The Philatelic Mania.

Every person who has paid the slightest attention to the interesting science of Phrenology knows that among the different sections or organs of the brain, each devoted to a separate passion or distinct function, there is one called the organ of acquisitiveness, which finds its gratification in searching after and treasuring up some particular class of things which happen to take its fancy. Like any other organ, when its craving has been long indulged, the organ of acquisitiveness becomes largely developed in all enthusiastic or industrious collectors, the miser for money, or the more intellectual man of taste for pictures, engravings, coins, and bric-a-brac, or stamps. This habit of acquisitiveness is natural to mankind, and when properly regulated and directed aright, presents an agreeable and instructive pursuit in spare moments from the toil and mad-making anxieties of business strife. No wonder, therefore, that among all classes of professions and trades, from the highest to the lowest, we find collectors, whose names are well known to those who administer to their so-called "hobbies." One of the most fashionable of the quiet-minded pursuits of the present day—which bids fair to extend itself over the universe—is the collection of stamps. It is a quiet pursuit, light, composed, reflective, and what is more, it is instructive. It conduces to an acquisition of a good deal beyond stamps only—a knowledge of geography, a knowledge of the advancement of civilization, for the first adoption of the stamp system in any country marks a great and prominent era in its progress; a knowledge of the different kingdoms, commonwealths and republics of the world, a knowledge of the fall of dynasties, the death of rulers, and the appointment of their successors. Neither is it without interest to the student of the fine arts, as it is curious to note and compare the talent or taste of it exhibited by different nations in the art of engraving, as evinced in the devices on the stamp.

Over the Garden Wall.

I.
Oh, my love stood under the walnut tree,
Over the garden wall,
She whispered and said she'd be true to me,
Over the garden wall.
She'd beautiful eyes, and beautiful hair,
She was not very tall, so she stood on a chair,
And many a time have I kissed her there,
Over the garden wall.

CHORUS.

Over the garden wall, the sweetest girl of all,
There never were yet, such eyes of jet,
And you may bet, I'll never forget,
The night our lips in kisses met,
Over the garden wall.

II.

But her father stamp'd and her father rav'd,
Over the garden wall,
And like an old madman he behaved,
Over the garden wall,
She made a bouquet of roses red,
But immediately I popped up my head,
He gave me a bucket of water instead,
Over the garden wall.

III.
One day I jump'd down on the other side,
Over the garden wall,
And she bravely promised to be my bride,
Over the garden wall.
But she scream'd, in a fright, "Here's father, quick,
I have an impression he's bringing a stick,"
But I brought the impression of half a brick,
Over the garden wall.

IV.

But where there's a will there's always a way,
Over the garden wall,
There's always a night as well as a day,
Over the garden wall.
We hadn't much money, but weddings are cheap,
So while the old fellow was snoring asleep,
With a lad and a ladder she managed to creep,
Over the garden wall.

Post Cards, Embossed Envelopes and Newsbands should be entire, if possible, otherwise cut square with good margin bordering stamp. Legible postmarks also wanted.

Curiosities of all kinds bought, sold and exchanged.

Philatelic Notes.

The Postal Union (France excepted) are adopting International use

Stamp value 1 cent (1d)	5 centimes or equivalent, green.
" 2 cents (1d) 10	" " red.
" 5 cents (2d) 25	" " blue.

This will cause a change in Dominion issues.

Canada has no postage stamp of higher value than 15c. As Bill Stamps are now going out of issue, it would not be a bad idea to surcharge the higher (cents) value " Postage" with  across BILL.

We have seen Bill Stamps, since the new regulations, used in payment of postage, without any surcharge.

CANADA NEWSBAND.—New design, one cent, blue.

CANADA POST CARD.—A new issue without border, design similar to U. S. post card, with stamp as on one cent embossed envelope, one cent, blue.

There is a new idea mooted regarding a new Canadian issue, premature as yet to notice it. Our subscribers, however, will be the first to get the information.

QUEENSLAND.—High and low value of Fiscal Stamps are now used for postage.

HONG KONG.—One dollar " Stamp Duty" now used for postage.

BRITISH GUIANA.—Provisionals.—A collector of surcharges of this city, has just received a consignment of specimens of the most varied assortment, we believe, ever issued in so short a time by any one country.

UNITED STATES.—To popularize our Journal, we will send any subscriber a sheet of the new 5c. Garfield Stamps and our Journal for one year for $4.75. We know that several doubting Thomases will prefer to pay $5 and postage, but that does not make our offer the less bona fide.

Illustrated articles on new issues will appear in our next.

CORRESPONDENCE.

N. B.—Having a good connection, it will pay you to give us general agency. We can appoint sub-agents.

F. H.—If you want rare stamps cheap, send to us direct. We cannot afford to sell cheap and give a commission to the trade for exposing them to the dust, and returning many to us in an unsaleable condition. Exposing on sheets seriously damages stamps, unused especially. Send to us direct and you will get what you want.

T. P. L.—Will examine your collection free of charge, marking all forgeries, if any, with "F," if sent to us charges prepaid. To value it, 5 per cent.; to sell it, 20 per cent.

J. W.—Cash orders always take preference of exchange transactions, to which we cannot guarantee immediate attention in all cases.

The Philatelic Mania.

Every person who has paid the slightest attention to the interesting science of Phrenology knows that among the different sections or organs of the brain, each devoted to a separate passion or distinct function, there is one called the organ of acquisitiveness, which finds its gratification in searching after and treasuring up some particular class of things which happen to take its fancy. Like any other organ, when its craving has been long indulged, the organ of acquisitiveness becomes largely developed in all enthusiastic or industrious collectors, the miser for money, or the more intellectual man of taste for pictures, engravings, coins, china, bric-a-brac, or stamps. This habit of acquisitiveness is natural to mankind, and when properly regulated and directed aright, presents an agreeable and instructive pursuit in spare moments from the toil and meddling anxieties of business strife. No wonder, therefore, that among all classes of professions and trades, from the highest to the lowest, we find collectors, whose names are well known to those who administer their so called "hobbies." One of the most fashionable of the quiet-minded pursuits of the present day—which bids fair to extend itself over the universe—is the collection of stamps. It is a quiet pursuit, light, composed, reflective, and what is more, it is instructive. It conduces to an acquisition of a good deal beyond stamps only—a knowledge of geography, a knowledge of the advancement of civilization, for the first adoption of the stamp system in any country marks a great and important era in its progress; a knowledge of the different kingdoms, commonwealths and republics of the world, a knowledge of the fall of dynasties, the death of rulers, and the appointment of their successors. Neither is it without interest to the student of the fine arts as it is curious to note and compare the talent or amount of it exhibited by different nations in the art of engraving, as evinced in the devices on the stamp.

Over the Garden Wall.

Oh, my love stood under the walnut tree,
Over the garden wall,
She whispered and said she'd be true to me,
Over the garden wall.
She'd beautiful eyes, and beautiful hair,
She was not very tall, so she stood on a chair,
And many a time have I kissed her there,
Over the garden wall.

CHORUS.

Over the garden wall, the sweetest girl of all,
There never were yet, such eyes of jet,
And you may bet, I'll never forget,
The night our lips in kisses met,
Over the garden wall.

II.

But her father stamp'd and her father rav'd,
Over the garden wall,
And like an old madman he behaved,
Over the garden wall.
She made a bouquet of roses red,
But immediately I popped up my head,
He gave me a bucket of water instead,
Over the garden wall.

III.

One day I jump'd down on the other side,
Over the garden wall,
And she bravely promised to be my bride,
Over the garden wall.
But she scream'd, in a fright, "Here's father, quick,
I have an impression he's bringing a stick,"
But I brought the impression of half a brick,
Over the garden wall.

IV.

But where there's a will there's always a way,
Over the garden wall,
There's always a night as well as a day,
Over the garden wall.
We hadn't much money, but weddings are cheap,
So while the old fellow was snoring asleep,
With a lad and a ladder she managed to creep,
Over the garden wall.

CORRESPONDENCE.

N. B.—Having a good connection, it will pay you to give us general agency. We can appoint sub-agents.

F. H.—If you want rare stamps cheap, send to us direct. We cannot afford to sell cheap and give a commission to the trade for exposing them to the dust, and returning many to us in an unsaleable condition. Exposing on sheets seriously damages stamps, unused especially. Send to us direct and you will get what you want.

T. P. L.—Will examine your collection free of charge, marking all forgeries, if any, with "F" if sent to us charges prepaid. To value it, 5 per cent.; to sell it, 20 per cent.

J. W.—Cash orders always take preference of exchange transactions, to which we cannot guarantee immediate attention in all cases.

A PLACE FOR YOUR DICTIONARY, A PLACE FOR YOUR NEWSPAPERS, A PLACE FOR YOUR PERIODICALS. And an ornament for your house, all in one, THE NOYES DICTIONARY HOLDER.

A thousand dictionaries in one of the way-placed will not instruct, while a single dictionary, mounted in a Noyes Dictionary Holder, will instruct thousands. In fact, the Holder is the great helper of the great lexicons, and in making them vast stores of learning available, is second only in importance to the lexicons themselves. The Holder is now made in ANY SIZE Holder special attention is called to the Excelsior Holder, which is more durable and brilliant than the finish of which is more durable and brilliant than nickel, and has much the appearance of silver. This finish comes with a bright, shining, and exceedingly attractive, and will stand up to the most rigorous use. The Tilted Top Holder is distinguished by a heavy, ornate, and elegant design. A neat attachment is now made for holding newspapers and magazines, thus bringing together the publications most constantly referred to—the Paper, the Periodical and the Dictionary. Circular free. Sent for name and address to W. W. NOYES, 99 and 101 West Monroe St., Chicago.
