New Machine Perforation

The perforation, illustrated above, which has been in use by The Attleboro Stamp Co., during the past month, and in mailing this first number of The Attleboro Philatelist, has created considerable interest among those collecting the varieties of private perforations, therefore an explanation may be received with favor by our readers.

During July the Attleboro Stamp Co. gave orders for a stamp affixing machine that would affix stamps to the envelopes used in sending the Monthly Bargain List, issued by them at that time. It was first used in mailing the August number of the above named List and has been in use by them since that date. It has also been used in mailing this first number of The Attleboro Philatelist

This machine, unlike some others in affixing the stamp, does not moisten the stamp, but instead, gives the portion of the envelope, on which the stamp is to be placed, a positive wetting, which insures the stamp becoming more surely affixed. This will also be found to have the some effect in affixing the stamps in the usual way by licking the envelope instead of the stamp, and is practised by many in preference, particularly by those who are haunted with the idea that germs exist in the stamps and gum, from handling by the employees of the P. O. Department.

It will be noticed in the illustration that a very small V is shown at one end of each stamp. This is so placed as to hold the stamp when it is being form from the adjoining stamp, and will always be found at the bottom. Those having stamps used, will find, that in some instances, the two legs, which form the connection, are nearly, if not entirely, detached, this being caused by the tearing.

In some cases, the perforation will be found to have cut the design, which is almost impossible to overcome, owing to the variation of the spaces between the stamps, caused by an uneven shrinkage of the paper, during the process of gumming.

The stamps are secured from the Department in rolls of 500, attached endwise, imperforate. The rolls are constructed from the ordinary sheets of 400 stamps, the sheets being cut horizontally, or vertically, as the case may be, and attached by moistening the gum of one strip, and joining it to the front or printed side of the next strip. The strips contain 20 stamps each.

Hudson-Fulton Commemora-

A new 2c stamp is to be issued September 20th, to commemorate the Hudson-Fulton celebration to be held in New York Sept 25th to Oct. 9th. The stamp is oblong shape, about 7-8 by 1 3-8 inches in size. The design includes the inscription, "Hudson Fulton Celebration," at the top, with the dates, 1609 and 1909, immediately below on either side. Below this in a curved line, are the words, "U. S. Postage." At the boxtom, on each side, is an Arabic numeral 2, with the words, "Two Cents" in a panel between the figures. In the center is engraved a picture showing the palisades of the Hudson in the back. ground, with the Half Moon sailing up the river and the Clermont steaming in the opposite direction. In the foreground is an Indian in a canoe, and in the distance another canoe containing four Indians The stamp will be printed in the usual color and will be issued in sheets of 60 stamps each. They will not be issued in book form. There will be no issue of envelopes, newspaper wrappers or envelopes to commemmorate the event.

Newsygraphs

The new Scott's catalogue is reported to show many changes in prices, mostly upward.

The stamps of British, South Africa surcharged Rhodesia are showing up in used condition and make a very pretty set.

The long-delayed Russian commemoratives are slowly making their appearance. The 7 kop. should be easy to secure and the rest will follow soon.

King's Heads, issued during 1903 to 1906, still hold to high prices and will eventually go higher.

The stamps of British, North America are having quite a run at the present.

Mr. Frank Eldredge has faith in the A. P. and has signed contract for six months. Your turn next.

Mr. Eldredge has agreed to take charge of the Chronicle of New Issues and will be glad to receive from subscribers any info mation regarding new or projected issues, also any official notices.

In answering advertisers, please mention the A. P. The favor will be appreciated.

Mr. John R. Crawford, 5 Court street, Auburn, N. V, is preparing "The Philatelic Directory of the World." Deale's and collectors should send their names for listing. Philatelic publishers are requested to send sample copies of their publications.

Chronicle of New Issues

Early information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged by Frank B. Eldredge, 17 Jefferson Street, Altleboro, Mass.

ARGENTING REPUBLIC:—It has been reported that the ic and 50c stamp of the type showing portrait of Gen San Martin has been issued, perf. 13, 13 1-2, wink. Sun, the ic, is p inted in brown other and the 50c in black.

BULGARIA: Messrs. Whitfield, King & Co report the new provisional 25 on 30 stot., with the surcharge in blue.

C tink (RUSSIAN):—We have seen a new surcharge for this country chronicled, the new 50 kop. stamp of Russia being overprinted for offices maintained in China

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC:—A for value on the 1901 design has appeared on paper watermarked Cross & Rings and ptinted in purple perf. 14. Hyderbad:—Smith's Monthly Circular reports the addition of a 4a. value to the current issue and the same authority records the 3a., with Official overprint.

NETHERLANDS:—Meekels' Weekly Stamp News says that the provisional 4 on 6 1-2c postage due stamp, has been superceded by a definite issue, a 4c due stamp in the regular type, dark ultramarine and black.

NEW ZEALAND:—The 1-2d stamp of 1898 has oppeared overprinted for Official use. The stamp appears to have been re-engraved and is printed in a much darker shade of green. Type used on overprint same is on the 1907 issue.

NICARAGUA:—The 6c of the 1905 type printed in a new color, has also been surcharged for use in the Province of "Zelays," in a similar manner to the values already noted.

Obituary.

It is our painful duty to report the death of Mr. Alfred Dawson, who passed away August 30th at his home in Providence, R. I. Mr. Dawson was born in Scotland, January 12, 1837.

He served for 12 years in the 42nd Highlanders, "The Black Watch," passing through the Crimean war from beginning to end, and also the Sepoy Rebellion of 1857. In 1864 he came to the United States and has taken prominent part in the work of many soci-He was a charter member of the American Philatelic Association, member of the Chicago Philatelic Society, and was the originator of the Rhode Island Philatelic Society of Providence. Mr. Dawson made several attempts to become a stamp collector, first in 1859 while delivering letters to his regiment in India, making at that time a collection of 75 stamps, which were stolen by a native; second, in 1865, but as he had not yet got the collecting fever in earnest, he soon gave this one away. At the time of the great fire in Boston in 1872, he secured a hurned specimen, of which only the profile of Gen. Grant wa- left intact, and with this as a beginning, he formed a collection, which in 1890, was reported to contain 7000 varieties of stamps, 1200 envelopes, a few postal cards and 1500 revenues. Many interesting articles were contributed to the Philatelic Press by Mr. Dawson and will be found of interest at this day.

Are You With Us?

Among the many millions of people in Attleboro, there are fifty thousand (more or less), Stamp collectors. A stamp society is a necessity. These collectors are going astray and should be corralled and taught not to collect Seebacks and reprints. We (speaking for this vast multitude), have had a desire for a live Society and ask that you join us, not one of you, but all of you. Step right up, Gentleladies first. Address the publisher of this paper, who will see that you get ail you deserve. Do it NOW.

Notice.

We have discontinued our Monthly Bargain List, which we have issued for the past three months and the subscriptions received to date will be filled with twelve numbers of The Attleboro Philatelist, which, we trust, will be more enjoyable to our customers, and as we shall be represented each month in these pages, they will continue to receive the advantage of our offers, as in the past. Thanking vou one and all for your patronage in the past, and hoping to be favored with your future orders, we are

Use Judgment in Your Advertising.

In most cases advertisers are not careful enough in the selection of their advertising medium. This is important. Each paper has its place and the article to be advertised should be studied and great care exercised in making the selection, so that the returns will be paying. An advertiser cannot expect to run an ad once and continue to receive the business that would be forthcoming if he were represented each week or month in regular order. The readers will not remember an ad that appears only once, but the stayer will gradually attract the readers attention and then the real benefit of advertising will be in the returns.

In selecting the paper for your ads, see that others are advertising the same things that you have to off-r, and if others can make it pay, it is in all probability that your ad will pay as well.

The Attleboro Philatelist offers its columns to advertisers at a very low rate, considering the value of the space, and many have already sent contract for six months or a year.

It is up to you to look into this and any information required will be given on request.

With The Wits.

Philatelist—What is "philately?" Friend—A "fall alley" is a place where such fools as you go when you have no place else to go.

The A. P. S. Convention.

The Convention of the American Philatelic Society held at Atlantic City during the week of Aug. 23rd, proved to be a complete success. The attendance was far better than ever before, over 100 being present.

The St. Louis ticket was elected by a large majority. The following are the Governing Board for the ensuing year; Pre ident, Henry N. Mudge; Vice Predictions, F. R. Cornwell, A. Strauss and Chestar Myers; Secretary, H. S. Adair; Treasurer, Dr. W. P. Wherry; International Secretary, L. H. Kjellstedt.

The reports of the various officers for the past year were very f vorable, showing the Society to be in a flourishing condition. The pric d catalogue is to be considered and in all probability will be forthcoming soon. It was ecoded that the Publicity Committee should be known in the future as the Educational Committee, as the latter name seems more fit for this Board, it will no doubt be better understood by all. Meekeel's Weekly was re-elected Official Journal. In the future this will be voted for on official ballot. The next convention is to be held in Detroit, Mich.

M. P. A. Convention.

The Metropolitan Philatelic Association held its annual convention at Scranton, Pa., during the week of Aug. 23rd, with a large attendance, and enjoyed the various outings arranged by the Entertainment Committee.

The officers elected were as follows: President, A. W. Dunning; Vice President, William H. Hollenbach; Secretary Treasurer, Dr. H. A. Davis; Inter-national Secretary, A. H. Mattes; Sales Supt., L. V. Cass; Librarian, C. V. Webb; Fraud Investigator, T. O. Young; Supt Information Bureau, E. R. Aldrich, Advertising Mgr., C. P. DeKay; Attorney, H. A. Whipple; Auction Mer. B. L. Voorhees; Counterfeit Det-ctor, A. C. Stewart; Trustees, L. G. Quackeu-bush, L. Crandall and H. D. Munger, Redfield's Stamp Weekly was re-elected as Official Journal. The next convention is to be held at Binghampton, N. V. The movement to amalgamate the M. P. A., N. P. A. and S. P. A. was defeated by a very decided vote.

Booming.

The Hobby Club of Winnipeg, Canada, has not held its convention as yet, but if the good work of Original Kendall continues, it will not be many years before the Hobby club will have a place near the front ranks, and the convention will then be a thing of reality. O. K. is a hustler and deserves to succeed in his Hobby, The Hobby Club.

Sample Copy Fiends.

It is a mystery why philatelic publishers refuse to send sample copies of their publications when a collector makes request. As many names are not to be found in the directories, these names should be prized when received in this manner. One would not take the trouble to ask for a sample if not in the least interested, and in most cases the subscription will be forthcoming. The same publisher, who refuses to send a free sample copy, will take a directory and send a thousand copies or more to people, who in all brobability never heard of philately, the result being that the really interested applicant will send to another publisher and upon receipt of copy subscribe at once. Ask for sample copies of the Attleboro Philatelist and they will be sent cheerfully.

The Stamps of British East Africa

In the year 1890, the Imperial British East Africa Company, Ltd., issued its first set of stamps which were constructed by overprinting the 1d. 1881 type of Great Britain for the 1/24, value and the 5d. 1887 for the 4a, value.

The stamps were surcharged by Messrs. De la Rue & Co., the following number of each stamp being thus overprinted: 1/2a 1,440; 18, 1,440; 48, 780.

Only one variety is known to exist in this first issue, this being in the 1/2a; the tongue of the F in HALF appears to have been broken, causing it to have the appearance of the letter I. Great care should be exercised in the purchase of these stamps, as many well executed forgeries are said to have been made.

In the meantime a permanent set of stamps comprising of 1/2a.bistre-brown, 18. green, 2a. vermillion 4a. brown, and Sa blue; and 11. carmine, 2r. red, 3r. dull purple, 4r, ultramarine, and 5r. olive green, were ordered from Messrs. Bradbury, Wilkenson & Co., which were put on sale in October, 1890. The stamps were printed in sheets of sixty, on thin wove paper, perforated 14, the outside margins being left unperforated. The paper, which was supplied by Messrs. William Collins, Sons, & Co., bears a watermark spread over the entire sheet consisting of the letters, "W. C. S. & Co." in a monogram, and the words "PURE LINEN WOVE BANK," in a circle above and below. By reason of this watermark stamps may be found without any watermark whatever, but as there were only about eight stamps to the sheet that would have entirely escaped a part of the letters, it should not be hard to get copies with a portion of some letter showing.

In the second and third printing, they were on plain paper, without any watermark, and the outside edges were perforated.

During 1891 it was found necessary to have a stamp to prepay postage at the reduced rate to Great Britain. As a consequence a stamp of 21/2a, value was issued, the color being black on yellow. Later in the year 1890, 1500 8a, and 2100 Ir stamps were printed in a shade of grey that were so nearly the same as to cause considerable trouble to distinguish them when in use for revenue purposes for which they were intended. These were soon turned to postal use and owing to the small number printed are quite rare.

Stamps of this issue found with the overprint "INLAND REVENUE" were intended for fiscal use only, and any found with postal cancellation were not available for postage at any time.

A variety caused by a damaged plate will be noticeable in the lower part of the central design, in the words "Light and Liberty," the D in the word "and" having the appearance of the letter L.

New Issue For Portugal

(We are indebted to Q. A. Castro for the following information, Ed.) $\,$

By a decree of August 19th, published in the Official Gazette August 26th, a new issue of stamps comprising fourteen different values was authorized as follows:

Adhesives

Postal Cards

tor, green to x 10, 20r, purple 20 x 20

Letter Cards

25r. dark brown on yellow 25 x 25

25r dark brown on yellow, 50r. blue on yellow

The current stamps will continue in use until June 30, 1910 in Portugal and up to October 31st of the same year in Madeira and Azores. Upon expiration of that time the old stamps may be exchanged at the mint up to December 30, 1910, and April 30, 1911 in the Islands.

In the letter cards the name will be altered from "Cartas Postale" to "Bil-

lete Carta,"

Chronicle of New Issues

Early information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged by Frank B. Fldredge, 17 Jefferson Street, Attleboro, Mass.

Hudson-Fulton

Collectors may now make an addition to their collection by the 2c stamp issued to commemorate the Hudson-Fulton Celebration, held in New York, September 25th to Oct. 9th. This stamp was placed on sale at the U. S. Post Offices Sept. 25th. At some offices the supply was limited to ten copies to a customer, but at the local office any number could be secured. As fifty million of these stamps were issued, there should be enough for all.

There has been considerable controversy regarding the issuing of this stamp in unperforated form. We are in receipt of a letter from the Acting Third Assistant Postmaster General, under date of Sept. 27th, wherein it is stated that the stamps will be issued in unperforated condition for use in stamp vending machines in sheets of 240 stamps.

New 12c Stamp

A new stamp is to be issued by the Post Office Department as a result of the increase in the registration fee, which is to be roc after Nov. 1, 1909. This requires a stamp of 12c value which is the denomination of the new stamp. The 13c stamp, used at the present time for 1-tters to foreign countries, will no doubt be withdrawn, as the current 15c stamp, will answer this purpose.

Editorial

It is usually the custom to offer some sort of an apology when presenting a new publication to the public. We refrained from doing so in our first number and feel it is unnecessary at this date to take what might be considered a backward step. If you consider the A. P. on the right road remember your subscription will count as one, which will help to carry us over the hill.

The prizes offered in the first number created considerable interest among the younger class and the old birds (Experienced Philatelists), are not far behind, as everyone is desirous of getting something for nothing. It must not be thought that the prizes are composed of Seebecks and Continentals as such is not the case. Many stamps are cat. 10c to 25c and some higher. Remember every subscriber is entitled to one of the premiums offered on another page. It's up to you. next to a good thing. Others are doing it. You can.

We have received but few answers from local collectors in regard to forming a stamp society in Attleboro. It is up to you to get busy, and anything we can do to help push it along will be done cheerfully.

Mr. W. O. Wylie, who will be remembered by members of the Boston Philatelic Society, as the man who "antidoped" the trozen pudding at the last Anniversary Celebration, visited Attleboro, Sept. 30th, speaking before a large audience in the interests of the Prohibition Party. Mr. Wylie is secretary of the Massachusetts State Prohibition Committee and an ardent worker in their behalf.

Vol. I, No. 1, is certainly a very creditable publication. - [Meekeel's Weekly Stamp News.

The paper is neatly printed and well arranged eight paper and the reading matter is very good indeed.—[Redfield's Stamp Weekly.

This is undoubtedly one of the best stamp journals started this year-[The Philatelic Star.

The initial number of the Attleboro Philatelist has come to hand. It presents a creditable appearance.—[The Stamp Journal.

The above is what others think. What do you think? Send your subscription which will show that you think likewise.

We notice a decided change in appearance in the Oct. 2d number of Redfield's Stamp Weekly, the reading matter being set in 6 point, instead of 8 point, as in the past. We hope it will continue in this manner, as it is certainly a great improvement.

Notice

The next number of the A. P. will be a special and all advertising copy must reach here before the first of the month to receive proper attention. Advertising space is going fast. Have you signed for yours? If not, why not? Here are a few reasons why you should get busy:

When you cease to advertise, collectors conclude something is the matter with your business.

A stamp business is judged by its advertising.

Advertising is not a side issue. It is a necessity of the stamp business.

He who says advertising doesn't pay, will find his business doesn't pay.

An Official Badge

This is a subject which has received considerable advertising through the Philatelic Press, the latest coming to our notice being in the last number of the Hartford Philatelist. The A. P. S. seems rather slow to take this matter in hand, as it should. Other societies have their emblems, societies not one-half, nor one-quarter as large and flourishing as ours.

Our of the seventeen hundred odd members, it should be possible to find enough to be willing to stand the expense, which would be small, to allow a suitable badge to be "got out."

The Publisher would be pleased to hear from members, stating the amount of money they would be willing to pay, and, being located in the jewelry center of the United States, could secure these at the lowest possible price.

In our next issue will be shown a few suitable designs for an A. P. S. badge and we wish fellow members would ex-

The Almighty Dollar.

It is a settled fact that the dollar is mighty in nearly all walks of life, whether the one possessing it (or better them) is a stamp collector or a broker. Possession being the height of our ambition. The sign of a dollar is the hallmark of success as comprehended by the average person of today, a few others are persistent in considering it the badge of social supremacy.

In olden times the Crusaders bore on their banners the cross of Christ and the motto "In hoc signo vinces" (In this sign we conquer); but today the crusa ders are marshalled under the banner of the Almighty Dollar.

A mere piece of paper representing five of these dollars would hardly be rejused by anyone having the least trace of the stamp collectors instinct, yet few stop to consider the origin of the word 'Dollar.' The first U.S. stamp to bear the value of dollar was in 1893 when the memorable Columbian issue made its appearance, since that date, no less than five issues have included the dollar value.

The Dollar has an interesting history, being first coined under that name in 1789, Shakepeare coined the name which appears in Macbeth:

He dispursed at St. Colmes inch Ten thousand dollars to our general use

Although the words were employed by Shakespeare, it was over two hundred and fifty years before the first (and last) English dollar was struck, which was in 1804. The question then arises where did he get it? This is simple to explain.

About four hundred years ago, or to be exact, in 1490 the Count of Schlick coined, from silver mined at Joachimshal (Joachim's valley), some ounce pieces which were called Joachim's thaters, after the place from which they were coined. Later, to shorten the name, they were referred to as tualers, hence the German thaters (low German, dather) to the Anglicized form of dollar.

The origin of the dollar mark is not so easily explained as several explanations are offered, but none are entirely satisfactory.

The most common one is that the mark descended from the letters U. S., which were in use on Federal currency, and, in the hurry of writing, became "mixed" forming the $. However, a convincing testimony is lacking.

A better theory dates back to before the union of the States, each province controlled its own paper currency which was in pounds, shillings and six-pence.

The metallic currency being in Spanish dollars, the value of which were eight reals, called "pieces of eight." The figure "8" was used to signify eight reals shown between two perpendicular lines. Thus it was found convenient when later the United States adopted the dollar as the money unit, to continue the use of the old cancelled figure 8, so we now have the $\sqrt{s}$.

It is well to get acquainted with the intrincic dollar as there is always more ways of spending them than of gathering them. In spending a dollar be sure to get your dollar's worth, this is growing more of a problem every year. The words of two visitors at Mt. Vernon will be well to remember; the first gentleman remarked that it had been said that George Washington, standing on the lawn, could throw a dollar clear across the Potomac, "Quite likely," said his companion, "A dollar went farther in those days than now."

The Pleasures of Stamp Collecting.

Winter is almost here again, the days are getting shorter and the nights longer, and many, when the cold winds and storms send a chill over them, long for "The Good Old Summer Time" when they can stay out evenings listening to a band boucert and being chewed by mosquitos. But it is not so with a stamp collector, for the winter season brings him long hours for work which are full of interest and pleasure, and hours, the work of which in years to come will still be a source of interest and profit.

Let us take the beginner and see if we can give any information of value It is now time to bring out your album and fill some of the blank spaces. Perhaps, during the summer months just past, you have picked up, here and there, several stamps of different countries and stored them away in some book or draw-First, they must be assorted according to the country to which they belong in doing this the stamps must be handjed a good deal, and this brings to mind the words of a well known philatelist; "The best way to handle a stamp is not to handle it at all," as we know not what stamp, perhaps worth a few cents today, in a few years may be worth dolars, and as the price of the stamp depends much on its condition, by all means get some "tweezers" which may be procured from any dealer at a small

Now we come to the examination of each stamp, some are clean and ready for the album, while others have parts of the envelopes sticking to them which must be removed, so next we have the problem of the best way to remove this superfluous paper. Many stamps are printed in colors which are liable to run, if they are soaked in water, such as the stamps of Russia and the chalky paper stamps of Great Britain and Colonies, so one of the best ways is to place the stamp on some damp blotting paper and, while it takes a little longer than soaking, it is less liable to injure the stamp.

It is good policy to join some good stamp society and subscribe for a few good philatelic papers, as you can then keep in touch with fellow collectors and be posted in all things for the benefit of yourself and your hobby; and above all give thanks, (especially at this season) that you have become a philatelist, and get your friends to become interested that they may enjoy the pleasures as well as yourself.

J. J. Jeffrey sends us the pareiculars regarding the manner employed by a large Mail Order Pranting Co. to secure the return of stamps used in mailing printed matter (in each package sent out by them a small slip, with the following printing thereon, is attached:—

Notice.

RETURN to us the cancelled stamps on this package and you will receive 25 printed envelopes, FREE, PPD.

This is certainly a novel idea and it is evident that a philatelist is in some way connected.

The average collector experiences more or less difficulty in distinguishing between thick and thin paper in stamps when the difference will effect the value of the stamp under consideration. Micrometer, one with a ratchet stop preferred, will be found invaluable to ascertain the exact thickness, which may be determined as fine as one quarter of a thousand of an inch. To secure the best possible advantages of the micrometer, a few stamps that are of decidedly thin and thick paper, should be measured, the readings recorded for ref. erence and then when the puzzler arrives a semple gauging will decide the question by referring to to the measurements of the thick and thin stamps. The stamps of many British Colonies gauge about three thousands of an inch while some of the U. S: stamps gange four thousands.

A. H. Kiusalas informs us that Russia is to issue a set of stamps in 1913, to celebrate the three hundredth anniversary of the house of Romonoff, the family name of the Russian Emperor. The stamps will be designed and decorated by the best Russian Artists and will bear the portraits of Emperor Nicholas II; Alexander II; Alexander III; Peter the Great; Catharine II; Alexy Michailovich and Michel Predowvitch.

The Scott's Catalog shows many advances in prices both in used and unused. Q. A. Castro gives us a few figures regarding the increase in the stamps of Portugal and Colonies, which show these interesting countries are not a bad investment. The total advance in price over 1909 in unused stamps is $16.61, used $5.47. Total drop in unused $1 03, used $3.54. This shows a total increase of both used and unused of $15.51. The most noticable of the reduction in price is the 20 reis of the 1870 issue of Azores, which was last year $5.00 in used condition, and is this year priced at $3.00.

The Morning Leader of Regina, Sask, Canada, supports a philatelic column conducted by Samuel Golder, which does the publication great credit. Philately is taking a desided hold in Canada and we learn that Regina is to have a Philatelic Society of her own in the near future, this will be a boon to collectors residing in the vicinity, offering as it will, many advantages which they do not now enjoy.

Esperanto speaking collectors of the world is making a campaign for new members, and anyone interested may recure information and application blanks from the Secretary, Clarence V. Webb, Perry, O.

The Stamps of British East Africa.

The Hand Stamped Provisionals.

The Haud Stamped Provisionals are probably the most interesting and are certainly the rarest of all stamps issued in this country. Owing to a sudden shortage of the 1/2 anna and 1 anna stamps, local overprinting was resorted to without the authority of the London Officials, where very little is known of them to this day.

The stamps of the 1891 issue were used for surcharging, 1,075 of the 2 anna being converted into 1/2 anna, and a very few, the exact number not being known, of the 4 annas for 1 anna. The overprint was in violet and each stamp bears the initials A. D., which stands for Andrew Dick, or A. B., standing for Archibald Brown. The initials were added by hand as a sort of indorsement, as it was thought that the stamps would not be recognized unless this was done.

In the 1/2 anna it is evident that "12 anna" was first printed and the fraction bar added later by hand.

These stamps will be found postmarked, "Mombasa" and "Lamu," Lamu being an island port north of Mombasa which was maintained as a suboffice but which had no regular postoffice.

Complete List of Precancelled Stamps.

In the December number of the Attleboro Philatelist will appear, for the first time, a complete list of all U.S, precancelled stamps issued since January 1, 1908. The list will be compiled by Frank B. Eldredge, who is one of the best known authorities on these interesting stamps. Send your subscription at once and insure your receiving this number, which in itself will be worth the price.

Editorial

The exchanges of The Attleboro Philatelist will greatly oblige by sending one copy to Frank B. Eldredge, 17 Jefferson St., and a second to the publication office. We will reciprocate with two copies in every case.

In the past, we have begun subscriptions with the first number, numbers 1 and 2 being exhausted, all subscriptions in the future must begin with the current number.

How do you like our new size? It is our hope to continue the present size, and, if the returns warrant, more pages will be added. Our first aim is to give our readers quality and then quantity.

Not a few have asked us during the mouth, if we would accept stamps in payment for space in the A. P. We wish it thoroughly understood that we do not, under any conditions, take stamps. The columns of the A. P. are offered at a very low cash rate, considering the circulation, which is among the most energetic class of collectors in America.

The Collectors' Journal makes its appearance after a lapse of nearly two months. We hope the publishers will double up and let us have this excellent journal on time in the near future.

The question is "Where to advertise?"
Answer: In the Attleboro Philatelist.
If you don't believe it, ask our advertisers; they know.

We regret that the suitable designs for an A. P. S. badge, which we promised to appear in this issue, were not ready in time, however, we can assure our readers that next month will include them in our columns. The designs are at hand, having been executed by the C. M. Robbins Co. of our city, who are considered the largest manufacturers of class pins, badges and similar jewelry.

Mail Robbed of Thousands.

A correspondent informs us that on November 5, a rifled mail bag was found by a farmer lad in a cornfield near Telona, Ill.

It is believed that the bag contained several thousand dollars worth of Express and Post Office money orders, many have already been cashed in Chicago, and out of the two thousand odd letters opened it is thought that a goodly sum was secured in ready cash.

The Post Office Inspectors and Secret Service Officers are at work on the case but as yet no clue as to the identity of the robbers has been found.

At Telona the mails are transferred from the Wabash trains to the trains of the Illinois Central and it is thought that the bag was stolen while awaiting the transfer on the platform at Telona.

From Over the Border.

By Our Canadain Correspondent,

Mr. Samuel Golder.

The annual report of the Canadain Postmaster General, just issued, and Sovering the last fiscal year, contrasts vastly with the United States record of the same department. Whilst one shows a huge loss on the workings, the other is a steady increase of profit making allalong the line. And Canada has not issued any so called Commemorative issues—barring of course, the Tercentenary issue, which have long since been disposed of, although none of them were issued inperforate.

The Post Office Department shows a profit of $809,237, in expenditure. During the year, the number of letters and post cards handled in the mail, increased by 18,905,000, or over 4 per cent, as compared with the preceding year. The number of post offices increased by 656, and there was an increase of 2,034 miles in extent of the system over which the mails were carried. The stamp issue totalled $9.916,011, an increase of $530,-000, or a little more than 6 per cent. The introduction of the one cent drop letter rate in cities was responsible for a very large increase in letters for local delivery. The number of one cent stamps issued was $1,326,000.

Newfoundland is now placed on the same terms as Canada as regards cheap postage rates with the Mother Country. Postmaster General, the Right Honorable Sydney Burton, announces in the British House of Commons, that he was pleased to say that he had come to an agreement with Great Britain's oldest Colony in reference to extending the advantages of the Canadain magazine post to Newfoundland, and that, in view of the particular local circumstances, the postage of magazines, newspapers and trade journals from Great Britain, would he reduced from eight cents to two cents per pound. The whole loss of the reduction of postage, as in the case of Canada, would fall on the British post office, while the Newfoundland Government, like the Dominion Government, would undertake the cost of sea transit.

Regina, the capitol of Saskatchewan, contains many enthusiastic philatelists, and collecting is very much in fashion just now. The largest and most valuable collection is owned by Mrs. McIllree, and is said to be one of the best in Can-This enthusiastic lady collector is the happy possessor of all the British North American stamps, with the exception, I think, of the rare twelve pence black. Dr. Morell, too, is an enthusiast in the philatelic world, although his busy medical practice no longer allows him time to devote to his hobby. The doctor was, at one time, Secretary of the Toronto Philatelic Society, and counterfeit detector of the old Canadian Philatelic Society. published, way back in the eighties, the first stamp collectors directary in the Dominion. Our City Magistrate, too, William Trant, has also been an ardent collector. He started collecting in the early fifties, and publically exhibited in 1861, his collection being specially mentioned in an article in Canadain Men and Women of Our Times. Amongst the Government offices staff many collectors are to be found, all with more less large or small collections, but all enthusiastic, the most energetic, perhaps, being Mr. T. Parker, who is a firm believer in bringing up his children philatelically, being convinced of the educational and historical knowledge to be acquired in a profitable and delightful recreation.

Captain Cummings of the Salvation Army, is another collector, and rejoices in a superb collection of Dutch Indies and Mexican entires. With so much good material to work on, the proposed Philatelic Society for the Province of Saskatchewan should prove a success.

Directly the snow flies, a meeting is to be called and the subject will be thoroughly discussed and the project I firmly believe, placed on a firm basis.

Following the example set by the United States Post Office Deparement, the Dominion has recently issued the two cent stamp unperforated, presumably for the use of the various patented devices for vending stamps and rapid mailing purposes. Up to the present time, I have not heard of any such machines being in use in the country, and have not met with any postally used specimens unperforated, except a few that collectors in the district have mailed on their own correspondence. I am told that no more will be issued after the present supply has been exausted. The present lot has been eagerly bought up by collectors and dealers.

The half cent Canadain stamp is doomed, the officials of the post office department announcing that the demand is not large enough to warrant the issue. There are plenly of the Queen's head issue available at nearly all the post-offices, so it will be a long time before they will be classed in the rare category.

What Does it Mean?

From across the pond comes the news that the demand for perfectly centered and lightly cancelled stamps has somewhat abated. What does this mean? Is it to be understood that our English friends are neglecting their collections? Not much! Philately is not on the wane. It is simply this:

During the past few years, the majority of collectors have been striving to obtain only perfect copies of every stamp placed in their album, and, as a consequence, have reached the conclusion that to do this would not only take an enormous amount of money but that it is almost impossible to get all stamps in a condition bordering on perfection.

New issues have been supplied at attractive prices, and of course, these always have the full allowance of gum, and, in most cases, are fairly well centered. Many collectors, who first felt the effects of the "perfection craze," took up the collecting of these as it afforded a new line, and besides, satisfied their desire for the perfect condition.

Mow that the newness of receiving new issues is over, a new craze must be created. The question is, what shall it be?

Q. A. Castro, 110 Wickenden St. Prov. idence, R. I., age legal. Reference, Frank E. Hewitt, Frank B. Eldredge. Proposed by Secretary.

If you are a wide awake collector of stamps get in touch with your fellow enthusiasts by joining the Universal Philatelic Association. The liveliest of its kind in America. The U. P. A. offers to its members a sales department that is unexcelled for service. It is the most up to date in every manner, being conducted on entirely new principles which will insure the buyer or seller the most efficient service. The sample leaf enclosed with this number of the A. P. will give those interested an idea of the method to be employed. The leaves may be secured from the Sales Superintendent, at the low price of 5c per dozen, this allows of the mounting of 120 stamps at a cost of only 5c, which is 8 lower rate than is offered by any other organization of a similar nature.

The leaves when properly filled, complying with the rules on the reverse of leaf, may be sent to the Superintendent by whom the leaves will be bound in a special binder made expressly for the U. P. A. Sales Department, and will then be circulated to the members desiring to participate in the Department. The binders have been constructed with the object in view of reducing the postage on circuits, being of a strong but light material, therefore the advanced rate for registration will have little effect on the circuits of the U. P. A.

For any further information regarding the Sales Department, you are invited to address the Sales Superintendent.

Application blanks will be furnished free to these desiring to join the Association. Those who have already subscribed to The Attleboro Philatelist need send but 25c.

The Precancelled Stamps of 1908 and 1909

By F. B. Eldredge

The collecting of precancelled stamps as a side line has been taken up by a large number of U. S. collectors during the past few years, and, since the advent of the present issue, the interest has more than doubled.

At the time the printed permits were introduced, it was thought that the end of the precaucelled stamp was at hand, but such has not been the case.

It is still a question as to the date of the first precancel, several making claim of being the originator.

On the wall of the office of Ex-Postmaster Gordon, hangs a sheet of what by claims to be the first precaucelled hamps, issued at the Chicago Postoffice.

This can hardly be, as I have seen the i887 precaucelled Burlington, Vt.

The oldest to my knowledge is the 3c 1851 which was used on letters carried the Adams and Wells-Fargo Express companies.

However, it is not my intention to mentionany but those issued since Jan. 1908, and it is very doudtful if the list implied includes all varieties to date and such stamps as I have, or have had my possession, being noted.

In the future, additions to this list will a made in the Chronicle of New Issues, in I should be thankful to my readers they would send copies of any new interies which they may secure, and the credit will be given unless otherwise structed. If desired, all copies will be atturned immediately.

By Philo.

We are beginning to be used to seeing He words "50 to 60 per cent below catogue," and we are never surprised hen we see 75 per cent below catalogue. ascounts will always be heavy on cerin stamps, for the simple reason that le dealer may have a stock of a certain the which he must realize on immedi. ely, when these stocks are distributed, nestamp goes to its true value. A stamp dered at 50 to 75 per cent below catague may be worth full catalogue des te the efforts of some dealer to make illectors believe either the stamp is orth less than cotalogue, or that they te giving them a free present. Bartins there certainly ars, but the writer notes few bargains of the rare old issues, say of U. S. or B. N. A.

Heavy percentages are also often given in order to secure the trade of the collector. We imagine very few dealers are in the business simply "for their health" or love of the hobby. For every stamp sold at half catalogue, there are five stamps that no dealer can supply, even at full catalogue. How many of us have sent want lists in, only to have the scarcer ones marked out as "not in stock". By "scarcer" I do not mean "dearer" or even "rarer"—but simply a class of stamps that will not stand any half catalogue quotations.

Dealers are satisfied with a reasonable profit, when they are long on certain stamps they are short on cash.

Too many catalogues fix prices for used as well as unused stamps which they never had in stock, and never could supply. The universal law of supply and demand regulate prices everywhere, and because a stamp is offered at half catalogue is not to say that is about its true value.

On account of the great variety of stamps and the impossibility of a dealer carrying a big stock of every known variety, there are always some who have big stocks of certain values, and who ean afford to give these at half catalogue.

The sale of the Koch and Miraband collections, both sold in Paris, within the past year or so, show plainly that many old issues sell for 50 to 150 per cent above catalogue. The buyers knew they could not get them cheaper. No dealer can keep on selling good, rare stamps at 25 to 50 per cent below catalogue. If he did, the catalogues would show a drop in price,—that's certain.

If the catalogues would take notice of these half catalogue stamps and put them down in price, and raise up in price the rare issues, that no dealer is able to get "a stock," then we still believe there would be dealers offering 50 to 75 per cent stuff just the same.

The Stamps of British East Africa

Manuscript Provisionals.

Having run short of 1-2a, and 1a, stamps, a supply sufficient for immediate needs were made by overprinting the 2a vermillion, 3a, black on red, and 4a, brown of the 1890-91 issae. The surcharging was done at Mombasa but it is not known just how many were issued. The first stamp to appear was the 1-2a. on 3a., sometime in January, 1891. Then in May of the same year followed the la. on 4a., and in April still more of the 1-2a. this time on the 3a. These stamps were initialed A. B. as in the Hand Stamped Provisionals. During June a second supply of the 1a. was made by overprinting the 3a., these were initialed V. H. M. by Victor H. Mackenzie.

In November, 1894, Messrs. Bradbury, Wilkinson & Co., of London, sent eighteen hundred 5a. on 8a. bright blue, and an equal number of 7 1-2a. on 1r. carmine. Seven hundred of each value were later sent to Berne thus leaving but eleven hundred stamps of each value issued.

Sometime in December, 1894, two permanent values were issued, a 5a. black on gray blue, and 7 1-2a. black on white, these were printed by Messrs. Bradbury, Wilkinson & Co., on unwatermarked paper, the outer edges of the marginal stamps being perforated. Sixty thousand of each value were issued.

Second Issue Manuscript Provisionals.

Again in February, 1895, a sudden shortage of 1-2a, stamps caused the Postmaster at Mombasa to resort to surcharging, 2,000 1-2a, on 3a, black on red were overprinted and initialed T. E. C. R. by Mr. Remington who was at that time acting as postmaster, having been sent to this district from London. At a later date a very few 1a. on 3a. black on red were issued in the same manner but the exact number is not known.

This ended the issues of the Imperial British East Africa Company and on July 1st, 1895, this district was taken over by the British Government and given the name of British East Africa Protectorate.

The Hawaii 1853 Issue

By TIMBRO.

The 5 cent and 13 cent 1853 of the Hawaiian Islands have seen considerable price changing in recent years, but always on an upward tendency. These stamps bear the half-length portrait of King Kamehameha III in a General's full uniform. The original sheets consisted of twenty stamps, all different from each other, as each stamp on the plate was engraved separately.

In 1889 reprints were made, but as these were made from re-engraved plates they differed from the original-in many ways easily distinguishable. The 1853 issue is on thick white wovepaper and the 5 cent blue is priced at $50.00 for the unused and $30.00 for a used specimen by Scott's 1910 Stanley Gibbons also price the unused specimen of the 5 cent value at $50.50 but quote 100 pounds (or $487.00) at the value of a used specimen.

Just why Scott's should quote $30 for a used copy and the other catalogues quote over 16 times tha amount is one of the mysteries o philately. A genuinely used speciment is undoubtedly a great rarity.

A complete original sheet of the 33 dark blue 5 cent consisting of 20 arieties, dark blue on ordinary wove mer, with full margins and original gim, with a guarantee of its genuinemess, was offered to the writer, in a circular received from London in Janmary last, for the modest sum of SC2.50.

The second stamp on the sheet is the rare variety-with vertical line before the word "Five." I thought at the time the sheet was offered that something was wrong, but I have had musons to since regret not having purchased same.

The 13 cent dark red is quoted by Scott's at $18.00 for unused and $25.00 for used, whilst Stanley Gibbons quotes $10.00 for the unused and does not give any price for a used specimen. Here again is a wide discrepalicy. A genuine used specimen ought to be worth $500.00. The 1855 issue on thin paper and the 1864 issue of The 5 cent are worth from $3.00 to $10.00 each.

Editorial

Here we are, right on tick with the goods. Just spend a few moments looking over the offers of our numerous advertisers and then patronize them. You can feel sure of a square deal as we stand back of them. Many real bargains will be found each month in the columns of the A. P. and if you will mention the name in your answer it will add to the promptness of filling orders.

The prize contest closes on the 10th, but the names of the winners cannot be given until next month. So far the subscriptions received have exceeded our expectations and they still come with every mail.

Alas! An error crept into our columns last month which we wish to correct. The credit of the article from our Canadian correspondent should have been given to Mr. Steple en Golder. We beg that Mr. Golder forgive us this once and will use care not to repeat it in the future.

The cover space is to let on yearly contract. Prices will be given on application. Contracts for less than one-quarter page are respectfully declined.

One thousand dollars will be spent during the next few months to make the A. P. one of the best "ALL STAMP" monthlies in the country. Will you help? If you are an advertiser you can do no better than to place your offers before the large number of readers. If a collector you will never regret the investment of 25 cents for a year of the A. P. The circulation will be increased each month hereafter and anyone who has received three numbers as samples will be omitted from next month's mailing list. Are you among them?

Press Review

Under this heading we shall endeavor to return the courtesy extended us by the several publications during the past few months. They will be taken in alphabetical order as far as the limited space will permit.

The first in order is the "Hobbyist," Vol. 1, No. 11. In the November numher we find an interesting article by Dr. Carrol Chase, "Watermarks on the 1847, 1851 and 1857 United States Adhesives." This is a subject which has received very little if any, attention through the philatelic press and of which few of the present day collectors are acquainted. "Then and Now," by Henry J. Crocker, "Short Philatelic Studies," by Wm. E. Ault, "Advance in Stamp Values" by Johny Cannuck and two letters from correspondents, are not without interest. The Junior Department conducted by Harry L. Perkins, gives considerable good sound advice for the young collector, and the report of the Hobby Club shows 51 applications for membership. Rather a large number for a club so young.

THE NEW YORK PHILATEL-IST:—The November number consists of four pages 6 by 9 in. Eight pages are promised for next month and an addition of two pages each month thereafter. We faithfully hope it will improve with each number and have a long and useful life.

THE PHILATELIC STAR:— The leading article, "Our Early Postal System," by J. Clifford Safley, gives an interesting account of the method employed by our early postal system before the establishing of a line of regular post offices by Benj. Franklin, from Maine to Savannah, Ga. This explains why Ben has his face (Continued on page 19)

Not'in doin.' The A. P. goes to a well informed class of readers.

We draw attention to the Auction Sale in another column, of the Hooper Collection, to be sold by the Philadelphia Stamp Co., consisting of over one thousand lots of Canada, B. N. A., U. S. and Colonials. This stuff is in demand, and every collector or dealer should send in a bid for this kind of stock, easily saleable at all times.

The ads of Geo. H. Brown, Foster & McManus and J. H. Mills, Jr., contain some very good offers, Look them up.

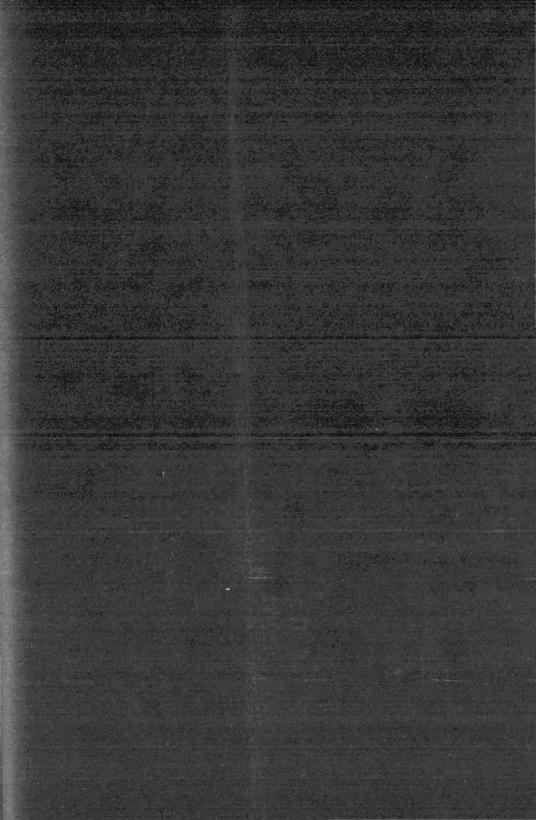

F. B. Eldredge has signed for a quarter page of cover space and next month will see him duly justailed. Who's next?

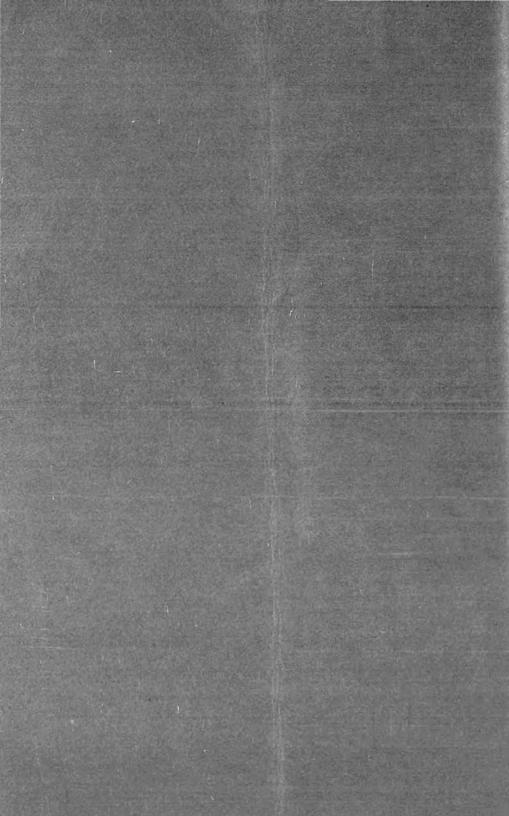

The Red Cross Christmas Stamps are barred from Great Britain, Orange River Colony, Rhodesia, Transvaal, and, to a certain extent, from Germany. The last named accept such articles as have the stamp on the back of the parcel. The name and address of sender should be on all letters sent to foreign countries if these stamps are used.

A Comparison of Stamp Values By Philo

Very few collectors compare leading catalogs to note the market or current prices of stamps, yet, to the mind of many advanced collectors and specialists, this part of the hobby is one of very great interest, not alone from the commercial side of the question, but as a matter of interest.

The rise in stamp values has been gradual to some stamps—a few cents a year, whilst in others the prices are nearly doubled in two or three years.

The universal law of supply and demand governs the stamp market today just as it governs the market of any other marketable commodity.

The two great factors in making or denoting the prices for stamps in the English-speaking countries are Stanley-Gibbons Co., and the Scott Stamp & Coin Co. The former is probably the best and most used for Great Britain, Canada and all British Colonies, whilst the latter is best for the U. S. and South and Central America.

The difference in price for various tamps of British North America is most striking, and this is taken as an example to show collectors the variance and upward trend of 1910 prices.

The different stamps compared in these 1910 catalogs shows a discrepancy entirely favorable to the rapid advance of the obsolete stamps, particularly the pence issues of Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Quotations are for used specimens only;—

Very few collectors really know the difference between this issue and the one directly preceding it. Of course the 1, 2, 5, 7 and 20 cent stamps can be readily told by their new colors. The 3 cent stamp, however, is not so easily distinguished. In the standard catalog the 3 cent 1893-95 issue is given as lilac gray, while the 3 cent 1896 is known as grey lilac. How many can tell the difference between these two colors? Besides, both these stamps come in shades which are almost identical. If one looks more closly at the stamps of the two series, however, the following differances will be noted. In the re-engraved issue "C" of cent is not so well rounded, being taller and thinner and much more open. Also, the letters of the inscription "Republic D' Haiti" are not as tall and appear to be more spread out on this issue than on the preceding one. Finally there is a dol separating the "D" and "H" of "D' Haiti" on the 1896 stamps instead of an oblique dash as in the former issue. There are minor differences in the figures of value of the series as well as differences in shading, but it is not necessary to go into these here.

The Passing of a Monarch

The death of Leopold II, King of the Belgians was announced at an early hour December 17, 1909.

Leopold II, son of Leopold I, and Louis Philipe, was born at Brussels, April 9, 1835. The days of his youth were spent among the most common class of people at Lacken, and at an early age he began a somewhat wild life which had a tendency to make itself apparent at frequent intervals during after years. Very little attention was given to his education, and in spite of this in later years he proved to be an able financier.

He was one of few who had the appearance of a king, being six feet four inches in height and possessing a very rigid countenance, which repelled advances of a friendly nature, in fact he had few friends. He was very inttelligent and a fluent talker, but was lacking in the personal gifts such as would attract mankind.

In 1853 as Crown Prince of Belgium, he was married to Archduchess Marie Henriette of Austro-Hungary, and became King of the Belgians, December 10, 1865.

It was his ever uppermost desire for work and gain that caused him to undertake the founding of the Independent State of Congo, better known as Congo Free State. It was in 1885 that he became sovereign of this distant state, and from that time it caused continual financial strain and no end of trouble. both at home and among the natives of the state. Many horrible tales are told of the cruelty toward the natives but has perhaps been depicted in a more appalling manner that really existed.

Permit me to say that I am much pleased with the results of my advertising in the A. P so far, the replies indicating that your paper has a wide circulation.

(Signed) C. H. Nammack.

Editorial

There are still a few would-be advertisers who persist in sending ad. copy without the necessary cash remittance. We treat everyone alike; whether it is the firm with a large capital and large stock or the smallest, eash must accompany all want and transient advertisements, and reference will be required from those not known to us. All advertisers are guaranteed, therefore, the disadvantage of competing with fake advertisers is overcome. If contract is signed bills will be sent on date of pub lication and must be settled immediately. The present low rates will be in effect until March 1, 1910; thereafter the rates will be doubled. By giving this timely notice of advance in rates everyone is allowed sufficient time to place trial ad in the February number and if sausfactory contract will be accepted at the present rates, providing same is received before March 1, 1910.

Several queries are to hand regarding a Precancel Society that has been. We are not posted on this point and wish our readers would put us wise. Our columns are open to anything relative to these interesting stamps and we feel that something should be done toward forming a Precancel Society in 1910.

Has anyone seen the A. P. S. Quarterly?

The record price of 24,500 pounds paid by W. H. Peckitt of London for the Avery collection makes the present stock of Mr. Peckitt one to be envied by any dealer. We are in receipt of a good sized folio from Mr. Peckitt, which is no doubt intended as a Christmas present, giving an account of the Trials of Sir William B. Avery, Bart., in securing this The booklet, if magnificent collection. we may be allowed to call it thus, is of a fine gloss finish paper and is bound in a light cover, which adds to its attractiveness. The frontispiece gives us an opportunity to examine the features of the late owner and following is a brief outline of how the rarities were obtained. The words of Sir William B. Avery will suffice to encourage the specialist who has been "up against it" for some lacking variety: "In the early days I often felt most discouraged when I saw really fine collections of specialties, but I persevered, and as the saying is quite true. most things come to those who know how to wait, I am glad to say by waiting and patiently working I have now got many stamps which at one time I thought it would be impossible for me ever to obtain." Many fine photo-like cuts showing the principal rarities of the collection with a description make it one of great value as a reference. We thank Mr. Peckitt for so kindly remembering us and wish to him as well as our many other friends, a happy and prosperous New Year.

Press Review

Mekeel's Weekly Stamp News:-This month we are favored with another spe and. St. Louis is honored this time and the number evidences it well deserves the special attention extended it by the suing of a number that should be a great credit to the publishers. adorned with a cover representing one if the stamps known as the "Bear Snamps." F. R. Cornwall speaks of the old time collectors of St. Louis, among them being the late John K. Tiffany and Charles Gildehaus, the latter passed away Nov. 26, 1909. An insight to the extentive business of the C. E. Hussman Stamp Co., with the features of the manaver, Louis W. Bartel, and a view of the large stamp room of the E. I. Schuster Ob., the faces of the A. P. S. Board of Vice Presidents and several other intersting articles which are always found the "Weekly," makes, in our opinion, the best special coming from Boston in many moons.

Redfield's Stamp Weekly:-First of Il we wish to call your attention to the suprovements which have taken place in his Weekly during the past few months. The first change for the better was when e printing office moved to Smethport, lortly after the reading matter came in point instead of 12 as in the past, and we learn that it is now set by linotype. short time ago another improvement came evident in the quality of the oper, it now being with a gloss finish, hich takes the ink better, but which sold be still further improved by being arder and more substantial. The readg matter has also taken on a more seious nature and the editorials by Mr. Juackenbush all add to the quality of a Veckly we should miss greatly.

Stamp, by George H. Corbet, gives an account of the prices realized for the Mauritius Post Office Stamps dating from 1847, when one could be procured at the post office in Mauritius for face value to the year 1904, when H. R. H. the Prince of Wales purchased a copy for the modest sum of $7,250.00.

The Stamp Collector:—This is a new one coming from Columbus, Ohio, published by George Ward Linn, 17-23 Clinton building. Nos. 1 and 2 are to hand and we feel that it is a monthly that can be recommended to our readers with the assurance that their hunger for good reading will be sumptuously provided for. Mr. Linn has surrounded himself with a corps of able writers, among them being Paul Mason, who is editor in chief, and if past records are of any consequence Mr. Mason will give us a taste of real philatelic journalism.

Forgeries Better Than Real Ones

According to news received from Paris, an Italian by the name of Capplani was arrested, and upon being searched was found to have in his possession about 231,000 forged penny stamps, which are said to be better than the real ones.

It is believed that 1,000,000 of these stamps were sold by this man and his agants. These people used to claim that they were short of funds and would leave stamps for security.

The Deficit in the Post Office

Mrs Ina R. Thompson of the Finance Department, Denver Post Office.

While people generally understand that the Postoffice Department each year faces a large deficit, they do not generally understand that this deficit is more apparent than real. If it were possible separate and charge off the work which the postoffice does, gratintously, for every other branch of the federal service it would be a long stride toward a balanced account.

All official documents, and letters on my business connected with the government go free. One has only to stop and must the different departments in Washington (if he can) with their corresponding offices all over the country, to realize that many tons of mail matter are instributed in this way.

In addition to this necessary correspondence, the members of Congress use that franking privileges to flood the entry with carloads of speeches and rests which nobody reads, sent for reasons which nobody knows. A railway will clerk, who is no longer in the server, once told me of dumping several tasks of this matter on the prairie to the handling and nobody missed it.

It is estimated that nine-tenths of the oil passing through the Washington stoffice, pays the postoffice nothing. The postoffice pays its clerks for trking this same mail and the railroads carrying it. So it may be plainly that much of the postoffice deficit ould be charged to other governmental partments.

However, the postoffice is a public fity of such vast importance that the estion of its being self-sustaining is minor consequence. Who ever asks the public schools pay, or if the army I navy are self-supporting? Yet none them is a stronger agent for the pubgood than the postoffice.

L. T. BRODSTONE, Publisher. Superior, Nebr. Under Postmaster General Samuel Osgood in 1789, a letter was carried thirty miles for six cents, and four hundred and fifty miles, or more, for twenty-five cents, and Colorado pioneers can remember when letters, brought by pony express from the Missouri river, cost twenty-five cents each. Today letters go to all parts of our own possessions, as well as to Mexico, Cuba, Canada, England and Germany for two cents.

Ex-Congressman Loud, for years chairman of the house committee on postoffices, said of the postoffice: "It is organized to extend facilities to the people without regard to the result as a matter of profit and loss." Postmaster-General Payne declared it the policy of the postoffice "To cheapen the cost of service to the public, whenever the postal receipts come near to the expenditures."

In the past few years rural free delivery has advanced with marvelous rapidity. For example, the appropriation made by Congress for this service in 1900 was $450,000, while in 1902 the appropriation was increased to $4,000,000, and appropriations have taken almost as rapid leaps every subsequent year, with a corresponding increase in the general deficit. But no one would deprive the farmer of his right to share in the service for which he is helping to pay.

A question that has long been a vexed one with the postoffice, is that of carrying newspapers and periodicals from publishers to subscribers at the astonishing low rate of one cent per pound. Undeniably this is done at a loss to the department, but the underlying reason for it is an educational one. A rise in average intelligence has always been coincident with cheap mazazines and newspapers. A newspaper rate of postage that would be profitable to the postoffice would make the subscription price of publications prohibitive to many, for in the end, every tax is paid by the consumers.

MEXICO

Specialized approved selections of the issue of 1893-95 containing used as well as unused copies, also pairs and blocks, are ready for collectors who are interested. (Prices reasonable.)

This issue is of the numeral type, on THIN HARD PAPER quite different from the paper of previous issue. Scott's Catalogue is quite deficient, so that it is necessary to follow Gibbon's Catalogue, which classified this issue correctly as follows:

Perforation 12.

Nos. 247 to 258 inclusive.

Perforation II.

Nos. 259 to 267 inclusive,

Perforation 512.

Nos. 268 to 273 inclusive.

Perfaration, compound of 11 and 51.

Nos. 274 to 277 inclusive.

I am a specialist in stamps of Mexico and am ready to buy rarities for cash, and solicit correspondence from collectors who are interested in completing their collections of Mexico.

Venezuela:—A new 15c. value, type of 1904 used for foreign postage has appeared, it is printed in violet.

Press Review

Alfred Smith & Son's Monthly Circular:—This morthly does not con ain a large quantity of reading matter but the quality is such as makes a complete volume a valuable reference work. In the December number, Mr. Bertram T. K. Smith, continues an interesting article on "The Dies of the First Postage Stamp." It would be hard to give our readers an idea of this work and we would suggest that all subscribe, the subscription is only t shilling per year, and may be addressed to the publishers at 4 Southampton Row, London, W. C.

Billikins Philatelic Magazine:—Two numbers of this monthly have reached us and although No. 1 hardly met with our approval, No. 2 is very good. It consists of 16 pages and cover, the latter being printed in two colors. The whole is, as the name implies, intended to create a smile and those who are in need of Philatelic Cheer should address William I. Kin, 1549 Worthington Street, Columbus, Ohio. The subscription is twelve cents.

C. M. A. Emblem:—Although this is not a strictly philatelic magazine it contains a few pages devoted to philately which does both the publishers and the editor great credit. The Stamp Collector, as the page is called, edited by Julian T. Baber, is conducted in an up-to-date manner, including the latest news of the month, notes on new issues and a review of the Philatelic Press. It is certainly worth the subscription price of 50c and may be had by addressing the publishers, C. M. A. Emblem, Alma, Kansas.

Gibbon's Stamp Weekly:—It is very doubtful if many of our readers enjoy this weekly from across the water. In the more recent numbers, Mr. Joseph B. Leavy gives a very interesting work on "The Stamps of Nicaragua," the confusion and difficulty of straightening out the various issues which have always more or less confused collectors, is done in a manner which invites the attention of the disinterested, and should be an honor to Mr. Leavy. The work is complete in itself and offers an inviting field for specialism in the stamps of Nicaragua.

Philatelic Journal of America:-The long delayed and anxiously awaited for has at last appeared, three numbers having reached us to date. No. I consisted of 56 pages and among other things was an exhaustive article "Special Perforations on U. S. Stamps," dealing with the various perforations supplied by the P. O. Dept., and other official perforations applied for use in vending machines, the illustrations showing the types of vending machines now in use through the United States. No. 2 contained but 16 pages. In this number Dr. Carrol Chase deals with the "Cracked and Damaged Plates Used for the 1851 and 1857 U. S. Adhesives," which goes to prove that Dr. Chase is to be one of the foremost U. S. writers, if not already to No. 3, we are sorry to say contained but 12 Pages. The most, if not all of the reading matter in this number is by the editor, Mr. C. H. Mekeel, and as in the days of the old P. J. of A. he furnished the proper goods at the proper time.

Philatelic Monthly:—Published by Henry George, 985 7th Street, Milwaukee, Wis. Subscription 25c foreign 40c. In the January number we find "Recent Forgeries" by Philip A. Telly, which warns collectors to use care in buying the Hayti 1904, Bolivia 1894, and Costa Rica 1892. News Notes from Washington and "Tips for Young Collectors" by the Head Office Boy wherein he advises collectors not to pay high prices for the U. S. Imperforates.

Philatelic Star:—The Star now starts on a new year, this number being Vol. IX, No. 1. The Star has had a varied career since its first appearance in 1902, but has continued to improve all the while until to-day it is classed among the old stand-bys. It was lately taken asofficial organ of the Imperial Philatelic Association, Philatelic Flashes not suiting the pushing qualities of this enterprising Association.

300,000,000 Pennies in Letter Boxes

Wash., Jan. 24.—Estimates made by the Postoffice Department indicate the 300,000,000 one cent pieces are take annually by the rural letter carrierfrom the letter boxes for the payment of postage on mail deposited.

Complaints against the practice have become widespread so that to-day the Postoffice Department issued instrutions that after February 15 the practice will be discontinued.—Philadelphia Record.

Express on Stamped Envelopes May Net $200,000 A Year

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.-By an miler issued to-day, Postmaster-General Hickcock expects to effect a saving to the government of approximately $200,000 a year, by requiring postmastaccount for excess frived from the sale of stamped revelopes and newspaper wrappers, sugly and in lots.

Heretofore stamped envelopes and measpapers and newspaper wrappers lave been charged to the postmasters at a specified sum per thousand, but in sales anall lots a few cents were gained over the fixed charges, and the excess was retained by the postmaster, with the browledge and approval of the department, and was applied to the correction of errors in making of change and to the purposes.

Under the new order, postmasters will ave to charge themselves with the difference between the invoice value of imped envelopes and newspaper a suppers, and the amount received The auditor of the partment figures that the saving will mout from $150,000 to $200,000 a Philadelphia Reord.

Vol. 1 FEBRUARY 15, 1910 No. 6

Editorial

The more progressive dealers throughout the country have taken advantage of the low contract rates and have signed for space, either for six or twelve months. The golden opportunity will be at an end the 1st of March, after that date contracts will be accepted only at the advanced rates. The time is short, GET BUSY.

Numerous subscribers have suggested that the A. P. would be improved if the pages were fastened into the cover so as not to become mislayed. Future numbers will be so.

Subscriptions cannot be commenced with the first number as Nos. 1, 2 and 3 are out of print. A very few of the December number are on hand, while they last these will be supplied at 10c. each. January 5c. each. The list of Precancelled Stamps started in the December number and will be continued through the year as the new varieties appear. Best send your subscription at once.

Clippings have been received from Chauncey M. D. Smith, for which thanks are extended.

Several replies are to hand regarding the forming of a New Precancel Club. The word "New" is used as one was in existence some years ago, but owing to lack of interest, the members withdrew Exact data of this Club has not been received so that any information will be gratefully received. There are still many who were members of the "Old" Club that have lately taken up the collecting of these interesting stamps and not a few are ready to lend their aid in making a New Club a success. Let hear from all who are interested this month and have a surprise for the slow ones in the March number. This means you. DO IT NOW.

As a remedy for the deficit in the Postoffice Department, it has been sug gested that an advance be made in the second class rates. As all the publishers have based the subscription of their respective publications on the present rate of one cent a pound, any advancwhatsoever would necessarily have to be stood by the subscriber. This would mean that many families now enjoying the benefits derived from instructive magazines and newspapers, would b deprived of these unless they were in position to pay the advanced price of subscription. Although the present second class rate may not be self supporting, it is the one rate which shoul not be advanced.

Cigar Box Stamp Change Possible

For some time eigar manufacturer in varous sections of the country hav In appealed to by respective collectors Internal Revenue stamps, for their minion on a new cigar box stamp.

The proposed new stamp for cigar loxes is oval in shape and but a little longer than a legal seal. It is to be placed over the nail holding down the lid, and equally over the top and front of the box.

It is stated that while the change has not been definitely settled upon, it is planned to have the new stamp ready for issue at the beginning of the fiscal year, on July 1, 1910. This change it is also said is along the line of certain reconomy which the department has in mind, and the change is calculated to reduce the cost of printing.

These new stamps, however, are calmlated to be only on boxes containing two hundred cigars or less, and the details are now being worked out by the Stamp Division of the Internal Revenue Department. A formal amouncement to expected at any time.—The Tobacco World.

The Middletown, Conn. Cancellation.

A letter just to hand from J. J. Cone, Jr., regarding the Middletown, Conn., cancellation will no doubt interest our marlers. We quote from the letter as follows:

"A day or two before Christmas I recived a letter franked with a 6c 1908 and maddition to the regular cancellation wed at the post office, the stamp bore be precaucel of Middletown, Conn., agonally from the lower right to the uper left hand correr. I later called I the post office and inquired the reason this cancel and was informed that on count of the Christmas rush, to save me the stamps were precaucelled in heets each morning and were used on second, third and fourth class mail mater. As the cancellation was done by land it is not known if any were can--lled with other than the above menbued, or how many sheets were so canelled. The values used were 1, 2, 3, 4, . 6, 10, 15, 1908, and 13c 1902.

Editor Attleboro Philatelist:

Dear Sir:—I am surprised at the high price placed on certain old Hawaii stamps in recent number of A. P.

I have the 5c. Hawaii 1853 used on original cover found nearly two years ago by Dr. J. B. Newton of Hartford, Conn., in the old whaling port of New London, Conn., where it was addressed.

I also have this stamp off cover, neatly cancelled, with old San Francisco postmark as usual. Both specimens on very thick white paper and so am very sorry indeed they are not worth more used than unused, but cannot be so blind to cold facts which are awful stubborn things.

I take it my used specimen is genuinely used to prepay postage, because the stamp is scarcer in unused than in cancelled condition, but must frankly point out that no stamp can be guaranteed or even known as used unless on the original cover, cancellation being the easiest thing in the whole range of Philately to forge, easier even than perforations.

Now I cannot find where Stanley Gibbon's. Scott's or any other catalog lists it at $500 either used or unused. The BOGERT & DURGIN CO., 722 CHESTNUT ST., PHILADELPHIA, PA. 5c. issue of 1851 or Missionary type, isted at $500 used and is much rarer mused and unpriced.

Your article is right when it states 18c. red of 1853 is a rare one used, It is on the original cover. Although I saw one last month in that desirable line in Grand Rapids among other arce and medium old Hawaii, in an inbut bunch of old family letters and not for sale, it is not worth anywhere near 5500, but rarer than the 5c. of same issue. When the Seybold collection goes to the vection rooms in March the question of some will be very definitely decided, as In had several of these Hawaiian stamps where they should be, on original covers.

I think your writer did very well to have an entire sheet serenely alone at size of later issue 1855-59 re-print or massine on ordinary wove paper, status this stamp is doubtful but supply plantiful in London and Chicago as well - many other places, being a remainder best, of which I have a pair, a block and one on original with a U. S. 12c. lided 1859. I regard the unused as a print made to sell to collectors, but may be wrong.

I purchased a block of twelve at Puttick & Simpson's when in London, in 1008, at one pound and one shilling or list about $5.00. So you see I am runing down value of my own holdings in making most of my statements in incrests of truths, and you are at liberty publish all or part of this letter as out desire.

Beware - A reader sends a warning that we hasten to publish. He says that this time of year, fumigation of home scommonly resorted to either at the suggestion of the authorities in cases of linkness or for the same or other sanilary reasons by citizens generally. He says that especial care should be exeroused under these conditions to remove damps that are around loosely, as if they are not lying away from the heavy lumes of the chemicals, havor will be played with the colors of the stamps. The affinity of sulphur for many colors is known and the fumigants are likely memphasize this attachment. Caution would suggest that all stamps even those eposing in albums be removed from the more of the penetrating fumes.

The A. P. S. Secretaryship

We are in receipt of a little folder from the Secretary of the District of Columbia Branch of the A. P. S., anyoneing the nomination of a full neket of Directors of the A. P. S. for the year 1910-1911. The present directors have all been re-nominated with the exception of the Secretary and the Director at Large from California. One of their own members has been named for the office of Secretary to succeed Mr. Adair who has stated he did not desire a re-nomination, this gentleman is Mr. Charles R. Morris.

We are pleased to know that Mr. Morris is going to be a candidate for the office of Secretary and shall accord him our hearty support in his campaign, for we feel that he will make the society a careful and painstaking official.

Mr. Morris is pretty well known to the collectors of this country through his "Washington Notes" which have been published from time to time in Mekeel's Weekly, but a word or two in regard to his personality as we gather it from the folder sent out and from with him, may be correspondence proper at this time. He is an ambitious young man who has, through his own efforts and work, been promoted over the heads of much older men than himself in the Treasury Department at Washington, and now holds a high office in the auditing branch of that department. He has shown us that he is interested in Philately and he showed that he was interested in the society by his attendance upon the convention last year, and it is only fatr to presume that the same attention to the affairs of the A. P. S. may be expected of him that he has shown to the affairs of the U. S. He has advised us that he is not seeking the office for the purpose of furthering any "interests" and that he belongs to no "cliques," he is unpledged except to serve the society to the best of his ability, and that he will not be dictated to by anyone but the Board of Directors should be be elected.

Under these circumstances it will be well for the members of the A. P. S. to accord Mr. Morris their support for if he does all he promises we should have a flourishing year as far as the Secretary is able to influence it.

About Repaired Stamps

By Philo.

There is a feeling among a few that repaired stamps are not good things, but the writer cannot see it that way at all. If the desire to have a "fine looking" collection had never came into the lerizon of Philately probably we would rever have heard of the repaired stamps. But once the perfection craze captured the minds of many, (instigated by a number of leading dealers), then the one good rarity that reposed proudly in our albums had to have a "tooth put in" maybe it was an "upper plate."

The view I have always taken is that minor repair is all right and perfectly estificable. I do not believe in repairing a very badly damaged stamp—that more with a large portion missing but a rare stamp with but a very small part form out, or cut off, can be repaired and is "a stamp" just as much as a bank hill is "a bill," although we may lose a portion of the bill.

"When is a stamp not a stamp?" In other words how much of a torn stamp will pass a post office as being correct. Certainly we see a large number with corners torn off, bottoms or tops torn across, and often the side, to the extent of nearly one-quarter of the stamp, has been taken. Yet the stamp did postal cuty.

Mr. P. M. Wolsieffer, recently spoke truly of the tendency of these repaired stamps as follows: "One of these collections was over 30 years in building, and while the owner of it changed many stamps for better specimens, yet a number of the old-time favorites he sent to an expert in repair work, being satisfied to retain them in that collection on account of old associations from his early collection, in the days when a stamp was a stamp even if it was but half a stamp.

"There is a class of collectors who believe in placing a mended stamp in their collections when the face of it is not marred, or a defect only visible on the back or by the aid of a microscope, and this owner was one of them. The most particular collector could hardly take exception to his New Brunswick Shilling, with just a slight portion of the corner margin added, and of which there are a number of similar examples of rare obsolete stamps. Finely mended stamps are a welcome addition to many collections."

The writer had conversation with a couple of eminent philatelists recently and they both deplored the fact that the "perfection craze" had done much to destroy the interest in many old-time collectors.

Old bric-a-brac or other curiosities are not tabooed because they are mended.

Communication

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by our readers. Our columns are always open to matters of general interest. Ed)

On December 26th, I received an application for a selection of stamps to be sent to Peter Wilson, Jr., 2303 Eighth Avenue, New York City. A reference of the Good Cheer Publishing Company, of the same address being given. After writing the reference and receiving a satisfactory reply a selection was sent and was returned with request for better grade U.S. and Foreign, which were sent January 15th. Not receiving the stamps after the usual time allowed, which is ten days, a request for the return of same was made on February 13th. Not receiving any answer to this request, I then looked to the letter of reference and found the handwriting to be the same as that of the applicant, although another name, that of E. Simonds, beings signed. The letter was as follows:

Mr. Wilson has been in our employ for about four months as a bookkeeper. We consider him thoroughly reliable.

GOOD CHEER PUBLISHING CO. (Signed) Per E. Simmonds,

V. Pres.

I have now sent the full correspondence to the Inspector in charge at New York City. If anyone else has had unactisfactory dealing with this party, it will be well to forward full particulars to the Inspector.

F. B. ELDREDGE.

From Over The Border

(From Our Canadian Correspondent.) Stephen Golder.

In 1012, Winnipeg will hold her World's Fair, which will be known as Canada's International Exposition and Selkirk Centenial. The Hobbyist in its List issue tells what it is proposed to do in the way of a World's Philatelic Convention. The plan is certainly an ambitous one-but Winnipeg people are the right sort to carry it out to completion. In the first place, the Covernment of the Dominion will be asked through i's Postoffice Department to issue a commemorative series of stamps, and this request will be that only stamps up to the value of 20c. be issued, and but one lot issued for a stated time. An even smaller set than the Tercentanary issue might be requested, with views depicting the 100 years' advance in Western Canada. The magazine suggests the following scenes for the stamps: 1c. landing of Lord Selkirk and Settlers; 20: Treaty with the Indians; 4c. For: Garry; 5c. Fort Douglas; 7c. Buffala Hunt; 10c. Settlers on the March. For the two higher values no suggestion has been made up to the present. Possibly the influx of settlers from the States might be made into an interesting picture, whilst one stamp would contain something to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Centenial of Peace between Great Britain and the United States. Amongst other things suggested at the forthcoming fair is an international exhibit of stamps by individuals or societies. A stamp "Bourse" for selling or exchanging stamps, including booths of all dealers wishing to participate. A "Union" Convention of all the societies in the world, to which collectors are to be invited, and various associations to send delegates and speakers. At least one big day to be set apart by the World's Fair solely in the interests of collectors of stamps, coins, curios, etc. Many other details are proposed and will be worked out it is hoped with the asistance and co-operation of the wide awake collectors of the prairie city and the Dominion.

Letters By Barrel Mail

Unable by any other means to communicate with the mainland, residents on the Magdalen Islands on February 1st put their letters in a barrel and case it into open waters of the Gulf of St. surrounding the islands. Lawrence After drifting almost two weeks, the barrel bearing his Majesty's mails came ashore at Port Hastings on February 12th, where it was rescued and the letters forwarded to the Halifax Post Office, some of them being forwarded on to Montreal. Surmounting the barrel which bore the messages of the Magdalen Islanders, was a little sail.

I the craft was fitted with a small m keel and rudder. On the sail were words "Magdalen Winter Mail," but the time the little barrel drifted More at Port Hastings, the sail had n torn and the mast broken by the mils sweeping across the gulf. tters which had been put inside a tin in the barrel were safe, though ome of them were soaked with water and somewhat blurred.

Clippings are acknowledged with Tlanks from M. W. Taylor.

Press Review

The American Philatelist :- It is hardv necessary to say anything of the contents of this number as everybody has an opportunity to get the report of the convention through the weekly and monthly journals.

Everybody's Philatelist:-Published monthly by John Milton Holt, M. D., Astoria, Oregon. We welcome this new work of Dr. Holt to our table and hope may have a long and prosperous life, for if number one is a fair sample it well deserves to meet with success. Dr. Holt has in the past contributed some interesting articles under various noms de plume, and he is an ardent collector at the present time as are also his children. Vol. I, No. 1, consists of 8 pages 6x9 inches.

New York Philatelist:-The January number comes in an attractive cover and the contents are an improvement over previous issues. This number in particular, contains some notes on Post Marks, which combined with stamp news makes a very good number.

The Philatelic Tribune:-Mr. Stanton continues to hold this New Series up to the old standard and if anything, an improvement is evident. Each number is full of goodness and would be missed very much.

Editorial

NOTICE:-To the Universal Philatelic Association members and others: The recent ruling of the Post Office Department will not allow a publication mailing under the second class rates, to receive subscriptions from the Secretary of societies in a lump sum or at any discount from the full subscription price As it is our intention to make application for second class rates immediately this number appears in print, it will be necessary for the U. P. A. to take the necessary steps to alter that section of the Constitution relating to the annual dues, so that members joining in the future may subscribe for the official organ direct or not at all as is their wish, otherwise we shall be obliged to ask that another choice for official organ be made. The U. P. A. has in the past paid for the subscription to the official organ, the full subscription price and of the present 23 members, 10 were subscribers before joining the Association. We hope that the change will be made in the near future and that the A. P. may continue to represent the U P. A. as official organ.

In the future as in the past we shall not solicit advertising other than by passing a copy of the A. P. to prospective advertisers. The A. P. will speak for itself. It is not our intention to fill our columns with ads in preference to matter of interest to readers but for such firms as desire to be represented sufficient space will be provided at the rates given at the head of this column liberal discounts beings allowed for time and space contracts. All advertisers are guaranteed and reference will be required before insertion of pd.

This month we are carrying 61 inches of advertisements, 52 of which are on contract. The amount seems rather large for a publication only seven months old, but when it is considered that the high standard of the A. P. has been maintained throughout the past six months, it is not to be wondered at The matter presented being of an ins'ructive and interestig nature, together with the advertisements of reliable concerns to whom the readers might send any amount without hesitation, has, as might be expected, placed the A. P. among the best. Results are what advertisers pay for and what they must get, and from indications, what they have got. We thank our readers for patronizing the numerous ads in past numbers and trust that in the future you will endeavor to keep in touch with our patrons.

Our mailing list is increasing so rapidly that hereafter only one sample copy can be sent to an applicant. If you receive this number as a sample send your subscription at once. post card received March 1st read is an interesting fact about the Very collection that some of its greatrarities have been secured by well-American philatelists. Henry J. ween of Duveen Brothers, art dealers New York, who in August last pursed the Maurice Kann paintings for 5 500,000 and in 1908 the Rodolphe from collection for $5,000,000 has now, ing other Avery rarities, unused pies of the one-penny and two-pence Mauritius. Of the l'ost Office" menty-six known copies of this issue, the are only two of the one-penny, mised, and only five of the two-pence used. The Avery copy of the onemy value, now owned by Mr. Duveen, the one in the collection of M. La notiere, the noted French philatelist, the only unused one-penny "Post ffice" Mauritius known. A New York amp dealer yesterday estimated the Mauritius secured by Mr. Duveen om the Avery collection to be worth 5.000. A. H. Caspary, another Ameriin philatelist, has secured the Avery Dy of the Milbury, Mass., Postmaster cent stamp. It is one of the rarest of the American stamps. It is a fine recimen on the entire envelope.

THIS IS CLOSE TO Giving Them Away. ALL UNUSED AND FINE.

Ouilmette Stamp Co, 728-12th ST., WILMETTE ILL.

Another new monthly is promised from the South, to be known as Stamp Stuff, published by the Palmetto Stamp Company.

The recent color scheme that caused the numerous changes in stamps of the British Colonies is nearly completed, with the exception of a few countries where the stock of old issues on hand is sufficient for immediate needs. Many rumors are that a new issue, entirely new types is to be made in Great Britain. In this case an entire change would no doubt be made in many of the Colonies, Seebecks under another name.

Three numbers of Lloyd Comegy's Dixie Philatelist have been published. It is well printed, size 3 in. by 41/2 in. We earnestly hope for an improvement in the future numbers and wish him success in his venture.

Several items are noted from various centers regarding a new issue of stamps for Russia bearing the portraits of the rulers of the past decade. Full information of this was published in the A. P. No. 3. Page 19.

Among Our Advertisers

This month we beg to call attention to the number of new advertisers, most of whom are on contract and will be represented each month. The largest of our contracts thus far is that of B. L. Drew & Co., of Boston, being a onehalf page space on the back cover for This concern is making a specialty of auctions, and, for the benefit of local collectors, maintain an attractive set of counter books which are creating considerable attention.

OUILMETTE STAMP CO.

The above speaks for itself. They

Mr. C. F. Rothfuchs has signed for a pear and this month is offering a new price list of L. S. which is certainly a dandy.

The Reliable Stamp Company, who have already signed for space, have then another space of an inch for six months.

The H. S. Powell Company have used for two inches for a year, this with their offer is a special packet.

Warren F. Leister, George F. Ullman, and the Toledo Stamp Company have intracted for an inch for a year.

The Quaker Stamp Company, E. A. Musley and C. H. Williams, have signed or an inch six months.

M. W. Taylor and the Reliance Stamp Impany are also represented this with and invite your attention.

The New Pre-Cancel Club

From numerous communications a hand, it is evident that the forming of New Pre-cancel Club would meet with the support of many collectors of these interesting stamps. Some of the members of the Old Club are heartly in layor of "starting something," and if those interested will send a list of officers of their selection the matter can be brought to a head in the April number, by publishing the list most favored and the election to follow.

One person in writing states that in his mind the dues should not be more than 25c. In regard to the matter of dues, we would wish to call your attention to the article on page 69 of this number.

- W. T. K. A Precancelled Stamp can best be described from the "Conditions Governing the Use of Precancelled Postage Stamps," issued by the Post Office Department, as follows: Precancelled postage stamps will be accepted in payment of postage on mailings of transient second class, or third or fourth class matter in lots of at least 2,000 identical pieces, under the following conditions:
- The persons desiring this privilege must file an application with the postmaster at the office of mailing, showing:
- (a) The class and character of matter to be mailed, a sample to be submitted to the postmaster, if practicable.
- (b) The total approximate number of identical pieces to be mailed. (If the pieces of matter are not identical the patron will be required to make a separate application covering each kind of matter.)
- The name of the post office and state (together with the name of the station, if mailed at a station) and two parallel heavy black lines, one above and one below the name, must be printed across the face of each stamp.
- Stamps may be precancelled only at the office of purchase, under supervision of the postmaster or a sworn employee of the post office.
- Regulation cancelling ink, furnished by the department, must be used in the cancellation of stamps,
- Precancelled postage stamps may not be used without special authority in each case having been obtained from the department.

From Over The Border.

(By Stephen Golder.)

Vanada, the largest Dominion in the world, has up to the present time been shout a purely philatelic journal desired entirely to the fascinating hobby stamp collecting. All efforts so far establish a large and representative ilatelic society in the Dominion has a proved a failure.

Why, it is hard to say. With the enorons quantity of immigrants from all rts of the world pouring into the mitry, its wealth, its prosperity, its may winter evenings (in thousands of ses spent in solitude with old country on, many of them public school boys) rup collecting should prove one of most agreeable methods of passing time.

To fill this want, the Canadian Philalist, a monthly journal devoted to phirely, is announced to make its first apurance on April 15th, and from the lyance prospectus the venture should speal to collectors in the vast Domin-

Canada has been getting plenty of rominence of late in the philatelic tess, the Hobbyist, for March devotes it major part of its issue to the doings i the old Canadian Philatelic Society, old in the same issue starts a vigorous ampaign for a new Canadian Philatelic Association, Philately in Saskatchewan is largely dealt with; the editor says: "Not a country in the world has so many true collectors, in proportion to its population, as has Western Canada. Ideal conditions create collectors and maintain their hobby. Long winters and plenty of money. A more prosperous people does not exist."

In view of the immense volume of matter mailed at the Regina post office by the many large wholesale and other commercial houses doing business in the West, the Postmaster has received from the Post Office Department at Ottawa, to the effect that it has decided to place Regina on the list of offices allowed to use pre-cancelled stamps.

The stamps which are cancelled by the department at Ottawa with the words "Regina, Sask." printed in distinct lettering across the face of the stamps, will only be sold in quantities of $10 and upwards, the minimum of mail upon which they may be used being 1,000 pieces of third class mail carrying a one-cent stamp.

A valuable discovery has been made, says The Hobbyist, of three distinct varieties of paper in the present issue of Canadian Ic. King's head. Unused specimens on thin, medium and thick paper were recently shown in Winnipeg. The thin paper was slightly ribbed and the thick paper was quite hard.

German Domestic Stamps

Each week there is pasted in the little black book that every servant girl in Germany must possess a postage stamp to the value of about five cents. This stamp is a donation, compulsory under the German law, which the mistress must afford the servant. Should the girl fall ill, the stamps are redeemed by the Government, or the servant may retain the stamps indefinitely until when she has attained a ripe old age, the Government pays her a premium for them.

Newsygraphs

A new issue of stamps may be expected from Abyssinia in the near future and perhaps another deluge of provisionals. King Menelik II was taken ill with an attack of apoplexy last fall and on March 30th succumbed to the disease. Prince Lidj Jeassu, his grandson, takes the throne; he is but 14 years old.

The Mutual Stamp Exchange, conducted by I. C. Greene, of Leominster, Mass., has met with a great success according to figures recently published. Evidently A. P. S. members know when they are offered a good thing.

C. H. Williams of Portage, Wis., has opened the Wisconsin Stamp Exchange, being intended for A. P. S. and S. P. A. members only. Rules may be had free. Members of the S. P. A. should lose no time in availing themselves of the advantages offered and considering the advance step that this society has taken in the last year. There should be no doubt of the Exchange proving a complete success.

Thus far the 1c., 5c., 13c. and 15c. on experimental paper have been reported. Send information regarding these to the editor and due mention will be given.

U. S. Experimental Paper

The P. J. of A. in the March 15 number gives the values and quantities of stamps issued on Bluish Experimental Paper. One sheet of each value being retained by the department.

Denomination Sheets Stamps

mination.	Sheets.	Stamps.
3c.	10	4,000
4c.	TT	4,400
5c.	10	4,000
бс.	13	5,200

8c.	10	4,000
IOC.	10	4.0 0
13c.	10	4,0.0
15c.	10	4,000

The experimental paper consisted of 30 per cent, of rags, which when propared fo use was found to give a slight bluish tinge. As the stamps were circulated among others on the regular white paper it is impossible for the department to give any information as to just which post offices were supplied. The editor of the P. J. of A. sums up the information in the following manner:

- The stamps were not printed for use.
- They were printed to test an experimental paper.
- Several sheets of each were print ed so that perfect specimens could be insured.
- One sheet of each is now retained by the department.
- 5. "The Director of the Bureau a) Engraving and Printing was instructed to destroy the remaining sheefs,"
- "Inadvertently they were mingled with other stamps in process of production and placed in stock."
- No record is available of their is sue.
- It is even impossible to say if they have all been issued yet.
- Collusion with speculators is improbable.
- The P. O. Dept, will not issue a new supply on bluish paper primarily for sale to collectors.

In Conclusion:—The stamps may be classified as errors, not having been is sued for postal use.

In the conclusion it is suggested that these stamps be classed as errors, not having been issued for postal use. Were not these stamps issued in the usual manner to the postoffices throughout the country and are they not accepted in payment of postage? Most certainly they are. Therefore, why should they assed as errors? The Department fully aware of the manner in which stamps were produced and as the mation given out shows knew that lead been sent to offices and were sold at these offices and accepted evenent for postage.

ridering the scarcity of the varieabove mentioned, it will be well for evone to watch for Blue Paper after the catalogs in the future make mention of the fact or not,

The Stamp Journal states that 1.480,of the 1c., 1,494,000 of the 2c and good of the 2c. Lincoln have been and on bluish experimental paper. supply is exhausted at Washingand copies may be found at any W. C. Rhodes reports securing a ar of the 5c, and 15c.

Editorial

To publish the list of Foreign Precancelled stamps in this issue would be an impossibility owing to the lack of space. Many varieties are already to hand and we hope to receive many additions to the list before next month.

Among late arrivals at our desk we find the Philatelic Fraud Directory, published by Reitz Brothers, of Rochester, N. Y. It contains the names of 138 frauds.

Another new arrival is the Philadelphia Stamp News, published and edited by Percy McGraw Mann. Mr. Mann has contributed to the Philatelic Press a great deal during the past few months and particularly in the Stamp Journal have appeared several interesting articles from his pen. The number to hand is Vol. I, No. 1, and is a weekly, subscription 50c Canada and forcign, $1.00.
We extend our heartiest welcome to the new venture and hope it may enjoy a useful life.

F. B. Eldridge and Joseph H. Mills, Jr., report the return of the selections sent to Peter Wilson of New York, the account having been placed in the hands of the Inspector in Charge at the office.

Among Our Advertisers

Dear Sir:-My first ad in the Mare issue has brought satisfactory results,

Yours truly,

GEO. F. ULMAN

Dear Sir:—Statement together with copy of March number of "A. P." at hand. The paper in general and for the most part YOUR PRINCIPLES suit ns A-1; in fact no improvement a needed so far as we are concerned. We are enclosing our check which will set the our advt. to date of contract. The is the only way we can show our appreciation of your endeavors.

Very truly wours, B. O. KOMOROUS & CO.

Press Review

Bilikins Philatelic Magazine:—No 3 contains a goodly lot of smiles and giggles for a busy reader. Perhaps if we were personally acquainted with some of the individuals who get hit with some of Bill's points, we might be able to see the point and enjoy a good laugh, as it is we cannot suppress a smile, and wish the little "Mag" and Bill a long and prosperous life.

PRESS REVIEW.

Everybody's Philatelist:—Vol. I, No. is to hand and among other things at attracts our attention is Western thilatelic Association, by Dr. Holt, the publisher and editor. Surely the western states need a society and if one could be conducted along the principles autlined briefly by the Doctor, no doubt would meet with the success deserved.

Empire Philatelist:—Published by I. S. Donner, 1643 Madison Ave., New York City, Sub. 15c per year, Vol. I, No. 1. consists of four pages 6 by 9 inches at d if future numbers follow the general makeup of this number it should and a place among our readers.

Dixie Philatelist:—The March number is enlarged to eight pages and concellering its size it is very good.

Kittanning Collector:—Vol. I, No. 1, published by W. H. Stouffer, 502 Neubert Ave., Kittanning, Pa., Sub. 15c per year, Michigan Philatelist:—Vol. 2, No. 1, published by C. Mason Jicklin, 607 Rose St., Kalamazoo, Mich. Sub. 15c per year, Foreign 25c. The March number consists of four pages 6 by 9 inches and is a decided improvement over previous issues. A Press Review has been added and an especially fine article is promised for April.

Post Cardist:—Published by Homer W. Peabody, Scranton, Pa. Sub. 25c. This is as the name implies, a post card magazine of eight pages containing one column devoted to Philately.

Philatelic Monthly:—Each number shows improvement and in the March number are several items of interest, one of which is new to us is as follows: 2c Quebec—Orange. It is reported that the 2c stamp of the tercentennial issue has been discovered print d in orange. Only a few sheets of this color were printed at first as an experiment. The color was then changed to red.

Star:-Again the Star Philatelic changes its address, this time to 6619 S. Halsted St., where all mail should be addressed. The March number contents are: The Missing Antioquia, by Julian T. Baher; Reply to the Editor of the Stamp Collector, by C. V. Webb; The Postal Deficit, by J. Russell Reed; Press Review, and other short notes. American Junior Philatelic Association has been taken over by the Imperial Philatelie Association and an election is called for officers for the coming year.

Southern Philatelist:-The March issue is a dandy, it is full of real live matter which will put new energy in the dull Philatelist after reading the contents of the eight pages. The Sub. price is 15c per year, foreign 25c, and it is well worth the price. Published by Leon Carter Grosjean, Shreveport, Stamp Collector :- Vol. I, No. 4 of this monthly is replete with interesting matter from cover to cover. Not for many years has a monthly been issued along the principles followed by this one thus far, and in our estimation some of the older established monthlies will have to look to their laurels or the S. C. will give them an unpleasant rub for supremacy. The Publisher, Mr. Geo. Ward Linn is at present forming an American Philatelic Literature Society, principally for the benefit of American collectors and anyone interested should send their name to Mr. l.mn at 17-23 Clinton Bldg., Columbus, Olno.

Stamp Journal -It seems as if the number to hand contains more of interest than ever before. Canal Zone Stamps, being a History of Panama and Canal Zone, The First Series, 2c Rose, by Wm. Evans is to be commended to such collectors as are puzzled by the numerous surcharges of this country. Defining The Dies, by Carroll Chase, M. D., we cannot comment upon; it is beyond our territory and should be read in reviewing the first number of the Stamp Collector, "In this opening number of he Stamp Collector there is more evidence of serious philatelic purpose, and more marked elevation of tone, both journalistic and philatelic, than in any stamp magazine brought forward in America in recent years."

It's worth half a dollar of anybody's money and if you are not satisfied after receiving a few numbers, return them and get your money back. This is your chance.

Space is at a premium this month, but do not neglect to get your friend to join the U. P. A. The Sales Superintendent reports that Circuit No 1, met with decided favor among those who had filed their name with him. If you are interested, drop a postal and he will do the rest. 500 members by January 1st, 1911, is the limit, so get busy.

Of Interest to Collectors

Many collectors of unused stamps are continually kicking because they are not able to procure the older issues with full original gum. Some few expect to get them at less than half cat. too. The majority of stamps have to be mounted with a hinge sometime and as the hinge which will peel everytime at the time wished and not before, is yet to be invented, one should not expect to get the full gum on all stamps placed in a collection and should not expect to get them at anywhere near half cat, if found at all. Some of the old issues are not known with full original gum and those with no gum whatever are now bringing large prices. To end it all, why try and be disappointed? Get the one that it is possible and when another comes your way with the O. G., nail it and then trade the No Gum to another who is in need. Would not this be more fitting for the collector whose pocketbook is not so large as his stamp album?

When a collector completes a set in his album, he also completes his desires for the time being; at least until another set is started.

Albania:—The 5c. stamp of Italy has been overprinted in black, 10 Para, for use in this colony.

Antioquia:—Gibbon's Stamp Weekly chronicles an error of the 1896 issue, which consists of the 2c. printed in the color of the 10c. lilac.

Austria: Two new wrappers showing Mercury's head to the right, have been issued; 2h. blue on light yellow, 2h, blue on bright blue.

Bolivia:—The Commemorative set has had a rc. pale red brown and black added; it bears the portrait of Miguel Betanzos. The "Centenartos" series is completed by the following values: rc. chocolate, (Bolivar); r bol brown (M. Betanzo).

Brazil:—Gibbon's Stamp Weekly gives a short sketch of a stamp that was issued to commemorate the Pan American Medical Congress which was to be issued during the sitting of that body in Rio de Janeiro, but owing to its being in some way against the regulations of the Postal Union was withdrawn, however, some of the stamps were sold and used in the regular way. The stamp is of 200r, value and printed in blue.

Columbian Republic—Medellin:—The 50c recently chronicled in No. 4 of the A. P. has been changed to gray green.

Crete:—The 1l. postage due has been surcharged "Hellas" in large block type for use here.

Crete—Italian Offices:—The current Italian 50c. stamp has been added to the series overprinted for use in the Italian postal agencies in Crete.

Dominican Republic:—The current set of Postage Due stamps on watermarked paper has been enlarged by the appearance of a 4c. sepia.

Elobey, Annabon et Corisco:—Two new surcharges have appeared on the stamps of 1907; 5c. on 1c. dark violet; 5c. on 2c. black.

French Congo:—The following rectangular stamps have appeared from this colony: 1c. orange and brown lilac; 2c. brown lilac and black; 5c. green and olive; 1oc. carmine and red.

Gabon:-In addition to the values chronicled in No. 8 of the A. The Precancelled Stamps of Canada

In compiling this catalog of precancels here remains no doubt but that many varieties not included are in existence and if our readers will kindly send any specimens which are not mentioned, due credit will be given. Specimens must be sent for reproduction or no mention can be made. The numbers in first column are Scott's 1910 catalog numbers for the denomination of the stamp, some being of older issues this system of arrangement will avoid any confusion in the various types. For the types of overprint the above cut will aid in separating the minor differences and attention is particularly called to Type I and III, the difference being the plain bars and difference in the letter Q. Type VI was only in use for one day as far as can be ascertained, Jan. 10, 1908. Thanks are due Mr. F. B. Eldredge for the use of stamps for reproduction and also for valuable information regarding numerous types, and likewise thanks are due Mr. Cleveland Bundlie for list and specimens.

The Precancelled Stamps of Belgium

The above cut shows the type of cancellation used on the stamps of this country and it is applied by the use of a hand stamp in the form of a roller which in one revolution repeats the cancellation five times. The size of the frame varies slightly in some cases and in some instances is somewhat blurred. Below are some of the varieties with dates which have been noted. Thanks are extended Mr. Witliam C. Catalogue of Precancelled Stamps With Illustrations of Types

It is our intention to publish a complete (as far as possible) catalog of all Precancelled Stamps issued to danawith illustrations of the various type of overprint. The catalog will be compiled similar to the list of Canadian Precancelled Stamps appearing in this issue EXCEPT, that the value of the stamp will be given as well as Scott's number, by using this method one may ascertain the particular issue the stamp belongs and by the illustrations, the minor differences in overprint may be separated

The first installment of this Catalou will appear in the June number, and we include the States, California and Councetient. Readers are requested to aid in this work by sending such specimer as they may possess for listing and for reproduction, all stamps will be returned if desired, and postage fully paid in both directions.

We already have the promise of several large collections for inspection and illustrating purposes and will be grateful to any of our readers who may submit stamps or collections for listing.

If you have not sent your subscription, kindly do so at once as back numbers will not be procurable. One number of the proposed catalog will be worth the full price of subscription. Do it now, t'once't.

Mr. Nela has endeavored to explain the issue ored to, but falls into the accepted erof calling the issue of the 50 and 130 waiian postage on ordinary white paas re-issues or reprints. These mps were issued by Postmaster Genal David Kalakana in 1864. They will noted hereafter in all catalogues as gularly issued, and the word re-issue reprints wrongfully applied to them Il be eliminated.

I refer your readers to Scott Stamp & in Company Circular of January 15th, 10. Stanley Cabbons Weekly of Januy 23rd, 1910 and Mekeels Weekly of caril 10th, 1910, where a complete hisry of these stamps are set forth, and to my work on Hawaiian Numerals there even more detail is given.

Eliminating The Official Organ

By J. Russell Reed.

By a recent ruling of the post office, of which you are all familiar with, no paper enjoying second-class rates will be allowed to act as official organ for any stamp society. Some hail this with delight-the publisher; while others are very much wrought up over it-the society officials. This ruling, no doubt, has been made for the benefit of the publishers, but it certainly comes as a hard blow to our societies. The official organ is the mainstay of every philatelic organization and it is difficult to get out reports any other way unless the society is rich enough to publish its own official organ, which in few cases it is. Now one must pay the regular subscription price in addition to the yearly dues, but I don't think many are going to pay the subscription myself, and there is where the publisher is going to lose. Evidently they haven't thought of this for most of the publishers have given out this two law with great gusto. The editor of the Stamp Journal announces with great glee that the official organ must go, but he didn't stop to think of the paper-who have not second-class rates for it does not affect these. Of course, there are only a few who have not second-class rates that are used for official organs, but those few societies must realize how fortunate they are even if they did have to pay a little more for their reports than those with second-class rates.

I read with much disgust an article and this subject which appeared in a collector's magazine recently, and, although the writer had been an official of one at the larger societies, showed a lack mi knowledge on society affairs. The writer laments the fact that the collector considers it admirable that for a subscription price to a certain magazine ceived in addition membership into the society. Now, I do not see anything wrong in having the society dues the same as the subscription price to the official journal, so long as the published consents to such an arrangement, all lowing a cut-rate to members, and inc dently enlarging his subscription list And that is one of the benefits of joining a society. The writer also states that this ruling will make the weaker socioties disband, which of course they should do. Evidently the author did not thin that all our large societies were one small and weak when they first starte on their rather precarious mission. The National Philatelic Association disbande because of this ruling. Was this a wealsociety? The rapid growth of this or ganization was phenominal and the work it was doing for philately and philatel ists was an inspiration to the skeptical Surey, more harm than good was done when the National had to disband and probably later on some other useful or ganization must face the same fate.

There is yet room for more progressive serieties and it is up to us to help and jush them on to success, rather than long back and whine because there are many societies to suit our fancy. This we ruling may mean a change in soluty futures, but let us stand ready to and our assistance to those societies who may, at times, need aid.

The New Precancel Club

By votes of the enthusiasts in favor of the forming of a New Precancel Club, the following officers are elected:

President, F. Percy Collingwood; Vice President, W. W. Norton; Secretary-Treasurer, B. F. Fuller; Sales and Exhange Superintendent, E. J. Post; Directors, S. M. Schoemenn, J. J. Cone, Ir., F. B. Eldredge.

If any of the above named officers have any objection to holding their respective office in the Club, please notify the Editor at the earliest possible date. Otherwise, officers should at once attend to the various daties of their respective offices to enable the New Precancel Club to make a brilliant showing in the report a month hence.

Several prospective members have thated their intention of joining as soon the Club was officially formed, and bould now write the Secretary for application blanks which will be prepared soon as possible.

Dear Sir:-

Yours of the 30th ult., notifying me of my election to the office of Sec'y Treas' of the New Precancel Club, received. While I am heartily in favor of the move for a new Precancel Club, and greatly appreciate the honor bestowed, and confidence shown by my friends and acquaintances by electing me to the said office, I feel that I will have to decline serving for the reason that I will not have at my disposal the necessary time to attend to it. Thanking you all, I am

Press Review

Among new arrivals at our desk we find The Canadian Philatelist, Vol. I. No. 1. Published by Andrew King, Rouleau, Sask. Subscription, 25c. per year. It contains 13 pages of interesting matter, a large part of which is from the pen of Stephen Colder, the Editor. Our readers will recall that Mr. Golder has contributed several items of note during the last few numbers of the Attleboro Phliatelist, and his style is such as will meet with the approval of any philatelist, being to the point. We are sorry to lose such a writer as Mr. Golder but neverthless wish him the best of success as well as the publisher.

Serving a Strange Master, is the leading article in the April Hobbyist, and Mr. E. R. Vanderhoof therein knocks the perfection crank in a straight from the shoulder manner, which is thoroughly to our liking. We take the leading lines as follows: "If there is any class of people alive who bow to a graven image with as much religious awe and superstitious heart throbs; * * * than the average subserviates himself to the figurative decalogue of conventionalism, for the preservation of his gracious peace of his gracious peace of mind. I can only say that I am from Missouri." We have in the past heard of men from Idaho, men from Iowa, and men from Colorado (not of course intending any slur on our contemporaries from Denver, which we

Philatelic Exhibition

Mr Isidor Cross favors us with information regarding a Philatelic Exhibition to be held in Vienna in 1911, as follows:

Concerning the formation of the Austrian Philatelic Club, there has been formed in Vienna a committee to which representatives of all Vienna private Philatelic clubs belong, and which make possible the long anticipaed plan of holding a great stamp exhibition in Vienna. For the formation of the committee to have charge of the exhibition, Dr. Hans Ritter, of Woerz, was elected President and Adolph Passer, Secretary. The exposition is to be held in connection with the 23d German Philatelic Day, or Aumual Meeting, which is invited to meet at Vienna from the 12th to 26th of September, 1911. It will also be a Jubilee Exposition for it will then be just 30 years since the first institution of that sort in the whole world, was founded by the Austrian Philatelic Club in Vienna with brilliant success. In this undertaking lively interest is already being shown in all collection circles. Further information may be obtained from the Secretary, Adolph Passer, Vienna 9, Muellnergasse 4.

The April number of the Boys' Magazine, published by S. F. Redfield, is certainly a credit to Mr. Redfield. It contains many interesting stories and considerable stamp news. It should be in every home.

This month we present Eliminating the Official Organ, by J. Russell Reed. Mr. Reed has contributed several articles to the Philatelic press of late and we shall from time to time allow our readers the pleasure of his writings, which we trust will be of interest to all. Newsygraphs

A postage stamp with a face value of $500, (Straits Settlements money) was received by Postmaster General Hitch-cock during the past month. The stamp bears the profile of King Edward VII, and is printed in light orange and lilac. This stamp, which has the highest face value ever issued, has been turned over to Stanley I. Slack and will be placed on exhibition at the postal museum. The value in United States currency is $225.

C lippings are acknowledged with thanks from M. W. Taylor, and George F. Ullman.

Chronicle of New Issues

Early information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged by Frank B. Eldredge, 17 Jefferson Street, Attleborn, Mass

JUNE 15, 1910

No. 10

Editorial

As promised in 'ast months' issue, the Catalog of Precancelled Stamps is included in this number. It is one thing to make a promise and another thing to fulfill that promise, both have been done. Considerable outlay has been necessary to secure the proper cuts for illustrating the types of overprint and it is hoped that for the extra pains taken in presenting the best obtainable, that it will be appreciated by readers and that each one will try to induce his friend to subscribe for a paper that is published for its readers. Subscriptions are necessary for the maintenance of a publication and it is from this source that the returns are expected.

Mr. Eldredge has received a card from Mrs. Lynn E. Madan, stating that her husband is in the hospital having been operated upon for appendicitis. Mr. Madan is an enthusiastic collector of Percancels and has promised to lend ill aid possible to make the Catalog a success. Readers will join in wishing Mr. Madan a speedy recovery.

The call for specimens for illustrating and listing has had great effect among many collectors. Mr. Edwin W. Murray, has forwarded his entire collection contained in two movable leaf albums and many stamps listed in the Catalog are to be credited to Mr. Murray.

Mr. J. J. Cone, Jr., has submitted several varieties which appear to be of a rate nature, not many collectors having even seen some of the varieties. Thanks are extended to one and all who assist in the work and it is hoped that the benefits from the Catalog will repay them for any trouble they may take.

One thing that must be thoroughly understood, is, that no mention can be made unless stamps are sent for il'utrating and comparison with those already on hand. lists are of no use. is the intention to make the Catalog the be t ever published and one that may be relied upon. To do this it is necessary to use great care in placing the types and also in determining forgeries and other stamps of a spurious nature. Information regarding forgeries and such likwill be given due mention and credit will be given unless forbid. The states to included in next month's number are Delaware, Florida, Georgia.

Nothing definite can be given out regarding the formation of the Club until a suitable Secretary-Treasurer can be appointed by the Executive Committee. The matter will be pushed to a finish during the next month if possible and it is hoped that a full report can be given next month.

F. Percy Collingwood, President

No "Old Style" Official Organ.

By C. A. Nast.

have just carefully read Mr. J. Russell Reed's article in the last months TTLEBORO PHILATELIST entitled Eliminating the Official Organ." Inasmuch as the Editor of the Stamp Journal was alluded to, may I ask for a little space to correct what I believe are misconceptions on the part of Mr. Reed.

He says, "This ruling no doubt has been made for the benefit of the publishers, etc." Nothing could be farther from the truth. The men who, all over this land, are fighting this ruling, are the publishers, but of course they are powerless to change the ruling. Again it is not strictly true to say, as Mr. Reed does in his opening paragraph, "No paper enjoying second-class rates will be allowed to act as official organ for any stamp society."

The Department does not care whether a paper acts as official organ or not, but it does object to supplying the members of a society with a paper each month at less than the regular subscription price of the paper.

The Department very properly expressed its dissent from an arrangement such as Mekeel's Weekly Stamp News enjoyed, on the ground as given in the Department's circular, that it was not fair to its competitors. It placed rival publications at a disadvantage. Mekcel's Weekly was the official organ and was advertising for proxies, and sending out its bid for a continuance in power, it was all sent through the mails at a cent a pound. The society paid 35c per year for each member, but each week the A. P. S. organ could come before the members of the society with its own arguments for itself and for its own bencfit, whereas if any other individual or paper wished to counteract this effective work it could only be done at an expense, by having circulars printed and mailing these at regular postal rates and not at the bulk second-class rate of a cent a pound.

It was this gigantic trust which bid fair to control the A. P. S. and perpetuate itself as official organ which the Stamp Journal opposed; and it was this which was meant when as Mr. Reed properly says, "the editor of the Stamp Journal announces with great glee that the official organ must go."

I hope every philatelist will understand that it was this kind of Official Organ that was meant and not the other dozens of papers which have heretofore so acceptably filled this position for smaller societies. I am of the opinion that when all papers are placed on an equal footing p'enty of them will be found to act as official organ for societies, and if it happens to be a paper which enjoys second-class privileges, it must either be paid for the space used or print the matter gratuitiously. As I look at it the papers which do not have second-class privileges have all the advantage of the new arrangement.

San Martin on The Postage Stamp.

In the philatelic picture gallery of the Argentine Republic, the memory of one man, a remarkable general, is perpetuted by the portrayal of his countenance the nation's stamps. The 15c blue of the 1867 issue, the 24c blue of the 1876-8, and the 15c yellow of the 1888 are, depict the likeness of this brave south American, Jose de San Martin.

San Martin, a native of Argentina, relived his education in Spain, and in 1701, entered the army, being then only 13 years of age His promotion was very 15 pind. When he had attained the rank
16 lieutenant-colonel in 1811, he resigned
1701 sailed for Buenos Aires one year
1701 he cause of independence. His dexter1701 movements baffled the Spanish
1701 forces, and when he crossed the Andes
1701 leading his army through Uspa1711 Pass, he accomplished a feat that 1712 stounded his enemies, and made for 1713 name of some permanence.

When he invaded Peru, he captured Lima on July 12th, 1821. Fifteen days later he proclaimed the independence of Peru, and on August 3rd, was appointed wrotector. On August 22nd he resigned as office to the Peruvian Congress, leaving to complete the independence, the Holivar whose picture on Venezuelan tamps, we are so familiar with.

After his resignation, he left for Boulogne, France, where he died August 17th, 1850.

Serving his country as he did, he merted all honors bestown upon him, and the stamps hearing his picture are small tokens of appreciation issued by the Argentine government, after his death.

During the latter part of May a notable coin collection, the property of Farren Zerbe, was on exhibition at the Na tional Exchange Bank, Providence, R. The collection is one that has won many prizes and meda's for Mr. Zerbe having been shown at the St. Louis and Lewi and Clark Expositions besides beinshown abroad. It contains many rate specimens of both paper and coins, ran and common, some specimens dating from 800 B. C. to the present day. The value placed on the collection by Mr Zerbe is not less than $50,000. Mr Zerbe recently held the office of President of the American Numismatic Association and is at present editor of the American Numismatist.

Express vs. Postage

In the Stamp Journal, Mr. I.C. Greene who conducts the Mutual Stamp Exchange for A. P. S. Members only, says that circuits may be sent by express as a lower cost than by registered mail, 40 books being sent for the modest sum of 25c to 30c with a declared value of A receipt is taken from the party receiving the parcel so that it is fully as safe as registered mail. A short time ago a party sent a gold dollar with a rare mint mark on it and having become lost in the mails (registered) a claim for $50.00, which was the sum asked for the coin, was made, and the full amount of the indemnification received from the department was 100 cents, the department holding that this dollar was worth no more than any other dollar.

This coupled with the recent advance in the fee for registration has led users of the mails to look to another source for the delivery of their goods wherein they will be protected for the amount sent or the value declared. No doubt the express rates are too high for the sending of larger and more valuable matter than the above mentioned, but if a package weighs less than one pound it is not a very costly matter to send by express and be sure of receiving the value as declared on the article sent regardless of the market value or supposed rarity.

Jubilee Issue For Austria

Mr. Isidor Gross imparts the following information regarding a Jubilee set for this country. The issue will honor the 8oth birthday of the Emperor of Austria, which is the 18th of August. The set will be comprised of the same values as the issue now in use and will be on sale in the post offices only on Aug. 18th.

Communication

FNTLEMEN:-

You are undoubtedly aware of the state of affairs existing between O. Kendal of Winnipeg and one H. B. Clark, formerly in his employ as manager of the Hobby Club. I have lately been in recrept of numerous letters and communiations addressed to me under the impression that I am the said H. B. Clark.

I would greatly appreciate your makmg notice of the fact that I am not and never have been connected with any other stamp concern, have never been n Winnipeg and have nothing to do with the Hobby Club about which this lispute has centered. A notice of this fact in your paper would clear up conderable misapprehension in the minds Hobby Club members and would save me from the annovance of answering mmunications intended for H.B Clark.

Thanking you for this courtesy. I am, Yours truly,

(Signed) HUGH M. CLARK.

Never Issued

Mr. Eldredge has received the following letter from a reader which would indicate that precancelled stamps are not exempt from forgeries :

"In regard to the precaucels from Vancouver, Wash., reported by you in the April number of the ATTLEBORO PHILATELIST, I can positively state that no such stamps were ever issued by the Postmaster at Vancouver.

> (Signer) W. E. CONNOR.

The stamps referred to are 2c and 4c rormal. Mr. Conner also makes reference to stamps of Albany, Oregon, and if any of our readers are in possession of information of value concerning the status of stamps from this city or any other, they will confer a favor by forwarding full particulars to the chronicler who will give due notice of any largeries or otherwise spurious stamps.

No. 11

Editorial

A slight change in address has taken place during the past mouth and has occasioned some delay with this number. The address for all mail matter is now Box 614. Mail should not be addressed to the publication office.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Clar ence H. Ragle, his collection of Precancelled stamps will be used in making the catalog. Mr. Eagle's collection has long been considered the largest and finest in the country and it will no doubt add many varieties to the list already compiled.

Mr. F. L. Smith has submitted some specimens which are included in this month's lists and with those already to hand it is hoped to give a fairly complete catalog of these stamps before the matter is through.

Next month will include the issues of Chicago, Ill., and all readers having copies of this city will greatly oblige by sending them for reproduction,

A number of readers have suggested that a directory including the names of collectors and dealers from all parts of the world would meet with favor and as a consequence an advertisement of The Attleboro Philatelist Directory will be found on the back cover page. The first edition of this Directory will coutain the names of thousands of collectors and dealers and 2000 copies will be distributed. Dealers and collectors wishing to place their ofiers before the Philatelic Public in a manner that will be lasting will find the Directory a paying medium. The rates for advertisements are placed as low as is possible and give satisfaction to patrons. The Directory will be sold at the low price of roc and for dealers wishing to purchase over 50 copies for resale, special prices will be made.

Several months have gone by since the first number of the A. P. S. Quarterly (?) was issued. The first number was something like six or seven months behind hand and contained only the report of the Convention, and reports of the various officers, which had already become an old story, having been harped upon by the Press in general. The number most prized by members, whether collectors or dealers, which should contain the names and addresses of members, has not made its appearance. Word from Mr. Adair, the Secretary, has from time to time been circulated stating that other matters had his attention, that he was ill, that he would in the near fu. ture give his attention to the issuing of the Quarterly. If Mr. Adair is not able to attend to the duties of his office it would seem in the interests of the Society that he should be asked to resign and let someone be appointed who can attend to the duties of the office as they should be. It is to be hoped that at the convention to be held in Detroit that something will transpire giving the Directors the power to remove an inefficient officer and replace him with one who can fill the position.

A new song is to be placed before the public (Philatelic Public) entitled "Has Anybody Seen The Quarterly?"

Ready For Business

At last the forming of the Club is completed to such an extent that the time is short before it will be in full working order. By a vote of the Directors, Messrs. Schoemann, Cone at d Eldredge, the Constitution has been approved and a Secretary-Treasurer elected in the person of Mr. F. B. Griffith of Buffalo, N. Y.

The name as officially decided is "The International Precancel Club" and not the New Precancel Club, as this name was taken only as sort of handle until the vote of the Directors could be had.

THE ATTLEBORO PHILATELIST has been selected as the Official Organ and according to the Constitution the reports will appear monthly in the columns, being printed free of charge.

The matter of dues has been passed upon and decided at 50c per year with no other fee such as nitiation fee, etc

Tresident,

To Withdraw

Great Britain is to withdraw its interests in British Somaliland owing to the inability to conquer the "Mad Mullah" or to induce him to discontinue the frequent hostile raids on neighboring tribes. This will be the first time in history that a British possession has been "dropped," so to speak, and will eventually cause the name of "Somaliland Protectorate" to be only a vague memory of the past in future catalogs.

Investigation Begun

The Post Office Department has begun an investigation of the cost of carrying the mails by the various railroads and it is expected some startling facts will come to light. Ten thousand dollars has been appropriated for the purpose and already several railroads have complied with Postmaster Genera! Hitchcock's request for figures.

Knowledge Required

It is surprising sometimes what a Post Office clerk is supposed to know about his own business, and also about other people's affairs. The other day a lady unridly walked into the local office, apparently in the quest of some sort of mostal information. As she approached the latticed window, a hand could be seen rumaging the lowest extremities of a hand bag; evidently in search of the necessary coin to make the purchase of a 2c stamp or to bring to light the mis sive to be entrusted to Uncle Sam's mails, An accomodating customer with. drew from the window that the lady might have the advantage of his turn, and then the storm burst. Addressing the clerk in charge of the window, she asked, 'Can you tell me when the next train leaves for Providence?" Not to he nonplussed; the obliging clerk gave the information required just as the lady's hand, containing a bottle of smelling salts; was seen to emerge from the exceedingly large hand bag. with not a word of thanks, but with a long draught at the smelling salts, the enquir. er made "tracks" for the depot. The clerk was heard to make some inaudible remark about the amount of knowledge required to sell postage stamps and turn ed his attention to the waiting customer.

Mr. Julian T. Baber's abilities as a philatelic writer is again set forth in the June number of The National Youth. Although Mr. Baber's writings may be most fitting for the young collectors, his notes on current topics are of interest to both old and young.

Belgium Charity Stamps

On June 1st, Belgium issued a set of Charity stamps to be sold at the Brussels Exibition. The stamps were sold at a slight increase over face value, the extra charge being used in maintaining a Sanatorium for consumptive women. L'Announce Timbrologique describes the stamps as follows: "The subject of these stamps represents the famous picture by Vandyke, (St. Martin sharing his cloak,) now in the Church of Saventhem, near Brussels. In orber to hasten the preparation of the stamps, the authorities employed the services of two artists, who produced two types for the four values. One of these artists, M. Msntald, is a fainter, and the other, M. Lemaire, a designer, they have each interpreted the subject according to their M. Lemaire's professional conception. work is very cleverly and minutely executed, on the other hand, M. Montald has reproduced Vaudyke's picture in a fresco style-an accumulation of crosshatched lines; the merits of which can be appreciated only by holding the stamp at a distance. No doubt the general public will prefer M. Demaire's design, the other-which one of our cor. respondents stigmatizes as a record of ugliness-will be more likely to please connoisseurs of art. The design of the stamps is not a complete reproduction of Vandyke's work, for in the celebrated picture there is in addition, on the left, a group of people, one of whom is none other than Rubers, Vandyke's patron. It would have been impossible to include these in the restricted space of a postage stams without detracting from the importance of the original figure."

A decided improvement in the Empire Philatelist is noticed in the June issue, containing 12 pages and being more substantial in all respects than any number previous.

Why Stamp Collecting Pays

Stamp collecting is the most profitable, instructive and amusing pursuit of the age. Its participants found in every part of the world, number into the hundreds of thou sands, are composed of persons of a Tages, and belong to every class of society. Postage stamps have a market value. It is a good investment to collect stamps. The study of geography and history is made easy and interesting through the agency of stamp collecting. Teachers, therefore, endorse collecting.

Early Postal Systems

By Julian T. Baber

Many are the instruments of civilization, but of all, the post in its development has proven the most effective. The Post is a Latin derivative (from pono-ponere-posui-positus) meaning "placed." In order to transport letters, horses were placed at certain distances, and in relays. Such was the only method of early days.

It is said that the Persian Empire had the first recorded postal system. That he might receive reports from the provmees without delay, Cyrus the Elder ordered couriers, with their horses saddled, to stand ready at different stations throughout the empire, one day's journey from each other.

When Julius Caesar was at the zenith of his fame, the courier service was so well organized that it took only 26 days to deliver a letter written by Caesar in Britain, to Cicero in Rome. However, it might be well to state that such services were only established by governments, or persons who were in authority, for their exclusive use. Usually. in their intercourse with one another, private persons had to employ slaves to convey their correspondence. benefit of private persons, it appears that in the third century, Emperor Diocletian established a postal system. Nevertheless, some credit Charlemagne with the above, but from authoritative sources we are led to believe that to Diocletian belongs the honor.

The University of Paris established the first postal system in France. This seat of learning maintained its own couriers, who at certain times took charge of the students' mail, and occasionally, for a certain fee accepted letters from others, although it was not permissible by the authorities of the institution.

In Tyrol, during the 15th century, Roger L, count of Thurn and Taxis established the first post in Germany Roger's son, at the request of Emperor Maxmilian I, established a post in 1516, between Brussels and Vienna. Anxious to secure news as speedily as possible on the account of the vastness of his states, Charles V ordered Leonard, of Thurn and Taxis, to organize a permanent riding-post from the Netherlands, through Wurtemberg and Tyrol to Italy.

The Italian postal system had its beginning in Piedmont. Up to 1561, letters were conveyed by private persons who were authorized by the state, to charge a sum for the services, varying in accordance with the circumstances. In 1561, Emmanuel Philibert, duke of Savoy, farmed out the posts to a post-master-general.

In England in 1635, a public post was established between Lordon and Edinburgh, but from the time of Edward III, there were numerous private posts. In 1864, while a member of the House of Commons, Edmund Prideaux was appointed a master of posts. His first work was to establish a weekly conveyance of letters throughout the entire nation. Almost one hundred years later, a movement was inaugurated by Sir Rowland Hill, for reform in the hospital service. In 1839, penny postage resulted and on May 6th of the year following the first postage stamp designed by W. Mulready, was first brought into use.

The first post-office in the American colonies was established in Massachusetts in 1639, when the General Court of that colony issued the following: "It is ordered that notice be given that Richard Feirbanks, his house in Boston, is the place appointed for all letters, which are brought from beyond the seas, or are sent thither, to be left with him, and he is to take care that they are to be delivered or sent according to direction; and he is allowed for every letter a penny, and he must answer all messages through his neglect of this kind."

Eighteen years later, a postal service was established in Virginia. Every planter was required by the colonial law, to provide a messenger or courier to convey the despatches as they arrived, to the next plantation, and so on. The failure to comply with this rule, meant the forfeiture of a hogshead of tobacco.

In 1717, a weekly mail service was operated between New York and Williamsburg, Va., and ten years later, a fortnightly mail between Annapolis, Md., and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Chronicle of New Issues

Early information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged by Frank B. Eldredge. 17 Jefferson Street. Attleburo. Mass

United States:—A new stamp for cigarettes has been issued, same size and general design as the previous issue, it is inscribed "Series of 1910. Act of Aug. 5th, 1999," and is printed in dark blue on light blue. Obtained my first copy July 19th and it is cancelled "The A. T. Co., July 11, 1910."

A Canadian Experience

(Story No. 1)

In the July, 1909, number of "The Hobbyist" I inserted a small four line notice, calling attention to my Net Books arranged by countries. About the first reply I had from the notice was from one Roderick Buchanan, No. 482 Agnes St., Winnipeg, Canada. He gave as reference the Winnipeg Philatelic Society and wished British North American stamps. I wrote the Secretary, Mr. W. E. Hives, as to his responsibility and received a very good recommend, saying that Buchanan was one of the society's most active junior members, and perfectly reliable. On the strength of this I sent him a book of Canada stamps valued at $25.00 net. This was Aug. 16th that I got his request and Aug. 26th I sent the book, as my slips call for the return of approval selections in to days I sent him a card to let me hear regarding them on Sep-15th, no reply. Sept. 24th I wrote again, no reply. Oct. 3rd I wrote Hives, asking about chances of getting book returned. Oct. 18th received reply saying that he had seen Buchanan and that he had promised to send the stamps back, that I need have no fear of losing either the stamps or the money. Oct. 31st I again wrote Hives, telling him that the book had not yet arrived. Oct 18th I also wrote O. Kendall, giving a full account of the case and enclosing a stamped envelope for reply, No Reply Ever Came, and I am still looking for my reply from Hives. Nov. 12th the book came back from Buchanan with a letter saying that he had been absent from the city, and through some misunderstanding they had not been returned, he had removed some of the finest mint copies that the book contained and said that he could not remit for them at that time, but would in a few days. Dec. 2nd I wrote him again to touch up his memory. No reply. Again Jan. 4th, 1910, I wrote him and also Hives but have never been able to get even a reply to my letters, let alone a remittance. I publish this as a warning to other dealers and wonder if the Winnipeg Society is made up of many such members as Buchanan.

Stryker & Oldehoff whose advertisement of a new publication in the intercests of Philately and Mail Order, appeared in the July issue of the A. P., have signed for six months for the space occupied on page 133. Advertisers giving the pulling qualities a trial do not hesitate to contract for a regular space which accounts for the numerous advertisers now on contract. Blanks will be sent free on request and all advertisements whether large or small will receive careful attention. Remember the rates advance Oct. 1st.

A few years ago a contract was made with a lithographer in Montreal for a large suppl- of postage stamps to be used on correspondence of fishermen in Labrador. The stamps were not delivered within the contract time and were refused by the purchaser. Later they were sold with some old furniture to the proprietor of an auction room and have lately been seized by the Canadian Postal Authorities. The stamps were of the 5c, 25c and $1.00 value and the total face value reached the enormous sum of $1,000,000, each printed in three colors. It was first reported that some U. S. stamps were seized, but later reports received disclose the fact that such was not the case.

King George Patron of the Royal Philatelist Society

The whole world will rejoice in the news that King George has consented to be Patron of The Royal Philatelic Society, of which he has been President up to the time of accession to the throne of the British Empire. By his continued interest in the welfare of the society Philately will be placed on a sure and solid foundation the world over and will be the cause of new devotees to the fascinating hobby of stamp collecting.

Have Postage Stamps a Value?

Of late the question as to whether nortage stamps have a value, is one that is causing considerable stir among philatelists in general. Of course we all know that a stamp catalogue at say $1.00 is worth any where from 25c to $1.50, maybe more, perhaps less. It will therefore be seen that to get at the real value of a stamp the catalogue is practically of no use.

The Real Value may be ascertained in different ways but is always governed by the supply and demand for any particular stamp or stamps just the same as the value of wheat increases with the decrease in supply. Some old issues of which only a few were printed and placed in circulation, are today far cheaper than perhaps the following issue of which several thousand were sold to the public, simply because the demand for the second issue exceeded the supply and consequently the advance in price. The Post Office Mauritius is a fair example of rarity of this class, the demand for this stamp having reached the point that a few years ago the present King of England, George V., paid at auction the sum of $7,500 for a single copy. This is by no means an exceptionally large amount to pay for a stamp as several have brought around $5,000. But, has a used stamp any value? No. If a package os Used stamps be sent by registered mail or by express, becomes lost and indemnification asked for from the Government or from the Express Company, the decision will be that a cancelled stamp Has No Value. If the same package contained Unused stamps the ruling would be that their value was exactly face. If the unused stamps become moistened in ruining the gum, they would still be considered in an acceptable condition by the Interstate Commerce Commission, to which such matters are referred, and no resource from this decision may be had other than an expensive court case involving a large sum of money.

Thus it is that a Used stamp has no value and an unused stamp no premium over the face. You can pay your money for protection and get in return the information that your property if lost was worthless.

Considering the conditions of the registered mail system and that of the Express Companies it is as safe to send a valuable parcel of stamp in an unsealed envelope. The only protection offered is that if delivered to the address given, a receipt may be had showing that the party got the goods.

Vol. 1 AUG. 15, 1910 No. 12

Editorial

The old saying. "Better late than never," would be fitting in the case of this issue of the Attleboro Philatelist. The fact is, a vacation was absolutely necessary, this making a delay of one week with the pile up of correspondence and other matters demanding attentnion, until it seemed almost impossible to give the required time to keying these words.

With the mailing of this number Volume 1 is completed, a volume which will long stand out in the world of philately and one which the publisher takes pride in having issued regularly for the past twelve months. Throughout the year the high standard set by the first number has been maintained and each month has seen some improvement added, always with the object of giving readers more for their money.

It has been hard sledding some times, to speak plainly. Quarters do not grow on every bush and those lucky enough to possess one or more do not care to throw it to the winds as is generally the case when subscribing to newly launched journals nowadays.

New features are in view for Volume 2 and will be added as fast as advisable. Noted writers will contribute to the columns in the future and each issue will contain the latest news as in the past.

It is well known that a subscription price of 25c goes but a short way toward paying for twelve numbers of a paper of this size, and after October 1st the price will be raised to 50c anywhere in the world.

If you have a friend who is interested in stamps tell him about the A. P. or send his name and address for a sample copy.

A few words to the advertisers will not be out of place at this time and surely each and every one has done his share in making the A. P. the success it can now claim. A few advertisers during the past year have reported unsatisfactory returns from their ads and requested to know the circulation, which was cheerfully given, (with advise and suggestions in regard to the change of ads and method of wording) which in most cases has proved to be the cause of short returns, the suggestions when applied, bringing the desired business and it is these same advertisers that could speak the good word for the pulling qualities of advertising space in the

.50

A. P. The publishing of such valuable reference work as the Precancel Catalog has brought a flood of subscriptions from all parts of the world and considering the growing circulation a slight advance in advertising rates will go into effect October 1st. Parties wishing to sign for space at the present contract rates for six monhs or a year, should do so at once. The new rates will be strictly cash in advance to all, No Exceptions.

The third installment of The Precancel Catalog is omitted from this issue owing to Mr. Eldredge having a severe attack of an eye disease to which he is subject at intervals of two or three months. The list of Chicago, Ill., will appear in the September and October issues and will be a big surprise to many, containing over 300 varieties, with illustrations of the different types.

Those who sent their hard earned cash to one John R. Crawford, 5 Court St., Auburn, N. Y., will rejoice to know that he is among the missing, several accounts being unpaid and his whereabouts unknown. He was booked to publish a directory of the world and no doubt had a large number of names as his scheme had considerable free advertising at the time it was first let out. Such is life.

This month is Convention Month and many a collector will take part in the doings of his favorite society. The A. P. S. will meet at Detroit on August 16th, and it is expected that the attendance will exceed any previous convenheld by that society. Detroit should prove an ideal place to spend a week especially when the time is to be spent among fellow collectors and members.

The New Catalogue

The 1911 Catalogue is now in preparation and advance sheets may be had by those willing to pay the subscription price of $5.00. It is to be hoped that unusual care will be exercised in pricing in this edition and that some at least of the overpriced stamps may be reduced to a reasonable basis. The advertisements of dealers offering stamps at 60 to 80 per cent discount is simply ridiculous and is not a sign of cheapness but of overpricing in the catalogue. Stamps that are underpriced are seldom if ever advertised and many are cheap at full catalog. Many dealers make it a practice to advertise stamps at catalogue price after the price quoted in the catalogue has been cancelled or reduced in the Monthly Circular issued by the publishers of the Catalogue. This misleading pricing or rather overpricing in advertisements catches the unwary youngster and in many cases when he finds the truth he is either disgusted and sore or else tries to get back at the dealer by keeping approvals. Many cases of "frauds" might be traced to the misleading ad.

The M. P. A. Conventionists will convene at Binghampton, N. Y., August 9th, and a large number of members have signified their intention to attend. The M. P. A. has made wonderful progress in the past two years and can now claim a place in the ranks of societies that every member should be proud of.

GREATEST ENGLISH COLLECTORS' PAPER.

The A. P. S. Quarterly Appears

Nos. 2 and 3 of the A. P. S. Quarterly has come to hand during the past month and surely deserve a mention The reading matter in No. 2 is of an interesting nature being from the pens of Messrs. Luff, Mudge and Melville, the latter of England. The alphabetical, numerical and geographical lists of members is contained in 68 pages of The state of New closely set lines. York leads with 246, while Massachusetts comes second with 173. New York City leads its class with 113. Nearly every country is represented by at least one member and in many cases by two or more, Canada being the highest with 44. Attleboro is able to make claim to two members which, in the list corrected to Feb. 1st, beats the states of Delaware and New Mexico which have no representatives. To say that this number is an honor to the Society does not give it the credit it deserves, it is immense.

No. 3 also deserves more than a casual mention as it, though small, contains only literature for philatelists of the A. P. S. class. Editorials, by the editor, "The Worlds' Greatest Stamp Errors" by Alvin Good, "American Expansion and Philately," by Fred J. Mclville, and "The Blueing of the Penny Reds of Great Britain" by Sol E Heineman, being a paper read before the Detroit Philatelic Society, April 8th, 1910. On a whole the contents are such as might be wished for an A. P. S. Quarterly Literary Number and should meet with the approval of every member of the Society.

The Attleboro Philatelist Directory

The launching of the Directory has already created an enormous interest among philatelists of this country and from nearby possessions from which an answer may be had in a month's time. America's foremost dealers have subscribed for space and from the outlook at this date the project should prove a complete success. It has long been the wish of many collectors, and dealers also, to have a directory containing the names of boni-fide stamp collectors and it is the object in this directory to exclude the names of other than active stamp collectors. Dealers' names will be included when desired at the rates given on the last cover page, but will not be included free of charge.

OFFICIAL ORGAN:

THE ATTLEBORO PHILATELIST.

New Members :-

O. L. Thomas, Jr., Box 46, Paducah, Texas.

October 10th will bring the first year of the U. P. A. to a close, and, with the admission of this month's number, the membership total will be 35, all of whom are active in the hobby of stamp collecting. However, 35 is not a very large number for an association a year old, and more should be enrolled before the above named date. Every member should send for a bunch of blanks and make it a point to get his friends to join.

It is now high time for the nomination of officers for the coming year, and each member should have interest enough to send the names of his chosce for publication in the Sept. A. P. Election will follow.

F. PERCY COLLINGWOOD,

Secretary.

Does your subscription expire with this issue? Look on page 129 and if the paragraph bearing on subscriptions is marked it means that this number completes your paid subscription and further issues will not be sent you unless a remittance is made before the mailing of the next number. Volume 2 will contain many of the same features which has made Volume, popular with the addition of as much interesting matter as can be crowded into the columns. It is hoped that each and every one who receives a marked copy this month will be prompt in sending the necessary amount to insure their receiving the next twelve numbers. Complete files will not b retained for those who do not subscribe, and any back numbers will be held at a premium after date of publication.

Vol. 2, No. 1 SEPT. 15, 1910 Whole No. 13

Editorial

This month the Catalog of Precancelled Stamps is well represented by the several varieties of Chicago. The dated issues are very numerous and entail a great deal of careful work to list them in their respective order, including as the Catalog does all minor varieties of figures and spacing. Next month it is expected to complete the list of this large Precancel City, and then other cities in order will be taken.

Thanks are extended Mr. Lynn E. Madan for the loan of his collection for inspection, and several small lots have been received, notably from E. J. Post, M. W. Turner, D. F. Osborne, and W. E. Conner.

There seems to be a few advertisers who consider the publishing of a stamp journal a mere fad and no doubt have the idea that it may be done on the returns from subscriptions alone. This is wholly to the wrong, as the subscriptions are very small part of the amount required to run a paper successfully. A subscription of 25c does not pay for one number sent to a subscriber and for the balance of the cost the publisher must look to the support of advertisers. It is the advertisers that indirectly make a paper what it is, and it is only by prompt settlement of advertising accounts that enable a paper to withstand the hard ways encountered in the first few months of its life. Advertisers in the Attleboro Philatelist who are using space on contract have in the past had a very easy lot but in the future all advertisers using space on contract will be obliged to make settlements within 30 days or forfeit their contract. This will apply to all contracts including those signed during February, March and April, 1910. The new rates as given below will be strictly eash in advance and no discount whatever will be made.

Chronicle of New Issues

sue of stamps has been prepared for the use of this island, which is a Chilian Convict Settlement. 12 centavos and 1 peso values in the current Chilian type have been overprinted.

NETHERLANDS—Mekeel's Weekly says a new provisional was issued July 20, and used one day. The 1 golden, light blue and red was surcharged "3 Cent" diagonally in black and at the same time a postage due of the same value was issued in the usual design.

NEW ZEALAND—The 4d. Scott's No. 113, has been reprinted, the frame now being in yellow instead of yellow brown.

PARAGUAY — Another value has been added to the set mentioned in the July A. P. It is a 5c lavender, ST. VINCENT—The current King's Head set has been augmented by the addition of the 5 sh. stamp, in color conforming to the new color scheme. It is printed in red and green on green.

SIAM—Another value of the new set has appeared, 12 satang, black and olive yellow.

SPANISH GUINEA—This colony has also created some new provisionals by surcharging fiscal stamps, "Habilitado para Correos—10e de peseta." 10e in black on 50e green; 10e in black on 2 p. violet; 10e in black on 25e p. red brown.

SCTRAITS SETTLEMENTS — The $100 value of this colony has appeared with the multiple watermark, it is printed in brown and green on yellow.

SWITZERLAND—The current low values have been redrawn; the cord of the crossbow now being behind instead of in front of the stock; 2c yellow, 3c brown, and 5c green.

VENEZUELA—A new Commemorative from this country to celebrate the Declaration of their Independence, 25c blue.

NEW FEATURES

It is the intention of the Publisher to improve each issue of THE ATTLLE-BORO PHILATELIST in the future. New features will appear as soon as it is possible to obtain an efficient editor for each Department. Among the most notable new things in view are:

JUNIOR DEPARTMENT REVENUE DEPARTMENT POST CARD DEPARTMENT COIN DEPARTMENT CURIO DEPARTMENT

Any reader who feels capable of conducting any one of the above named Departments should correspond with the Publisher, stating his terms for same. It is most desired to obtain the services of an editor who can and will give the necessary time and labor to his Department to make it a complete success.

Manuscript of an instructive nature is always acceptable by the Publisher and will be paid for if considered of sufficient value. Stamped envelope should be enclosed for return of same.

THE OCTOBER SPECIAL offers an opportunity to the novice to try his hand at Philatelic Journallsm, and for the hest article (which will be reproduced in the Special) will be given a prize of suitable value, the length and quality being the main points to be considered in awarding the prize.

THE OCTOBER SPECIAL offers an attractive field for advertisers who desire to place their offels before patronizing readers, and the Combination Advertising Offer on another page should prove advantageous to many who have not yet tested the pulling qualities of an ad in The Attleboro Philatelist.

The combined circulation of the Attleboro Philatelist and the Attleboro Advertiser is over 2,000. You reach these for the small sum of $1.20 per inch.

THE ATTLEBORO PHILATELIST

A Massachusetts Experience.

On Sunday, Jan. 2nd, of this year I received a call from a party who introduced himself as J. E. Pfeiffer, of North Attleboro, Mass. He was a pleasant sort of an individual and very well spoken for a foreigner, as he is a native of Schleswig Holstein. He informed me that he had connections with a house in Rochester, N. Y., who received many hundreds of foreign letters a month, and claimed that he had a deal with them whereby he came into possession of all their envelopes, and to verify his claim he produced about 400 entires. He made a bargain with me to take them at a certain figure per 1000, and he would take that amount in stamps from my books at catalogue price. Everything ran smoothly until he got what was due him and then he came to me March 6th and wanted to know if he could receive my books in the regular way. 1 gave him 3 books amounting to $15.43 in value. On March 21st I wrote him to make returns, receiving no reply. I waited a while longer and on March 27th the books came along with what he had needed removed, but no cash or word of explanation whatever, have written him several Tangier, Morocco, Aug. 24.-A report that the greater part of the so-called Anghera country, the region in the extreme northwes of Africa, has been purchased by United States interests, has aroused great excitement in diplomatic circles here. The territory not only has vast intrinsic value, but politically and stragetically, it is immensely important. It has a forty-mile coast line on the Mediterranean, stretching from Tangier to Jebel Musa, a mountain near Centa, facing the rock of Gibraltar, across the straits of Gibralter, and considered strategically equal to the British mountain fortress.

Jebel Musa has an elevation of 2,700 feet, and could be converted into a second Gibraltar.

The above from clipping sent by Cleveland Bundlie for which thanks are extended.

I enclose 25c for which please prolong my subscription to the "A. P." for another year. Wishing your "GRAND" paper, the "A. P.," a long prosperous life. I remain,

Very truly yours, (Signed) CLEVELAND BUNDLIE
