The fall months are at hand, and with them comes the busy season for the stamp dealer. Try an ad. in THE PHILATELIC LASSO. It is sure to pay.

A few U. S. adhesives that seem to be becoming rapidly scarcer: 1851, 5c.; 1860, 90c.; 1868, 90c. and 15c. 1869 without diamond.

With the July number of Stanley Gibbons' monthly the publishers give us quite a treat by reproducing, on their cover page, the likenesses of fifty-two of the most prominent philatelists of the world.

The Philatelic Lasso.

PUBLISHED BY

EDWARD C. BIGGAR, Fremont, Neb.

Subscription, 25 Cents per Year.

OCTOBER, 1892.

SALUTATORY.

With this number we begin the publication of a paper devoted to philately, which will be published occasionally hereafter. We will guarantee subscribers twelve numbers a year. Our advertising rates will be made known on application.

We are desirous of buying some old collections. We will give the highest possible price for any that contain stamps that we desire.

Mr. E. P. Newcomer says that owing to failing health, he will be compelled to discontinue his philatelic writing.

It is now positive that the Government is to issue a set of Jubilee stamps to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America. They will be for sale Jan. 1, 1893.

SOME GOOD ADVICE.

"Whew!" whistled the young collector, as he was looking over the collection of an older friend, "I wish I had as many stamps as you have."

"I've a good plan for you," exclaimed another young collector.

"Well, let's have it."

"Put some tomatoes in your album."

"Oh, bosh! What good would that do?"

"Why, you could 'catch-up' then. See?"

ODDITIES.

In all avocations of life paragons of grit, success, inefficiency and carelessness are to be found, but of the two last named, some of Uncle Sam's servants, known to the public as P. M's, and postal clerks are the most noted.

Not that they do not properly forward to their proper destination all mail matter, but, that apparently, little do they seem to care how the postage is paid. Almost anything, affixed to a package, bearing the least possible semblance to a postage stamp will pass muster before a cancelling clerk. Now to prove my assertion, let us take a view of the oddities now in my possession.

First, here is an envelope bearing on its left upper corner an engraving of the famous Confederate raider, John Morgan. Beneath the engraving is "Col. John Morgan", above "No. 15 Secesh Chain." This envelope bears a Confederate 10c. blue 1863 stamp used as a 2c. U. S. The postmark is very distinct, and I have been informed that the P. M. cancelling and forwarding this has been in the service for fourteen years.

Then here is a 2c. bank check, yellow, used as U. S. 2c. postage. Next is a 2c. internal revenue that did duty as U. S. postage.

Several envelope stamps cut round and pasted and used on other envelopes grace the collection.

But the climax is reached in an engraving of the Charleston local, red, on thick blue paper, that passed muster before the argus eyed (?) P. M., and after a long journey, reached its destination as though it bore the portrait of the father of his country.

Keep your eyes wide open, boys, and you will be rewarded.

E. T. Parker's price list No. 58 has been received.

This society is now in working ord and has about thirty members. It not connected in any way with a other society, but it is the belief of t founders to be the best thing for t collectors of a state to have an assoc tion of its own. You should become member of this society now. The fir question that arises in the minds of t inexperienced is: "What benefit will derive by joining this association Easily answered.

1. In the Exchange Department will find a place to exchange his dup cates for others. This is done throug a bureau of exchange, where he sen his sheets of stamps and in retur receives from the Exchange Superi tentend sheets from other collectors.

2. He will receive free use of t
