipated that Portland will see several hundred more stamp men than usual on the night of the Festival. The official printer has kindly allowed the curious ones to take a glance at the literary bill of fare. The menu is most tempting.

Below are a few of the special attractions that have been secured, in addition to the usual features of stamp meetings:

The Honorable E. Bowler Patton, of Salem, will relate "How I taught the Portlanders to Bowl," and other Convention incidents.

Mr. Eli Fisher, whose tenor voice is admirably adapted for Wagnerian roles and is said to rival that of the one and only Anton Schott, will sing the beautiful aria from Lohengrin "From Distant Climes."

Harry Logan Geary, that bright star in the Sound's amateur dramatic firmament, will deliver a new philatelic oration entitled "'S. E. L.' to his Critisers," said to equal Cataline's famous defiance.

Vice President Brown has kindly consented to give "Twelve Munths in the Klondike" and other mining stories.

Prof. A. D. Schoch will deliver a ten minutes lecture on the great unknown cities of Oregon, illustrating it by various maps of the state.

Col. Philharmonic Mapleson Bartels will, if his arduous managerial dutics allow him the time, explain why he objected to having hisenvelope rarity catalogued at 56 auctioned off for 30 c at the Convention.

The Honorable Jeremiah Coldwell, of reportorial fame, has offered to tell "What he doesn't know about Philately." As it would probably take several sessions for him to do this, he has been requested to confine himself to what he does know.

Ex. Supt. Drews has been assiduously cultivating a magnificent baritone voice during the last two months and will sing "'rhat Night I'll Ne'er Forget" in a manner that will doubtless rival his success as a stamp seller.

Dr. Demosthenes Fried has agreed to fill in the gaps between acts with a dozen or so of his philatelic speeches, which will surely be receieved with as much enthusiasm as the Frawley Co.

Sec'y Barnes will come down by special train to render a vocal solo "The Secretary's Life is not a Happy One. Happy One."

Mr. MacMullin will sell a batch of the P. P. C.'s auction lots, which resemble the famous Castoria in one particular, in that philatelists, not children, cry for them.

Mr. C. H. Precemeder will show how he bears the heavy honors "thrust upon him."

Publisher French will explain why he did not take the fast freight to the Convention.

Librarian McArthur will offer some choice blocks of Library stock for the benefit of literature friends.

An innovation will be the "Trustees' Hornpipe," danced by Dr. Fried and Messrs. Johnstone and Precemeder, whose terpsichorean talents are well known.

Such are a few of the "specials" Col. Bartels has secured. Surely this is the "chance of a lifetime." If it may le permitted to change the poet of Aron's words somewhat, it may be said, "rhis is the time that taken at the full leads on to philatelic joy, neglected and ——, but no sensible philatelist will neglect this rare opportunits. Veritas.

OBSERVATIONS.

KY OI.D DOMINION.
The collection of outer-lines on the current United States is a pleasant little side line. It is just as deserving a branch as plate number collecting, and not nearly so expensive unless you want them unused. They make a pretty page in a blank album, if properly arranged; are easily gotten, as a search among a lot of current used will expose numbers of them, and it is very probable that they will one day be catalogued in company with the capped varieties of 1890.

The following anecdote from one of our daily papers may interest some. Perhaps, the former Carrollton postmaster did not lose anything by his generosity after all:
"Jule E. Geier, ex-postmaster and now a popular grocer, has in his possession two Confederate postage stamps which he treasures as souvenirs of the Lost Cause. When he was postmaster, he was one day rapidly cancelling stamps on letters when his alert and experienced eyc detected two stamps the like of which he had never seen before. Upon examination he found that they were the 'old issue' of Confederate stamps, and of course not recognized as stamps current by the postal regulations of the United States. Had Mr. Geier been of a miserly disposition, he would have sent the letters to the Dead Letter Office for want of postage.

Then, as now, however, Jule cared nothing for expenses. Besides he had not that callousness of heart that would permit him to 'hold up' those letters in transit. Putting two genuine United States stamps of the three-cent issue upon them he forwarded the letters to their destination retaining possession of the depreciated stamps of Confecerate States issue."

I am groing to write to the paper and see if I cannot find out which denominations and colors those "depreciated stamps" are, for they may be 20 c greens some enterprising person was trying to get used.

Picking up a philatelic paper a few days agoI glanced at the advertising columns and noticed the ad of a dealer who offered 8c Canada Jubilces at 40c eacb, unused, while on the very next page another dealer offered the same stamp for 15 c . I doubt very much whether the first dealer receieved many replies from his ad, but I am almost sure that if he did not he blamed the medium.

Our present revenues come rouletted, also part rouletted, and have been reported as seen perforated. In all probability perforating will be resorted to if they are kept in use for any length of time.

REVENUES.

By A. D. Schocir.
Does anyone know how many different kinds of stamps were impressed in yellow on checks, etc., prior to 1883? I will describe those I have seen. One variety has a portrait of Benj. Franklin on a circular medallion 22 mm in diameter. At cither side there is a large 2 in a circle of 10 mm . The three circles are surrounded by inscriptions and ornamental work.

Another dated 1869 has an eagle with wings spread, above which is "U S Internal Revenue" and below "Two Cents 2." All this is enclosed in a figure of the shape of the portion common to each of two intersecting circles. Outside of this there is more ornamentation.

Another design is "diamond" shaped. This seems to be the commonest of all. Inside the diamond is a profile of the godless of Liberty on an upright oral medallion. The rest of the design is taken up with ornamentation and the usual inscriptions. I have checks with this stamp lated from 1878 to 1883.

Next and last is a stamped sight draft. The one I have is dated 1871 . Its extreme measurements are 49 and 108 mm . The central part of the design is a

Watermarks on Our Current Stamps.

 by h. b. Stexle.Much has been said and written about the watermarks on our present set of stamps, but a few words about them may not be amiss just now.

The marks which were at first very imperfect have somewhat improved, but much may yet be done to make them better.

The watermarks appear somewhat plainer on some stamps than on others. For instance, the 10 c value shows the mark very plainly while on the $1 c$ it is hardly ever to be seen perfectly. This is most probably due to the dense green color of the 10 c stamp which affords a better background than the blue of the lc stamp.

The watermarks are also found in some of the stamps inverted, due no doubt to the careless handling of the paper in printing.

It is difficult to see in what way the present watermarks can benfit the public.

The 15 c stamp is soon to be changed to a beautiful olive green.

WHAT SANTA CLAUS MAY BRING.
For Editor Herbst of the New York Philatelist, more "sample copy fiends."

For the Omahas, a "better late than never" popularity, even if 'tis based on speculation.

For "S. E. L.," more controversies with his fellow pen pushers.

For the President of the I.P.A., a few more collections to put up at a bargain.

For the Scott Stamp & Coin Co. more pats on the back for not publishing their 54th yet.

For Ex. Supt. Drews, well merited success in his department.

For D. W. Osgood, the satisfaction of knowing that some people will take him at his word and consider his "Stampman" merely a price list.

For Lewis Robie, more match and medicine stamps.

For J. M. Bartels, more plate numbers to chronicle.

For Chas. Entirecover Severn, more ideas for making advertisers feel good.

For the S. S. S. S., no observance of that honored motto "De mortuis nihil nisi bonum."

To Geo. S. McKearin, further discoveries about New Foundland stamps to impart to the public.

For Canadian collectors, a few more varieties of the Dominion's postal labels.

And for the E. S. P., esperons, a mail bag full of new subscriptions.

Veritas.

VARIETIES.

HY ABE ATLAS LEVE.
The local postoffice in many places have yet on sale the smal! blue Grant postal cards.

I have a two cent new revenue stamp, on envelope, which came through the postoffice.

The Omahas are not very plentiful here. Plate numbers are very scarce. It seems that the sheets are trimmed to fit the stamp cases. This lets the plate seeker out.

In a local collector's pile of curiosities there reposes a check which was cashed with a one cent green postage stamp and a one cent surcharged one.

When in New York recently, the writer bought a Klondyke stamp and since then he has read that they are fakes.

Several stamp collections got lost when Cevera's ships were sunk. There will be no question about the "watermark" on those stamps.

Very few Omahas are received here on letters. If they are called in January 1st, somebody is going to raise as much of a howl as they did when the new stamps were suggested.

Syracuse should have a stamp collectors club. I know at least fifteen good men to start with.

In my collection of Omahas there is a plate number variety which is scarce. A blot of green ink on the margin.

Six years ago when number one of this paper was printed the "Eastern" stated editorially that it looked like it was printed from rubber type with papa's shoe blacking. For some time we had toget along without an exchange copy and now, although outliving its old management, since num-

No private proprietary stamps have been issued to meet the demand caused by the late war tax. The battleship series are seemingly all right. If su=h stamps are issued they can lawfully be but three sizes: $1 / 2 \times 1$ inch, $1 \times 1 \mathrm{in}$. $2 \times 3 / 4 \mathrm{in}$. The old private proprietaries of 1862.83 were put out in every size and shape imaginable.

With this number the fifth year of publication for the Evergrfen is completed, and its tenth volume. Outside of a few trade journals it is the oldest monthly stampic magazine and has published less reprinted matter than any other. You should not do without it at a cost of only 20 c yearly. It has been favored with a liberal advertising patronage enabling us to circulate at least a thousand more copies monthly than the majority of monthlies, and its subscription list is a goodly one for all of which we are rery grateful.

Of our current small stamps the 4 c red-brown, 5 c light blue, fo magenta and 10c light brown are out. The lis is reported as being changed from blue to green. The small sized postal, Adams, 1c black on cream is also in use.

Canadians seemingly do not take well to their special delivery stamp and it may be retired from use. Owing to the quantity of high value Canadians still on hand the new high values will not appear until after the first of the year.

The 40c and 80c documentary revenues are reported on sale. The $13 / 8$ and $33 / 4$ proprietary have been for a month. The $3 / 8$ proprietary is now appearing in a very light shade of blue, in fact all the revenues are quite prolific in shades, little care being taken to print in the same shade, seemingly.

In all probability the newspaper and periodical stamps lately called in will soon be sold to the general public.

The $11 / 4$ proprietary first appeared in purple, then plum, cold violet and shadings of purple and violet. Plum is the scarce shade.

During the past year, or the socalled hard times, collectors felt constrained to economize in their stampic expenditures, but now dealers report they are as feverishly active the other way, especially in Canada and the United States. Having denied themselves their hobby so long they are more than making up for lost time.

Have you not a duplicate you can spare for someone less fortunate than yourself, and thus brighten this merry Christmas time, or treat yourself to a stampic magazine for a year and make it mutually merry for both you and the publisher, or patronize some of the Evergreen's advertisers and please them, yourself, ye editor, our printer, etc., ad infinitum?

NOTES FOR U. S. COLLECTORS. by era.
T'he signed reprints of the New Haven 5 c, some eight or ten years ayo, appeared once or twice a sear at auction, but the first one offered for a long time was in a recent New York sale. But thirty of these reprints are said to have been made.

Up to date I have either seen or heard of four values of the war revenues in part perforate shape, the one, two, five and ten cent having been listed as existing in this condition.

It seems more than likely that the revenue series will soon appear perforate instead of roulette. That they will present a finer appearance in this shape will be unquestioned as those who saw is set privately perforated in New York, in August, can well testify.

I note by a recent New York publication that a certain New York firm is ready to buy uncancelled stamps, issued before 1873 , at seventy-five per cent off catalogue price, and in the same mail it sale catalogue where stamps of this description to the value of S135.35 wece offered for $$ 54.50$. Wonder why the last man didn't walk around and sell to the first for the trifle over $$ 100$ he says he would give.

The chief of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, in his recent report, recommends that all appropriations for the preparation of postage stamps be made direct to the Bureau instead of to the Postal Department as at present.

Postal treaties authorizing "parcel post" arrangement exist between the United States and Jamaica, Barbadoes, the Bahamas, British Honduras, Mexico, the Leewards, Columbian Republic, Costa Rica, Danish West Indies, Salvador, British Guiana, the Windwards and New Foundland.

Commencing with the first of the year a new price schedule is going into effect on stamped envelopes, whereby the price to the consumer is to be lower. The idea with the department has always been to render the use of these more popular, and has held out inducements which would seem to be such a bid that all business houses at least should adopt them.

PHILATELY MONTH BY MONTH.

Some Comments on Current Events, Articles and Opinlons.

UNCLE SAM'S COLONIAIS.
Ever since the trend of events in the late war with Spain showed what was to be the fate of the Spanish possessions in the Western hemisphere and elsewhere, our spacefilling brethren of the pen have been wasting a good many valuable pages in speculating about Uncle Sam's colonial stamp issues.

Some writers, in common with many collectors, seem to be laboring under the delusion that the greatest blessing for Philately is more new issues, more and more all the time. Just why they are not satisfied with the output up to date, certainly large enough, is not patent. Possibly the American love for new things accounts for the mania in this country. However that may be, new issues take up a considerable portion of the time of the literary genthmen above mentioned, and. on course, the wish always being father to the thought in such cases, they hoped for many new spaces in stamp albums as a result of Uncle Sam's summer diversion.

Whether the government will issue any special sets for the new possessions is a horse of quite another color. When Alaska, previously a Kussian Colony, was purchased there was no thought of an extra series, but then these United States had not had their Wanamaker, Seebeck and Ashcroft, and if Alaska had been added to Columbia's dominions in 1898 possibly a special issue commemoraling the Klondike, Muir Glacier, Sitka, seal islands, etc., might have been forthcoming. "Everything happens" in the fin de siecle days. Therefore there is a possibility of the Philippines. Porto Rico, etc., each having a set, but the writer, for one, fails to see why the present stamps will not answer as well as anything else.

The unsatisfactory financial results of the issue of the Omaha labels will prevent the postoffice ofticials from recommending any new series as a money making scheme, if there should be any inclination so to do, which fortunately is hardly likely to be the case.

The question of language is the only that might cause these much desired Colonials to appear. Should the administration in a fit of generosity decide that our Spanish speaking fellow citizens. if they may be so characterized. should be able to decipher the legend on their postal labels without consulting a dictionary the hopes of our imperialistic friends might be realized, but otherwise they will have to branch off into the collecting of cancellations if they want American colonials.

VANITAS VANITATEM.
At last we hear that the govcrnment intends to change the colors of the stamped envelopes to correspond with the adhesives in the regular U. P. U. shades. Incidentally we are to have some different heads, for all of which the envelope collector may be deroutly thankful. For many, many moons our writers and collectors have been "kickiog," if I may use so slangy an expression, for something new in the way of envelopes. It may be questioned, however, whether all.this vigorous figurative manipulation of legs and feet has had anything to do with the decision of the government in the matter. In fact, most likely it had nothing to do with the case, tra la, although some of our quill drivers will no doubt be flattering themselves that the government adopted their valuable suggestions. Vanitas Vanitatum, but tis a harmless delusion.

This reflection naturally brings us to the question of the weight which philatelic opinions expressed through our press have outside of the hobby. This, it must be admitted, is lamentably small.

It is the habit of some writers to be continually grumbling at the ways divers governments have of running their postal departments, especially in their bearings on Philately. Suggestions are given freely withoutextra charge and the governments* postal departments would be model institutions if all the valuable advize were followed, which, alas and alack, never is-"No never, Hardly ever." Such is the ingratitude of governments, constitutional monarchies, principalities and autocracies, as well as republics!

The philatelic woods are full of reformers, good, bad and indifferent, practical and impractical, mostly the latter. These good people do not hide their light under a bushel, but speak up like little men, pardon, Titans of the Quill, for the world receives their mighty schemes through the ubiquitous philatelic journal.

Some way out of the bombastic ineffectiveness of philatelic assertions should be suggested. First - let us talk less and do more. Merely suggesting improvements will never bring them about. Second-in Union there is strength. Make our Societies something more than Exchange Departments. Third-having secured a solid backing, work for a "pull" with the powers that be. The "pull" does its own talking.

If the above is followed, we may do something occasionally. although it will require an effort. Veritas.

JOTTINGS.

HY HASTINGS.

The U. S. stamps are out in their new and attractive colors. Handsomer than ever, of course. It is rumored that the P. O: department has a new issue in view and upon the strength of that uncertain fact, used copies of the new colors are bringing grod prices.

The is cent in dark blue is the favorite with speculators, it having been in use but a short time. As an additional reason for its scarcity, the Trans-Mississippi set were used in its stead in thousands of post offices. Many offices, even of our larger cities, have not had this denomination in dark blue at all, but have used Omahas exclusively.

There has been so much said about the harm done by speculative and other issues with shady characters that it has gotten to be almost an established fact that they are a drawback and at hindrance to stamp collecting. Do they aid philately? you ask ine. I should say that although I do not favor them myself, they are often beneficial. You ask me how? I have known collectors who entered our interesting pursuit, pleasure or pastime, call it what you will, because of the interest aroused by the attractiveness and, beauty of some Seebeck. Indeed some at first collected these pretty stamps alone, but gradually broadened out into a full fledged collector, not averst to having a collection that would interest a non collecting friend on account of its beauty or a collector on account of its varieties.

I believe that dealers should be encouraged in selling these Seebecks or speculative stamps, as their beauty combined with their cheapness will interest many in stamps, and eventually they may become enthusiastic philatelists.

By the above I do not mean that every collector should collect that class of stamps. Let each philatelist exercise his own judgment in the matter. It will not spoil the remainder of the collection if a few pages of your album contain this class of stamps; they do not cost much, and it may be possible that, in showing jour collection to a non collecting friend, their beauty may attract him to philately.

By all means let the beginner: alone. Do not make the pursuit of philately a stony highway for him. Do not confuse him with S.S.S.S., reprints, Seebecks, or other such terms, as it might be the cause of his becoming discouraged. If left to himself, or encouraged, he will soon bo as full of philatelic information as you are now.

Why are the ranks of women collectors so thin? In other lines of collecting the ladies lead, but in philately there are too few.

HERE AND THERE.
hy "zura."
The advertiser who can put all there is to be said on a subject in ne line is infinitely a better man than the one requiring four.
It is as hard work to sell cheap stamps at a good price as it is to make an empty bag stand alone.
O. G. is a great law-the law of the fastidious, and the destiny of soaked stamps.
There is no seed so sure to produce a big harvest as Newfoundland provisionals.
The three greatest luxuries of philately are a neat cancellation, a whole envelope, and a fellow collector to dispute with.

Because the rare Mauritius P.O. stamps have a woman's head on them, is why there is so much talk about them.

Duplicates are just so much extra baggage, at the risk of the awner.

Even Seebecks are perforated. I believe in jubilee issues, but only a little just enough to keep an assortment on hand.

If a man wants to find out the utter weakness of money, let him try to buy 3 Mauritius P. O. stamp from the Mekeel combine.

You can use a postage stamp twice. The first time it will cost you $2 c$, the second time $$ 50$.

About the only difference between an advanced collector and a beginner, is that the former cooks all othe stamps he selects from approval sheets, by means of benzine, perforation gauges, etc., while the latter takes them raw.

revenue collectina.

13Y J'EASR.
Do you collect revenues? If not, why not? A few years ago few people collected any except United States, and some would not collect even them. It is different now, for there are albums and catalogues for revenues exclusively.

There are several advantages in collecting them. They are cheaper and not nearly so numerous. And they are stamps, for a check will not be accepted without one any more than a letter will, and a druggist is not allowed to sell medicines without a stamp on them.

You need not think revenues are not being collected more and more. One fact shows it mure plainly than any other, and that is that a few years ago most philatelic papers ignored even mentioning them, while today there are whole lots of papers devoted to them.

Indications are that the collecting of revenues will increase the price, so now is the best time to do something in this line, as well as in other stamps; or if you do not collect other stamps, the revenues form a very pretty collection of themselves.

Some authorities say it is quite likely the revenues will appear perforated, while others say not. Many complaints are made that they are hard to separate in their present condition.

The reply postal card provided under the new contract is out minus the ornamental frame, and is a hideously printed affair. The 2c for foreigy use is even worse. Truly we have some of the most abominable cards in use.

Messrs. Williams & Co., of Lima, Peru, announce the following new Peruvian issues: 5 soles, light green, 10 soles, lilac, unpaid. 1c wrapper green, old type and postal cards in 1 c violet. 2 c red, $3 c$ greenish gray and $4 c$ brown. These cards each have a view, 40 varieties in all.

The Postmaster-General in his annual report recommends the adoption of a special stamped envelope of superior material of the denomination of 10 c to provide greater safety and security to registered letters, and that all persons registering letters be induced to purchase such an one at the face value of the stamp as is now the case with postal cards.

-○-

Do not forget that our March issue will be double our usual circulation and mailed to not less than 5,000 different addresses. Contract ads will have the benefit of our usual rates, but ads for that number alone can only be accepted at $$ 1$ per inch.

We have been favored with a copy of Robie's famous "Stamp Hunting," a neatly printed book. pocket library size of 260 pages. You will like it at 50 c from the publisher, Lewis Robie, 631 W. Adams st., Chicago.
I. R. revenues inverted and otherwise are getting plentiful enough to warn one to be on the watch for counterfeits. It is easy for any ordinary printer to print the surcharge.

The "Metropolitan" reports that the Bureau of Engraving and Printing is working upon desigus for a new set of stamps for use in Cuba under military rule.

The 2c commemorative Cana－ dian stamp contains a map of the world printed in black，red and lavender，not any too pretty and somewhat irregularly distributed．． How about speculative and un－ necessary Omahas，brethren：

We have been favored with the Jan．，1899，Standard Price Cata－ log and Reference List of Plate Numbers of the U．S．adhesive postage stamps issued from 1893 to 1899 ．Published at 25 c by J． M．Bartels\＆Co．， 72511 th st．N．W， Washington，D．C．

The new Cuban stamps for tem－ porary use are the 1，2，5，10c，of our own with＂Cuba＂and amount in pesos printed across the face in black ink，and known as $1,21 / 2,5$ and 10 c de Peso．For permanent use the department has selected designs such as a profile portrait or statue of Columbus，a typical Cuban scene，＂Industry，＂＂Com－ merce，＂etc．The latter design will show a full rigged clipper ship on the water，and in appear－ ance similar to our 120 1869 ，one of the most attractive stamps we ever issued．The rate of letter postage in Cuba， 5 c for half an ounce，will not be changed for the present．

Key to Successiul Domestic Financlng．

＂The secret of donestic finance is to make a little money go a long way，${ }^{\circ}$ writes Frances Evans in an article＂About Men，＂in the Lanies＇ Home：Jotinnai．＂The old axion about saving the pennies and lettingr the pounds take care of themselves is not the natural policy of Americans： only the frumal Scotch and French know that role by heart．But women could learn it better than men，be－ cause their minds dwell more natur－ ally upor little things．If they are rarely kreat financiers they are fre－ quently successful small financiers． Make a woman responsible for an al－ lowance and she feels the interest of in junior partner；pay her bills and she is put on the footink of an inferior． There is a feeling of ignominy about asking a man for car fare．fifty cents． five dollars or even a hundred dollars． disagreeable beyond expression to a woman with any pride or independ－ ence．Now that women are thinking more for themselves than in the past． independence is becoming naturally a part of their creed．This independ－ ence cannot be choked out．＂

Whore No. 60

NOTES FOR U. S. COLLECTORS. by fra.
And still the "decensus Averni facile est" is the story of the Columbian dollar stamp, a Cbicago dealer at the first of the year offering them for a two dollar bill; fine original gum uncancelled specimens, and it is said he was not overwhelmed with orders either.

The advance in postal matters in Mississippi valley is well instanced in the figures given out by T. E. Hughes, the assistant postmaster of Minneapolis, in connection with that office. In 18.54 the gross receipts were $1.38.71; in 1864, $4,467.33; in 1874, $$ 40,670.90$; in $1884, $ 178$,218.97; in 1898, $5580,084.34$.

On an envelope enclosing circulars of a mining company which I recently received, was no stamp and no evidence of a stamp having been attached. In the "stamp corner" appeared the postmark "Washington, D. C., May 5, 8:30 A. M.," this and nothing more.

On another letter received the same day was a wagon collection cancellation, the five lines in a circle reading "Collect'n & Dist'n, Wasbington, D. C., May 5, Trip 5, Wagon No. 1," while the cancellation was a large 1 in a circle.
The sale of stamps, cards and envelopes at this office in 1897 and 1898 shows a nearly fifty per cent decrease in the use of two cent envelopes, while "all along the line" elsewhere increased sales were found in 1898.

Under the date of December 24th, seven new military postal stations were created in CubaPinar del Rio, Guanajay, Mariel, Trinidad, Las Tunas, Sancti Spiritus and Cardenas.

The twentieth century specialists will probably be anxious searchers after 1898 cancellations of these stations. if the tendency to minor varieties continues.

The New York Evening Post is responsible for the following: "It is believed that the first postage stamp used in this country was one designed by E. A. Mitchell, postmaster of New Haven, Connecticut, in 1847. It was brown in color, printed in ordinary paper, and about the size of the present government stamp, and signed by Mr. Mitchell. He issued it for the convenience of the citizens, who complained of the delay occasioned by their being unable to prepare letters except in the office hours."

The Virginia and the Eastern are a little at loggerhead over the plentiful supply of I. R. surcharges. I doubt if either is fully right. The Bureau presses would do no better work than any good plant could do, but the quantity issued is the best proof against counterfeits, $42,000,000$ of the 1 c being issued and $38,000,-$ 1000 of the 2 c .

The paper on which internal revenue stamps were printed for the year ending July 1,1898 , cost the government $\$ 37,122.39$, during the same period revenue stamps to the value of $\mathbf{3 7 8 , 5 6 9 . 1 0}$ were redcemed.

Up to date the following imperforate varieties of the current issue have been noted, $3 c, 4 c, 5 c$ and 10 c unwatermarked, $1 \mathrm{c}, 2 \mathrm{c}$, $3 \mathrm{c}, 4 \mathrm{c}, \mathrm{sc}, 6 \mathrm{c}, 8 \mathrm{c}$ and 10 c watermarked and the 2c. 5c, 6c and 50c part perforate.

In his annual report Secretary Gage of the Treasury Department speaks of the work of the Bureau of Engraving in preparing the war tax stamps thus: "If any justification were needed for the maintenance of an establishment of this kind in connection with the Treasury Department, it was fully supplied by the prompt manner in which the Bureau furnished the stamps and securities required under the war-revenue act. This act was approved June 13, 1898, and took effect immediately upon its passage as to the change of tax on beer, tobacco, cigars, cigarettes and snuff, thus practically destroy ing the three-months' stock of stamps in the hands of collectors. Stamps were delivered to the Commissioner on the morning of the 14 th of June. As to the stamps for special taxes, documents, medicines and mixed flour. the law allowed but seventeen days for the engraving, printing and distribution thereof. Within this time the Bureau had fur. nished a sufficient number of stamps to supply the immediate demands, and by August 1st, had furnished all that were required by law as a reserve stock. Br July, 1st, the Bureau was delivering 20,000,000 documentary and proprietary stamps daily. Sept. 17th their delivery was stopped."

嵤

Dies, Watermarks, Etc.

No collector should make the mistake of trying to collect the dies, prints and perforations of foreign stamps before they have at least a thousand stamps in their collection. The watermark is another thing which, I think. should be avoided unless it is vers plain. Of course there are exceptions when it pays a collector to find out about these things. especially in U.S.stamps, where two stamps are similar, but one is catalogued at a much higher price than the other.
M. H. Peasf.

Want colurin.

A Philanthropic Department conducted for the benefit of philatelic humankind in general. Open for use by anyone interested in stamps, not having political proclivities and not addicted to the habit of inflicting philatelic fiction on the public.

Wanted by "S. E. L." information as to where the Type A23 3c Newfoundland was obtained to make up the set that the government sold to collectors.

By Colonel Philbarmonic Mapleson Bartels, musical prodigies of all kinds. Best terms for touring the Pacific Northwest.

By Philately's yellow journalist, H. A. Chapman, a correction of the impression received as to the hardness of the times in these western wilds from Bro. Robie's haberdasher experience.

By Wm. A. McDonnell, answers to his color riddle.

By Queen Wilhelmina, no more stamps which make her look ten years older than she is.

By E. C. Patton, more Columbians.

By our friends across the border, a few more varieties of the Imperial Penny Postage stamp.

By Lewis Robie, ten thousand readers of "Stamp Hunting."

By Mr. Henniker Heaton, universal penny postage.

By many patriotic American stamp collectors of the "New Collector" persuasion, a new set for each of the Philippines, Porto Rico, Hawaii, the Ladrones, etc. Veritas.

PHILATELIC UNEXPECTEDNESS.

Finds are always of interest, so I make haste to record one which I recently made, the more as I hope it will increase church-going among folks philatelic. Also, there are mysterious features connected with the case, which add to its interest.

Christmas day fell on Sunday, and at the morning service in the church which I frequent, the congregation was unusually large. including many strangers. After the service 1 stood in the rear, waiting for my better half, and my idle gaze fell on a little square of paper on the carpet. I finally observed it had perforations, and hastily turning it over I beheld a fine canceled copy of the $121 / 2 \mathrm{c}$ New Brunswick 1860. After that no time was lost in transferring the treasure to my pocket, and wonder as to how it came to be on the floor of a church took possession of me and has never been satisfied. Inquiry was instituted but no owner could be found, and I am forced to the conclusion that it was dropped by a stranger.

About three years ago I became acquainted with a dentist and have spoken to him daily since. Recently he sold his practice and boxed his effects and shipped them to a new home． He is still here，bowever，and the other day a mutual friend，a phi－ latelist，caught him in the reve－ nue collector＇s office buying a set of battleship revenues．Inquiry developed the fact that our den－ tist friend had been a collector since boyhood，and besides hav－ ing a passable collection，mostly old issues，he had accumulated great stores of duplicates during his travels over the world，which had been extensive．All his stamp plunder was in his new home，however，so we missed some pleasant and profitable cx－ perience．We are tempted to put a sign on our breast，inscribed＂I am a stamp collector．Are you？＂ so that if I am rubling elbows daily with unknown collectors they may declare themselves be－ fore it is everlastingly too late． 53

by john peltz．

I have in my possession a copy of the current U．S．1c green with two dots，one on each right side of the figures＂ 1 ＂inside the circle which encloses them．It would be interesting to learn just what they are for，or how they came on the plate．

A glance through several doz－ en of the 1880 ） 1 pence lilac（ 16 dots in each angle）Great Britain， will reveal the fact that in sever－ al stamps some of these dots in each angle or corner of the stamp are connected by thin lines which run across them．

Scott prices the $189221 / 2 \mathrm{p}$ pale green Cape of Good Hope in his 58th at 4 c ，but that in reality it should read 50c as per the＂Er－ rata＂in the front of the catalog． I was fortunate enough last sum－ mer to secure a fine specimen of the above on original cover from an approval sheet in exchange for 2 c worth of U．S．stamps．

I have seen the current U．S．2c with cap on right two．

Comparison of Canadian Issues．
Canada has had four issues since 1897．The Jubilee，Maple Leaves，present issue and the new $2 c$ commemorative of the penny pustage between Great Britain and her colonies，which is one of the prettiest stamps ever published as it is printed in three colors and has a map of the world for the design，and in size and shape resembles the Panama stamps．

Compare four issues in ons year to the former issues of which she has had only about eight distinct ones．The four is－ sues would cover 38 years，from 185\％－1897．Canada spems to be getting sporty．

Canada reduced her domestic posital rate from 3c to 2 c on New Yeat's day. The 2e stamp will be changed from purple to red and should cause the purple to be a very desirable stamp. The 3c will be discomtinued, as well as the $3 c$ envelope which will be superceded by a 2 c of new die. A registration stamp of 7 c and a 4 , value for double weight are in preparation. It is also rumored the current set will consist of values up to 55 , needed for newspaper postage. The Xmas stamp is now printed with a green background and the first printings of the stamp are reported as quit. scarce.

The printing of the Omahas has been discontinued and their days are fast passing by. There is a big demand in foreign countries for them as well as at home. and they are now at their cheapest. The supplement to the 58 th prices the $50 \mathrm{c}, $ 1$ and $$ 2$ used at their face value, and lightly cancelled they are well worth it. Is your set complete?

--

Just as we go to press we learn from the Weekly Eira and the Metropolitan, that the periodical stamps will be put on sale in the large cities at $$ 5$ per set. with no surcharge. Although : bitter pill for holders of thes stamps, collectors will hail the news with delight.

We are indebted to E. R. Aldrich for some interesting photos. such as one of himself, one of Mrs. Aldrich, C. W. Kissinger and wife and $J$. H. Leippe on the Umbria; the courthouse, Benson.

The following firms are contemplating issuing private proprietary revenue stamps: Johnson & Johnson, Hostetter, Lanman & Kemp, Radway's Ready Kelief, Chas. H. Fletcher, Piso Co., Branca Bro's, and Warner's safe Cure.
--
Cuba is now the center of stampic attention. Several dealers have gone there in the interest of the trade. The new stamps will undoubtedly cause much speculation. So far we have heard of the following U. S. stamps being surcharged:

Several changes have been made in our literature the past month. The "Boston Stamp Buok," which did not cater to the average collector well enough to be a financial success, has been absorbed by the "Eastern." The "American Collector," "Columhian," "National" and "Kocky Mountain Stamp" have all been merged into the "Tri-Monthly Collector," by Publisher Dodge; the new magazine appears threc times a month, and ably represents the papers consolidated. The "Stamp Tribune," S. P. Lev, publisher, of Harriman, Tenn., is a new one, pleasing in appearance and contents. Other new ones have appeared of which we have not been favored with a cops, or do not at this time remember. The New Year's number of Mekecl's Weekly was a most magnificent one, and as it as well as the current number is offered free on another page, everyone should send for it. Canada should be proud of the Jan. number of the "Philatelic Advocate," consisting of sixty pages and cover, grood print, nicely bound and pleasing contents.

Owing to the revenue law requiring only the initials and year to be on the stamp, messenger boys in N. Y. City have been detected keeping the unused stamps given them by brokers to place on sales certificates and substituting for them stamps that have before been used. The unused stamps thus secured were then sold again to the brokers by the boys. The custom officials have now ordered that revenue stamps hereafter shall be cancelled with the month, day and year as well as the initials.
As mentioned last month our March edition is to be a big one to benefit our advertisers. At the request of many we will try to make it pay expenses at our usual rates, but require a most liberal patronage to do so. Never before could one place an ad in 5,000 copies at 50 c an inch, and every advertiser should be represented largely, and every collector not now a subscriber should encourage us by becoming one. As February has but 28 days, and the March number should be mailed as near the first as the enormous work contemplated will warrant, we ask for copy early and hope for not less than half a column in space from each.

NOTES FOR U. S. COLLECTORS. BY ERA.
In speaking of the I. R. surcharges last month, I quoted the figures given by the head of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, stating the number at 42,000,000 of the 1 c and $38,000,000$ of the 2 c , but the postal department places the number at 63,300,000 of the 1 c and $62,000,000$ of the 2 c values. This probably includes the lots surcharged after July 1, and also those overprinted at San Francisco.

*

Among the recommendations of Postmaster-General Smith to the present Congress was "that the use of postage stamps as currency be taken up and considered, with the view of effecting some legislation which, if it would not entirely do away with stamps as a medium of exchange, may at least curtail their use in this manner." While action will hardly be taken at this session, some such action will probably bring back postal notes in some form or an issue of fractional currency.

The prices paid for the printing of the periodical stamps under the various contracts, per thousand, was: under that ending Apr. 30, 1877, $$ 1.00$; then to June 30,1881 , 15.98 cents; then to June 30, 1885, 9.19 cents, and until the Bureau took the contract, 18 cents, while the last years 11.4 cents was paid.

With the exception of some few dealers who have picked up specimens on which they may not be able to realize their investment, everybody is satisfied with the decision of the department to sell the periodical stamps at $$ 5.00$ per set. It is not likely that any attempt will be made to classify the remainders into watermarked or unwatermarked sets, and the latter specimens will probaby never become very common.

Collectors of shades, especially those of the plate number variety, will find that the Bureau has given them several new color varieties to search for among the early 1899 issues. One shade approximates the dull red which the $U$. P. U. recommends, but I understand that the department will return to the old shade.

**

The first of the new envelopes reached me on Jan. 6th, it being mailed from Hope Valley, R. I., on the 3d. The first "Minnesota" used one came on the 26th. Is it to be inferred that eastern orders were first filled? This is about the sort of argument I have seen employed in a couple of cases recently.

**

Two types in the new 2c dies, one with 71 notches in the outer circle and one with 75. I have seen but a single specimen of the first, and it may prove to be of equal scarcity as the so-called rejected die of the green issue.

I have seen the 1c green on manilla with a watermark so indistinct that it might be offered to any except a specialist as on unwatermarked paper.

**

In response to my notice for oddities wanted, in a recent number of this paper, the average answer received offered war revenues cancelled on original cover, and about two out of three also showed postage due stamps or else where they had been.
\%ひ
Sales of documentary stamps were exceptionally heavy one day recently, in the Second Internal Revenue District of New York, indicating transactions of trusts running into the millions. 758 $$ 50$ stamps for one firm; $85 $ 10$; $201 $ 5 ; 182 $ 3$, and $1,875 $ 1$, or a total sale of revenue stamps for the day of $$ 63,197.97$.

A LITTLE PHILATELIC BIRD WHISPERS

That the "jig is up" with Williams & Co., and some collectors, dealers and publishers are wiser, sadder men in consequence.

That, for an island just rescued from the barbarous Turk, Crete is very up-to-date in its minor varieties of postal issues.

That the labors of Brodie's printer are not appreciated.

That Canada has opened a stamp shop in London "for the good of the cause."

That the plan to uniform Chicago's postal clerks has now been abandoned, and the clerks breathe again.

That "Stamps" of New York i, to make its appearance soon.

That the decrease in Central American issues is not likely to materialize, as the United States of Central America have agreed to disagree, and each is to paddle its own canoe hereafter.

That the American Review of Reviews has taken to illustrating new issues.

That the Imperial Peony Postage stamp is popular, in spite of its many shades and gumpapistical character.

That our Canadian cousins probably have had enough of new issues since the year of Jubilee to satisfy them all.

PHILATELY MIONTH BY MONTH.

Some Comments on Current Events, Articles and Opinions.

A QUESTION OF PHILATELIC ETHICS.
As was editorially announced in this magazine last month, our grood Uncle Samuel has decided to gladden the hearts of collectors by selling the remainder of the Periodical stamps, rendered useless by changes in the P. O. D.'s business methods, at the low price of $$ 5.00$ a set.

For some time previous to the announcement the philatelic press was full of surmises as to the ultimate fate of these handsome remainders. The columns of the "Philatelic Era" were especially distinguished by being the battleground of quite a warm discussion as to whether it would be right for the P. O. D. to sell the stamps at less than face.

The moral question raised is the one which will receive our attention here.

While the sale of remainders at less than face is nothing new to the philatelic world, this is the first time our government has gone in for that sort of thing, and a nice point in stamp ethics is brought to notice. Briefly, the question is, whether the sale of remainders for a nominal sum is right or not, from a collector's standpoint. This is, of course, a gencralization. Modifying conditions exist in the case of the Periodicals, owing to the nature of their use, being quite different from that of a postage stamp.

The writer contended in the January number of this journal that philatelic opinions have but little weight with governments, and Uncle Sam is not unlike his confreres in this respect, if the Washington correspondent of the "Era" is at all correct in his conclusions. "I think you will find that Uncle Sam will be glad to receive suggestions, and-then turn around and do as he likes." In this, he did receive a good many suggestions from collectors as to what he should do with his pretty labels, and, for once, he has done what most of them, apparently, desire.

If collecting were what it was twenty or thirty years ago, when the financial side was not a factor in the pursuit, such a move would have been a very welcome one, but in these end-of-the-century days, to use a Severaian phrase, when the hobby has, like our whole life, become complicated and diversified, the desirability of slaughtering remainders may be questioned.
"Ah! he is advocating speculation," the wise reader will say. Not at all; but I believe in facing conditions as they are. No one regrets the speculative tendencies of the day more than the writer. Nine out of every ten collectors are speculators, more or less, i.e.: they collect with the idea of future gain. Our writers are beginning to see that the ideal stamp collector, who is a collector pure and simple, will have to be relegated to the realms of philatelic fiction or Utopia, for all practical purposes, as on this earth he is a very limited quantity. I do not say that he does not exist; but, man being what he is, the class can never be numerous again. Even such an ardent philatelist as Mr. S. A. D. Cox tells us in a recent article in the "Tri-Monthly Collector" that there is no harm in the "gain feature of stamp collecting."

If we concede that value is a governing factor in stamp collecting, must we not agree with Mr. Rothfuchs in his deprecation of selling anything new below face? Does not the bottom fall out of the market when remainders are dumped on it at nominal prices?

The professional speculator deserves not any sympathy. If he gambles in postage stamps, instead of wheat, that is his affair. If he is caught with a quantity of a certain value on his hands, he has tried his luck and lost. That is all. But the effect on the general collector, if many remainders were put upon the market at low prices, would be deploratble (and if these remainders sell well, what may we not expect?) Stamps considered gilt-edged might become next to worthless, and a beautiful state of demoralization would result, most harmful to the hobby. No doubt many readers of the "E.S. P." will remember the excitement which was caused by the so-called Nova Scotia "find," in the latter part of 1896, and how some of the cent values of that British possession were affected. So the sale of remainders at such low figures seems to me not at all an unmixed olessing.

Of course, somewhat different conditions govern the Periodicals. They are not postage stamps, in the generally accepted sense of the word. Collectors were not supposed to have any means of getting them into their possession, although the decision of the celebrated Periodical Case removed the illegality of having them. 'That philatelists were getting hold of them continually is true enough, but the whole thing was irregular. Therefore. the sale of the Periodicals differs from that of postage stamp remainders, and the average collector who has avoided forbidden fruits will not lose by it. At the same time the example set is likely to be most pernicious in that it may result in others going and doing likewise. The frequent disposal of remainder at ruinous prices would be most harmful to philately.

Veritas.

MINOR VARIETIES.

hy JOHN PELTZ.
A great many collect blindly and often neglect to insert stamps in their albums that are really distinct varieties of postage stamps, not strictly speaking minor varieties and which they do not know exist, unless they are fortunate enough to possess a copy of Scott's catalog, or have a kindly fellow collector who is more advanced, help them to search out these varieties, rarities some of them, and might be traded off for other stamps worth perhaps one-fourth of what they gave in exchange. To such collectors this article is hoped to be of some benefit.

A great many beginnors may be glad to learn the difference between triangles I, II, III, of the U. S. 1894-95 2c carmine. Scott says: In triangle I the horizontal lines of the ground work run across the triangle and are of the same thickness within the triangle as without. "In triangle II the lines also cross the triangle, but are thinner within than without the triangle. In triangle III the lines do not zross the triangle but stop at the inner frame."

The following minor differences exist between the 1877, the 1883 and the 1884 issues of Norway: In the 1877 issue the posthorn is shaded, in the next issue it is unshaded, while in the 1894 issue the word "Norge" is printed in Roman instead of in Eggptian capitals.

The only difference between the 1882 and 1885 issues of Denmark is that in the ' 85 issue the figures in each corner are larger than in the preceding issue.

There are two varieties of the 1880 issue 1 pence lilac of Great Britain. In the first there are 14 dots in each angle or corner of the stamp while in the second there are 16 dots in each angle.

The 1878 and 1894 issues of Chili are nearly similar to each other, except that the ornaments at each side of the figure on the word "centavos" are cut away in the 1894 issue and the figures are wider and thinner in the last issue.

Then there are the stamps of Sweden. The 1885 and the 1891 10 ore are also very much alike. except for these differences: In the first stamp the dots in the circle surrounding the head are round, while in the second stamp the dots are nearly square. The words "Sverige" at top and "Ore" at bottom on each side are printed in much larger letters in the 1891 issue. The 1872-78 and 1886-91 issues are alike, except that in the 1886-91 the post horn is printed on the back of stamps, the other issue is minus the post horn.

There are otber varieties of which I may tell you something later on.

Stamps will never be cheaper than now and when Mr. Castle has paid 84,400 for a single stamp, Stanley Gibbons & Co. paying $$ 250,100$ for part of Ayer's collection, and similar transactions of like value occuring frequently, one should not hesitate to put a little spare change in such a good savings bank. We can recommend our advertisers and bespeak them a generous patronage this month.

Pooh! says young America. Canada's map of the world at 2c does not cut as much ice as one of Incle Sammy's battleships at y/b of a cent, or in other words the latter can knock the spots off of the former.
-०-
Of the low value Omahas the 5c seems to be the scarcest used while others claim the honor for the $4 c$ and still others for the $8 c$ and some for the 10 c . According to the number issued the 80 should be the one followed by the $10 \mathrm{c}, 4 \mathrm{c}$ and 5 c respectively. The high values are quite unobtainable used, also the $\$ 2.00$ value of the old set.

Our new envelopes, which have appeared in both the new and old watermarks, we think an improvement. The 1 c in green, and the 2 c in carmine. We presuma the $4 c$ and $5 c$ listed in the schedule will appear in the new type and conform in color to the adhesives of like value. So far we have seen the 2 c on white. blue and amber paper. Mr. Geo. Sheldon, of Rock Island, Ills., has discotered two dies of the 2 c value. One with 71 and $3^{\prime \prime}$ notches in outside and inside serrated lines and the other with 75 and 41 notches, the first being thought the scarcer.

Owing to the storms in the East we have been unable to get any copy from there for this our big edition in circulation. Consequently we have to close our forms even now a little late, and financially, to us, it will be a failure unless helped out generously with new subscriptions.

---

Four designs have so far been selected for Cuba's new stamps: le green statue of Columbus, 2c red statue of Cuba, 3e a merchant vessel and 5c blue an agricultural scene. A 10c value will also be used. In the meantime Cuba is using our stamps surcharged. It is claimed that our $1,2,5$ and 10 c values are to be surcharged for use in Porto Rico. Probably the lhilippines aud Hawaii will fall into line.

$\odot$

The Newspaper and Periodical stamps, last issue, are now for sale at the large offices at $\$ 5$ per set consisting of twelve denominations, i. e.: $1,2,5,10,25$ and iol cents and $2,5,10,20,50$ and 100 dollars. They can also be purchased of the Third Assistant $\mathrm{P}^{2}$ ostmaster ( seneral at $\mathrm{\$} \mathbf{5} .10$, this covers postage and registering. Not less than a full set will be sold and then only until the first of January if they last that long. The face value of the set is $\$ 187.93$, and they are on the watermarked paper.

-     -

The watermarks on our adhesive stamps has been made taller and the letters placed closer together, but we cannot say plainer. The $2 c$ is frequently seen in nearly a vermilion shade. A new set can now be commenced with the ic green, 2c salmon-vermillion (?), 5c blue, (ic magenta, 10 c brown and 15 c olive. The 2c blue playing card stamp is now watermarked.
---
Stamp collecting is "booming." Dealers claim they are kept busy filling orders, and our subscription books show a pleasing gann. Even The Dalles is coming to the front, five new subscriptions just in from there.

The S.F."Call" prints a sketch of a $55,000,000$ deed on which 50 s50 stamps were used. It also illustrates the siou stamp, and says $5.100050 c$ were used same day.

It is said that Hostetter $\& \mathcal{C} \%$. are using a private revenue stamp similar to the ones used years ago, of the value $21 / 2 \mathrm{c}$.

The only new paper we have received this month is the "Nebraska Philatelist" publisbed at Hastings, Neb.

The Evergreen-State Pbilatelist.  A Monthly Magazine for Stamp Collectors.

Vol. 11 -No. 4. HARTLAND, WASH., APRIL, 1899. Whole No. 62

CANADIAN CHAT.by JUllian.

Perhaps a few notes on stamps and philatelic doings among the collectors of the land of the maple leaves will be of interest to the readers of the Evergreen.

During the past 20 months there have been issued no less than 53 varieties of adhesive stamps, envelopes, letter cards, post cards and wrappers from Canada-truly a fitting array of new issues to mark the ascension of our worthy Bro. Mulock to the throne of Postmaster General of Canada.

The number of stamps referred to above includes the beautiful set of jubilee stamps to commerate the longest reign of any monarch of modern times-Queen Victoria. Following these came the now much sought for maple leaf issue which, unfortunately, was of short duration as the French speaking populace of the lower provinces were unable to decipher the values as expressed in English an entirely new issue with the values in figures was brought out.

The issuance of the supposed error 2c purple envelopes, the many new varieties of surcharged

2 on 3 c envelopes, and lastly the provisionals, viz: Splits in 2 and 3c stamps which have been indulged in and permitted by some postmasters, while awaiting a new supply of certain values from Ottawa, have created a tendency for many collectors to look upon the recent issues of Canada in a speculative light. But the fact remains that the jubilee, maple leaves and numeral issues are strictly legitimate.

In Scott's '88 catalogue the 1869-'92 3c rose No. 60 is priced at 15 c unused and 5 c used. In '98 supplement the same stamp is priced at 8 c unused and 1 c used. 'This was probably an error in pricing; but why? It can't be because the stamp is common, for I will venture to say that there are not 100 true color copies of this 3 c rose in the stock of the largest dealer in America.

Among a lot of 50,000 which I recently looked through for shades and paper varieties I found just 60 copies of the 3c rose. It is not my intention to call down wrath on our catalogue market, but I hope to prove in my future notes that the prices on our precious wee bits are in many cases underpriced, and this is a crying need for a priced catalogue that will reflect the net market value of every individual stamp, and not based on the stock of one individual firm or corporation.

A large lot of remainders of unused New Brunswick, comprising many thousand sheets of the $1,2,5,10,121 / 2$ and 17 c values have recently been discovered in N. B. postoffice I understand a syndicate of dealers bought the entire lot for a consideration of 30 c per set. This will probably enlighten many as to why a dealer can offer complete sets of the provinces catalogued at $$ 1.50$ for 50 c .

Speaking about the N. B. stamps back in the cighties a find like the one recently made was recorded and the 17 c value took a sudden drop. My first copy cost me f0c net and the 10c value was selling at that time, 1885 , for 60 c . Like the recent find of Nova Scotia remainders. large holders of these stamps suffered a severe loss; but it was a Godsend to we collectors, as the 8 c value in particular was priced out of reach.

The stamps of British Columbia and Vancouver Island are at present receiving very little attention from our philatelic scribes. Probably through lack of information regarding them, and other reasons, they refrain from mentioning them. I don't feel qualified enough myself to give many notes on these stamps. but will mention a few things I have noticed.

Probably the majority are not aware that the unused 2 c brown and 3 p blue offered on the market today are remainders. Such is the nature of them. The confederation of 1866 rendered them useless and an English dealer obtained the lot of the B. C. government. This is a very clever counterfeit of the $\$ 1$ green on the market. I was shown a copy recently, and the work is well executed; and would pass a casual observer; but fortunately it lacks in true color. Lightly cancelled, well centered, and true color copies of $\mathrm{B}, \mathrm{C}$. stamps are extremely scarce, and the collector who is fortunate enough to possess such can well be envied.

WHAT IO WR: RHAI.I,V WANT?
One of the philatelic reformer's pet victims has been the present status of stamp journalism. This was, of course, on a very low plane, to him, and, as your genuine reformer always has a remedy up his sleeve for every ill, suggestions were added by means of which philatelic literature could be elevated to those intellectual heights from which he looks down upon the rest of philatelic mankind. The stampic world, however, has been most ungrateful, not having evinced any fondness for literary mountain climbing, and as a result our literature remains in statu quo.

And it may be asked whether this is so very bad after all. Of course, there is always a lot of twaddle and nonsense in some of our papers, but the general tone, it seems to me, is getting decidedly better. Philatelic fiction seems to be agreeably scarce; poetry is in the same state, while those saddening jokes, which Noah might have heard, are as scarce as Spanish colonies.

Stamp politics and their attendant evils seem to be dead as a door nail, and the "songs of praise" are also not in continual evidence.

It must not be assumed from this that I believe that the highest and best forms of expression have been reached in the philatelic press. There is always room for improvement, and the higher our ideals, the higher we shall land.

Among the longer articles we find the essay more in evidence than the real article on stamps.

At present there seems to be a very marked tendency toward notes and short articles. Notes containing items of philatelic interest are perferable to a long disquisition about nothing in particular, but the weekly is their proper place. Something heavier should be furnished by the monthly.

A well known editor and publisher recently informed me that, while he does his best to get MSS. he cannot get as many "articles on stamps" as he wants. "The trouble seems to be that the earnest student of stamps either has not the ability to write his thoughts or lacks the disposition to do so." He added that a prominent advertiser told him that the lively, chatty paper was what interested collectors and that he (the advertiser) believed that collectors despised the schoolboy composition, as he termed the solid articles, and read only the chat and the ads.

There is no doubt but that the first assertion is true, but the latter is only partly correct, in my estimation.

What we need is discussions about stamps not so heavy as to overpower the unfortunate reader, and written in an easy style so as to cause collectors to be instructed without their being too much aware of the fact. Such articles, I am convinced, will be read, and are what every well-wisher of the hobby wants.

As I do not pose as a philatelic reformer, I don't call for volunteers, but simply offer this as the idea of a well wisher of philately.

Veritas.

The 1c wrapper with the new stamp is out on the usual paper, with both the ' 94 and ' 95 watermarks.

The plates from which the Omahas were printed have been destroyed, also the newspaper periodical plates.

It is said that the Mekeel Stamp & Publishing Co. is being recognized along the old lines. We trust that it is a fact, and wish them much well-deserved success. The Mekeel Co. have done much in past years for the benefit of our hobby.

In order to increase our list several hundred, for this month only 25 cents will pay for two copies of the Evergreen one year to two different addresses.

The supplement to Scott's catalogue illustrator and prices of the stamps issued during the past year, we can furnish ? copy at 10 cents, or with the Evergrep: one year for 25 cents.

We are afraid that the "Eastern" enjoys but a poor circulation. At least they do not exchange but semi-occasionally with the E. S. P., and we are afraid they do not print enough to go 'round.

Our new envelopes have been seen in the following varieties: 1c green on white, amber, buff, blue and manilla, the latter with both the '94 and '99 watermark. The $2 c$ red on white in both die $A$ and die $B$, and in die $B$, on amber, buff and blue paper. The 4 c brown on white and amber. and 5 c blue on white and amber. The $4 c$ and $5 c$ designs are rather disappointing. Of the new envelopes there are 59 varieties, not counting die $\mathbf{A}$ and old watermarks. It will be remembered that die A has only 71 notches in outside serrated edge, while die B has 75 .

A telegram from Washington dated the first informs us that 25,000 more sets of the newspaper and periodicals will be put on sale immediately.

Please do not ask to pay for ad space with cancelled stamps or other truck, for the quality of our paper as an advertising medium cannot be sacrificed by accepting such offers. If only a meager 1,500 or 2,000 copies were mailed expenses could probably be paid in that way. Our circulation is the largest of the monthlies, and equal to two of the majority, and it takes the coin to keep it so.

The sale of the newspaper and periodical stamps has caused much excitement and speculation. It is thought all but about 10,000 sets have already been sold. At nearly all the large cities where they were put on sale a scramble was made to obtain them, and undoubtedly much speculation is going on in the hopes of several times doubling the money invested. It is claimed that one firm in New York City purchased 1,000 sets. We cannot think such a transaction of any benefit to our hobby. We suppose the stamps are yet to be obtained in several cities, and also of the Third Assistant Postmaster General, and would not advise paying much over the $$ 5$ asked by the postoffice department for them.

--

The following firms have issued private proprietary stamps: Branca Bros., a 4c black; Centaur Co., (Chas. H. Fletcher) $1 / 4 / 4$ black; Hostetter Co., $2 \frac{1}{2}$ c; Marchand, of N. Y., has made application for seven denominations, same design, of portrait in center; Lanman and Kemp, 5/8c green, $11 / 4 \mathrm{c}$ brown and $1 / \mathrm{b} \mathrm{c}$ blue. The $11 / 4 \mathrm{c}$ brown will be the scarce one of the set; Piso Co., $3 / 8 \mathrm{c}$ blue; Kadway Co., 5/8c blue; Warner's Safe Cure, 33/8c, design of a negro and safe.

---

Now that stamp collecting s on the boom again and dealers are reaping a benefit, they should not forget the old standbys that grittily staid with the seemingly sinking ship; pluckily publishing right along with no fair recompense. Had it not been for these papers would our hobby be where it is today? There are many dealers who did their duty right along, advertising with about as much profit as the publishers got for their labor-but, there are others. Is it right to let several of these old standbys languish for want of patronage while some of the mushroom ventures are temporarily bolstered up only to die in the end?

NOT MINOR VARIETIES.
BY JOHN PELTZ.
The only difference between the 1867 issue of Austria and the Austrian Levant is, that in the former the value is expressed in kr. (kreuzer) while in the Levant's stamps the value is expressed in in sld. (soldi). The same is true of 1883 and 1885 issues respectively; moreover, in the Austrian stamps of this issue the words at top on left side of stamps "Kais. Kongl"are changed in the Levant stamps to "Imper. reg." and the words on right side "Oesterr. Post" are altered to "Posta Austr."

In the 1869 issue of Ecuador there are only nine stars below design in middle of stamp, while in the 1871 issue there are eleven stars, one added at each side of design. The same difference exists between the 1887 and the 1890-93 issues of this country. Also the 1887 and 1890 issues of envelope stamps.

In the 1881200 r of Brazil the bust at front of figure-head is rounded, while in the 1882 200r the bust has a sbarp edge.

The chief difference between the 1879 and the 1881 issues of Bulgaria is that in the former the currency is expressed in cahtums or (Centimes) and in the latter ctotnkkn or (Stotinki).

The 1865 issues of the Cape of Good Hope has a narrow outer frame, while the 1871 has not.

OLD ISSUES.

By I,EOON V. CASS,
There are many who collect old issues exclusively, claiming the host of jubilee issues, surcharges, etc., etc., which have appeared in the last eight or ten years, are harmful to philately. Now, this may all be, but new issues are all right in their place, and new collectors are added to our ranks just because of the beauty of the jubilee emissions. How many would remain in our ranks if no new stamps were issued? Few would be able to hold their interest in philately.

Hundreds have mouey invested in stamps besides those in their collections, and such will give big interest, providing the right kind of stamps are invested in. Stamps are used much more today than they were thirty or forty years ago and many more are saved, both by dealers and collectors. It is therefore not strange that current and recent issues are not as good an investment as the old timers. Thousands of old stamps were destroyed where thousands are saved today.

If you have money to invest in stamps, take the advice of the writer and invest in old issues which are catalogued between ten cents and five dollars each. There is much to be thought of, however, before it is safe to put your money in stamps. For example, look at the recent dumping of Peruvian remainders on the market. How would you like to have had your money invested in Peruvians? There are few small irresponsible countries which are able to withstand the temptation to fill their depleted coffers by dumping remainders of old issues onto the market. It is advisable to make sure such will not be your experience.

Old Hawaiians would in my opinion prove a paying investment, as would also the stamps of old European states or provinces which have been swallowed up by their neighbors. Take for example, Poland, Schleswig-Holstein, etc. Use judgment and discretion and you cannot help but make money.

Never put all your money in one stamp or the stamps of one country; buy a few of the stamps of half a dozen or more countries and then if anything happens that the stamps of one country fail to increase in value you are not entirely undone.

NOTES ON STAMPS.

hy John peltz.
Several weeks ago I received from one of my friends in New York a specimen of the United States 4 c red-brown stamp on laid paper..

The 189020 c on 30 c green of Hong Kong is found in yellowgreen, and is so distinct from the other color (green) that it deserves a place in the catalogue.

I have seen the following United States stamps with pen cancellation: 1c blue ( 1894 ), 1c green (1898), 2c rose ( 1898 ), 4c brown (1894), 10c green (1894). The question is: Have these a right to be catalogued in company with foreign pen-cancelled stamps?

I have in my possession a specimen of the 18902 c red, capped in a similar way as the $1 / 2 \mathrm{c}$ gray-ish-black United States Documentary Revenue, 1898 issue, as described in a recent number of the E. S. P.

I have seen a specimen of the 1872-78 12c blue of Sweden which had an extra numeral " 1 " inside the other numeral. 'This extra figure is in blue color and just half as wide as the old numeral.

I do not think many years will have passed by before the Scott Stamp and Coin Co., or some other reliable stamp firm, will issue an extra catalogue, listing and pricing stamps on the original cover, as a great many philatelists are making this a new and interesting branch of our beloved hobby, or science, called Philately. Long may it live and prosper!

There are three distinct shades of the United States 18985 c ; the first one is dark blue, the second light blue, and the third is ultramarine.

There were $2,772,580$ more of the $5 c$ than of the $4 c$ Omahas printed, and yet the prices paid for the 5 c , used, has always been more than for the $4 c$, of which there was a smaller quantity printed! But perhaps there were less 5 -centers than 4 -centers used.

I made mention in last issue of E. S. P. of finding the current ic green U. S. with dots beside the numerals, and quite recently while looking over a package of United States stamps I found a specimen of the 2c Omaha and an 8 c puce 1895 issue, both of which stamps had the same dots or periods beside the numerals.

It always pays to exchange with foreign collectors. Last year I sent a lot of U. S. stamps, cat. 1c to 5 c to a Canadian collector and I had to wait six months until he sent the exchange in Canadian stamps, none of which catalogued over 2c (to my disgust and chagrin). However, I got even when on examining the stamps more closely and removing the cover on back of them I found a copy of the 1888 red ribbed paper. which he had evidently passed by unnoticed.

A LITTLE PHILATELIC BIRD WHISPERS

That some bogus stamps have appeared from the vicinity of the Congo Firee State.

That the philatelic world is roaring with laughter about the outcome of Bach's great British Guiana find.

That Beardsley's International, the paper with the big circulation, has gone the way of all stamp papers.

That a new theory has recently been evolved regarding reprints which practically places them on the same level as originals.

That the name of P. Elbert Nostrand is scheduled as that of one of the great benefactors of Philately.

That if Missouriensis is right, every philatelist must be an expansionist as a matter of course.

That Mr. Dooley is getting to be quite a philatelic character.

That some of the volunteers now in the Philippines will bring some peculiar stamps(?) with them.

That the prices for the made-to-order Periodicals are already falling in the East.

That a good many stamp men are learning to stuff birds and be wiser men at the same time.

That Brooklyn's efforts to scientificify Philately are apparently very successful.

That Great Barrier Island is a new one Philatelically. н.м.

CHECK STAMPS.
BY FRED H. ANDRUS.
Mr. Schoch wishes to know"how many different kinds of stamps were impressed in yellow on checks, etc., prior to 1883." I have the first one he described, dated 1876, also the commonest "diamond-shaped," one of which is dated 1877. In addition, I have three others, as follows:

First is an eagle with wings raised, side view, inclosed in a circle around which is "United States Internal Revenue. Two Cents," the whole being 28 mm . in diameter. Above and below are circles 6 mm . in diameter, containing a figure 2 . All this surrounded by ornamental work. Dated 1871-2.

Second, in vermillion; extreme measurements 40 by 111 mm . The central part is a profile of Washington in an oval. Below is a small shicld and at each end a figure 2 in a circle 6 mm . in diameter. The balance of the desigu is ornamentation and the usual inscriptions. Dated 1872-3.

Third has a potrait of Franklin in oval, surrounded by a band containing the words "United States Internal Revenue." Above and below this are small circles in each of which is a figure 2. At eitber side is a circle of ornamental work 18 mm . in diameter, at the outside of which is "Two Cents." The design measures 44 by 79 mm . Dated 1872-5.

Merchand's preparations are using six private proprietary stamps of the values $5 / 8,1 / / 4,1 / 6$, $21 / 2,31 / 8$ and $71 / 2$ c. Radway \& Co., have put out a neat $5 / 8 \mathrm{c}$ in dark blue, while the Johnson \& Johnson $\bar{y}$ éc is in vermillion.

From a clipping sent us by Mr. Wm. B. Hale of Williamsville, Mass., we learn of an exhibition, banquet and auction held by the Worcester Philatelic Association. It was attended by about two hundred people and was a success in every way.

Bartels' new envelope catalog is far superior to the last edition, having cuts of knives, shapes and watermarks of the various envelopes, listing plainly and pricing all issues to date, and including postal cards. It is a valuable work and sold at fifty cents by J. M. Bartels Co., 725 Eleventh St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

Porto Rico is now using our $1 \mathrm{c}, 2 \mathrm{c}, \mathrm{ic}$ and 10 c values, surcharged obliquely across the stamp near the bottom and is more artistic than that of Cuba. It is reported that an 8 c value will also be used; as well as duc stamps. The Philippines are to have the same values prepared for their use, with the addition of a 3 c denomination.

The following twenty Pacific Northwest sconic celebrities havi been used in our cover illustrations: Rooster Rock, Cape Horn. Mt. Hood, Along the Columbia. Pillars of Hercules, Mt. Ragier. Bridal Veil Falls, Multnomah Falls, Suoqualmie Falls, Castle Rock, Fish Wheel, Cascade Locks.

Down the Columbia, Horsetail Falls, Twin Fish Wheels, Willamette Falls, Cascades of Columbia, The Dalles Columbia and Mt. Adams, Silver Creek Falls, Cleopatra's Needles. The magazine containing any one can be furnished at 10 cents; three different ones for 25 cents, or seven for half a dollar.

The selling of the Periodical stamps has become rather quict, although the government will doubtlessly dispose of all of them in the time specified they will be on sale. It is a desirable set to have and everyone should secure it, but we would not advise paying over the 55 asked by the government for them. By waiting the set can undoubtediy be purchased below that price.

--

Several additions and changes have been made in our literature the past month. "The Stamp Exchange," a new one from Boston, is the best initial number for the avcrage collector that has appeared in years. The new weekly from Canada is striving hard to please and should meet with success. "Stamp Talks" has purchased the "International," and the "Perforator" will be published by Mr. Kissenger alone in the future. H. A. Chapman, who started it and has identified himself with it to the present time, we learn has resigned as a contributor; and last and least. John C. Brassington, who makes a practice of contracting advertising bills he fully intends never to pay, has put out the "Michigan," which he claims is a continuation of the one discontinued so long ago.
Cuba is using our last issue special delivery, surcharged in red "Cuba, '「en Centavos de Pesos," and will have a design gotten up for its exclusive use later on. The old 2 c green envelope has been surcharged for Cuba's use while the new envelope designs are being prepared. They will contain the head of Columbus, same as on the Columbian half dollar, in both two and five centavos, size 5 , in regulation colors. One cent de pesos wrapper, stamp in green, of the same design as the envelopes, will also be used.

--

We are not so sure that honesty is always the best policy. Recently laarning of a desirable lot of old $185^{5} 5$ and a few late issues of Periodicals, but unwatermarked, at a small oftice where we could have probably secured them at face value, with possibly no after fuss, we were honest enough to write on to the Department, giving the amount and values of the stamps on hand, and asking to be allowed to purchase them at the same pro rata the set is now selling for. The reply from the Department had to advise me that the postmaster nor the Department could sell the stamps at any price, but that they had to be returned at once for credit. The postmaster was ordered in a similar letter to forward the stamps immediately.

--

Speaking of the total number of collectors likely to purchase Periodical sets: during the lifetime of the Evergreen many boom editions of five and six thousand copies have been mailed and during the flourishing days of national societies not over 3000 different addresses could be secured from the newspaper lists. A specialty has always been made of our sample copy list, securing all the names possibly obtainable from dealers, directories and every juvenile as well as other publications, and although names are discarded after six months unless the address is proven to have not been changed, it is extremely hard to keep a list up to 10,000 . We doubt if there are 15,000 Active collectors speaking the English language known to the fraternity, and how many outside of this number will purchase a set of Periodicals at five dollars, although some will purchase several? But in the end, where is the demand for 50,000 sets coming from? It has been asserted that more than that number have been put on sale.

HHILATEL.Y MONTH BY MONTH.

Some Comments on Current Events, Articles and Opiniens.

THE NEW KEPRINT THEORY.

While the year is still too young to venture to say what the most important philatelic event of 1899 will be, there is no doubt that the sale of the U. S. Periodical remainders has been of the greatest importance.

The ethical points involved in the disposal of these stamps for the nominal price of 55 a set were discussed in this department sevrral months ago. Since the stamps (?) have been placed on sale a new feature has developed. I refer to the fact that a very considerable portion of the issue were reprints, specially printed for the occasion. While a few papers are plainly outspoken against the issue and their collection, the majority seem to think that anything which Uncle Sam may supply "goes." The distinction between originals and reprints, formerly so sharply drawn, seems to be growing weak, and in some quarters appears to be in danger of entire effacement. While it is all very well to be patriotic, I think we should not allow ourselves to lose sight of the fact that there is still a difference between reprints and originals, no matter by whom the former are printed.

A reprint has always been understood to be "a reproduction from an original die, after the stamps for which the die had been prepared has been put out of use." Now comes Mr. Bartels with this novel statement, "The question whether the Government had sufficient specimens of all, denominations on hand to make up the required number of sets, or whether a few of the plates had to go to press again in order to make up the deficiency, seems to be agitating the minds of some. This should be a matter of little importance. The fact that one printing was made a few months later han another, should make no difference to any ordinary collector of stamps."

And the "Father of Philately" bolsters him up as follows: "The current 2 c stamp is reprinted daily, and yet the sapient ones would have us believe that a certain stamp printed from a new plate at a different time, in a new shade, is not a reprint, while another stamp printed from the [Courlutled on page 106.]

As was announced last year, when the subscription price was reduced to twenty cents, this magazine will not be published during the months of July and August. Experience has proven the plan a wise one. The publication takes up our whole time, not only giving us no recreation. but being the dull months philattelically the margin of profit is insufficient to justify the effort. Did we only issue a paltry thousand, or a few hundred more, we might print them easily enough. Copy for September should reach here by August 20th. By that time the publishing fever will be with us so radically that the E. S. P. will be better and more interesting than our energy has enabled us to put out the past few months.

Part 2 of Stanley (iibons' catalog of stamps of countries foreign to England, reached us just too late for review last month. It is similar to preceding works, but slightly smaller, prices revised, and of value to the young collectors in the U. S. especially for the illustrations of United States issues. It can be secured of the publishers, 341, Strand, London, England, post paid, for 56 cents. -®-
Since the European dealers have learned that the Newspaper and Periodical stamps were reprinted so largely, and that but few of the originals were really included, they are offering to refund the money they received on sets sold. We consider this set of stamps fully worth the $$ 5$ to any collection, but think eventually it may be purchased from the disgusted speculators at nearly half that price. It is just as well to wait awhile before purchasing the set.

New 4c U. S. envelopes are being prepared. They will conform in color to the 4 c adhesive now in use.

--

The experienced buyer will now take advantage of the low prices quoted. After the fall season opens, advances sll along the line may be looked for. --
To all subscribing this month and inclosing two cents extra, we will mail post paid either Scott's supplement to the 58 th catalog or a packet of stamp hinges.

- -

This issue completes volume eleven. The previous twentytwo numbers containing different scenic gems can be supplied at ten cents a copy, or three for twenty-five cents.

-0-

Several varieties exist in both the die and watermark used on our current envelopes of the 10 and 2 c values. It would be well to carefully examine each specimen falling into your possession before deciding it a common one. --
Since our last issue the (Government has had surcharged for use in Guam, the largest of the Lat drone Islands, 10,000 of our 1 c , 30,000 of the 2 c and 5000 of the 5 c denominations. It seems to us that this issue was as badly needed as the fifth wheel of a coach. We evidently have at the head of our postal affairs, one who intends to have no deficit to report in the postoffice department this year.

A LITTLE PHILATELIC BIRD WHISPERS

That Uncle Sam will doubtless make quite a little on the side from the philatelic fraternity on his colonial issues.

That in Chile a change in postage stamps is in prospect.

That some crudc surcharges have emanated from Persia.

That the Nicaraguan revolution is responsible for a delectable provisional from Bluefields.

That a bogus Haytian series is on the market.

That philately's Conan Doyle warns collectors to be wary when buying "ungrilled" 1869 .

That Guatemala is still surcharging.

That the demand for "Guam" among American collectors, will be larger than supply forwarded.

That the rage for the government's bargain counter sale Periodical reprints did not strike the Hub of the Universe.

That Leon V. Cass believes in speculation by collectors.

That the "scrappiness" of certain English papers makes Capt. Chapman tired.
H. M. same plate is a＇reprint＇．＂
With all due respect to these gentlemen，how can we consider it＂a matter of little importance＂ whether these stamps were print－ ed specially for sale to collectors， and how are we to change our delinition of a reprint to fit Mr． Scott＇s＂current 2c which is re－ printed daily？＂If we should adopt the new view，would we not make absolutely no distinc－ tion whatever between an origi－ nal printed twenty－five years ago and an impression made from the obsolete die today：While pecu－ liar conditions govern the issuc of these Periodicals to the public， think what a vista of possibilities opens up at the idea of this change in the definition of a re－ print．

PHILATELY MONTH BY MONTH.

Some Comments on Current Events, Articles and Opintons.

THE BURSTINGOF THE GREATHARRIER ISLAND HUHBI,E.
The philatelic world bas been hearing a good deal during the last few months about the 1 shilling stamp of Great Barrier Island; quite picturesque accounts of the pigeon post have appeared; the stamp has been advertised far and wide, and it is to be presumed that it has been bought by various unsuspecting stamp men.

It has been generally accepted as a legitimate issue and apparently it has found favor in the eyes of the stamp collectors of this gumpapistical decade. But one voice was raised against it, that of that redoubtable veteran of many a philatelic literary battlefield, Boston's celebrated "S. E. L." In his usual outspoken manner he objected to the way in which this stamp, purely a local at best, was sailing under false colors, philatelists being given the impression that it was an out-and-out postage stamp. He got a good many hits in consequence, but, as was to be expected, he stuck to his guns, and now, behold-his condemuation of this label turns out to have been mild, in the light of recent developments.

The midsummer dullness is broken by the news from English sources that an official at Wellington, N. Z., who certainly ought to know what he is talking about, "is unable to ascertain that it has ever been used for franking letters carried by private ships or pigeons between Great Barrier Island and the mainland. The carrying of letters or the use of stamps, without the authority of the government, would render the offender liable to punishment under the Post Office Acts."

And the cancelled specimens are fioating around in this country by the hundreds. Shades of the Sedangs ! but the philatelic public likes to be taken in. What next?
THF: GUMPAPPING; OF THE CUBAN POST TAL OFFICIALS.
The belligerent correspondent of the Philatelic Era at the Hub of the Universe is not the only one who has been under fire lately on account of his assertions. Mr. J. M. Bartels, philatelic adviser of the Post Office Department at Washington, and incidentally purveyor of the latest news from the capital for the readers of Father Scott's Metropolitan, has caused several protests to appear in that paper as a result of some of his statements.

His doubts about the authenticity of the 1 c provisional postal card of Porto Rico caused quite a hubbub, although it was comparatively insignificant. The varieties in the surcharged Cuban envelopes in divers colors and sizes were the cause of the most serious disturbances in the usually sedate pages of the New York weekly.

The Washington authorities knew nothing about the varieties that kept bobbing up serenely, so Mr. Bartels expressed the opinion that it was more than probable that these surcharged envelopes never saw Cuba, but were simply fakes. This has brourht Mr. Fred S. Smith to the fore in a communication which would be designated as a "stem-winder" in the Northwest.

The Metropolitan's correspondent now gives the information that the officials in Havana have gone into the gumpapping business with a vengeance. Instead of using the new Columbus envelopes, especially made for Cuba Libre(?), they continue to dole out the surcharged U. S. on the plea that they are holding the new envelopes back until the adhesives arrive. The worst of it is that the Havaua people are ordering direct from the Hartford contractors and are getting as many different kinds as possible, without letting the authorities at Washington know anything about it. Possibly they are afraid that the Post Office Department would sit down on their little plan, although the recent Newspaper Picture Card affair ought to make them know better.

However that may be, the outcome of their diligence is sixteen varieties, a truly creditable exhibit! The greater portion of these are made solely for the stamp fiend. Will he bite? Of course he will. He almost always does and, if Uncle Sam's servants hold the bait, he will tumble over himself to get at it. And still we resent it when Philistines laugh at the stamp collectors!

Veritas.

Not Minor Varieties.

Very few beginners, outside of those who possess a copy of Scott's catalogue, know that Belgium has never issued a postage stamp below the face value of 5 centimes. All these stamps. from 1 to 8 cestimes values, of same design, are newspaper stamps. But do you know that on several of the 1 c and 5 c stamps errors exist in printing? The 1 green of the 1869-70 issue has Belgique spelled "Belgigue":
the 1 c olive of the $1884-91$ issue has Belgique misprinted "Belgigue" and "Belgioue." On the lc gray of this issue there are three errors; the word centimes whith is misspelled "Centinef," the word Belgique is spelled "Belgigue" and "Delgique." The 5c green of the 1884-91 issue has Belgique converted into "Beigique." It will certainly repay a beginner the trouble to search through his duplicates for any of these error stamps as described above.

Now we will take up the Columbian Republic and its many separate states stamps. In the 1881-2 issue of Columbian Kepublic, two type exist of the lower values from 1 c to 5 c . In first type the letters composing the words "Union Postal Universal," etc., are thicker and the figures of value in corners of each stamp are sideways. In second type the words "Union Postal Universal," etc., are in their capitals, and the numericals of value in corners of stamps are straight. In the 1883 1c stamp there are nine stars above eagle's head; these are omitted in the 1886 1c stamp. Also, the words in the 1883 1c "Correos Nacionales de Los EE UU' de Colombia" are altered in 1886 1c to "Correos de La Republica de Colombia."

In the 1887 20c stamp the shell shaped ornaments in each angle or corner of stamps are violet-lilac colored, while in the 1889 20 c stamp they are white. There is also an extra " 20 " on each side of stamp inside frame containing the words " Republica de Colombia," etc., which numerals are lacking in the 1887 20c stamp.

Antioquia - There are two types of the 18695 c stamp of this state; the first has a narrow frame around the design of stamp, the second type has no frame around design. This is the chief difference.

Panama--'The 1887-8 issue of "map" stamp have the space around the sheet of water, in middle, white; there is no square around the numerals; the stamps are printed in black on colored paper. In the 1892-4 issue the space around land is yellowcolored; the numerals are in a small square, also smaller than 1887-8 type and, above all, the paper is not colored. as is the case in the precrding issue.
Santander-The chief difference between the 1884 lc and the 1887 1 c stamps are the words, which at top of the 1884 1c read: "Estados Unidos de Colombia," are altered, in 1887 type, to " Republica de Colombia."

In an assortment of foreign stamps I noticed a specimen of the 1865-7 20 c on 15 c blue of Italy which had a badly broken letter "C" in upper left hand corner.

Scott＇s new catalog will be ready for mailing in November and will show many changes in the prices quoted．

As has been our custom for the past six years，a copy of Scott＇s new catalogue and a year＇s sub－ scription to the Evergreen are offered for sixty cents．If al－ ready a subscriber and you desire the book as soon as out，your time can be extended one year． A money order is preferred on The Dalles，Oregon．

The Canadian $2 c$ numeral in red is out．The old $3 c$ red in both the numeral and maple leaf has been surcharged 2 c ，there be－ ing quite a demand for the latter．

A new money order has been put in use by the postoffice de－ partment．The new form is somewhat smaller than the old， about the size of an ordinary bank check，and is watermarked U．S．M．O．

In placing ad contracts for the coming season dealers should consider that the Evergreen covers a big field exclusively its own and not fully reached by all the other papers combined；that its circulation both paid subscrip－ tion list and otherwise，is the largest among the monthlies， and its advertising rates the lowest that can be made，these things taken into consideration．

Several changes have occurred in our literature the past month． The＂Virginia＂has come out with a new cover design for vol－ ume three．The＂Illinois Pbil－ atelist＂is a new one of interest published by S．E．Moisant of Kankakee．＂Stamp Talk＂has been discontinued，and one or two others will be，among which may be mentioned the＂Tri－Monthly Collector．＂The R．W．Tucker Co．，has made an assignment which may affect the＂Stamp Exchange．＂

Two months＇subscription is offered for every twenty－five cent purchase made from any of our advertisers．If already a sub－ scriber，have your time extended or send the paper to a friend． Inclose a postal for the dealer to send us，and inform him of the months you desire credited to you．

山山心

The Evergreen was not pub－ lished during July，August and September．Our vacation last－ ing longer than was intended would have caused this number to be rather late for September so it was thought better to date it October and be mailed on time． Dealers lose nothing，as ads sel－ dom pay during those months and our subscribers are entered on the books by the total number of the magazine they subscribe for and not the month，and will receive the full number of copies entitled to．Even now we have not fully our grip on affairs and this issue is somewhat hastily gotten up，but improvements are promised for the future．

The Bohemlan Stamp Club.
Anyone who was at all familiar with philatelic Bohemianism could at once tell that something very important was about to happen.

Not a sound was heard. The Kicker was silently picking his teeth with a pair of stamp tongs. In a corner sat the Optimist quietly gloating over an account of the Section of Philately in the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. The Pessimist was mournfully trying to separate from the lining of his hip pocket a set of "map" stamps, which had been lying there in a state of incubation. Beside him sat the Cheerful Idiot intently regarding a one-cent newspaper stamp and trying to imagine that it was the whole set. All the rest sat in idle expectancy.

Suddenly the President snapped his watch shut and rose to his feet.
"Fellow philatelists," he began gravely, "you have now had fifteen minutes to decide on this momentous question. Will we, or will we not admit ladies to the Bohemian Stamp Club? Will some one kindly make a motion?"
"I take very great pleasure," growled the Kicker, "in moving that we most emphatically do not admit females of any age or condition whatever."
"Has anyone an amendment?" asked the President.
"Yes!" exclaimed the Cheerful Idiot. "I take still greater pleasure in moving an amendment that every stamp-collecting maiden in town be admitted free. gratis and for nothing."

Then he broke into a broad grin punctuated here and there with an audible snicker as he gazed triumphantly at the Kicker.

The Kicker turned the color of a two-cent Omaha.
"Mr. President," he said, "such idiotic proceedings should not be allowed in our club. I would like to know," he added sarcastically, "what the Cheerful Idiot found so amusing as to make himself into a grinning heathen out of an Obock stamp."
"Oh, nothing much," replied the Cheerful Idiot, resuming his chair.
"Nothing much !" retorted the Kicker, "I should say it wasn"t much. It doesn't take much to amuse a brain that can be measured with a millimetre scale. I will wager it was some insignificant thing at which even a child would not have smiled. Now, sir, expose the childishness of your brain. I demand to know at what trifling thing you grinned so diabolically."
"Well, if you must have it," answered the Cheerful Idiot, "I smiled at you."
" Now," resumed the President after order had been restored,
"all those in favor of admitting ladies hold up their hands."

There was a moment's pause.
The President rose, "carried by a majority of $15-1$," he said.
"Hurrah!" yelled the Optimist.
"For they are jolly good fellows," sang the Cheerful Idiot.

And the Kicker gazed dismally at a set of Spain's mourning. stamps and wondered how much a private set would cost.

Canada Minors.

Taking a sheet of Canadian $2 c$ on 3 c maple leafs, at first sight one would think that in such a fine picce of work no minor varieties would appear, excepting those in lettering, as follows: light, 23; heavy, 23; medium, 54. On examining by glass we find lesser minor varieties, viz:

S and T joined 11
Foot of 2 leaning to left Same, with $S$ and $T$ joined Foot of 2 rounded
" " cut straight
" " cut diagonal
Small N
Total 100
There were about two and a quarter millions of these stamps issued, fully 200,000 of which will be retained unused. Of the remainder fully three-quarters of them will be wanted by non-collectors, leaving a balance of 510 ,000 in the hands of dealers and collectors. Dividing these into at least two varieties (to say nothing of shades, plate numbers and paper), one will see that there is another good thing in surcharged maple leafs.

Thomas.

Mr. J. R. Hooper, the well and favorably known philatelist, who nearly seven years ago was unjustly sentenced twenty-five rears in the penitentiary in Canada, has had his sentence reduced to seven years through the influence of the judge who committed him. The judge has repented of his hard sentence and personally interviewed the Minister of Justice, and the result is that Mr. Hooper will be released in October. Mr. Hooper, however, will not rest until he is successful in his endeavors to obtain a complete vindication of all guilt. The above will be welcome news for all philatelists. Mr. Hooper has probably done more for philately than any other one person in Canada. Many philatelists will doubtless remember his ably written notes and articles under the nom-deplume of "Canadensis."

Managers of the Pan-American Exposition, to be held in Buffalo in 1901, have been trying their best to induce the government to issue a special series of stamps, but a cool reception is all they have received so far and all they are likely to get.

SIX MILLION LETTERS ASTRAY.

Why the Yearly Work of the Dead-Letter O1Hce is Something Enormous.
" It is estimated that during the last year $6,000,400,00 \%$ pieces of mail matter, including all classes, were posted in the United States," writes Patti Lyle Collins in "Ladies' Home Journal" for September. "Of this number, $6,312,731$ were sent to the deadletter office, making an average receipt of about 21,1001 letters and parcels for each working day. During this period more than 85 , (M1/f) pieces were dispatched either with insufficient postage or none at all, 32,000 bore no address whatever, 34,000 were misdirected, 200,000 were unclaimed at hotels, and something wore than the last number were sent to fictitious addresses. And to these figures must be added $2,973,387$ letters and circulars without inclosures of obvious value which could not be returned to the senders and were destroyed. More than 50,000 letters contained money amounting to $$ 38,595$, while $32,42.2$ included drafts, money orders, etc., to the value of $$ 94,000$, to say nothing of 30,000 with photographs."

PHILATELY MONTH BY MONTH.

Some Comments on Current Events, Articles

 and Opinions.ACT II OF THF GREAT BARRIER ISLAND DRAMA.
When the writer made a few remarks in the last number of the E. S. P. about the character of the stamp issued for use by the pigeon post of Great Barrier Island, he thought that the subject would not be touched upon again in these columns, but since the appearance of the October issue the "affair Grande Barriere" has assumed such importance and such unexpected side issues have turned up in connection with it that he feels that it is but right that a synopsis of Act. II of the Great Barrier Island Drama with its various scenes should be given here.

The stamp having been placed on the philatelic market by a well known English firm, it was to be expected as a matter of course, that they would take up the cudgels in the defense of its character. The assertion of an official at Wellington, N. Z., copied in last month's E. S. P., that be was unable to ascertain that it had ever been used for franking letters carried by private ships or pigeons between Great Barrier Island and the mainland is met by raising the point that he had been equally unable to ascertain that it had not been so used; furthermore, correspondence brought out the fact that the P. O. Department of New Zealand considered the so-called Pigeon Post between the mainland and the great Barrier Island purely a private speculation with which the Department was in no way concerned; that the owner of the post "has for some time past been a breeder of and dealer in homing pigeons, and . . . . has instituted and maintained a system of communication known as 'The Original Great Barrier Pigeongram Service' with the Island, . . . . by means of homing pigeons dispatched at intervals from the said Island to Auckland for the convenience of merchants and the public generally," and that adhesive stamps have been issued and "are actually in use at the present time in connection with said system."

These statements would lead one to think that this issue is a local one, pure and simple, but later developement seem to throw a good deal of doubt on that belief.

There is some talk of the post being surpressed, owing to its not being looked upon with favor by the New Zealand postal authorities, and the surcharged "Pigeongram" has been inflicted on the issue because the Wellington officials objected to the words "Special Post."

The well known house of Stanley Gibbons, L'd. concludes quite a lengthy dissertation on this emission in their monthly journal with the statement, "All, however, goes to prove that the Pigeon Post and its stamps have a genuint even if illegal existence." This asseveration caused the belligerent "S. E. L." to don his war paint again and he takes the following shot, which, it seems to me, is rather well put:
"If a stamp has an illegal existence, how can it rank with other private locals? According to this theory, any stamp dealer in this country can issue a private local. We will suppose that it pays the fee for transporting a letter from Portland to one of the out-of-the-way islands of Casco Bay. After performing this duty for a short time, it would be stopped by the U. S. Government, and the proprictor subject to a fine. These stamps would have a genuine even if illegal existence, and have a claim to rank with other private locals."

So much for the "one and only Pigeon Post." Now for a little ramifaction. The greater portion of the cancelled stamps which have been advertised so thoroughly in this country, and which have doubtless found their way into many collections, are pronounced counterfeits by the English promoters. Quite alittle sensation in itself!

Scene III. We are iuformed that the pigcon post and "Special Post" stamps is not the proper thing at all, that the "Great Barrier Pigeongram Agency" is the genuine article, which has been compelled in self defense (?) to issue two triangular shaped stamps 6 p , blue and 1 s red, the blue for taking pigeongrams to Auckland and the red for the return. (It scems this post carries lettors both ways, which the so-called "(Original Special Post" did not undertake to do. An improvement, at any rate.) The first post which was responsible for the 1 s blue stamp is denounced in unqualified terms. "A stamp" is being sold purporting to be used for this service, but the fact that unused specimens cannot be bought in the place where they are supposed to be used speaks for itself; you can buy them cancelled at face value. Parties who issued the Barrier stamp couk not send a message to or from thin island at any price by pigeon.

So there you are! You payyour money, and takes your choice.

Veritas.

North American New Issues.

HY PAUL CIINE.
For the last two years the greater part of North America has been almost constantly engaged in issuing stamps. In fact they have iss:ed so many as to become very unpopular in the eyes of most all stamp collectors.

Of the North American countries, Canada has certainly had her share of new issues. At the first there came the Jubilees, which when first issued were very popular and brought agood price. But they have been steadily decreasing in value until the $1 / 2 \mathrm{c}$ and 68 are the only ones which bring a premium worth mention.

Next we have the Maple Leaf issue. Any values of these over 3c are grood property and bid fair to become rather scarce.

Then zame the lower values of the numeral issue. 'These have been issued one value at a time since before the holidays, and the entire set is not out yet. After the first two or three values of these had been issued, came the Xmats stamps with their much ridiculed inscription of "We hold a vaster empire than has been." These can be found in a number of shades.

Within the last few months Canada has issued her first special delivery stamp and has also made her first break at surcharging; the three cent stamped envelopes having been surcharged two cents.
Cuba has had several new issues during the war with Spain. Her first was the regular baby head issue surcharged Habilitado. The U.S. has also surcharged some of our own stamps and stamped envelopes for use in Cuba. This country has lately issued a set with special de-signs-for Cuba. These stamps are said to be exceptionally pretty.

Most of the British West Indies have lately issued stamps of the De La Rue type or have Juhilees as the Barbados and Trinidad have done.

Hawaii has been contemplating some new stamps since its annexation but instead has so far only changed the color of 1 c of the old design and it is supposed she will soon change the colors of the other values.

It is unusual for Mexico not to have any new issues, but with the exception of a few varieties of paper and perforation has had none whatever.

One of the most beautiful sets is the Newfoundland Cabot issue. These-unlike the Canada Jubilees which were issued at about the same time-have not ouls held their own in price but have advanced slightly. Next came the famous picture gallery of the royal family of England. The colors of these did not seem to be

Dealers cannot seem to agree on the price for the fifty cent and dollar Omahas. We have lately noticed the former offered by different parties at prices all the way from 30 c to 50 c and the other all the way from 75 c to 90 c while the 59th quotes them used at 45 c and $$ 1$ respectively.

We have noticed no mention of the fact that Mekeel's Weekly now comes with the leaves tirmmed. We find the improvement a great convenience.

No more U. S. stamps will be surcharged for Porto Rican use, but the regular $\mathrm{U} . \mathrm{S}$. issued will be used in the future after the present surcharged stock on hand is used up.

The Atlas Stamp Co., London, Ont., of which A. F. Wicks, a well known dealer, is manager. has gotten out a very neat pricelist of 24 pages and cover, containing much useful knowledge beside the list of prices quoted.

**

The editor of Mekeel's tells of a goat eating a recent copy of that paper and calls it a hero for so roing. Our opinion of the "animile" doing such a trick is that it must have been a goatess and we would call it a heroine.

莫类

It is the season of the year for new papers to spring up like mushrooms and generally last about as long. A few words from one who dealt in philatelic literature twenty years ago and has been a close student of it ever since may not come amiss just now．But few have the faculty to make a stampic paper pay ex－ penses and then it has to have an individuality of its own to do so． The late Chicago Philatelist as an example，was too near like peas in a pod to several others that could be mentioned to create a demand for it or even have a partial success．

The＂Moline Stamp News，＂of Moline，Ill．，＂Ohio Philatelist，＂ of Pearl，Ohio，and the＂North－ western Philatelist，＂of Elk Point，S．D．，are new papers out the past month．The Lone Star State Philatelist has been consol－ idated with the Virginia．Heary A．Chapman announces a new one which will equal in interest and appearance any in the coun－ try．Others are announced for the near future．

来

F．M．Trifet，one of the oldest established stamp dealers，died recently in Boston．We have many pleasant recollections of dealings with him，one being the purchase，years ago of the 1865 Newspaper set for one dollar，af－ ter having bad our money previ－ ously returned by Durbin，et．al．， who couldn＇t or wouldn＇t furnish the four stamps at their adver－ tised price．

里次

The Detroit papers have been much exercised of late over the fact that John Kay of said city recently sold four Hawaiian stamps for ten or twelve thous－ and dollars．Mr．Kay states that he bought the two thirteens，one five and one two about 18 years ago paying two dollars for them．

The supply of all Omaha val－ ues is rapidly being exhausted throughout the country，and if not already with the set com－ pleted one should not be caught napping．

The stamps of Guam do not reach the U．S．very readily nor in sufficient numbers to meet the demand．They are likely to be desirable property．

The stock of $15 \mathrm{c}, 50 \mathrm{c}$ and due stamps sent to the Philippines was too small and an additional supply has been requested．

Everyone seems to think that Philately will have such a boom the coming season as it never knew before．

Women often send messages to their dressmaker or to dry goode shops on postal cards，attaching a bit of cloth． ribbon or lace as samples．This makes the card＂unmailable，＂so it is sent to the dead－letter office and invariably destroyed．Men－presumably men－ not infrequently paste a clever joke or a telling political fragment upon a postal and send it to a friend－or at least start it；but it never arrives．No such card is permitted to go through． satisfactory, as an entire change of colors was made. The latest one of this set to be sent out is the 5 c Duke of York, a very popular stamp.

Porto Rico also had a set of Spanish surcharges for use during the war, but is now using a set of current U. S., surcharged Porto Rico.

In the U. S. the much abused Omahas are gradually growing in favor. But very few are being used, so everybody is anxious to lay in a supply, but in the end they will be almost as plentiful as the Columbians.

Next we have an almost complete change in the colors of the regular issue in order to conform with the U. P. W.

In revenues there are the surcharged one and two cent I. R. with all kinds of errors and also the surcharged $$ 5$ Newspaper. There are also the regular Documentary and Proprietary issues with their many shades. The latest out are the $5100, $ 500$ and $$ 1,000$ Documentary.

As with everything else there are two sides the to new issues. They discourage many of the younger collectors who are so Hooded with new issues that they think that they nevor can catch up with the times. This is true, but it is almost impossible for even an advanced collector to secure cuery new issue. Also a great many of the new issues are sold for speculation and if supported by collectors they would soon flood the country with stamps.

But in my opinion eversone should look at the bright side. They make many new followers which are absolutely necessary for the success of Philately. The best way is to get all rou can get easily for a great many of them will never advance much. However, now is the time to buy new issues as it must be remembered that the new issue of today is the old issue of tomorrow and that they will never be cheaper than they are at the present time.

The Postmaster General has just concluded a treaty with Germany for the exchange of postal packages. The weight limit is 11 pounds. This treaty went into effect October 1, and packages up to 11 pounds each will be received for transmission by mail to Germany, and vice versa. The arrangement is no doubt a good one, and will be of rast good to stamp dealers, who can now get their stamps by mail instead of through the express companies. This will be a saving, especially on importation of continentals.

But, think of it! Within the U. S. the limit is 4 pounds and at 16 c , while to Germany it is 11 pounds and the rate is only 12c per pound. Where's the fairness?

A LITTLE PHILATELIC BIRD WHISPERS

That surcharged Porto Ricans will soon be a thing of the past.

That a second edition of "Stamp Hunting" will soon be put on the markel.

That Roumania has made her first surcharge on a regular issue.
'That a new literary venture has appeared in Kansas, having an editor with linguistic proclivities.

That he can take out a copyright on his French, as it is unlike any encountered elsewhere.

That the philatelic novel of the century has been published.

That the new Cubans are the most popular sei yet.

That " S . E. L." is inquisitive about that new Montencgran set catalogued in the 59th.

That Russia is making up for lost time by gumpapping in Crete with all her might and main.

That the Convention of the S . P. A. seems to have been a grand success in every way, much to the credit of the Richmond philatelic colony.

That the Director of Posts for the Philippines is no gumpapper.

That unless the censor at Cape Town is doctoring dispatches very much indeed, the Transvaal will not have an opportunity to use that new set with portrait of Oom'Paul.

PHILATELY MONTH BY MONTH.

Abstract

Some Commenes on Current Events, Articles and Opinions.

THE SOFTENINGOF THE HEART OFTHE GOVERNOK OF GUAM.

In these degenerate days when stamps made solely for the collector's benefit (?) are the rule, it does one's heart good to see a country or colony which does not consider the wants of philatelists of more importance than its postal requirements. Therefore, all right minded stamp men rejoiced at the news that the new American possession of Guam was to be supplied with enough stamps for its postal needs, which are infinitesimal as it were, and no more.

The prospect of getting specimens o.g. seemed faint enough, while it was doubted whether used copies could be obtained in sufficient quantities to satisfy a very small portion of the demand for them. Dealers lay awake at night, trying to devise plans by which they could gain possession of some of these later day rarities. Altogether it was a very novel experience for the American philatelic world.

Captain Leary, the prospective governor, seemed utterly callous to the frantic appeals of the stamp crank who wanted to get only a few of the specimens securely locked up in the Captain's strong box, and it seemed as though stamp collectors were not going to be taken into account this time.

A description from one or two complimentary sets which reached prominent philatelic personages in this country but increased the demand for these surcharged specimens, and when a San Francisco firm was fortunate enough to be able to offer the set of three values for $$ 1.50$ unused, it may safely be conjectured that they made hay while their sun was shining.

Since then the plaint of the correspondents has been about the same every where. "No Guams have as fet arrived," or when they did arrive their quantity was not worth considering. All of which was very satisfactory to the old fashioned collector, who deprecates the mercenary spirit among the philatelists of the present day.

But, alas and alack! What is this news we hear from Washington? The valiant Captain, who kept his strong box so strongly locked, has experienced a change of heart. However it may have happened, be has fallen from his high estate, for now he wants a full assortment of values up to $$ 1$, including Special Delivery, 152,000 stamps in all. The pressure from the philatelic world was apparently too heavy and he has yielded. Uncle Sam will be responsible for another set of gumpaps.

Some collectors will no doubt think that we have secured another triumph, "Philately conquering the world," etc., but, in the writer's bumble opinion, the philatelic anti-expansionists are most certainly taking the more logical view of the case. Where, oh! where is all this business of issuing and issuing stamps going to end? Father Scott is quite Atkinsonian in his condemnation of this latest coup, and wants an avalanche of letters from stamp men to descend at once on the President, the Postmaster General and representatives in Washington to avert the threatened issue of these useless Guams. It may be questioned, though, whether there are really enough philatelists who are opposed to the issue to have any influence. The majority are more likely to do their utmost to secure the sets, speculative or not, and an "avalanche of Guam stamps" will be the natural outcome.

It has been said that those who are right are always in the minority, a principle proven by the present struggle in South Africa. This doubtless applies to philatelic matters, as well as to other affairs. The Postoffice Department in Washington will not be overworked distributing letters of remonstrance against the proposed issues.

There seems to be some doubt as to whether the surcbarge on these new specimens will be exactly the same as on the first. If it should not be, it would be possible, of course, to divide the issues of Guam into legitimate and speculative emissions, but duubtless every effort will be made to make the new Guams exactly like the old and there will be no way of telling the gumpap from the first issue.

Verily a bad business, for which collectors seem to be the most to blame.

Veritas.

No More "Round-the-World" Letters.

Though not so numerous as formerly, "round-the-world" letters continue to crop up at intervals. They always have a request to return to the writer, after they have made the tour of the world, a list of the principal cities thro' which they passed being stamped upon them, tugether with their time of arrival. Curious looking specimens they were, indeed, but postmasters in the United States are now prohibited from forwarding such matter.

NOTES FOR U. S. COLLECTORS. by ERA.
The design of the "F.E. C." matzh stamp underwent no less than four changes in inscription owing to the changes in the firm. Originally it was F. E. C., for Frank E. Clark; then it was employed for the Clark Match Co., then Brackett & Newton succeeded to the business, and finally F. P. Newton continued to use the design.

The receipts from the sale of stamps, envelopes and cards for the year ending June 30,1898 , was $$ 85,029,076.96$, being an increase of $56,069,531,30$ over the preceding year, or about 8 per cent.

According to statistics taken in 1890 , the average distance between a postoffice and a telegraph office was, in the New England states, four miles; in the Middle states three miles; in the Southern states, nine miles, in the Western states, seven miles, and on the Pacific slope, thirteen miles.

Many have wondered why the official stamp of the postoffice department is of different design from those of the other departments. It is stated that the original dies were similar to those of the other departments, but upon second thought the officials decided to make such a change as that it would be impossible for even the dullest postmaster to confound the official with the regular supply of postage.

Postmaster Castle of St. Paul, Minn., has attempted to inaugurate a movement looking toward the discontinuance of the money order system, claiming that it is not a part of the postal department's duty, butan infringement upon the rights of the banking business of the country. It is hardly probable that the movement will ever produce any results, as the department runs the money order business in such a manner that it produces a revenue to the department. The receipts in 1896 from this source were $$ 886,185.07$; in 1897, $$ 967$,181.06; in 1898, $$ 1,196,632.35$.

The Best Christmas Gift of All.

In choosing a gift for a friend whal can afford more present or lasting pleasure than a subscription to the Youth's Companion? The delight with which it is welconed on Christmas morning is renewed every week in the year. The charm of it is disclosed little by little as the months run their course. There is no household in which it will not prove an inspiration.

Those who wish to present a year's subscription to a friend may also have the beautiful new Companion calendar for 1900 sent with it. This calendar is a reproduction in twelve color printings of three exquisite designs by a celebrated American artist, a menber of the American Water-Color society. In addition to this all the issues of the Companion for the remaining weeks of 1899 are sent free from the time subscription is received for the new volume. Illustrated announcement number containing a full prospectus of the volume for 1900 sent free to any address. THE YOU'TH'S COMPANION, 203 Columbus Avenue, Boston, Mass.

It is but seldom the Omahas are now seen in the mails，the Columbians appear quite as fre－ quently．
A bright（？）correspondent asks what a used copy of the 3c Omaha is worth，to which we reply sev－ eral thousand dollars would be a very low figure．

This issue completes the sixth year of publication for the Ever－ green，while a dozen similar pub－ lications starting at the same time，as well as scores of them since，have fallen by the wayside． It has long been the oldest monthly outside of a few trade journals or a few house organs， and probably is the only maga－ zine published by a collector that has made a go of it．Having by far the largest list of paid sub－ scriptions and circulating as well a goodly number of sample copies each month，gives it at least twice the circulation of the average monthly．Its readers appreciate the fact that it has never re－ printed an article from another magazine，and as several hundred subscriptions expire with this is－ suc we hope for a renewal from each．

A correspondent in the Weekly Era states that the Great Barrier Island fakes，with which the country has been flooded，were printed，perforated and canceled by Rudolph C．Bach，late pul－ lisher of the Montreal Philatelist． and who we have known for sev－ eral years was lacking in princi－ ple．We have repeatedly cau－ tioned publishers against him and his advertisements－the Eria being one of the very few who have refused him space．

Of all the ridiculous things the present postoffice officials have been guilty of，the surcharging of 5000 special delivery stamps and 3000 of the dollar value for the use of Guam＇s 100 inhabitant． caps the climax. At any rate the set of stamps should be within the reach of the pocketbook of anyone who cares for it.

**

The United States revenues are appearing with a new kind of perforation-rectangular holesand there is talk of adopting the improvement (?) for all the adhesives.
We recently read an article printed in 1861 describing the new issue and giving the five cent value as follows: the first printing of the $1861 \mathrm{U} . \mathrm{S} .5 \mathrm{c}$ were in yellow brown and it was changed to brown very soon afterward for some unknown reason.

* *

Scott's 59th catalogue gives the best satisfaction of any issucd for several years and everyone should obtain a copy as the prices on so many stamps have been so radically changed. We furnish it postpaid at 58 cents, or with the E. S. P. one year, including an exchange notice, for 60 cents.

来率

Some dealers do not seem to realize that advertising space which can be secured for, say 20c an inch, when the paper's published rate is one dollat, or for any old thing, just so long as a good showing is made, is generally worth just as little as is paid for it. Something for nothing will not work, and the Evergreen has never been able to cut prices, or deviate from its published advertising rates and circulate 2500 copies monthly.

Mr. Alphonso Millard of New York reports the following new issues of Argentine put into circulation the latter part of October: $1 / 2 \mathrm{c}$ bistre, 1c green, 2c indigo, 5 c carmine, 10 c dark green, 12 c cerise, 16 c orange, 1 peso black bluc, 5 p dark orange, 10p dark blue and 20 p dark carmine.

The Portland Philatelic Club has reorganized with sixteen charter members and starts out with new vim. H. Moeller is the president, and W. L. MacMullin the secretary-treasurer. Their address is $1841 / 2$ Third street, and publishers can undoubtedly benefit their advertisers by putting the club on their mailing list.

Librarian of Congress Writes on Literary Work.

Herbert Putnam, librarian of the Congressional Library at Washington, has written an article for publication in The Ladies' Home Journal on "What it Means to be a Librarian." This vocation and its requirements are probably less understood than those of almost all other calling demanding special training, and Mr. Putnan's article will be helpful in pointing out the entrance to a constantly widening field of employment. Mr. Putnam is regarded as the head of his profession, consequently, his article will have the especial value of being authoritative and practical.

WAYSIDE NOTES．

Postal matters and advertising are sadly mixed in France．Since the payment of milliards of re－ demption money to Germany，the national debt of the French re－ public has been constantly and uninterruptedly on the increase， notwithstanding that every con－ ceivable means of taxation has been adopted．In hope of reliev－ ing the burden of taxation， France has resorted to the plan of selling advertising privileges． Space in public buildings is sold and placarded just as the space in the American street cars is． Stamped envelopes and other wrappers used in the postal deliv－ ery contain the advertisement of persons who have paid for the privilege．Inducements are of－ fered to patrons of the postal sys－ tem to purchase the envelopes containing the advertisements by reducing the price therefor，the advertiser paying the difference to the government and for the permission to use them as an ad－ vertising medium．While the government is profiting from the innovation，the postal attaches live in one continuous nightmare， and the advertiser is netting no benefits from the experimental scheme．

Already Ohio philatelists are talking up a＂Memorial issue＂of stamps for the Ohio centennial， Is it not about time to call a halt on these side issues？We are hardly done with licking＂blank－ et sheets＂for the sake of Old Iowa until there is a fair pros－ pect that we may be set to a sim－ ilar task for the sake of＂our own dear native state．＂Now，if lick－ ing two square inches of low－ grade mucilage is the only way of paying homage to Ohio＇s cen－ tury of growth and progress，the writer begs to be excused，even if he was born and reared on Buck－ eye soil．This＂Memorial issue＂ business seems sheer nonsense． Still＂great minds will differ＂ and so if the Ohio boys want a commemorative issue of postage stamps they are sure to get them．

แゅゅ

We learn from an exchange that the Postmaster－General in－ tends to establish a special serv－ ice，by which letters that have failed to get into the regular mail may be forwarded on passenger trains．An extra charge of one cent will be made for this privi－ lege．This for Canada and not for U．S．

The editor of＂The Philatelic West＂believes there are more stamp swindlers in Canada in proportion to population than in any other country in the world. And he is willing to wager that there are more frauds in Ontario alone than in both the United States and England. The editor of the paper may be correct; we are not prepared to say one way or the other. This we do know, that the only stamp dealer who ever swindled the writer was a Simon-pure Canadian.

S. Estle Millef.

"The museum of the deadletter office in Washington contains a varied assortment of articles which have not been included in the sales of unclaimed parcels. Among them may be seen ivory miniatures of great age, watches, false tecth, boxes of raisins and of wedding-cake, pistols and knives, a clothes wringer, coffecpot, kerosene lamp, infernal machines, decorated china, dainty fans, horned frogs, centipedes, human skulls, a mounted alligator more than four feet long, and, in short, everything that one would imagine would not be sent by mail. It hardly seems necessary to say that dynamite and live serpents are unmailable yet the mail service has been called on to transport both.

We are pleased to note that the 5yth edition of Scott's catalogue is nearer the market prices than formerly.

A LITTLE PHILATELIC BIRD WHISPERS

That Admiral Dewey's private secretary is a philatelist.

That the division of the Samoan Islands will probably cause the present stamps to be abolished and some more German and American provisionals to be issued in their place.

That our British cousins are at last going to yield to the Postal Union colors for some of their stamps.
That Dr.Mitchell's "It is Worth Knowing" is undoubtedly worth knowing very much.
'That Canada seems to have been rather unfortunate lately in the way of swindlers and forgers.

That the collection of Afghans may become general if Russia takes possession of the country and issues stamps that are intelligible to the bulk of mankind.

That Michigan has a new philatelic exponent.

That the \%c. red brown envelope of 1899 will be a rarity.

That Richmond is to have a Collector's Club.

That the Portland Philatelic Club is again alive and kicking.

That the reductions in the catalogue prices have not pleased everybody.

That Chapman's "Adhesive" is to appear January 1st, $\mathbf{i 9 0 0}$.

That the "Section on Philately" is in evidence again this season.

A Monthly Magazine lar Stamp Cohlectors
Vol. 13 No. 1. HARTLAND, WASH., JANUARY, 1900. Whole No. 68

NOTES FOR U. S. COLLECTORS. HYERA.
Of the lower values stamps of the Spanish war revenues the surcharged five dollar bids fair to be the one which would-be "cornerers" of the market will essay to obtain. I recently was visited by a colle itor who was enthusiastic over this stamp as an investment in used condition and who was visiting the banking and loan establishments of eagh city, attempting to procure such as had served their purpose. Judging from the number of specimens he was carrying he was meeting with good success and will realize a much better profit than those who have speculated with o. g. specimens. Straight catalogue was his lowest selling price.
*

By the recent action of the Postmaster General in making the announcement to the Universal Postal Union that the Philippines, lorto Rico and Guam were part of the United States and that regular postal rates appl ed thereto, the deduction is naturally made that the administration have no intention of holding dominion over Cuba, and the stamps, both the surcharges and regular ones since issued, can hardly be classed among the U. S. adhesives.

**

Under the above decision of the postal department it seems very improbable that the surcharges will be long employed. The Porto Rico's are now obsolete and it is not likely but the others will soon be discontinued, unless like the Guam issue the government sees sufficient profit to do otherwise.

The earliest recommendation for the introduction of newspaper wrappers is found in the report of the postmaster-general submitted in December, 1860. Acting upon this recommendation congress in its act passed Feb. 27, 1861, authorized their adoption and G. F. Nesbitt & Co., the contractors for the stamped envelopes, were ordered to prepare a one-cent wrapper, which they accordingly did, and the same was placed on sale to the public in October, 186i.

*

One of the largest loopholes through which rightful receipts of the postal department go is the free carriage of matter for the various executive branches which, if credited to the receipts of the postoffice department, would reduce the deficit from $$ 8,000,000$ to $$ 10,000,000$ annually.

The cost of the plates to the various companies for private die proprietory stamps was, Hostetter Co., $$ 250$, Piso Co., $$ 125$, Centaur Co., $100, Lanman & Kemp for three plates $250, Branca Bros., $100, Warner Safe Cure $200, Radway & Co., $100, Johnson & Johnson $$ 75$ and Charles Marchand for seven plates $$ 700$.

Up to July 1, 1899, the number of stamps prepared from the private dies were:
Hostetter Co., $21 / \mathrm{c}$
Piso Co., 5/8 c
Centaur (Co., 1/4c
Lanman & Kemp, ${ }_{4}$ scc.

| ". | "1/4 |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| " |  |
| $1 / 8 \mathrm{c}$ |  |

Branca Bros., 4c
Warner's Safe Cure, $31 / \mathrm{c}$ Radway \& Co., S/8
Johnson & Johnson, Ss c
Chas. Marchard, 5sc

**

Judging from the number issued with the exception of the Marchard stamps ( $11 / 4$ and $21 / 2$ values excepted) and the $11 / 4$ Lanman & Kemp, none of these proprietory stamps should be very scarce, as allowing for the bulk of them falling into hands which would not preserve them, it is hardly likely that the demands of collectors, which would hardly exceed ten per cent of this first issue, would not be easily met with used specimens.

Of the Playing Card adhesives for the year ending July, 1899, there were printed $14,300,000$, and of the other internal revenue stamps which are but little collected, 400,032 lack seal stamps, 3000 hydrometer stamps.

On the subject of Alaskan mails the postmaster-general in his annual report says: "The material increase in the population of Alaska has been the cause of the adoption by the department of additional means designed to improve the postal service of that territory, but the obstacles to be overcome are so great that progress in this direction is necessarily slow and may not become immediately apparent. Among other experimental steps, an inspector of the department was detailed to make an overland trip from Valdez, on Prince William Sound, to Eagle, on the Yukon River, a distance of nearly $\bar{j} 00$ miles, urgent requests having been make for the establishment of postoffices along the proposed route. There were so few settlers found in this interior country, however, that only one office was established, but, to provide for the transportation of mails to and from the interior, and in anticipation of future needs, a contract has been made for a route from Valdez, via Eagle, to Circle, entirely over our own territory. The full contract service on the long overland routes from Juneau, via Skagway, Dawson City, Circle, and Tanana, to St. Michaels, was not performed by the contractor, but this was partially remedied by the employment of temporary service by our postal agent. Additional agents have now been stationed at several places and better service is confidently expected during the coming winter. Winter mail service by steamer along the southern coast of Alaska was provided last year for the first time and will be continued."

OLD AND NEW ISSUES.

By J. S. DAITON.
Although the old issues of postage stamps are much more reliable than new issues, with few exceptions, what a temptation there has been to start collections from 1897 up to the present, and besides being pleasing in appearance they would be a good investment for, up to the present, all our new issues, referring to Canada and the United States, have turned out to be good investments. Let us take first, for example, the Canadian Jubilee issue. These stamps are very beautiful and encouraged many people to collect and people that did not collect bought some half sets or more. These proved a good investment. Then take the United States' Omaha issue. These encouraged collectors and caused many more to enter the ranks of philately. The writer knows of non-collectors in Canada investing a little in some of the rarer and recent issues, such as the 2 c purple envelope, jubilee and maple-leaf issues. Many do not collect new issues, but if such are collecting ten years hence the now new issues will be old and one will not be able to get them at face value but some of them will be rare and one will regret that he did not get them when they first came out and that he did not collect new issues.

If any are going into collecting as a speculation I would advise them to select the issues from about $18 \%$, which could be nade complete at the present at a comparatively low figure and at the same time it would make an interesting specialty. Though. of course, some of the issues sould not advance much, owing to the number of them on the market, yet on the whole it would be a very good investment.
C. P. Krauth, of Pittsburg, Pa., a well-known collector, is dead.

For some time past the P．O． department has assumed a re－

The December postal guide orders the return of all Omatha， Columbian and sets of newspaper and periodical stamps to the de－ partment for credit and presum－ ably to be destroyed；but should it keep up its reprehensible prac－ tices of the past year，it would sell them to the public at a re－ duction below face value．

There is some likelihood of a special set of stamps being issued to commemorate the Buffalo Ex－ position to be held in 1901．We were in favor of the Omaha set and also believe the Buffalo series，if issued，will do much for our hobby，at least in the United States and Candada，much more so than the Guams et al．

The Commissioner of the In－ ternal Revenus has ordered that hereafter all revenue stamps of the value of ten cents or over must be cancelled by three cuts or slits in addition to the present method of writing name and date．This may make the used stamps of higher value rather scarce in collectible condition． One is almost tempted to plaster a paper all over with the 5 c value to get around such a troublesome requirement．

The Postal Guide for Decem－ ber，orders that all mail passing between the United States，Porto Rico，Guam and the Philippines shall be subject to the United States domestic classification， condition and rates of postage． Cuba and Hawaii are for the present subject to the Postal Un－ ion classification and rates．

It is stated that the New Eng－ land Stamp Co．，of Boston，paid S45，000 spot cash for the Thorne collection，while a collection of stamps was bought in Russia not long ago for 560,000 ．We might let ours go at the latter price but don＇t all speak for it at once， please．

The Stamp Tribune announces that hereafter it will appear as a weekly，and the intention is to make it the leading stamp paper of the world．It further states that the field of the monthlies is wercrowded while that of the weeklies is almost bare and deso－ late．Well！well！！and we never knew it．We doubt．if another weekly can equal the poorest of the three now published，but pos－ sibly will be astonished later on and certainly wish the Stamp Tribune all possible success and prosperity．

The Metropolitan truly says that while collectors will turn out at an auction sale and invest at the rate of twenty－five hundred dollars per night as they recently did in New York City，there is ＂no reason to fear for the sta－ bility of the stamp business．

The catalogue of the Scott Stamp and Coin Co．＇s 149th auc－ tion sale to take place Jan．10－18， consists of 3321 lots，listed on 150 large－sized pages．The book also contains six pages illustrating some of the rarer stamps．We believe it to be the largest auc－ tion catalogue ever published and it can be secured of the publish－ ers after the sale with the prices realised，neatly marked，for \＄3．00．

It is to be desired that some satisfactory bill will be passed at this session of congress govern－ ing second－class rates of postage． The provisions of a new bill will undoubtedly restrict the mailing of sample copies at pound rates and also deprive the＂house or－ gans＂of second－class privileges． We believe this is only just and it will undoubtedly benefit jour－ nals with a. legitimate circulation. We would gladly pay one cent on each sample copy of the E. S. P. sent out and believe it would be greatly to our advantage to so do. True, the Evergreen has a large paid-up list and but few samples, comparatively, are mailed, but we fully believe in the merits of every tub standing on its own bottom.

One of the best magazines put out for some time and showing commendable enterprise is the International Philatelic Review, of Rochester, N. Y. Number one did not reach us, but number two is all right, except we would like to know who is backing it. We some way have a grain of suspicion against a company which gives no clew to the personality back of it. The Jumbo Stamp Co., sounds big, but if it had included Petronius Spoopendyke, Manager, it would give it an individuality, and we would sooner trust it for ad space. A good article signed with a nom de plume would be better, in our opinion, if signed with the author's name, and thus the Keview, although tine in every other way, we would consider still better, and think it would command greater respect and secure more ads and subscriptions if it would make public the person or persons responsible for its existence.

CONVENTION ECHOES.
Happy is the society that has a Precemeder among its members. Congress may have lost Czar Reed, but we have not lost our philatelic parliamentarian, and the way in which he presided at the 'Third Annual Convention showed that he is as yigorous as of yore in his chairmanic capabilities.

In the absence of Dr. Demosthenes Fried, the silver-tongued orator of the I. P. A., the speech of the evening was also made by Chairman Precemeder and he so thoroughly exhausted his subject that the president-clect, who had primed himself for the effort of his life, had the wind taken completely out of his sails and did not say much of anything.

The genial presence of Salem's E. C. Patton, of bowling fame. was sadly missed this rear. Telegraph lines may have their uses. but they camnot offer a substitute for Salem's representation at the Convention.

Another man who didn't get there was Globetrotter Geary, the pride of Washington's National Guard. The colonel hed just returned from the wilds of Alaska and found it impossible to run over to the "City on the Slough." We hope our worthy ex-president will grace our Fourth Annual gathering without fail. The third time is the charm.

If we cannot count on anybody else we always know that Mr. Schoch is coming down for the yearly meeting of the Northwestern faithful. Mr. Schoch was put in the right place in being elected secretary of the Society and bids fair to make a record for himself in that office.

Acting-President Brown's address was a very capable document, patriotic and philatelic, showing the boundless optimism which characterizes the American. While the Portland members would have preferred to see Mr. Brown in the flesh, they think that "half a loaf is better than no bread at all." If our Port Townsend friend is as good a presiding officer as he is a speech writer, we fear our parliamentary townsman will have to look to his laurels.

Dr. Killeen's capacities as au auctioneer created mild surprise. We have heard many stamp men trying to make their auditors prove that catalogue prices were current prices by their bidding, including that rapid-fire repeater W. L. McMullin, but we confess that the doctor was most wonderful in his elocutionary endurance. His sale was rewarded by deserved success, in spite of the presence of the human "Chinese wall."

Northwestern collectors have always had a week spot for things Seebecky and gumpapistical, and it must be admitted that they kept up their reputation in this respect by the way in which they bid for that collection of counterfeits. 'Tis sad, 'tis passing sad, but true.

The offering of a prize for the largest number of new members introduced during the coming year ought to have some good effects. There are plenty of philatelists in the two states and there is no reason why they should not be brought into the fold. The benefits are worth many times the small cost of membership.

Exchange Supt. Drews received his usual special vote of thanks for his capable management, and appears to be developing into a sort of Charles E. Shaw of the Pacific Northwest. It is to be hoped that members will give him more support in his efforts to build up the most important department in the Association.

Among the visitors were many new faces, which shows that things are changing in the metropolis of the Northwest. A comparison between the small coterie that formed the old Club and the present membership shows how much. What is true of Portland is doubtless equally applicable to the other cities and towns of the Northwest. The boom that we are now enjoying speaks well for the future of our hobby in this section of the country, and incidentally for the I. P. A.

Great credit is due the gentlemen who spent so much time and labor decorating the Portland Pbilatelic Club room. The Club can well say "Raum fur Alle hat die Erde," considering the size of the present quarters. A hundred people could be crowded into the room without difficalty. It is well to be prepared for emergencies. Portland is growing and the Portland Philatelic Club, too.

One View of the Minor Variety Question.

 BY LHON V. CASS.Some writers advocate collectlecting the minor variety in all classes, down to the variation so small it needs a microscope to discern the difference. These are minor varicties which are easily seen, and in my opinion collectable. The question of admitting minor varieties into the catalogue has been much written about and no two writers seem to see alike. My idea is to issue two catalogues, one for him who collects minor differences and another priceing straight varieties for the beginner and others who have no liking for the minute varieties.

About the only way to enjoy collecting is to collect whatever. you please, irrespective of the opinions of others. Don't allow yourself to be talked into collecting minor varieties if you derive no pleasure from searching them out, and on the other hand don't give up collecting minor varieties if you take pleasure in them.

The beginner is the one who needs the catalogue of straight varieties, as I know of several instances in which the beginner gave up collecting simply because the minor varieties mentioned in his catalogue were so difficult to tell from the straight issues.

Cultivate your friends abroad and you may be able to acquire many desirable foreign stamps at little expense to your pocketbook.

PRIZE:

The following stamps will be given at the Fourth Annual Convention to the member securing the largest number of nembers before that meeting: 1 U. S. 1855 10c green, o. c.i lot of Colonials, mint state, Hawaii, Gibraltar, Newfoundland, Seychelles, etc.; catalogue value, $1.76.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Portland, Or., Dec. 19, 1899.
To the Members of the I. P. A.:
Permit me to thank you for the great honor you have conferred upon me in electing me to the highest office in the Association. It shall be my earnest endeavor to further the interests of the Society in every way possible and I ask the assistance of the members toward that end.

We have a very efficient and energetic hoard of officers and there is no reason why the I. P. A. should not have a more prosperous year in 1900 than ever before. It is generally conceded that Philately is enjoying an era of expansion unequalled in the past. The times are good, money is plentiful and stamp collectors are in the hest position to ride their hobby to their heart's content.

The Pacific Northwest shows some signs of this general philatelic awakening and it should be our duty to bring all new collectors into our Association. In order to encourage the members in missionary work a prize, consisting of a U. S. 1855 loc green. D. c., and a lot of new American and British colonials, (Hawaii, Gibraltar. Newfoundland, Seychẹlles, etc.), cataloguing in all $$ 1.76$, has been offered to the member who secures the largeat number of recruits before the fourth annual convention. I trust that every member will consider himself a contestant for this prize. Any member who may wish to add to size of the premitum is requested to communicate with the secretary. That official is also prepared to supply application blanks.

Members are solicited to make use of the various departments more generally than they have done heretofore.

The successful management of the Exchange Department under Mr. Drews is known to all. He desires more stamps and more purchasers. Can he not be accommodated?

Our new Auction Manager should begiven something to do. His department can be made a source of considerable satisfaction to the members patronizing it, both as sellers and as buyers. The purchasing feature of this department can be developed advantageously. I know from personal experience that current issues can be obtained direct from foreign countries at very little over face.

The library is at the disposal of any members with literary proclivities.

Owing to Mr. Chase's removal to Portland, I have appointed Mr. H. O. White, of Salem, to act in his place on the Board of Trustees.

I shall be pleased to hear from any memher in regard to any matter pertaining to the welfare of the Society and again ask the aid of all in building up our Association.

With the best wishes for 1900, I am, Yours for the I. P. A., H. Монi.t.нк, Pres.

SEC'Y-TKEAS. KEPORT.

The third annual convention met Dec. 5,1899 , in the room of the Portland Philatelic Club in the Metropolitan Theatre building. Election of officers resulted as shown by list at head of this column. The library was ordered sold at auction, proceeds to be turned into the treasury. Exchange Supt. Drews reported having circulated 87 books during the year, of a total value of $$ 838.35$, from which sales amounted to $$ 77.96$. Mr. Drews "would like to have more members lake an active interest in this department as it has been handicapped to a certain extent by a lack of buyers and also a lack of sellers of good stamps. There has been a certain class of stamps in some of the books that were positively unsaleable and when there were any good stamps they would be marked at prohibitory prices; consequence was people did not care to buy stamps which they could get from any dealer for less money."

The E. S. P. was retained as official organ until further developments. The usual routine business; adjourned to meet in Portland between Sept. 20, and Nov. 1, 1900.

Application for membership: D. M. Averill, 331 Morrison Street, Portland, Or.; refs. Nos. 56, 28.

This year let us all secure at least one new member and swell the list to at least 100 . Write me for application blanks. President and secretary are offering prizes in fine stamps of U.S., *Hawaii, *British Colonials, to the member securing most applicants this this year. The 1900 dues are now payable; please be prompt.

Yours for the I. P. A.,
A. D. Schосн,

Secretary-Treasurer.

NOTES FOR U. S. COLLECTORS. by era.

'The prices on Porto Rico surcharged on U. S. are stiffening up and good specimens are held at from fifteen to twenty-five per cent more than they were a month ago. Unused specimens of the dues will be good property, but it is quite likely that the used copies will not advance to any extent at least in the immediate future. Up to June 30,1899 , the number of dues surcharged were 55,000 being 25,000 of each the one and two cent vaiue and 5000 of the ten. Up to the same date the Bureau had furnished of the ordinary issue

| 1,000,000 | 1 cents |
| :---: | :---: |
| 2,000,000 | 2 cents |
| 500.060 | 5 cents |
| 25,000 | 8 cents |
| 500,000 | 10 cents |

Specimens of the $1,2,5$ and 10 cent Porto Rico surcharged and of the $1,2,3,5$ and 10 cent Cuba surcharged were furnished the Universal Postal Union at Berne, Switzerland, 750 of each value being furnished. A few of these sets will probably ultimately drift into the market and the person who wishes a rare set can then be accommodated. Of the Porto Ricos an additional hundred sets were prepared and furnished the third assistant postmaster general presumably for comparison purposes for the insular authorities.

The plates of the $1 / 2$ to 50 c documentary stamps and the proprietary issues except the 1 泊 and $33 / 4$ values are found in two different made up plates, the earlier plates containing two bundred stamps to the sheet and the latter ones two hundred and sixteen. The two mentioned proprietary values are only found in the latter makeup. The $$ 1$ to $$ 50$ documentary contain one hundred and twenty eight stamps to the sheet.

Dr. W. C. Bowers, of Bridgeport, Conn., is now the happy possessor of the 5c Baltimore, Brattleboro and New Haven local sold at the Hunter sale paying S255, $350 and 315 respectively. The 30c 1869, flags inverted, brought $$ 380$, while the 2 c on 3 c New York, the only known copy, and a stamp which should rank well up in the varieties brought $265. Taken all in all the prices for the rare U. S. were very poor especially in comparison with the prices the foreign brought. Is U. S. specialism on the wane?

PHILATELY MONTH BY MONTH.
The Philatelic Aspects of the Boer War.
Doubtless of all the history making occurences that are transpiring in various parts of the world at present the struggle in South Africa between Briton and Boer is the one which is receiving the most attention from the public. Beside it our own little unpleasantness in the Philippines pales to insignificance, while the naval ambitions of the War Lord of Europe, the deposition of the Emperor of China and Secretary Hay's diplomatic success in the "Open Door" matter, which would under other circumstances, be made very much of, are given scant thought by the bulk of mankind. As philatelists are, in their own estimation at least, among the most intelligent of the citizens of every country and clime, it may be safely assumed that their minds often turn to the gigantic conflict that is now in progress in the southern portion of the Dark Continent. If endowed with literary abilities, they will give their neighbors the benefit of their views, probably, although they need not necessarily go as far as the Teutonic editor of the Virginia Philatelist, who seems to have the "United States of South Africa" on the brain very much indeed.

The philatelic aspect of the conllict, (for it has a philatelic side like any other war involving changes in government) has also been the recipient of some notice here and there. It will be the endeavor of the writer to give below what results the war may have as far as the stamp collecting hobby is concerned.

As was the case with the Colonial issues of Spain during and immediately after the late war with this country, the issues of the various colonies and states of South Africa, whether British or Dutch, have been experiencing a boom since the war began. The South African group has always been popular on the other side, and now collectors in this country seem to be taking them up with zeal equal to the European and South Africans are the proper thing.

As far as the issues of the two republics are concerned, they form one of the most interesting studies of the earnest philatelist. The 'Transtaal has long been the Mecca of the minor varietarian. the various provisionals which marked the first British occupation forming a field in which he can browse to his heart's delight. For the old, or more properly new, fashioned collector who eschews minute varieties, the country has offered an entertaining field, almost entirely free from gumpapistry and similar philatelic vices. The emissions of the Orange Free State furnish is menu of surcharges which will prove the bliss of the stamp man whose magnifying glass is always in his hand. Speculation or considerations of the philatelic market have not characterized them, however.

It mar be supposed that, howeyer valient the struggle of the Boers for their liberty, and however much the onlooking world may sympathize with them, the end of the struggle will see the stamps of these two countries obsolete, and no new issues will appear therefrom under the present authorities. "Finis" will be written after six months, a year, or two; but it will be written. The British Empire can never permit the status quo to be maintained. Hence, if new issues are to come, they will be English, possibly a special set for the late Dutch territories, possibly the Natal series, plain or surcharged. The situation presents many possibilities in the way of new issues for the stamp gatherer.

Before the day of final settlement comes, however, we may get quite a crop of provisionals. The Boers, being essentially an unprogressive people, as Mr. Dictz and the rest of us who feel for them must admit, and little addicted to the pastime of letter writing, have not produced any fancy philatelic stationery for the British territory which they have seized and ozcupied. Had they been inbabitants of the United States of Guam, several beautiful sets would no doubt be on the market by this time, via Delagoa Bay, and the sinews of war increased by the generous purchases of the philatelic world. The Postmaster General of the Transvaal is certainly not a Leary.

It is more likely that we shall have something interesting from the British in the way of provisionals when they advance into the enemy's land and English collectors will doubtless prize highly these souvenirs of the progress of Tommy Atkins.

Since Great Britain has had hands full in trying to handle Oom Paul's doughty warriors, there have been repeated rumors regarding Russia's designs on Afghanistan. Indirectly, therefore, we may one of these fine days be indebted to the Boer War for the abolition of those productions which figure in Central Asia as postage stamps, to the average philatelist's despair, although possibly to the specialist's delight.

In conclusion, it may be said that while this talk about the British Empire falling to pieces and its territories being taken by the Continental powers, is so much nonsense, the Boer War is likely to witness several important changes in philatelic issues from one quarter of the globe before the Briton and Boer settle down again. Veritas.

The removal from mail matter of postage stamps by any person employed in the postal service is a grave misdemeanor punishable by quite a fine or imprisonment． $$$
The＂Metropolitan＂reports the following new aniline colors in revenues which will not stand washing：$$ 1$ red，$$ 3$ reddish brown $$ 5$ blue and $$ 10$ purple．So many changes have been made in our revenues，in colors and perfora－ tions，that it will be difficult to secure a complete set．

Postmasters should not back stamp postal cards on the side in－ tended for the communication， so says the Postal Guide．

If our memory is not treacher－ ous Porto has but three due stamps，the $1 \mathrm{c}, 2 \mathrm{c}$ and 10 c ．Cuba has the $1 \mathrm{c}, 2 \mathrm{c}, 5 \mathrm{c}$ and 10 c and the Philippines the same with the ad－ dition of the 50 c value．

The January Postal Guide states that neither Internal reve－ nue stamps，nor stamps cut from stamped envelopes，newspaper wrappers or postal cards，will be received in payment of postage． Matter bearing such stamps should be＂held for postage．＂

The past month six new papers have reached us．The Philatelic Post，The Adhesive，Stamp Ex－ change，Weekly Stamp Tribune． Clipper and Swap．The＂Post＂ is finely printed with sixteen pages and cover，all Mss．except Editorials being from the pens of Sister Swift and Brother Chap－ man，and consequently－good． The＂Adhesive＂the much an－ nounced and long looked for pa－ per put out by Brother Chapman． is slightly disapointing at its price of 30 c ，being no superior to many of the 25 c journals．The contents are of about the usual merit and the typographical appearance of its twelve pages is excellent and very similar to all those eminating from the Stowell printery. The "Tribune" is excellent both as to typography and contents. The "Clipper","Swap" and "Stamp Exchange" will fill niches of their own and do their share to the interest of our hobby.

We will be pleased to regularly send free, copies of the EverGreen, to every philatelic society, public libraries, reading rooms or Y. M. C. A. that will drop us a postal requesting us to do so.

The Philippines are to be supplied with three of our postals surcharged for their use. The "E", "F" and "H" cards.

It is thought that the Buffalo Exposition series will consist of but six denominations-1c, 2c, 4c, $5 \mathrm{c}, 8 \mathrm{c}$ and 10 c values.

The "Era" states that Miss Hetty Green, the richest woman in the United States is a stamp collector.

NOTES FOR U．S．COLLECTORS． H】 EKA．

＇The seven cent stamp was orig－ inally issucd to prepay postage on letters to Germany but upon the reduction of the rate to six cents it was practically with－ drawn from circulation for sever－ al months，until owing to a new rate of similar amount was ar－ ranged by the postal treaty with Denmark made in the latter part of 1871 they were agatin put in circulation．

The extra cost to the postoffice department for the surcharging of the first Guam issue was 5.26 ， suc wages to employecs of the Bureau， 50 c for plate printing and $$ 1.56$ for ink，material and miscellaneous expenses．Verily， the retarns warranted the outlay．

The earliest dates of cancella－ tion on confederate stamps that I have either seen or seen noted： sc green，Oct．23， 1861.
5 c light green．Dec．24， 1861.
5c sage green，July（？） 1862.
10c blue，Feb．14， 1862.
10c light blue，Dec．2， 1861.
2c green，Sept．4， 1862.
Sc blue，Apr．16， 1862.
5c dark blue，Apr．15， 1862.
5c light blue，May 15， 1862.
10c rose，Apr．4， 1862.

10c carmine，Aug．9， 1862.
$5_{c}$ London priut，May 6， 1862.
Éc local print，Oct．27． 1862.
＇Ten cent，May 2， 1863.
10c outer line，May 10， 1863.
10c do light blue，July 3， 1863.
10c blue（A7），Feb．7， 1863.
10c blue（A8），June 11， 1863.
10c dark blue，May 10， 1863.
10c greenish，Jan．7， 1865.
2c rose．Aug．6， 1863.
20c green．Oct．4， 1864.
The only 10 c blue perforated that I have ever met with cancelled was dated October 23d，but noth－ ing indicated the year．It is probable that earlier cancella－ tions exist in nearly if not every case，and I should be pleased to learn of any earlier ones．

At least three surcharges exist on proprietary stamps of such a design that they come very close to being a private proprietary． The cancellation surcharge is of complex enough a character to be sufficient design，value excepted， to constitute a stamp design． They are the surcharges of the Anti Kamnia Co．，Chas．H． Fletcher and the Chattanooga Medicine Co．The first is fairly well known，and has been listed for sale by several dealers but the latter I have never before seen noted．The Fletcher stamp has the inscription in three lines on the upper dextra portion "The Centaur Co.," and diagonally across the fac simile signature "C. H. Fletcher." The third has the company name in a semi circle of capitals, with date below, the two enclosing a large black star.

In his report for 1810 the postmaster general makes a comparison of the improvement made in ten years. At the beginning of the century "it required to write from Portiand to Savanah and receive an answer, forty days; now it requires twenty-seven. Then it required thirty-two days between Philadelphia and Lexington, $K_{y}$., now it requires sixtcen. Then it required forty-four days between Philadelphia and Nashville, now it requires thirty. Then it required between New York and Canadaigua twenty days, now twelve." Now, if old Gideon Granger could revisit the earth he would probably think that the old days of his administration were hardly as fine as he once thought.

Among half stamps which I have seen on the original cover used are the two cent green, six cent carmine and the ten cent 1847. Two of these are in my own collection and the other two were in collections of friends and all were on original cover.

PHILATELY.  Past, Present and Future.

HRANK K. HILIS.
Is philately dying out? We have been forced, at times, to confess that it did not appear to be gaining to any great degrec. But I am perfectly safe in saying that in the next twelve months to come, stamp collecting will experience a great boom and take on a new lease of life.

New papers are springing up all over the country and the maljority of those that have appeared so far are very creditable and should prosper. Dealers all over the United States are reporiing a great increase in both their local and mail order trades. Many new dealers are opening up and all dealers are doing more advertising. Scores of new converts are added to our ranks daily. No, philately is not dying out: instead it is rapidly gaining strength.

What have we to thank for this boom? Well, the Omaha issue is responsible for a good portion of it, and then again so many inducements are being held out nowdays for beginners, that very few people can or ought to let them go by. The collector who hegan to save stamps many years ago had a rough road to travel, while the beginner of today, you might say, is borne along on "Flowery beds of ease," as he can procure everything essential to his needs, viz:-an album, a catalog, hinges and sevcral hundred stamps without going to any great expense.

It is true that in the past few months philately has encountered some discouraging features-the sale of the periodical stamps (reprints) by the government was a money making scheme, as is also the surcharging of unnecessary values in unnecessary quantitics of U.S. stamps for use in Guam. Then again the "Great Barrier Island" label, which was manufactured and dished out to hundreds of unsuspecting dealers and collectors by Rudolph C. Bach, late of Montreal, Canada, now fighting for Great lbritain in Suutlı Africa, was another thing that caused many to hesitate about starting a collection of stamps. Beginners don't know what to buy or collect in these speculative, gumpapping days.

Taking everything into consideration, the year 1899 was a good stamp year, but 1900 will eclipse it. Nearly every country of any size or prominence intends to have a new issue during 1900. Among those countries which have already issued new sets are Germany, Holland and Japan, while France will soon follow with a set in honor of the Great Paris Exposition. The United States will undoubtedly issue a set in honor of the Buffalo Exposition. It is hoped that this set will not contain any values exceeding ten cents. The issuing of this set ought to make many new converts to philately and bring some of the inactive collectors to their senses and give them something to think about, that they may commence anew.

We are all in favor of any honorable means to make stamp collecting more popular, and if all the philatelists would join together and put up a decided boycott against the speculative and commemorative issues of all countries (our own included), we would soon get a speedy relief from this evil and stamp collecting would be free from a disagrecable feature which tends to discourage the beginner.

We know that we are on the verge of a big stamp boom. May it ever stay with us and we with it. Let us co-operate together and work for the good of philately.

New York City is seemingly as bad as Chicago on stampic papers. The "Post Office" also "Stamps" recently ceased publication and now the discontinuance of another prominent New Yorker is looked for.

The design of the $$ 2$ Omaha was originally intended to be an Indian on horseback but was eventually changed to the St. Louis Bridge.

Notwithstanding the 2 c orange on white has been found in several localities, the Third Assistant Postmaster General asserts that none left the envelope agency in that color.

The announcement is out for Grant's Monthly Philatelist at 50 c per year, with 10,000 to $25,-$ 000 monthly circulation. Whew: don't do it brother, there is no paying demand for such a stunner.

Representative Levy of New York has introduced a bill to repeal the tax on proprictary medicines and preparations and to reduce the documentary tax 50 fer cent, except on checks, drafts and telegrams. There is not much likelihood of such a law being passed at present.

In placing ad contracts do not forget that the Evercireen corers a big territory exclusively its own, and that it claims the largest circulation of the monthliesbona fide subscription list and otherwise. It is also the oldest American stampic monthly with the exception of three trade journals.

Our illustration this month of Sunrise on Mt. Hood from Lost Lake should show the reflection of the mountain in the water if the engraver docs his work well. For next month we are planing a surprise and no one should miss the April number. So many have asked us to print the likeness of ye editor which has not yet appeared in any paper that it makes it hard to refuse so reasonable a request. We hope it may not seem egotistical then, to state that the "Wild and Woolly West" man to appear next month is well worth a year's subscription.

The ato Philippines surcharged on U.S. is found in both watermarked and unwatermarked paper, the latter, if anything being a little the commoner.

A Monthly Magaziae for Stamp Coliecto:s
Vol. 13 -No. 4.
HARTLAND, WASH., APRIL, 1900.
Whole No. 71

NOTES FOR U. S. COLLECTORS. HY &RA.
A. Hoen & Co., of Baltimore, who prepared one of the sets of B. & O. Telegraph franks, are now the contractors who do the photo lithographing and printing of the typographical post route maps issued by the postoffice department.

The postoffice at Salem, N. C., famous for being the parent of one of the Confederate provisionals, was last year reduced from a presidential to a fourth class office.

786 cancelling machines were in use last year in the various offices in the country. More than half, (4.50) being leased of the American Postal Machine Co., of Boston.

A new service insignia in the carrier department has been proposed and will undoubtedly be adopted, length of service being denoted by stars on the sleeves of the coat. One black star being for five years' service, two for ten, one red for fifteen, two for twenty, one silver star for twenty-five, two for thirty, one gold star for thirty-five and two for forty years' service.

The cancelling ink used by the British postoffice department is supplied by De La Rue & Co., and costs 3s. 4d. ( 51.04 ) a pound. In the latter part of 1898 the U. S. postal authorities tried samples, but decided it was not more satisfactory than the kind then in use costing about a third of the price.

Although no "war tax" stamp is attached to United States money orders, yet the "two cents" on each order has been duly turned over by the postoffice department to the treasury department, $118,747.86 was turned over on Jan. 19, 1899, $5156,205.44$ on April 7, 1899, $$ 156,919.86$ on July 6, 1899, and $$ 148,012.74$ on Oct. 12, 1899.

Out of 29,615 miles of steamboat mail service in the United States, 19,461 miles are employed in Alaska, 1871 miles in Florida, 1106 miles in Washington. The Florida service costs nearly three times as much as the Alaskan.

The extent of the use of the war tax stamps have nowhere been better illustrated than by the quantity used by the large fire and life insurance companies. The Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Co., of Milwaukee, using up $$ 55,643.49$ worth in 1899.

PHILATELY MONTH BY MONTH.
Some Comments on Current Events, Articles and Opinlons.

A CATALOGUE REFORM.
Chief among much abused philatelic mortals are the catalogue makers. If prices are too high, they are censured for attempting to kill Philately by putting the stamps out of the reach of the great body of collectors; if quotations are too low, vials of wrath are poured upon their heads for decreasing the value of the collector's accumulation; if speculative issues are left out, the tale is that they are trying to discourage the young collector; if the trash is included, the reformer assumes a Cassandra-like expression and prophesies that stamp collecting is going to the demnition bow-wows. Truly the life of the maker of catalogues is not a happy one.

Quite a large body of philatelic scribes commence sharpening their pencils as soon as the advent of a new list is announced, and as soon as it appears they pounce upon it, figuratively, and tear it to pieces. Criticism to the right of us, criticism to the left of us, criticism on all sides of us volleys and thunders. The press is overloaded with it. The space filling writer is supremely happy, for the copy is so easily made. What the poor general reader thinks is not of much importance, if he thinks anything at all. He is more likely to wonder what it is all for, and be thankful that catalogues do not appear every day.

In spite of all the fault-finding, the great majority of stamp men recognize that the preparation of such a guide as our catalogues are these days is not the simplest thing in the world, and that we have every reason to be proud of our text books, if I may give them that title. They are not perfect; what mortal thing is? The chances are that if our friends the critics were to take charge of this herculean task for a season they would make a dismal failure of it and become sadder, wiser and more modest men in consequence.

Every person has his little preferences as to certain fentures in a catalogue, certain things which he would like to sce changed, etc. A matter which has always somewhat surprised the writer has been the continued listing of stamps which were prepared but never issued. They certainly should have no philatelic standing and receive no recognition, unless the collector goes in for proofs, essays and other philatelic curiosities, connected with the hobby, but not propierly belonging in a general collection.

If such specimens do not get out in quantities, it maty be safely assumed that they have been "made for collectors." For a single instance take the 1 n lilac gray of Bosnia. This stamp is priced at 3 cents used in Scott's 59th. In the Catalogue for Advanced Collectors we find the following note: "The 1 novcic lilac gray is an error of color and was never put into actual use. They were all canceled with blue pencil and sold by the government to an Austrian dealer."

A change in this particular is evidently coming about, however. In the dirst section of the new Stanley Gibbons catalogue, just out, all such varieties are leftout (ackiowledgement is hereby made for the information to the Era's "S. E. L."), which shows that these specimens are to be consigned to the limbo of reprints, fakes and other semi-philatelic paraphaernlia. This is surely a reform of considerable importance, in view of the general ignorance and implicit reliance placed on the catalogues. It is to be hoped that other catalogers will follow the lead of the English house.

FEXCHANGE VS. SAI.ES DEPT.

A rear or two ago a wave of exchange clubs swept over the land, a philanthropic reform movement which may be compared with the revolutionary spirit that passed over Europe in 1848. The sales departments of the existing societies did not come up to the expectations of the philatelic world; therefore these associations were started "to fill a long-felt want," as it were. The two systems can now be compared with fairness to both.

There has been some discussion in our Interstate Association in regard to this matter, which is my reason for taking it up here.

The old-fashioned sales department, such as we have in the $I$. P. A., is on a cash basis. Members purchasing stamps remit to the superintendent, who in turn forwards the cash to the owner when the book is retired. By the exchange system the collector receives credit for stamps sent in and is allowed to select other specimens to the amount of his credit. The stamps in a bona fide exchange, as I understand it, are not for sale.

The new method undoubtedly possesses two advantages. No cash is sent back and forth, and time may be gained. The latter is a strong point in favor of the fin de siecle system, although here again I think the gain could be offset if the sales department were handled more rapidly, which I believe to be possible in many cases.

I am an advocate of the old plan, although it is far from perfect. A discussion in this paper of the merits of these two methods will, I am sure, not be disagreeable to the publisher and of benefit to readers and collectors.

The Evercireen the balance of of the year for only ten cents.

A new die of the $4 c$ envelope stamp has been discovered; also a new shape in several values.

Mr. Clark W. Brown, of Syracuse, N. Y., has favored us with a very neatly gotten up price list for 1900 .

In a circular to postmasters clated December 5th, 1892, attention is called to the Columbian series of postage stamps and stamped envelopes to be placed on sale Jan. 1st, 1893. In the list given of the adhesives no mention whatever is made of the $80^{-}$ value. Was it an after thought, and issued later on? Our memory is defective regarding this.

4)

Publisher Dodge has moved to Abbottstown, Pa., which will necessarily make the "Collector" a little late for an issue or two.

Two new papers have reached us this month, the Nebraska Stamp News, and "Costa Rica." May they enjoy long life and prosperity.

If our government purchases the Danish West Indies, the stamps of these islands would be in greater demand than now. They make a pleasing addition to a collection, and at present can be secured at but little cost.

The booklets of stamps gotten up for pocket use are expected to be ready for the public by May first. As stated last month they are to contain blocks of six stamps between paraftine paper. and to contain stamps to the value of $24 \mathrm{c}, 48 \mathrm{c}$ or 96 c .

In a late issue of the United States Postal Guide appears the following: "'The postoffice department does not buy or deal in cancelled stamps, and no specimen stamps, either domestic or foreign, are sold or given away. All postmasters are required to keep postage due and special delivery stamps on hand, the former for use only and the latter for sale. The 2 -cent letter sheets can be purchased only at Chicago, Cincinnati, Denver, New Orleans, and Sau Francisco. Postoffices of the first class are required to keep every denomination of ordinary stamps of the current issues for sale.

The smallest postoffice building in the United States, if not in the world, is that of Virginia postoffice, Calif. It is situated on the road between San Diego and Escondido, and receives two mails daily except Sunday. The original existence of the structure was in the form of a piano box. It is 6 feet long, 5 feet high and is feet wide, and its "box equipment" consists of five locked drawers.

By actual count the Evergreen has 97 lady subscribers, and nearly all of them mademoiseiles. We trust they will be pleased with the likeness on the cover page, and we will "try and give a biographical sketch of this goodlooking chap in our next.

Tasmania has made an addition to the many pretty pictorial stamps. Such stamps alone would now make a goodly collection and of much interest to everyone, whether a collector or not.

Don't forget that we must get at least seventy-five new members before the convention.

NOTES FOR U. S. COLLECTORS. HY ERA.

'The cancellation of the Chattanooga Medicine Co. mentioned in my last, is also found in the $-5 / 8 \mathrm{c}$. It may also exist in other values.
**
I have received in trade a double perforate specimen of New York 1c blue match stamp. This is a variety not cataloged by Sterling or any one else so far as I know.

*

The longest single mail route in this country under one contract is the one from San Francisco to Dawson, 4408 miles, three round trips in June and July, $$ 1495$ per round trip.

The offices sending out the largest amount of second-class mail last year were New York 6, 176, 1111 lbs, followed by Chicago, St. Louis Philadelphia, Boston, Kansas City and Augusta (Me.) in their order.

*

I have not yet heard the result of the experiment which Postmaster General Smith notes in his annual report:
"A practical test is about to be made in Chicago to determine the feasibility of transporting mail between the main office and branch postoffices by automobiles. In view of the prominence which these vehicles have recently made for themselves, it is believed the time has come for utilizing them in connection with the carrying of the mails."

**

The work of the Boston Society on C . S. revenues tabulates a list of $\mathbf{5 9 1}$ varieties of the first issue (1862-71), to which if we add the 193 varicties of double perforations listed by Sterling, would be an extensive field for specialists.

One of the German magazines having read the speculation that the name of the larger cities was to be surcharged on the stamps sold at those places has fallen into the matural error of thinking it had been so done when a "sliect cancelled" specimen of the Minneapolis office came into their hands.

**

In a small collection which recently came into my possession I found ten specimens of the 2 c Columbian envelope cut square, and below cach was noted a different minor variety, such as period after cents, no period after cents, period after America, etc. Had this collector persisted he would some day probably have become a noted specialist.

PHILATELY MONTH BY MONTH.
Some Comments on Current Events, Articles and Opinions.

THE MERRY WAR OF THE ORANGE ENVELOPE.
For some time there has been quite a spirited discussion going on in the philatelic press as to the merits and demerits of the current 2 c U. S. envelope printed in orange, or more properly in orange color. Whether it was printed in that shade has been the bone of contention. Was this a genuine error or was it a changeling, belonging to the class of "doctored" specimens? That has been the question that has been agitating the minds of many, and, as a result, not a few philatelists have been experimenting with chemicals, glasses, sun rays and what not. If all assertions are to be believed, the number of orange copies of various tones and shades that are a direct sequence of these experiments is quite large; in fact, if our friends keep on as industriously as they have commenced, the 2 c red will have to look for its laurels as a common stamp.

The reported successful changing of the hue of our envelope, from many sources, has naturally made collectors somewhat skeptical, and when the government contractors came out flatly with the assertion that that stamp was a "fake," that no specimens were printed in that color, the triumph of the antis, unlike that of the American friends of the Filipinos, seemed complete.

Like the Congressmen on the Puerto Rican tariff, the believers in the legitimacy of the error dicd hard, however; in fact, it may be doubted now whether they have died at all. Affidavits from persons who had received the envelopes were brought forward. These seemed to prove conclusively that the stamps were actually printed in the orange color, the contractors to the contrary notwithstanding.

When Father Scott threw his influence into the scale on the side of the credulous ones, the tide turned, and now the belief is becoming general that some orange envelopes were printed.

From this it musi not be assumed that the gentlemen who have spent so much time and labor in developing changelings have worked in vain. Not a bit of it. It merely shows that there are orange envelopes and orange envelopes, the original printed error and the subjected red envelope. The former is no doubt a rarity, and the latter, as noted above, bids fair to become common: the difference between them _-well, possibly if you bave one of the originals you may think you can notice it; the chemistphilatelists will assure you that there is noze.

Many still contend that it is impossible to doctor a stamp without doctoring the envelope in such a way that it shows that it has been made subject to foreign influences. On the other hand, it is boldly asserted that, with the proper exercise of care, the envelope will not be affected. Nous verrons, mes amis, nous verrons.

In the meantime, those who have a hankering after this rara avis will do well to fortify their copy with a strong intrenchment of affidavits that their's is the one and only original printed-inorange envelope. Veritas.

Rev. H. Wendt, of Sterling, Neb., an advertiser who has certainly given this paper a fair trial, says: "The E. S. P. is one of our finest and best paying philatelic publications in America." Nothing succeeds like success, and Rev. Wendt has established a fine reputation for fair and square treatment with his successful auction sales.

If you are not using a magnifying glass you are missing very much of the enjoyment that could otherwise be gotten out of your collection. For instance, look through a glass at the end of the mailsack carried by the horseman of the 2 c 1869 issue.

A LITTLE PHILATESIC BIRD WHISPERS

That Uncle Sam has become a philatelist.

That auctions are becoming fashionable again.

That the Allegheny Philatelist is still "absorbing."

That three weeklies seem to be enough for the American philatelic public.

That Chicago has had a swindling sensation.

That the new Chileans are out.
That the new Stanley Gibbons catalogue is getting its share of criticism.

That Pennsylvania is now honored by having three state philatelic societies.

That the 1890 Servia remainders will soon make their appearance on the market.

That the new Cretan stamps, unlike their predecessors, are a thing of beauty and joy forever.

That the road of the postal reformer is a hard one in this country.

That Chicago has again found an individual who has the temerity to attempt to publish a stamp paper in that blighting atmosphere.

That Major Chapman's "Adhesive" seems to be catching the popular fency.
H. M.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

United States. Chnadmand Mexico. per year $20 c$ All other countries, per year............................. Subscriptlons begin with the current number.

Hartland, Wash., May-June, 1900 .

Time flies, and before we shall know it summer will be here in full force. Following the custom of last year, no Evergreen will be issued in July or August. We believe everybody is entitled to a vacation once a year.

Being employed in the U. S. postal service we had so little time of our own during the past two months that the May number has had to be combined with the June; but subscribers will receive full count.

There may be some interesting developments from a philatelic standpoint in regard to Uncle Sam's postal servants who went wrong down in Cuba. The value of the surcharged U. S. stamps will be an uncertain quantity until it is known just how many thousand dollars' worth of them reached philatelic hands instead of being destroyed as should have been done.

Collectors will note that the $6 p$ Orange Free State surcharged is blue instead of red, it being the intention of President Steyn's government to adopt the U.P.U. colors. The rarity of this value unsurcharged is a subject for discussion. It is possible that only a very few exist.

Interest in the South African struggle will be renewed by the latest news that the Boers are not beaten yet by any means, and that they are making it hot in Roberts' rear. The British are indulging in surcharges, "V. R. I.," on the stationery of Orange Free State that was, and it is likely that the Transvaal's stock will have similar treatment.

1900 promises to keep the ball rolling in the way of new issues, as countries in all parts of the world are turning out new sets or portions of sets. We have seen copies of the new German series, and cannot say that we admire them particularly. While the design is probably artistic enough, it seems impossible for them to lose the cheap look which they have had for many years.

The assertion that counterfeits were manufactured in Muncie, Ind., and then forwarded to Cuba and used is rather grotesque, and will not receive much credit.

Some changes will be noticed in the officials of the I. P. A. The Society is in good working order, and members who take advantage of its departments will be happier than those who do not.

Our "old reliable" printer has an ad on page 81. The ad will do the rest. He wants to undertake a live of work that will give his eyes a rest. We are sorry to lose him, having been associated for years with him in the printing of the Evergreen. His office is A1 and enjoying a lucrative business. You may depend upon whatever he tells you, is our recommend.

France is going to surprise the world with something highly esthetic, while the Colonies are getting tired of the current Colonial type. Crete is showing its civilization by producing a very novel set. Japan had to have a Wedding stamp, of course, when the Crown Prince was married, while young Alphonso of Spain has developed into quite a goodsized young man. Even staid old John Bull, who never changes unless he absolutely has to, and not always then, has altered the color of his half penny to green, the U. P. U. color.

The International Postai Union will celebrate its fiftieth birthday this year, and a postal card will be issued in honor of the event from Berne.

The new Auction Manager for the I. P. A. offers a rather novel idea in his proposed mid-summer Auction Sale. All members of the Society should help him to the best of their ability.

Chile has made a marked improvement in her new issue, although the old method of separation is retained. Columbus is still very much in evidence, but the enlarged portrait is much better than the small one.

Try an ad in the Evergreen. Mr. C. B. Fargo of Trenton, N. J., sent us an ad for an auction sale. We put it in type and printed it, but before the paper issued word reaches us to please cancel it, as he had sold the whole lot in one batch, and the ad would give him much needless correspondence. It is with pleasure that we do what we can to counteract the effect of the ad. Our idea would be to buy another lot-and sell it.

A midsummer auction sale will be held on the 15 th of August, and I would ask members to send.in lots for it. These must be in by the 27 th of June. Reserve can be placed on. lots or not, as members wish, though better results are likely tu follow if no reserve is put on them.

Members wishing to purchase new stamps at cost should communicate with me. An arrangement has been made with a local dealer by which the Department is able to offer at 10 , over face: Gibraltar '98 $1 / 2,1$ and $2 p$ (figure a penny at 2 c ); New foundland $981 / 2,1$. 2, 3, 5c; Seychelles Is. 2c red and yreen (the last for lc). Any of these will be supplied to members in good standing at above rate and postage.
